Stanford Vigil Continues; Harvard Facing A Boycott

Pickets Up To Protest Police Foray

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Harvard students generally ignored a strike call and instruction went forward at the university today despite a classroom boycott proclaimed by dissidents in retaliation for a police foray that broke up a sit-in yesterday.

Pickets appeared in front of Sever Hall, chosen as the focal point by Students for a Democratic Society to test their boycott. Despite their chants, "On strike, Shut it down," students entered the building, the only one picketed today.

Sever Hall is across from University Hall, where 400 policemen ejected student protesters in a brief, bloody clash yesterday. The action caused an uproar on the campus.

SCHEDULES TALK

Harvard President Nathan Pusey was to meet later in the day with faculty to explain why police were called in to end the sit-in.

About 800 persons watched the picketing in historic Harvard Yard and also a rally on the steps of Widener Library, between Sever and University Hall.

Classes were held as usual in Sever, as in other buildings. Attendance at Harvard is not mandatory, and the number of students crossing the picket line could not be determined.

However, it appeared that classroom attendance would be lower than normal today.

The dissidents called a three-day boycott starting today. Hand-lettered signs were taped around Harvard Yard. Two signs were ripped off by unsympathetic students.

SHIFTS TO POLICE

Originally, the protest and sit-in were directed against Harvard's Reserve Officer Training Corps program. But the emphasis shifted yesterday to the police action in which 200 protesters were evicted from University

More than 30 students and at least three policemen were hurt. There was 189 arrests.

In a related incident yesterday, Cambridge Mayor Walter J. Sullivan's family was threatened with fire, acid and kidnaping following the police raid which broke up a sit-in at Harvard.

Detectives were sent to guard the mayor's home, and police took his four children, ages 19 to 9, out of school.

Police said they received a call from a man who threatened

CITY FATHER WAITS

Annex Of House Delayed To May

San Rafael City Councilman John A. Miskimen, who now lives at 4 Anchorage Court, won't know for a month whether he can legally move into a new home in Bayside Acres and still retain his council seat. (See photo, page 35)

The question hinges on whether his prospective new home, at 187 Oak Drive, will be annexed to the City of San Rafael. The Marin Local Agency Formation Commission last night tackled the question, then split 2 to 2 to send the issue back for another discussion at the next meeting, on May 8.

The city charter requires that councilmen live within city limits. The home that Miskimen wants to buy is in unincorporated area, with no connection to San Rafael except by water.

Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. moved that the annexation be denied because it would be spot annexation and Jan Paul Dyk seconded. J. Wayne Womack voted against the motion, and so did Chairman Hugh G. Marchant.

The fifth commissioner, Michael Wornum, was absent last night on vacation in Mexico.

Last month, the local agency commissioners had asked Miskimen to try to get other lots on Oak Drive to join him in the annexation request. Miskimen reported last night he had been unsuccessful in getting others to join.

Dissidents Sleep Out 2nd Night

STANFORD (AP) — About 100 dissident students stayed overnight for the second night in Stanford University's Applied Electronics Laboratory while others distributed protest leaflets on the campus this morning.

They are demanding that the university and its affiliated Stanford Research Institute stop research on chemical or biological warfare or any other military projects.

The laboratory staff moved its work today to a nearby building, and the university president, Dr. Kenneth Pitzer, was discussing the situation privately with faculty advisers.

The sit-in, free of violence so far, began Wednesday night at the 11,000-student private university.

MEETING WALKOUT

At a meeting last night attended by an estimated 600 persons, a vote was taken on whether to continue the protest.

When the moderator announced that the motion had passed there were a number of boos and a group estimated at about 200 walked away from the patio in front of the captured building.

A second vote, taken after the defections, passed overwhelmingly at the end of the five-hour session.

Included in that motion was a demand to trustees for a significant response by Monday to demands for closer university supervision of the Stanford Research Institute, an end to classified research and the stopping of all chemical and biological warfare studies.

PROTEST WORK

"The SRI Coalition," a group of students and off-campus organizations, called the sit-in to protest work done for the military both on the campus and at the nearby research institute which is owned by Stanford.

There have been no arrests and no outside police have been called in, although campus police have remained in the building. A university spokesman said it was unlikely that outside patrolmen would be called as long as there was no damage

GAS TAX AMENDMENT

Public Transit Backers Win Victory

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

BERKELEY — Public transit advocates on the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission yesterday defeated attempts by freeway forces to undermine a previous vote calling for amendment of the California Constitution to allow use of gas taxes for transit service as well as highway building.

In a series of voice and hand votes, public transit advocates overhauled a draft report on financing transportation to reverse its former tenor, which they termed "highway-oriented."

The votes generally saw public transit arguments winning, 14-9, only a slight change from the 12-5 vote on March 26 when five years of tension between the two groups burst into the open for the first time.

Although there are 39 voting members on the commission, yesterday's attendance at the meeting in the Hotel Claremont was better than usual, thus there was a little chance of reversing the vote at a future meeting.

Successfully moving to delete several references to highway use of taxes, San Francisco Supervisor Jack Morrison said the changes would make the commission's final report to the Legislature a more positive statement favoring public transit.

"There's always a watering down process in the Legislature, and I don't think that process should begin here," he said.

The commission's report, the fruit of five years and $5.9 million of work, is due before the Legislature in early June.

Commissioners united, however, on modifying a proposal by Marc Sandstrom, assistant secretary of the state Business and Transportation Agency, that gas taxes be constitutionally restricted to transportation uses.

"We certainly want to be careful about this," said John C. Beckett of Palo Alto, a strong advocate of public transit.

Morrison lost, however, when he attempted to delete a statement in the report that the state's gas tax, now seven cents a gallon, should be increased to meet the need for more highways.

"Hiding our head in the sand doesn't make these facts go away," Sandstrom said in a strong argument that the statement needed to be left intact. Without some mention of highways, he declared, the report would be "a whitewash aimed one way."

Beckett joined Sandstrom, saying "we'll still need highways."

Commissioner compromised by inserting a reference to the need to finance public transit, too.

Left intact was a finding that "property taxation should not be overlooked as a long-run possibility of merit" to finance transit. The report, as originally drafted by the commission's study group on finance, recommended the property tax and opposed use of highway funds.

The revised statement, however, added that the property

Angry Marin City Students, Panthers Want Fence Down

By FRANK FARRARA

Angry students and Black Panther Party members demanded last night the fence along Highway 101 from Marin City to Sausalito be torn down.

The Marin City Council agreed and after a three-hour community "soul session" voted for removal of the fence, labeled a symbol of repression and a stigma.

It was a no-hold barres session as speakers freely vented their feelings before a gathering of about 60 persons, including county and state officials, at the Manzanita Center.

Residents had no say before the fence was put up, but they want the voice of the residents to be heard on taking it down, protestors said.

There was a strong call for the right of the people to determine their own destiny by George Gaines, captain of the Marin County chapter of the Black Panther Party.

"Decisions must be made on the basis of people," Gaines said. "There an't nobody to make decisions for the people. If it's not in the interest of people, the people have the right to abolish it, have it taken down or blown down."

Under attack was the 15-foot wire fence, between the curb and the sidewalk, behind which Marin City pupils pass on their way to Martin Luther King School.

The fence was put up last July after a series of rock throwing incidents had resulted in broken car windows and windshields.

Ray Tries Firing Lawyer, Writer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A lawyer for James Earl Ray asked U.S. District Court Judge William E. Miller today to void Ray's contract with the lawyer who represented him when he pleaded guilty to the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

At the same time, the attorney asked for nullification of Ray's contract with William Bradford Huie, Alabama author, for the story of Ray's life. Several stories relating to this contract have appeared in Look magazine.

Robert W. Hill Jr. of Chattanooga, Tenn., asked a preliminary injunction against Percy Foreman of Houston, Tex., the lawyer, and Huie.

Wagner Hat In New York Mayor Ring

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former mayor Robert F. Wagner today became the eleventh major entry in the New York mayoral race by officially declaring his candidacy for the Democratic nomination.

Seven other Democrats and three Republicans, including incumbent Mayor John V. Lindsay, have announced they also will seek the nomination.

Wagner will be seeking his fourth term for the job some consider second only to the presidency of the United States in number of headaches.

Wagner, who will be 58 this month, is a former ambassador to Spain and a practical politician with a lot of savvy.

The incumbent mayor won his first term in 1965 as the candidate of a Republican-Liberal coalition after Wagner decided not to seek reelection.

Wagner has sought public office in New York City five times, and he has won every time. The only election he ever lost was a statewide race against Jacob K. Javits for U.S. senator in 1956.

Motorcycle Collision Kills Kentfield Teener

Kevin W. Stanley, 13, of 6 Broadway, Kentfield, died of a head injury at Marin General Hospital last night, three hours after a car-motorcycle collision on Laurel Grove Avenue in Kentfield, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Kevin, an Independent-Journal carrier boy and an eighth grade student at Adaline E. Kent School, was riding behind his brother, Mark W. Stanley, 19, on Mark's motorcycle at 6:45 p.m., the highway patrol said, when an oncoming car driven by an off-duty highway patrolman, Edward A. Larson Jr., 33, of 80 Meadow Road, Mill Valley, made a left turn into a driveway, turning in the cycle's path.

Both youths were thrown to the pavement but Mark Stanley escaped with minor scrapes which were treated at Marin General Hospital. Kevin died at the hospital shortly after 10 p.m.

Mark Stanley said he saw turn signals blinking on Larson's car, but said he was so close he was sure Larson had seen the motorcycle. Larson said he did not see the cycle until the collision Investigation is continuing, the highway patrol said.

The death was the sixth traffic fatality in Marin this year, compared to seven traffic deaths at this time last year.

Kevin was the son of William S. and Doris Stanley of Kentfield. Born in San Francisco, he had attended Kentfield schools since kindergarten. He is also survived by his brother, Mark, and two sisters, Patricia Stanley of Kentfield and Michela Ohrazda of San Rafael.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9 a.m. tomorrow at St. Sebastian's Church, Kentfield, with burial in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Memorial contributions be made to the Boys Club of Southern Marin or St. Labre Indian School, Ashland, Mont.

Cautious Role For Teaching Family Life

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state Board of Education endorsed sex education today but told California schools not to ignore moral codes or teach too much, too soon.

"Too much misinformation is being learned by our children who receive no formal instruction in family life and sex education and many are truly damaged emotionally and psychologically," said the resolution adopted by a unanimous, voice vote yesterday after five hours of detailed, sometimes emotional testimony.

The California school board's guideline emphasized local control of sex education, teaching the "harmful effects of premarital sex," no instruction in human reproduction before the fourth grade and voluntary attendance.

The board's compromise resolution was an answer to state and national controversy over sex instruction with the John Birch Society and the Sex Information and Education Council of the United States (SIECUS) on opposite sides.

The board's action did not satisfy the Birch Society or several parents' groups, which had called for abolition of sex education.

But the board accepted state school chief Max Rafferty's suggestion that "the SIECUS program is not appropriate for California schools."

SIECUS, based in New York City, has advocated full, early instruction in sex education without some of the taboos of religion or moral codes.

The board's resolution was

59 Job Corps Centers To Close

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration announced today plans to close down 59 Job Corps centers, including two major centers for men and seven for women. The other 50 are conservation camps in more remote areas.

At the same time it listed 28 cities it said are being considered for new urban residential manpower centers—a day-school type of operation designed to absorb some of the displaced students on a less costly basis.

The major men's centers to be shut down are Camp Parks, Alameda County, and Kilmer, N.J.

The women's centers to be closed are those at Clinton, Iowa; Poland Spring, Maine; Marquette, Mich.; St. Louis, Mo.; Omaha, Neb.; Moses Lake, Wash., and Huntington, W.Va.

Arguments Open In Presidio Mutiny Case

FORT ORD (AP) — Opening arguments began today in the court-martial of 14 of the 27 men accused of mutiny at the San Francisco Presidio.

Thirteen of the 14 defendants "have mental problems, and the Army should have given them discharges," civilian defense attorney Terence Hallinan said.

Allied Bases, Towns Get Heavy Shelling

SAIGON (AP) — Unleashing the heaviest shelling of South Vietnamese towns and allied bases in three weeks, the Viet Cong appeared today to have opened a new and more violent phase of its seven-week-old spring offensive.

Rockets and mortars hit more than 45 towns and bases during the night. The heaviest attacks were made on provincial capitals on opposite sides of Saigon, Tay Ninh to the northwest and Vinh Long to the southwest.

At least 21 persons were killed 200 were wounded in the two cities and about 80 others were missing in Tay Ninh. Some Americans were among the wounded, but no American deaths were reported.

The night's attacks were among the most devastating of the offensive which began Feb. 23 and the heaviest since the night of March 20-21, when 65 rocket and mortar attacks were reported.

On the other side of Saigon and close to the Cambodian border, more than 80 rocket and mortar rounds slammed into Tay Ninh, blowing up two ammunition dumps, destroying 100 buildings and causing at least 101 casualties, officials reported.

Officials said much of the barrage was concentrated in a three-block area containing the provincial government and military headquarters, a sector headquarters and the compound of the U.S. military advisory team.

About 15 rounds landed in the American compound, smashing buildings and causing moderate to heavy material damage, the U.S. Command said. As spokesman said some Americans were wounded, but none were killed.

Half a dozen Vietnamese headquarters buildings were demolished, along with several barracks for South Vietnamese militiamen. Elsewhere in the city of 100,000, exploding artillery shells and crushed buildings and homes, set them afire and apparently buried some of the victims alive.

Agnew Daughter Plans To Marry

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Pamela Agnew, daughter of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, says she and Robert DeHaven of White Marsh, Md., will be married June 21.

Miss Agnew, the vice president's oldest daughter, and her fiance, a teacher of children at a private mental hospital, both are 25. She is a social worker in Baltimore county's Department of Social Services.

Saying, "We want to keep it a kind of small," Miss Agnew declined to disclose the site of the wedding, but said it would be in Baltimore County.

Hnoeymooner Ailing?

MADRID (London Express) — Judy Garland, on honeymoon with her fifth husband Mickey Deans at Torremolinos in Costa Del Sol, yesterday was reported suffering from an undisclosed illness. The couple has not been seeen outside the hotel since they arrived five days ago.

Strike Hits Calcutta

CALCUTTA (London Express) — Calcutta, India's biggest industrial city, was completely strike-bound yesterday as a quarter of a million workers downed tools. The strike is a protest against central troops shooting dead five workers at an arms factory near Calcutta. The Communist government of West Bengal officially backed the strike and demanded that New Delhi respect provincial autonomy.

Apollo Crew Picked

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A balding, 38-year-old veteran of two space flights will lead a three-man team on man's first attempt at true exploration of the moon.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration named Cmdr. Charles Conrad yesterday as commander of an all-Navy astronaut crew on Apollo 12, scheduled to bring off man's second lunar landing in July.

With Conrad on the flight will be Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon, 39, command module pilot, and Lt. Cmdr. Alan L. Bean, 37, the lunar lodule pilot. Apoolo 12 is intended as the first of nine flights of exploration of the lunar topography. Its flight plan includes up to 12 hours of crew activity outside the space craft and on the moon's bleak surface.

Strikes Hit Italy

ROME (AP) — Amid labor and student violence, Italians across the nation walked off their jobs today after bloody riots left two dead and hundreds injured in the southern city of Battipaglia on Wednesday.

The three-hour strike, called by Italy's major labor unions, affected industrial production, some banks, schools, movie theaters and public services.

In southern Italy, the strike was widely observed, and in some cities, workers left their jobs for the whole day.

Students and police clashed in the Sicilian city of Trapani, and three Molotov cocktails exploded this morning in Ascoli Piceno.

Lull In Biafra War

LAGOS (London Express) — Nigerian federal troops began digging in yesterday to consolidate new positions gained during the fierce three-day battles for possession of Uzuakoli. Both sides took advantage of the lull in firing to dig trenches and federal forces began scouring the brush for Biafran rebels waiting to ambush supply convoys.

After advances which have brought forward federal troops within seven miles of Ojukwu's headquarters at Umuahia, Biafran resistance has stiffened again and the federals appear bogged down.

Trial Set On Coke

BEIRUT (UPI) — Former Premier Taher Yahya of Iraq will go on trial for allowing Coca-Cola to be bottled in Baghdad, informed diplomatic sources in Beirut said last night. Coca-Cola is blacklisted by Arab nations because it has plants in Israel.

Czech Press Restive

PRAGUE (AP) — Despite a new crackdown on Czechoslovakia's journalists, the Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo today criticized "indiscriminate condemnation of the mass media."

The party paper said many journalists "felt uneasy about the statement of the central committee presidium and there are many who do not agree with it."

After anti-Soviet demonstrations two weeks ago in several cities, the party's leaders said the press, radio and television were partly to blame, and reimposed censorship.

Rude Pravo said today it had "heard from various directions that if future development and the possibility of writing are not in keeping with the honor of a journalist, it will be better to give up.

NATO Maneuvers Set As Red Ships Sail

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — The North Atlantic Treaty Organization announced yesterday that more than 60 of its ships and 300 of its planes will begin 12 days of maneuvers April 20.

In what was apparently a coincidence, the NATO announcement came as more Russian ships were sailing through the Straits of Gibraltar into the Mediterranean. A total of 15 entered Wednesday and yesterday, bringing the Soviet fleet in the Mediterranean to at least 45.

Owner Reports His Motorcycle Stolen

A 1968 yellow Yamaha motorcycle, license 668 573, owned by Richard Neve of 1881 Mar West Street, was stolen from in front of Neve's residence at 10:10 p.m. Wednesday, Tiburon Sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Deputies said the thieves pulled loose a street sign to which the motorcycle had been chained and slipped off the chain.

Pilot Court-Martialed For Destroying Film

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force court-martialed a veteran pilot for destroying combat film showing American planes strafing a Soviet ship in the North Vietnamese port of Cam Pha in 1967, the Pentagon has disclosed.

Col. Jack Broughton, now retired, drew a $600 fine and an admonishment for destroying official property "with intent to deprive the United States government of information to which it was entitled." A review panel later set aside the conviction but let the fine stand as administrative punishment.

Initially, the Pentagon flatly denied the Soviet ship Turkestan had been hit, but had to back down two weeks later after Pacific commanders turned up "new information" on the incident.

Pentagon officers confirmed that Broughton's court-martial conviction on July 27, 1967, centered on gun camera film taken by U.S. jets in a raid on enemy weapons near Cam Pha.

"Two of my majors got trapped," Broughton was quoted as saying. "They were strafing some guns and another battery opened up on them."

One of the four F105s reacted with 20mm cannon fire "but apparently there was something in the way," Broughton said. "There was a big ship there."

The Washington Star quoted Broughton as saying "I destroyed the film" to protect the two pilots under his command. The Star said Broughton felt he had to act to prevent them from being court-martialed for firing on an unauthorized target.

De Gaulle Hit For Challenge On Election

PARIS (AP) — Paris newspapers grumbled today at President Charles de Gaulle's threaten to resign if the French people don't approve two constitutional changes at a referendum April 27. But none of them predicted whether the threat would get De Gaulle the approval he demanded.

In a television interview last night, De Gaulle said the outcome of the vote on his proposals to transfer some of the central government's vast powers to regional administrations and to take away the already limited powers of the Senate will determine "the continuation of my mandate or my immediate departure."

'ONE MAN'

Paris-Jour, which often supports De Gaulle, said it was a shame that the referendum "should be dominated more by the question of confidence in one man than by the sincere will of those on all sides to give a decision on the text."

The right-wing L'Aurore said De Gaulle was demanding "a blank check. . . . What is asked of the voters is to approve in advance, eyes closed, other reforms the authorities care to order tomorrow."

Les Echos, an independent financial newspaper, said De Gaulle's comment "confirms the evolution of the regime in a more and more presidential direction: everything that is important comes from a direct dialogue between the president of the republic and the people and, finally, moves back the representatives of the people to a secondary role."

OPPONENTS' VIEWS

Opponents argue that the referendum should be split to permit separate votes on the plan to set up 21 regional administrations and on the Senate proposal.

There is practically no opposition to the idea of breaking the stranglehold of the central administration by establishing regional groupings. But there has been considerable reluctance to reduce the Senate to the role of an advisory body.

Now De Gaulle has thrown a third element into the vote by making it an expression of confidence in his own stewardship.

De Gaulle often has threatened to quit in the past if the voters refused to back him.

Fort Ord Reports More Disease Cases

FT. ORD (AP) — Three new cases of meningoccal disease were reported yesterday at this Army training post, raising the total to 25 this year.

Only six of the 25 developed into the more serious spinal meningitis, the Army said. Two of the victims died.

Teens Help To Save Flooded Iowa Town

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Volunteers patrolled dikes through the night in Sioux City, Iowa, where the Big Sioux River flowed out of its banks and across three miles of land, submerging homes or leaving rooftops exposed like tiny dots.

The 200 volunteers were adults called out to relieve more than 1,000 teen-agers and college students who were given credit yesterday for helping to save some northwest Iowa towns from the ravages of river floods.

The biggest fear among residents forced from their homes where the Big Sioux flows into the Missouri River along the South Dakota and Iowa border was that constant pressure on the levees would cause a breakthrough and innundate the area.

Otherwise, flooding conditions today were no worse than yesterday when water spilled through a dike at Sioux Falls, S.D., forcing the evacuation of 50 families and rupturing a natural gas pipeline.

The youngsters pitched in to repair the damaged barrier and no injuries resulted from the broken gas line.

High schools in the flood-threatened communities freed students from classes to join the flood-fighting force and colleges in the area were in the midst of Easter vacation.

At Cherokee, Iowa, where some 350 persons had been forced to flee their homes when the Little Sioux River flooded 27 blocks, evacuation chairman Carvell Burkhart praised the young people.

All 800 residents of North Sioux City, S.D., remained away from their homes, abandoned to the swirling waters which crested between 12 and 12.5 feet early today. The flood level was not expected to recede before tomorrow.

GOP Senators Split With Kennedy On Alaskan Trip

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) —Three Republicans pulled out of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's subcommittee investigation of conditions in Alaska yesterday with charges the 3,000-mile tour of native villages was a "publicity stunt."

Kennedy—who with fellow Democrat, Sen. Walter Mondale, Minn., remained—emphatically denied the charges made by California's George Murphy, and Sens. Henry Bellmon, Okla., and William Saxbe, Ohio.

The three left here yesterday after branding the trip "a publicity stunt paid for at taxpayers' expense."

Republican sources in Washington, D.C. said a contributing factor in the GOP decision to quit was a memorandum prepared for Kennedy by subcommittee staffer Adrian Parmeter advising Kennedy on how to get maximum mileage from television newsmen accompanying the tour.

Bellmon said that "after one day on the trip and after careful study of Senator Kennedy, it is obvious the trip was arranged to confirm preconceived conclusions rather than to obtain an objective view."

Kennedy, who was in the Yukon River village of Galena about 270 miles west of Fairbanks when informed of the Republican move, said: "The problem of Indian education, health and lack of opportunity knows no partisanship."

" I think the decision of Senator Murphy, Bellmon and Saxbe is regrettable in a matter of such import and significance," he said.

Warrant Issued For Driver On Charges

A bench warrant with bail set at $1,000 has been issued by Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court for Harry Elmer Chapman, 43, of Mill Valley, who failed to appear for arraignment on drug and reckless driving charges.

Chapman is accused of possessing methamphetamine and a hypodermic needle and reckless driving on March 8.

Nixon May Speak Up On ABM; Demos Firm

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — President Richard M. Nixon probably will enter personally again into the debate over his proposed Safeguard antimissile system, his press secretary said today.

Nixon "feels it is vitally important to the security of the country," said White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

The President has been publicly silent on the missile system since he announced his decision to modify the Sentinel antiballistic missile system proposed by the Johnson administration.

Opposition to deployment of the antiballistic missile system has virtually become official Democratic Party policy.

This became clear when the Democratic National Committee labeled the ABM the "No. 1" issue in the current edition of its official publication, "Demo Memo," and quoted the Democratic Party platform of the 1968 election campaign:

"Even in the present tense atmosphere we strongly support President Johnson's effort to secure an agreement with the Soviet Union under which both states would refrain deploying antimissile systems . . ."

Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, chairman of the Democratic National Committee does not miss a chance in voicing opposition to the ABM. He made it a part of his newsletter to Oklahoma constituents. "I think it is one thing to authorize further research and development on an ABM system, and it's a totally different thing to deploy this system which is obviously technologically undeveloped."

tax could be used only if welfare and education costs were shifted away from the property tax.

Beckett, noting the author of the report, former study director Richard M. Zettel had written it in "professional language," suggested that it "might be better to use more lay language."

Zettel is to rewrite the report for a third time, and present a final version to commissioners at their next meeting, tentatively set for April 24 at 9:45 a.m. in the hotel.

Commissioners also postponed final action on an agreement between the Association of Bay Area Governments and the state to set up a Joint Transportation Planning Committee to take over the commission's duties after it goes out of existence late this year.

The committee would be designed to meet the federal requirement that there be a regional transportation planning agency to qualify for federal transportation funds.

The proposed committee would function under ABAG's wing until a permanent regional agency was set up in the Bay Area to take over its duties.

The committee would be run by a 10-member board comprised of nine elected officials selected by ABAG and of the secretary of the Business and Transportation Agency.

The state would provide it $400,000 a year, and ABAG would add $75,000 a year in services or funds.

Commissioners also received copies of the first six chapters of the commission's proposed report. They were the technical data on which later chapters will be based.

$766,243 Fire Budget Is Asked

A fire department budget of $766,243 for fiscal 1969-70 was unanimously recommended to the city council by the San Rafael Fire Commission last night.

The budget, prepared by Fire Chief Vance Trivett, is up from the current budget of $739,999, John T. Goodale, city administrative assistant reported.

The major increase, he said, is for two new firemen which the commission asked be added to the staff. In addition, a device to record all radio and telephone calls to the department, expected to cost about $1,000 is included, Goodale reported.

The commission also approved a contract with Northwestern Pacific Railway Co. to string alarm wires through the Puerto Suello Hill tunnel.

to property or injury to persons.

University President Kenneth S. Pitzer, who has repeatedly expressed his personal opposition to classified research on campus, told sit-in leaders:

"I ask you to leave . . . and join me and other members of the community in working to resolve, through established and peaceful channels, the profoundly important issues which motivate this demonstration of your concern."

Referring to his determination not to call police, Pitzer said he had "every desire to handle these problems within the campus community and not look outside."

After the faculty's Academic Senate decided in a three-hour meeting to re-examine campus president Denis Hayes pleaded to no avail with the students—gathered in the courtyard—to give up the sit-in.

Demonstrators have promised not to damage the occupied building, where $2 million in classified research is done annually.

Sullivan appeared in Harvard Yard when demonstrating students were driven out of University Hall. He praised university officials and police for their handling of the situation and said "the entire country should learn a great lesson from what happened."

At other campuses:

Dartmouth, Mass. — Normal classroom activity ceased at Southeastern Massachusetts Technological Institute as students struck to protest the dismissal or demotion of six teachers "for lack of appropriate restraint in extracurricular activities."

Oberlin, Ohio—Students vacated the administration building at Oberlin College after an all-night sit-in to protest Peace Corps recruiting on campus. The students also demand reinstatement of SDS leader Jeremy E. Pisker, suspended for refusing to promise not to interfere with recruiting.

Cambridge — Hecklers at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology forced Walt W. Rostow, former security adviser to President Johnson, to cut short a speech on Vietnam.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Police arrested four persons at Temple University on charges of possessing explosives. Among them was Stephen Fraser, 23, leader of a recent sit-in.

New Orleans, La.—Southern University reopened yesterday after trouble Wednesday when 27 students at the Negro school were arrested for substituting a "liberation" flag for the American flag.

Theory Of Dance To Be Discussed

San Francisco dancer Karna Pinska will speak on the theory of dance at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Mill Valley Golf club house in a program sponsored by the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts and the city's parks and recreation department.

Miss Pinska will begin classes on dance and rhythm for Mill Valley children at the Sycamore Avenue Recreation Center Monday and for women at the club house and recreation center Tuesday. Classes for men will be announced later. Information on the classes may be obtained by calling the parks and recreation department.

Two Workers Killed In Falls

WALNUT CREEK (UPI) — Two East Bay construction workers fell 50 feet to their deaths yesterday at the Kaiser sand and gravel plant.

The victims were identified as Guy M. McGuire, 59, Pittsburg, and Erwin R. Overland, 50, San Leandro, both employees of the General Conveyor Construction Co.

A company spokesman said the men were welding on a new steel building on a platform directly above an open chute used for dumping waste materials into trucks. They fell through the chute and landed on a concrete apron below.

Henry du Pont, 85, Succumbs

Du Pont, 88, founded the Henry Francis du Pont Winterthur Museum in 1951 to house his extensive collection of antiques and architectural ornaments. The museum is located in his family's large home on the Winterthur estate.

He also was a director of the Du Pont Co., founded by his grandfather, E.I. du Pont de Nemours, and was a member of its finance committee for many years.

BOARD

proposed by member Dr. John R. Ford of San Diego, a physician. School districts would still have broad power to draw up their own sex education programs and detailed enforcement of the board's policy would be difficult.

Ford's resolution was slightly more liberal than guidelines proposed by Rafferty and the state Eeducation Department.

Ford's proposal mentions "family life in health education" beginning in kindergarten with details of human sexual activity left until the fourth grade. Rafferty, however, said sex education should not be taught at all before the fourth grade.

Ford's resolution also did not include any requirement that boys and girls be taught sex education in separate classes, as the state department recommended.

Some members of the audience applauded opposing sides during the hearing. Boos, jeers and shouts were reserved for proponents of sex education, including Ford.

"Please listen. Please don't be rude," Ford said after he was interrupted by a shout.

The opposing arguments were basically: that lack of sex education leaves children with a distorted view of sex, or that sex education classes themselves promote promiscuity and warped minds.

A Birch Society representative and a few women directed their opposition to SIECUS, although no one directly representing that organization appeared before the board.

"A fraudulent selling point . . . is that continuous sex education programs will solve many of our social ills," said Rex Westerfield of the Birch Society.

Mrs. Charles R. Howe of the Citizens Committee of California, Inc., of Anaheim said: "Until the SIECUS organization is thoroughly investigated and ultimately exposed, we must completely abolish these formalized sex education programs in our schools."

Mrs. Marjorie Lemlow of San Francisco, head of the Mothers Support for Neighborhood Schools, showed magazines with nudes on the covers she said were connected with SIECUS.

One Anaheim mother said her daughter had nightmares after being told in detail about sex change operations.

A school official warned that many of the documents used to oppose sex education were taken out of context and included pictures and diagrams not found in school material.

Minuteman III Fired On Coast

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — The first Minuteman III missile launch in the Air Force Western test range was made at 12:55 a.m. today.

The missile was programmed to fly about 5,000 miles to a target zone near the Marshall Islands in the Pacific Ocean.

The Minuteman III is approximately 60 feet long, has a diameter of about six feet and weighs approximately 38 tons.

It is the newest member of the Minuteman family. Earlier models are I and II.

Three Minuteman III launches have been made from Cape Kennedy.

Deputies Claim Giant Burglary Ring Solved

A grand scale burglary ring which victimized at least 50 homes in every city in Marin except Novato during the past two months has been smashed with the arrest of an AWOL Marine and the expected arrest of several others, Tiburon authorities said today.

No estimate of the loot's value was available, but it was said to run into the thousands of dollars.

Capt. William Johansen of the sheriff's substation in Tiburon said Steven Wayne Mitchell, 19, of 127 Ross Street, San Rafael, was arrested yesterday as the result of surveillance operations set up last week.

Mitchell was held without bail at Marin County Jail for military authorities from Camp Pendelton near San Diego. He was due for a court appearance this afternoon.

Johansen said Mitchell was arrested by Sheriff's Inspector Ronald Retana and Deputy William Donovan, who had worked in plain clothes on their days off during the special surveillance, after Mitchell had dropped off two other suspects in a wealthy residential section of Tiburon.

The other two were also arrested but released because of lack of evidence, he said. More arrests are expected.

Johansen said the "very calm and cool" burglary ring operated by cruising residential areas shortly after dusk. Spotting a house without lights, they would knock on the door and if no one answered, break in.

They took only jewelry, cash and portable television sets, he said, throwing away junk jewelry outside the burgled homes. The loot was sold in San Francisco bookstores and service stations, Johansen said, adding that at one time, the burglars conducted an open auction of stolen goods from the trunk of a car parked in the lot of a San Francisco service station.

He said the ring had hit every city in Marin except Novato and the estimate of 50 burglaries was "very conservative."

Hayakawa On Capital Panel

Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, acting president of San Francisco State College, and the subject of speculation that he may run for public office next year, will appear on a panel discussing campus unrest and its political consequences on Sunday in Sacramento.

The panel is part of a weekend conference sponsored by state Democratic Party leaders to come up with fresh issues and potential candidates for the 1970 election.

Hayakawa has been mentioned by party leaders as a potential candidate for the U.S. Senate seat held by Republican George Murphy or as an opponent of Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction.

Hayakawa, however, has disavowed all such speculation.

Youth's Slaying Ruled Justified

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The fatal shooting of a Negro youth by a policeman last month was ruled justifiable homicide yesterday by a coroner's jury.

The verdict was returned after 90 minutes of deliberation by a six-woman, five-man panel, which included one Negro.

The victim, Alvert J. Linthcome, 19, was shot March 30 as he allegedly fled police from a stolen car. The coroner's inquest was called to determine whether there was any basis for criminal proceedings against the two policemen involved.

Patrolman Gerald Roberts, who fired the fatal shot, and his partner, Patrolman William Faust, were represented at the hearing by attorney J. W. Ehrlich.

Tiburon Harbor Plan Explained As Joint Effort

The Tiburon harbor plan, presented to the city's planning commission at a workshop session April 1 and made public at a regular meeting Monday evening, was the joint work of Philip K. Buskirk and H. Morgan Noble of Belvedere, the planners said today.

The Independent-Journal gave Buskirk sole credit for the plan, the fourth proposal for development of downtown Tiburon in less than two years.

Buskirk said Noble had been a consultant on a plan by Charles Warren Callister which has been reluctantly endorsed by the city council. The latest plan, Buskirk said, was adapted from one considered by Callister's firm when it was exploring possibilities for downtown development.

He said he and Noble do not have a firm together, they merely collaborated on the plan.

Car In River; Couple Saved

A Petaluma couple escaped serious injury yesterday at 6:30 p.m. when their car crashed through the railing on the Washington Street bridge and flipped into the Petaluma River upside down.

Thomas McDaniel, 41, of 126 Wilson Street, and his wife, Maria, 35, were treated at Hillcrest Hospital for head cuts.

George Caldwell, 26, of 284 Thompson Lane, Petaluma, witnessed the accident and dove into the water to help the pair escape from the submerged car.

Police said that Mrs. McDaniel had turned onto the bridge from Water Street and lost control in an area where workmen are constructing a section of the new bridge. As the car went through the protective railing, it struck a stack of steel braces and flipped into the river.

Stop For Hikers Results In Booking Of Motorists

A Muir Beach man was booked into Marin County Jail on a variety of counts and his 17-year-old companion was taken to Juvenile Hall on suspicion of having marijuana yesterday after they were stopped on Shoreline Highway in Almonte, the California Highway Patrol said.

Kenneth L. McMackin, 22, of Star Route 1, was booked on suspicion of speeding, driving on the wrong side of the road, stopping in the roadway, giving false information to an officer and driving with no license in his possession. The 17-year-old boy, from Bremerton, Wash., was booked on suspicion of having marijuana and being beyond parental control.

The highway patrol said McMackin stopped on Shoreline at 12:10 p.m. to pick up hitchhikers, blocking traffic. When a patrol car approached, McMacking drove off at high speed, the patrol said. Stopped a little way down the road, he reportedly showed papers belonging to the 17-year-old's brother, and had no identification of his own.

The juvenile reportedly was seen stuffing something under the passenger seat, and a bag with a small amount of suspected marijuana was found under the seat, the patrol said.

McMackin was released on his own recognizance to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Hearing Is Set In Drug Case

A preliminary hearing for Melvin W. Hing, 28, of Siskiyou County, accused of felony charges of marijuana and methamphetamine possession, was set yesterday for May 22 in Marin Municipal Court.

Two companions arrested at the same time, Jill L. Williams, 19, of Sausalito, and Jeffrey J. Morse, 22, of Muir Beach, will have court trials the same day for misdemeanor charges of being under the influence of narcotics.

They were arrested Christmas Day in Novato.

Petaluma Chamber To Hear Singers

The Sonoma State College madrigal singers, under the direction of Ellen Amsterdan, will appear at the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce annual dinner tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Petaluma Veteran's Memorial building.

The 20 singers perform without accompaniment. Two English madrigals by Thomas Morley will be presented as well as "Waldesnacht" by Brahms.

Oakland Mayor Critical Of Bail

OAKLAND (AP) — Mayor John H. Reading, who says Oakland has a "crime wave of epidemic proportions," is calling for a review of bail practices.

The mayor also said yesterday he had proof that criminal acts have been committed by persons out on bail.

"I am convinced that the use of even the most skilled police techniques will not appreciably reduce the crime rate if the existing court procedures are not improved," he said in a report to the city council.

"Many persons believe that sentencing and bail procedures encourage arrogance and repeated offenses . . . This approach may well contribute to the crime rate," he said.

Two Cars Hit By Burglars

Burglaries to two autos have been reported in San Rafael, the police department said yesterday.

A $300 box of mechanic's tools and a shirt full of old coins, value unknown, was stolen Wednesday from the trunk of a car owned by Heavy Bess of 883 Fourth Street while the auto was parked in the city's two-deck parking lot behind Western Sports Shop.

A canvas bag containing $60 worth of tools was stolen from a van owned by Edward K. Kreps of 407 First Street between March 31 and April 1 outside Krep's home.

It can uphold the Supreme Court.

When the highest court of the land gets the urge to take a spin, to whom can they turn for support?

To the homeliest station wagon of the land, that's whom.

Not only would the VW Station Wagon support all nine justices, but we think all nine justices would support the VW Station Wagon.

Were they to enter and sit in judgment, they'd find its seats very comfortable (each one's well padded and cushioned). And its behavior a model of restraint.

They'd find it restrains itself in the amount of gas it takes (about 23 mpg).

In the amount of oil it takes (pints, not quarts).

In the amount of parking space it takes (it's about 3 feet shorter than the average wagon).

Of course, there's one area where our wagon shows almost no restraint: with the seats out, it can hold nearly twice what the conventional wagon can hold.

Maybe the idea of the Supreme Court driving around in a Volkswagen seems astonishing to you.

But it seems like supreme wisdom to us.

Ross Free-Running Dogs Attacked Again

By CHARLES YOAKUM

The reputation of Ross dogs took another mauling last night but their freedom remains at least temporarily unimpaired today.

The Ross Town Council began reassessing animal control problems and possible solutions last night and while the hour-long discussion did little to enhance the dogs' image, councilmen took no official action on the proposed countywide control ordinance.

There were indications, however, that the days of free-running dogs are numbered.

TO STUDY PLAN

The council instructed Town Atty. Robert W. Elliot to look over the county's proposal and to bring a rewritten version aimed at Ross' specific problems.

Those specific problems were outlined rather vividly by several members of the audience last night. And even before those in the audience had their say, Councilmen Natalie G. Lewis and Mayor Frederick S. Allen both said that they have been swamped with complaints.

Those in the audience complained bitterly about the lack of animal control service in Ross. Under the current ordinance, the county officers can only patrol and enforce animal control laws in the commercial area, the post office or at Ross School. They cannot go into the residential area, where dogs roam singly and in packs, according to complaints.

REPORTS ATTACKS

"I know of children who can't even walk to school down certain roads because they are attacked or scared by packs of dogs," said Mrs. Frank Hayward of Upper Ames Road.

Ragnvald Bernt of 7 Circle Drive told the council that "the dogs of Ross appear to have more rights than the sacred cows in India." He termed the situation "intolerable" in his area.

"Not too long ago there was a family of 'possums in a tree next to my house," he said, "and a pack of dogs rushed them, missed the tree and crashed right through the bedroom door."

Mayor Allen said that only recently a dog attacked a police car "but the police chief had no authority to arrest the dog, so he's still running loose."

Timothy H. Jackson, a county administrative analyst subbing for asst. administrator Thomas P. Campanella, briefly outlined to the council the county's animal control proposal.

"We're seeking a countywide unified ordinance," he said, "we feel we have to have stricter laws."

Jackson said that the county was seeking to contract with the Marin Humane Society for an additional three animal control officers — raising the number to eight — to patrol the county.

He said that the proposal included much heavier fines for animals not under the immediate control of its owner or handler.

"We don't mean a leash law," Jackson added.

Councilman Roy Farrington Jones took exception to the county's proposal.

"I don't like any part of it," Jones said. "I think all we have to do is enforce the ordinance we have now."

This drew an immediate reaction from Mrs. Hayward.

"I wish I could take you up to the water district," she said, "and show you the poodles, beagles and other dogs running in packs killing and injuring the deer."

Jones said that he had had two or three complaints about dogs in his seven years on the council, but other councilmen said that they had been flooded with calls recently.

"The situation has gotten out of hand. It's our responsibility to protect the citizens," Mrs. Lewis said.

Complaints have run the gamut from just all-night barking sessions to packs of animals attacking other dogs and even humans, Mrs. Lewis said.

Police Budget Carries Pay Hike Proposal

A proposed police budget of $69,918 for fiscal 1969-70 — representing a 27 per cent increase over this year's $54,355 — was presented to the Ross Town Council last night.

The budget includes a 10 per cent pay hike for the four policemen now on the payroll and also includes funds for hiring a fifth police officer.

Of the total budget, $51,300 is scheduled for regular police salaries and another $5.000 is requested for overtime salaries.

Other major items in the rough-draft budget include $2,500 in salaries for school crossing guards, $2,000 for a new police patrol car and $1,500 for gas and oil for the cars.

"I don't see how a 10 per cent pay raise could be in the cards," Councilman Roy Farrington Jones said.

The council took the preliminary budget for study and it will be considered during the regular budget sessions next month.

Baroness Spencer-Churchill, who is 84, broke her thigh when she fell a week ago.

County Spelling Winners Chosen

Bill Bradley, a student at San Rafael Military Academy, won the Marin County eighth grade spelling contest Wednesday and became eligible to compete for the state title April 25 in Sacramento.

Mark Clark of Martin Luther King School, Sausalito, won the alternate title. Other finalists were Ingrid Angress of Tomales Elementary; David Bernat of Ross School; Kathy Sherrill of Sinaloa Junior High, Novato, and Marie Wanninger of Vallecito School, San Rafael.

Kenneth E. Barnes, curriculum coordinator for Marin County schools, reported the most difficult words for the finalists were communique, erroneous, hosiery, caricature and liquefy.

Red Communications Satellite In Orbit

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched a new communications satellite in the Molniya series, the news agency Tass reported.

The satellite is designed for relay of telephone and radio-telegraph communications and for transmission of television broadcasts to northern Siberia, Soviet central Asia and the Far East.

Jack Carney Resigns As A Ross Town Councilman

The Ross Town Council last night accepted the resignation of councilman Jack Carney and immediately announced that it would intereview prospective candidates in closed sesssion April 18.

The councilmen adjourned last night's regular session until 8 p.m. on that date.

"Anyone interested in being appointed to the vacancy should submit his or her name to the town clerk and then plan to be at the meeting April 18," said Mayor Frederick S. Allen.

Carney resigned from the council in a letter March 27 saying that "pressing business interests" made it impossible for him to attend the monthly meetings.

Carney had been a member of the council less than one year when he resigned. He has frequently been absent from council sessions in recent months.

Persons interested in filling Carney's seat should contact town clerk Virginia Stott immediately, Allen said.

The Ross Town Council last night also:

STOP SIGN — Adopted a resolution installing a stop sign on Bridge Avenue at Chestnut and Madrona avenues.

ABATEMENT — Ordered abatement proceedings against the Goldstine Barn on Upper Road.

SERVANT'S QUARTERS Granted a use permit to Gregory K. Solon to use a detached dwelling as a guest house and servant's quarters.

New Sentencing Trial Ordered

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Supreme Court ordered a new penalty trial yesterday for Joseph Bernar Morse, a 25-year-old Chula Vista man convicted of killing three persons—his mother, his sister and a cellmate.

The high court ruled Morse must be resentenced because the prosecuting attorney, in asking for the death penalty, had mentioned the possibility of parole if Morse received only life imprisonment.

Morse was convicted of murdering his mother and sister in 1964 in a case which became a landmark decision when the supreme court ruled he was not advised of his constitutional right to counsel or to remain silent.

Morse later received the death penalty for strangling his cellmate in San Diego County jail, Thomas L. Thaddei. The court ruled that sentence must now be reviewed.

San Rafael Council Candidates Give Varied Viewpoints On Needs

(Second of two articles)

San Rafael's eight candidates for two council seats in Tuesday's municipal election represent a variety of occupational fields and viewpoints.

Four candidates, covered in yesterday's Independent-Journal, were from the fields of law, auto and truck sales and the utility business.

The four covered today are a systems analyst, attorney, swimming pool serviceman, and industrial relations executive.

THOMAS H. LITZ, 31, of 100 Maywood Way, is a senior microfilm systems analyst for the 3M Co. in Redwood City.

A native of Washington, D.C., Litz attended the District of Columbia Teachers College for two years.

Litz's views on what he sees as the main problems which confront San Rafael are:

Courthouse Square — "It is vitally important that the city of San Rafael gain control over the courthouse square. We should be unending in our efforts to acquire this property from the county, for this property is the key to the future of San Rafael."

City Planning — The city must embark on a long-range planning program with emphasis on the downtown shopping area. "Fourth Street is quickly becoming a liability, both unsightly and unproductive. Unless something is done now to undertake the planning of a modern, up-to-date shopping area, free of traffic congestiona and shabby bars, San Rafael can look forward to becoming a second-rate city and a liability to its citizens and the county."

Appointed officials — "In order to insure that we have competent, well-qualified city officials, the mayor and members of the city council must have the power to appoint these officials."

Public involvement — "The lack of public involvement in the problems of this community is the main reason which prompted me to seek the office of councilman. The citizens of San Rafael simply do not seem to be concerned with what is happening or not happening to their community. The attendance at the city council meetings is appalling and the lack of active involvement on the part of the electorate is equaled only by lack of enthusiasm and imagination on the part of the majority of the council members."

FREDERICK C. ROBBINS, 42, of 65 Clausing Court, is an attorney in San Rafael, and an incumbent.

He was a member of the San Rafael Planning Commission for more than six years until he was appointed to the council in January to succeed Louis H. Baar, who was elected to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

A native of Portland, Ore., Robbins was graduated from Tamalpais High School, the College of Marin and San Francisco Law School.

Robbins said that during his service on the planning commission he became aware of the problems and future needs of the city. "I have also had the opportunity to become familiar with possible solutions and future plans and how they relate to the people and the business community," he said.

Robbins favors making the police chief, city treasurer, city clerk, and city attorney appointive.

Robbins said one of the most urgent traffic needs is the extension of Lincoln Avenue to connect with the Terra Linda area. When there is a traffic tie-up on Highway 101 over Puerto Suello hill, it is impossible for emergency vehicles to get through, he noted.

BENJAMIN F. WALTON, 39, of 165 Park Street, is a sales and maintenance employee of Herb's Pool Service of San Rafael.

A native of Salt Lake City, he was chairman of the Marin City Tenants Council in 1952-53, and has lived in Marin since 1948.

He started a campaign last year to preserve the county courthouse, scheduled to be abandoned soon and eventually demolished.

Walton believes the demolition of the building should be decided by the voters, not the Marin County Board of Supervisors nor the San Rafael City Council.

"If the courthouse must be sold and torn down, why should the taxpayers be short-changed in the process?" Walton asked. "If the courthouse square is the most valuable piece of property in downtown San Rafael . . . why must it be sold for half its market value?"

He said creating a shopping mall by closing Fourth Street could save downtown San Rafael. "Free parking on city parking lots might stimulate business and would compete with free parking lots at shopping centers," he contented. "San Rafael can move forward only as fast as the traffic can move through it. We need more one-way streets now."

Walton would make the police chief appointive, but keep the city clerk, attorney and treasurer elective.

RAY WHITE, 40, of 169 Greenwood Avenue, is executive manager of the Redwood Empire Sheet Metal and Air Conditioning Contractors Association.

He is chairmanof the Marin County Advisory Board for the Bay Area Construction Opportunity Program and a member of the Marin County Board of Appeals.

White said he is basing his campaign on the "need to plan for the city's orderly growth in order to assure a broadening of the tax base and preservation of the natural beauty of the city." He said, "Whether we like it or not, our city is growing. It is the responsibility of the city council to plan for and attract to San Rafael light, clean commerce and industry. Only in this way can we effect a reduction in the tax burden."

At the same time, the council should, "keep in mind the protection of San Rafael's natural assets which make it the ideal community we all enjoy as our home."

White said the council need people who daily "come into contact with business, industry, government, labor minorities, educators, and are aware of the problems of each and the interrelationship of one to the other."

White is opposed to changing the police chief, city treasurer, city clerk and treasurer from elective to appointive, believing the line of authority and division of duties in various city departments should be more clearly defined before such changes are considered.

Homeowner's Tax Relief Cutoff Near

Next Tuesday is the deadline for homeowners to file two claims for tax relief — one for $70 refund on 1968-69 taxes, and the other for a $750 assessed value exemption on 1969-70 taxes.

Most homeowners have already filed, said Assessor Bert W. Broxmmel. "We had a flood of calls and applications during the past week, but we think there are still more people who have forgotten to file."

As of yesterday, a total of 32,373 had filed pink forms, which will entitle each homeowner to a $70 refund on 1968-69 taxes.

In addition a yellow application form entitles the homeowner to claim an exemption of $750 assessed value on next year's (1969-70) taxes. The assessor said 32,173 had filed these forms. "It seems strange that there aren't more applications for homeowners' exemptions," Broemmel declared.

The applications must be brought to the assessor's office in the Civic Center by 5 p.m. April 15, or if mailed, must be postmarked no later than April 15.

The $70 refund for 1968 and the homeowners' examption for 1969 are the result of Proposition 1-A, passed by voters last November, to ease the tax burden on homeowners.

Civil Rights Worker To Speak At School

"Racism in Suburbia" will be discussed by Rev. George Johnson of Oakland at a meeting of the Human Relations Council of the Dixie School District at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Bernard Hoffman School multipurpose room, Terra Linda.

Johnson, a former James Reed Civil Rights Worker, is currently director of the East Bay Service Project, sponsored by the Unitarian-Universalist Church to serve the East Oakland ghetto area.

Car Show To Aid March Of Dimes

The sixth Peacock Gap Concours d'Elegance to benefit the Marin County Chapter of the March of Dimes will be held on Aug. 10 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Peacock Gap Country Club.

Bugattis, Ferraris and Rolls Royces will be among automobiles vying for trophies in 20 classes. A fashion show by the Mannequin League of Marin will also be presented.

Ralph Giovanniello, deputy superintendent of the Novato Unified School District, has been appointed temporary chairman of the concours, according to Mrs. Melvin Hammond, chairman of the March of Dimes Marin board.

Nixon Names Close Aide As Trade Lawyer

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Richard M. Nixon has named Murray M. Chotiner, a close political aide since Nixon's first ventures into public office, to a $36,000-a-year job as a trade lawyer.

Chotiner will become general counsel for the Office of Special Representative for Trade Negotiations. The key office which Chotiner will represent as lawyer is the one which negotiates reciprocal trade agreements with other countries.

Earlier yesterday Nixon named Carl J. Gilbert, an executive of the Gillette Safety Razor Co., to head up the trade office.

Nixon's appointment of Gilbert, 63, was considered a significant indication of the President's future policy in the trade area. Gilbert has been a leading advocate of liberal trade policies in his role as president of the Committee for a National Trade Policy, a group which tries to foster more free trade.

Fairfax School Board, Tam District Slate Woo Votes

Touching many issues but sparring only lightly, nine school board candidates took the issues of Tuesday's election to a Fairfax audience last night.

Sex education, tax rates and flexible class scheduling were some of the topics as candidates for the Fairfax School District and Tamalpais High School District boards campaigned before about 40 persons in White Hill School.

The candidates' night, sponsored by Fairfax parent-teacher associations and the League of Women Voters, produced no major surprises and the audience expressed little emotion during the program.

Present were four of the five candidates for the three Fairfax district seats: Paris B. Simmons and incumbents Jane S. Durr, Laurence G. Hermann and Dr. George C. Stone. Peggy Woodruff did not appear.

The Fairfax candidates went first, with challenger Simmons differing markedly with his opponents on the issue of the upcoming tax rate increase vote in the district and on sex education.

Simmons, a teacher in Daly City, said he opposed the measure which will appear on the June 3 ballot to increase the district tax rate by 95 cents to $3.965 per $100 of assessed valuation to meet rising costs.

He said statewide tax equalization, not a local tax boost, was the answer to the district's problem and urged that the board also await the outcome of school appropriation bills introduced in the Legislature.

Supporting the tax election and cooling hopes for meaningful financial relief from Sacramento were incumbents Hermann, Stone and Mrs. Durr, those terms expire June 30.

Hermann said that Fairfax's total tax rate of $3.015 was 10th in Marin County among major districts.

On sex education, Simmons objected that he had "seen schools assume more and more of the role of family life education, resulting in the deterioration of family units."

Mrs. Durr insisted sex education in the schools was designed to strengthen family ties and Hermann defended the program by saying that it was "requested by quite a few people in this district."

The school board in January, despite scattered opposition, voted unanimously to restore KQED's controversial "Time of Your Life" series to the sex education program in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. Alternate instruction was offered to the children of objecting parents.

Candidates also expressed these views:

STONE — Wanted to give students "permission to make genuine decisions" affecting their education. Said taxpayers' revolts in the face of tax increases directed particular harm at the students.

SIMMONS — Argued that teachers' salaries should be given first, not last, consideration in budget deliberations. Said streamlining board meetings might be one way to attract more residents to the sessions. Suggested group counseling as a means to retain "useful talent" in danger of dropping out of school.

HERMANN — Reported that the district had lowered class size in recent years. Said the district had "happy teachers — there is no militancy." Believed community relations should be promoted.

DURR — Felt that "dropoutism comes to us in kindergarten" and that this was the time when motivation was most important. Opposed the much-maligned split of the Tamalpais High School District into three unified districts.

WOODRUFF — Said in a statement that "The present (board) members have done a conscientious job. My desire to join the board is not based on a campaign to "throw out the old," but rather a calm proposal to infuse new blood, new ideas into the board."

Of the six Tamalpais High School District board candidates, only Gloria W. Melbostad, one of the two incumbents, failed to appear last night. She was reported to be out of town.

The six are seeking three vacancies on the board.

The second incumbent, David D. Ring of Tiburon, said he planned to recommend to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization at its meeting next week that it seek amendment or repeal of the law requiring a unification election every four years.

Although he said unification was advantageous, Ring believed the three-way proposal untimely and too expensive. Ring, vice chairman of the school district organization committee, supported the plan earlier in his campaign.

Also against the unification proposal were last night's other four speakers — challengers William H. Bentley, Robert W. Corlett, Richard W. Jahnke and Brice Pace.

Bentley stood alone in favor of retaining legislation signed last year by Gov. Ronald Reagan to lift school tax rate ceilings. The other candidates backed a bill introduced this year to repeal the legislation, which is to become effective in 1971.

Ring, Bentley and Corlett also supported elimination of the two-thirds requirement for voter approval of bond issues, while Jahnke and Pace did not.

In her absence, Mrs. Melbostad sent printed campaign literature in which she hoped the Arthur D. Little Inc. "educational audit" arranged by the board would lead to "constructive changes in management practices:" opposed the three-way unification plan and said that "education must operate on a middle ground between the extreme demands for complete revolution and adherence to the status quo."

Ring said that, in the light of failure of three bond issues in the Tam district, a new building program should be drawn. He also questioned whether the site for the proposed San Geronimo Valley High School was favored by the community.

Corlett said the district might seek school financing outside of bonds and a tax rate increase by resorting to bank loans and private money. New school construction methods could be investigated to reduce costs, he added.

Corlett also said felxible scheduling might relieve overcrowded conditions, particular at Sir Francis Drake High School, and he was opposed to credit or no-credit grading. Jahnke liked the idea of year-round classes to reduce crowding, while Pace said student responsibility should not be extended very far.

"If given a free rein," he warned, "you can be assured they'll never go to school."

Lawrence Bernauer Files For Council

Lawrence R. Bernauer, 28, of 842 St. Francis Drive, Petaluma, yesterday filed candidacy for the June 10 city council election.

Bernauer, a director of the East Petaluma Civic Association, owns the Speedee 7-11 store in Petaluma and is a member of the chamber of commerce.

Chamber Drafts Fees Opinion

San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce members agreed in principle yesterday that there should be a raise in the business license fee because the current fee, with a $10 minimum and $50 maximum, is "too minimal," secretary Lois Mason reported.

Board members called for a $15 minimum and $200 maximum but said a city council committee's proposal which would have permitted the maximum to go to $700, was out of line.

The chabmer will meet again at 12:15 p.m., Thursday in Alexander Hall, San Francisco Theological Seminary, to draw up recommendation on the license fee to the city council.

Three Marin Scholars Gain In Bank Contest

Two Terra Linda High School students and a Novato High School youth were among four zone winners chosen yesterday in the Bank of America's annual achievement awards competition.

The three will now compete in the area finals May 8 in San Francisco for $1,000 each in prize money.

Selected yesterday at the College of Marin after interviews and on the basis of scholastic records and extracurricular activities were Nancy Wilkinson and Shirley Meyer, both of Terra Linda High School, and Michael Magill of Novato High School. The fourth winner is Susan Achor of Santa Rosa High School.

The winners were chose from four study fields. Miss Wilkinson competed in the field of liberal arts; Miss Meyer, vocational arts; Magill, fine arts, and Miss Achor, science and mathematics. All received $150.

A total of 45 high school students — 28 from Marin and Southern Sonoma — competed.

Winners of $50 second place awards yesterday were Steven Follin of Terra Linda High School, fine arts; Karen Field of San Domenico School, Sleepy Hollow, liberal arts, and Victor Klebanoff, Terra Linda High School, science and mathematics.

Placing third and receiving $25 each were Ellen Rosenthal, Tamalpais High School, liberal arts, and Anne Wong of Petaluma Senior High School, vocational arts.

Coordinator of the event was Leroy Rudolph, vice president and manager of the main San Rafael office of the Bank of America.

Verbal Shootout In Court Over Neighborhood Corral

A horse and a pony which offend some but not all of the neighbors of Edward K. Wachsman, who lives in the Dominican section of San Rafael, were the subject of discussion in a trial yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Wachtsman, a former Marin County planning commissioner, has been charged with misdemeanor offenses of keeping the animals without a permit and refusing to remove a public nuisance.

Judge Peter Allen Smith ruled yesterday that a 1933 San Rafael ordinance which does not specifically mention horses does apply to them under the category "other domestic animals."

Wachsman said that he did have a permit for the pony but it was arbitrarily withdrawn by the city.

Yesterday two physicians also testified, one saying that the animals are a nuisance and the other that they are not. Neighbors were also divided on whether the horses draw flies and create a bad odor.

Judge Smith continued the case for 30 days for attorneys to file legal points on the ordinance.

Diplomacy Fails To Halt Trust Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission rejected arguments its action would adversely affect foreign policy and charged Litton Industries today with violating antitrust laws by acquiring two German typewriter firms.

The move was the first step in proceedings aimed at stripping the huge conglomerate of the Triumph-Adler combine, which Litton acquired in a $51 million deal last January.

The State Department had offered Litton help "in meeting problems in Germany which may result" from the open hearings held yesterday. The department was rebuffed in an attempt to keep the hearings closed, rather than public.

The FTC said the commission was turning down a proposed compromise settlement under which Litton would only have to divest Triumph-Adler's U.S. operations.

The action was taken by a 4-1 vote, with Commissioner Everette MacIntyre dissenting on grounds Litton should be allowed to continue negotiations until April 25.

Litton, a $1.9 billion corporation that is one of the nation's largest military contractors, had warned that a suit for divestiture would create an adverse reaction throughout Europe.

Defunct Ark Restaurant Operators Sued

The former operators of the defunct Ark restaurant and bar on the ferryboat Charles Van Damme near Sausalito have been sued in Marin Superior Court for more than $50,000 by the owner of the boat.

Donlon J. Arques claimed the restaurant managers had failed to pay $11,484 due in rent and that they left the boat in a condition "unfit for human habitation."

Due to neglect, Arques said, the boat is "wrecked, twisted, cracked and listing."

He asked $40,000 for damages to the ferry in addition to the back rent and attorney fees.

Named in the suit filed Wednesday as defendants were Fred A. Martinez, James Varcados, J. Frank McInnis and three John Does.

Arques said they leased the boat for the restaurant operation, which has been closed for several months, in June, 1965.

Nine Guns Stolen

George J. Descalso of Larkspur reported that between 1 and 5 p.m. yesterday someone broke the lock on his front door at 111 Piedmont Court, pried open a gun cabinet and stole nine guns, including three antique rifles, three shot guns and a Luger pistol, police said today.

Panel Passes Annexing Of 194 Parcels

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission last night approved annexation of 194 parcels along Paradise Drive, between Robin Drive and Old Landing Road, to the Corte Madera Sanitary District.

Approval is contingent on annexation of the entire area to the City of Tiburon. Part of the area is already within Tiburon.

The Marin Local Agency Formation Commission also:

CORTE MADERA CREEK — Approved annexation of 50 acres of Corte Madera Creek, from Greenbrae interchange to the area behind Bon Air Apartments to the Ross Valley Sanitary District.

OCEANA-MARIN — Approved the annexation of Oceana-Marin Unit 3 at Dillon's Beach, a total of 646 acres, to the North Marin County Water District.

NOVATO SANITARY — Gave Novato Sanitary District approval to annex 16 acres on the east side of Sutro Avenue near Dominic Drive and 3.78 acres at the corner of Tamalpais Avenue and Novato Boulevard.

Copter Crash Kills 8

Sirhan Attorney Lectures Jurors

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Defense attorney Grant B. Cooper lectured the jury at the Sirhan B. Sirhan murder trial like a schoolteacher today in an attempted to persuade it that the young Arab should be spared from the gas chamber.

Standing before a blackboard and using a pointer, the 66-year-old Cooper went painstakingly over the difference between first degree murder and a second degree murder and the elements that enter the two verdicts.

Cooper also explained the plea of "diminished capacity" which has been entered for Sirhan as a defense in the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Cooper said the concept originated in 1961 in the case of 15-year-old Ronald Wolff of Glendale, who had fantasies and a strong sexual drive. The boy wanted to have relations with girls living in a nearby house but his mother posed a problem so he beat and killed her.

Wolff pleaded diminished capacity and was given a verdict of second degree murder with life imprisonment. The case was tried before the same judge who is presiding over the Sirhan trial, Herbert V.Walker.

Cooper said that young Wolff had the same type of mental illness that Sirhan has been demonstrated to possess.

The attorney had opened his argument yesterday by stressing that the defense was not denying Sirhan shot the senator.

"We are not trying to free a guilty man. We will tell you—as we always have—that Sirhan is guilty of killing Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"We are not asking for an acquittal. I want to emphasize, whether Mr. Sirhan likes it or not, that he deserves to spend the rest of his life in the penitentiary.

"I am not going to ask for anything but guilty of murder in the second degree. There is a good Sirhan and a bad Sirhan and the bad Sirhan is a very nasty Sirhan . . . "

Powell Suggests Biracial Ticket

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., told University of Alabama students last night that he will call a national convention to push for an Edward Kennedy-Julian Bond Democratic presidential ticket in 1972.

"If the Democratic party is not ready for a Kennedy-Bond ticket in 1972, then I say its time for a third party," Powell told approximately 4,000 students. "Race prejudice is worse in the North because in the North they smile at you."

Powell defined Black Power as meaning black dignity and explained: "It doesn't mean antiwhite unless you are antiblack. It means we want to control our own black future by our own black selves."

UCSB Bomb Badly Hurts Caretaker

Police said Dover Sharp, 55, apparently was trying to disarm the device when it went off. He was knocked back 15 feet, investigators said, then with his clothing in flames staggered another 75 feet toward a wading pool where he apparently wanted to douse himself.

Students, attracted by the blast, led him to the pool and sprinkled him with water.

Sharp was hospitalized for surgery and treatment of extensive burns.

Officers said Sharp, who lived at the club, may have heard someone plant the device on a pedestal in the corner of the patio and investigated. The blast at 6:20 a.m. broke glass doors and windows and caused an estimated $1,500 damage.

Investigators said the device apparently was a flammable liquid in a container.

Officials could give no motive for the action. Last January two fire bombs were thrown at campus ROTC buildings but caused only minor damage.

Student Member On State Board?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Board of Education has approved a suggestion by state schools chief Max Rafferty that a high school student serve as a non-voting, liaison member of the board.

"He would participate in board discussions and dialogues dealing with student problems of all kinds," Rafferty told the board yesterday.

San Anselmo Summer Rec Signups Open

Registrations are being accepted for spring recreational activities sponsored by the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Department, director Frank L. Quinn said today. Some activities have begun, others will start next week.

Activities include a tiny tots program, tennis, folk guitar, bowling, dog obedience, archery and midget league baseball. Persons wishing to enroll may visit or telephone the department office in Memorial Park, Quinn reported.

New Careers Revision Wins Commission Nod

A revised New Careers program to be administered by the County of Marin was approved in principle last night by the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

Pending further review by the human rights staff, the program will be recommended to the board of supervisors.

A compromise between proposals made by Dr. Arthur Pearl of the University of Oregon, a consultant to the human rights commission, and Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella, the program would provide 24 positions in county government in the coming fiscal year for relatively untrained persons. The program would cost $92,000.

Pearl had said his original New Careers proposal wouldn't cost the county anything. Campanella had said New Careers would require intensive supervision and his proposal would have cost $245,900, less any federal aid.

The Marin County Human Rights Commission also:

ATTORNEYS — Heard Commissioner Lawrence A. Mayer ask the Marin County Bar Association to provide more attorneys for indigent clients in civil and criminal actions.

CONTRACT — Urged adoption of stronger provisions in equal employment clauses with contractors performing county business. The provisions would enable the commission to determine whether a contractor has complied and to attempt to stop those who don't comply from doing county business.

Man, 82, Falls; Condition Poor

An 82-year-old Larkspur man was reported in poor condition today at Marin General Hospital after he reportedly slipped while gardening and rolled 30 feet down a steep bank to Madrone Creek.

F. E. Seaton of 259 Madrone Avenue is being treated for two back breaks.

Four firemen, led by Asst. Chief William C. Lellis, hoisted Seaton up out of the creek bed in a wire basket after they got a call from Carol Blake of 250 Madrone Avenue, saying she heard her neighbor calling for help. The rescue took 27 minutes, said Lellis.

Youth Held In Burglary Probe

Gardner was held in Marin County Jail for an appearance in Marin Municipal Court today.

Police said he is suspected to burglarizing the home of Christopher Schuepbach of 79 Cascade Drive on April 2.

San Rafael School Boosters Set Survey

A force of about 200 persons will be surveying San Rafael voters for nine days in a house-to-house canvass beginning tomorrow to determine attitudes about the elementary school program.

The survey was arranged by the Your Elementary Schools Committee (YES), which is backing the $2.1 million bond election in the San Rafael Elementary School District June 10.

Author's Son Balks At Draft

OAKLAND (AP) — The son of a novelist refused induction into the Army yesterday, saying he refused to participate in war crimes.

Tad Hall, 18, is a junior at the University of California's Irvine campus and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Hall of Squaw Valley and Balboa.

His father wrote "Warlock," "Corpus of Joe Bailey," and "The Pleasure Garden."

Young Hall refused to apply for a student's deferment and mailed his draft card to his Selective Service Board in Auburn.

He said he refused induction because the United States is commiting war crimes. In Vietnam, a peace-time draft violates constitutional guarantees of life and liberty and the Vietnam war is illegal and immoral.

His case is being returned to the draft board.

Bench Warrant Set In Bad Check Case

A bench warrant with bail set at $1,000 was issued yesterday by Judge Alvin B. Goldstein of Marin Municipal Court for Joan Alma Burns, 33, of Sausalito, who failed to appear for a preliminary hearing.

Nixon, Foreign Ministers Confer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon met privately today with Atlantic Alliance foreign ministers to discuss further his plan to improve consultation among allies and a Communist proposal for an East-West conference on European security.

Nixon's suggestions yesterday for the future of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization met with mixed reaction in some delegations.

Some members said the proposals would duplicate in part current NATO machinery while watering down its original military and political purposes by expanding its role to include social problems.

Nixon, accompanied by Henry A. Kissinger, his adviser on national security affairs, spent 80 minutes with the foreign ministers in what was described as informal conversation around a square table in a secluded State Department conference room.

The President had no comment for reporters when he left.

Much of the talk at today's closing sessions of the 20th anniversary meeting continued to center around the Warsaw Pact bid to open discussions between the Western allies and the Soviet bloc.

The Communist suggestion, made last month, became the central topic of the NATO Council meeting when it opened yesterday.

The American position was spelled out by Nixon when he addressed the council's opening session.

The President said in his speech that it was "not enough to talk of European security in the abstract."

"We must know the elements of insecurity and how to remove them," Nixon said. "Conferences are useful if they deal with concrete issues, which means they must be carefully prepared."

The need for careful preparation was stressed also by most ministers. Many of them had another reservation, too: There can be no conference without the United States and Canada, the two Western hemisphere countries the Soviets excluded in the past proposals for discussions on European matters.

Moscow, it now appears, has changed its mind. Soviet envoys in Washington and in Europe are assuring everyone who is willing to listen that they have dropped their insistence on a conference without the United States and Canada.

Removal Of Underpass Fence Being Demanded

Parnow, former head of the Marin Division of the California Highway Patrol, explained that the fence was constructed to protect motorists who have the "right to assume relative safety and not have missives hurled at their cars."

Protestors said the fence was put up without consulting Marin City residents and no effort was made to find out the reason for the rock throwing.

Student David Jones said that rocks were thrown because "white people in cars were splashing" students, and student Castroma Dickens said: "They called us niggers. We didn't know where to go. They go to the pigs."

A girl student said: "Honkys came up on the sidewalk and splashed us deliberately, not accidentally."

B. C. Bachtold, assistant district engineer for maintenance in the state Division of Highways, said the state is going to undertake a reconstruction project that will correct the drainage and sidewalk problem along the underpass, a job he estimated would cost $50,000.

This, however, didn't quiet the demand for the removal of the fence, and Bachtold explained that he didn't have the authority to take the fence down.

The Marin City Home Owners and Improvement Association favored keeping the fence as a safety factor for the protection of children and motorists.

Councilman Joseph Knighten asked how many people the association represented and Msrs. Louis Page, association president, refused to give a figure.

Gaines said the protesters could get a petition with 1,000 signatures requesting that the fence be torn down.

Otis Ames, a Marin City youth, urged the community to stand together "home owners and poor people" and advised that "It's time to stop arguing and jiving around."

At one time, Gaines walked over to where state and county officials were seated and told them: "You are representatives of the people and you do what the people want."

At another time, while Bachtold was explaining the state's position, Gaines became irate saying he wasn't going to listen to that ——. He explained later he couldn't express himself in the "conventional way" since he was a product of his environment.

He advocated the principle: "Rules are made to serve people and not people to serve rules. If the rules don't serve people, it's up to people to abolish those rules by any means necessary."

He was joined in that sentiment by James Bullock, Walter Turner and Dave Townsend, all lieutenants in the county chapter of the Black Panther Party.

Mrs. Collie Gaines, a member of the city council, said it was insluting for the fence to be put up without anyone in Marin City being consulted. "You act as if we're not here," she said to officials.

"I'm sick of people throwing things on us," Mrs. Gaines said.

A group of students from San Rafael suggested that one solution would be to remove the rocks from the underpass area and landscape it, but Marin City students said that wasn't the answer.

Gabe Jackson, community worker for the Sausalito School District, said the fence was doing harm, and if fencing is needed to protect the pupils from traffic, the fence could be four-feet high rather than 15 feet.

Jack Grasberger, executive assistant to the district engineer, in the highway division, said "People in San Francisco and Sacramento" would make the decision on whether to remove the fence.

Parnow said he could understand the strong feeling to have the fence removed, and asked whether the residents would endorse returning the fence if rock throwing continued.

He also asked if the community could assure that rock throwing wouldn't take place if the fence is removed.

James O. Quiett, chairman of Redevelopment Agency, said that parents and youth would do all they could to resolve the problem.

There was brief discussion at the start of the session on having local law enforcement instead of being under jurisdiction of the Marin County Sheriff's Office.

One resident said that law enforcement problems weren't going to improve until citizens become concerned. Black Panther members called for a law enforcement by black people.

The Council said that law enforcement was in the domain of the Marin City Community Services District, and agreed that the community services district be encouraged "to develop plans and program for its own police force."

There also was some questions about where final decisions about community matters were made, and the council pointed out that it, as a representative of the community, make recommendations, but other agencies make the decisions.

Coins Stolen

William Kounter of 82 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, reported to the sheriff's department Wednesday that someone had stolen over $60 in coins from his home, officers said today.

One Injured In Two-Car Crash

A 24-year-old San Francisco woman was treated for minor injuries at Marin General Hospital last night after being involved in a two-car collision in Sausalito, police said today.

Carol Sarsi, a passenger in one of the cars in the collision in the 500 block of Bridgeway, was treated for bruised knees and elbows. The driver, Bruce Stark Bodi of 50 Sonoma, San Rafael, was unhurt, police said.

The driver of the second car, Carroll John Schuepbach Jr., of 25 Bayvista Drive, Mill Valley, was arrested by Sausalito police on suspicion of being drunk in or about an automobile. He was released from Marin County Jail on $125 bail for a court appearance at 2 p.m. Monday.

Repeated Vandalism Spurs Builder's Plea

San Rafael builder Hal Weiss told San Rafael police yesterday that his homes under construction at Oakdale Way and Mountain View Avenue in Dominican Heights have suffered the worst vandalism he has experienced.

Youngsters, trespassing when workmen leave for the day, remove equipment, break windows and throw lumber off roofs, he said. Weiss added he has received no cooperation from neighbors in halting the vandalism.

Four Fined For Drunken Driving

Four men have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court by Judge Hadden W. Roth for drunken driving. All were placed on six months probation.

Robert Francis Phillips, 44, of 36 Castlewood Drive, San Rafael, was fined $150. He was arrested April 3 at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Highway 101.

Edmund Tobin Leibert, 50, of 103 Van Winkle Drive, Sleepy Hollow, and Independent-Journal employee, was fined $250. He was arrested Monday in San Rafael.

Bill Norman McCulloch, of 57 Tamalpais Avenue, Apt. 5., who was arrested Feb. 19 in San Rafael, was fined $125.

Charles Ulrich Levis, 36, of 19 Circle Drive, San Rafael, who was arrested March 29 on Highway 101, was fined $250.

Bennett's Plea For Old Job Is Now Under Study

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Personnel Board has taken under advisement a request by former state Public Utilities Commissioner William M. Bennett, of Kentfield, that he be given his old job as deputy state attorney general.

But Bennett's move yesterday was opposed by state Deputy Atty. Gen. Wiley W. Manuel. He told the board Bennett left the Justice Department to become chief counsel to the PUC and later a commissioner with no plans to return.

"Mr. Bennett has no intention of returning to the attorney general's office," Manuel said. "He had no such desire."

Chairman May Davis declined to speculate when the five-member panel would have a decision.

Novato School Is Presenting Fine Arts Show

A full day of public showing of fine arts has been scheduled May 4 by the music and art department at San Marin High School in Novato.

Student works of art from throughout the entire Novato School District — kindergarten through 12th grade — will be shown from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the science building at the high school.

In its first formal presentation of the school year, the music department will present a concert starting at 3 p.m. in the gymnasium.

The concert choir, chamber orchestra, concert band, Dixieland band and stageband will perform, according to music director John F. Yardas. Christopher Reed, violin soloist, and the mixed vocal quartet will also be presented.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Like The Phoenix, Juanita Keeps Busy After The Fire

In spite of all the fire damage, Juanita Musson kept her word to serve Easter breakfast at her all-but-defunct restaurant at El Verano, Sonoma County. She is still in business.

Naturally the operation has been somewhat curtailed. Food service has been limited to a salad bar and prime ribs of beef from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily. All this has been taking place in the building which houses the bar and cocktail lounge and still survives.

Before the recent fire she had acquired a catering license and now she is preparing her food at the old Fetters Hot Springs Hotel, about two miles along Highway 12 toward Santa Rosa, and bringing it back to El Verano.

When I talked to her Wednesday she was planning to serve dinner at Fetters tomorrow night. And she has in mind taking some of the furniture out of her home and continuing part time at Fetters until she can rebuild on her own property.

Fetters Hot Springs Hotel is one of the last old resorts along this route. It needs renovating, but in Juanita's words, "That's been the story of my life, taking beat-up old places and doing them over."

If you are headed that way, I'd suggest checking at El Verano first before going on to Fetters Hot Springs. If it is certain that she will be serving there the place is not hard to find. Look for an old white hotel with a large veranda and a sign, "Juanita's North."

She's betting on making a comeback and I don't believe there are any takers to that wager. If you know Juanita, you just expect it.

RESTAURANTS THAT ATTRACT customers are the ones that make a business of pleasing them.

It's a policy that applies to everyone in the establishment, not just the boss. One uncooperative employee can often undo the work of the rest of the staff.

It's the simple, basic formula of all successful retail operations. While there may be some variation in the methods employed, most people respond alike to what they consider good treatment. In a restaurant this is generaliy covered in more or less equal proportions of quality food, service, courtesy, comfort and fair prices.

Accomplishing this is not an easy thing — a restaurant has to work at it.

It is in my mind that one place currently doing this with gratifying results over the past year is Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera. There are more people in the dining room these days, whereas they used to be concentrated in the coffee shop. More individual dinners-out have "discovered" Bob's again; more groups are using the banquet facilities: and there is more drop-in activity in the lounge.

Manager Frank De Natale is all over the place to keep things running smoothly. Young Louis Peppras should have a great future as chef; he has done remarkable things with the menu here. One of his specialties, by the way, is filet of sole a la Romana. I don't remember it being on the menu, but ask for it. The sauce is what counts and Louis uses it on some of his other preparations.

Decor is pleasant and you should enjoy your visit. If you go here on a Thursday, Friday or Saturday night, tarry in the lounge after dinner to listen to Dori Green at the piano. I am increasingly impressed by her musicianship and ear for unusual chord combinations.

HOWARD JOHNSON'S, INC. has applied for a transfer of the on sale general liquor license of Rancho Rafael, Ignacio to be used in the new Johnson's restaurant and cocktail lounge on Shoreline Highway near the Richardson Bridge.

Apparently there are three or four more weeks of work on the inside of the restaurant and the parking area still has to be blacktopped. With milder weather this is now possible.

Don't look for an opening of the food and lounge facilities before the middle of next month.

ALFRED BARTHEL tells me he will definitely be ready to open his Senor Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant at 115 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo next Tuesday according to schedule. But there may be one hitch in his plans over which he has no control.

At this writing I have been informed that the owners and developers of the property here have not yet put up a bond for the planting of trees in front of the building that is required by the City of San Anselmo.

This could delay things.

JUANITA MUSSON
Still in business

DOROTHY BOAT, co-owner of El Borro in Tiburon with Sandy Keppel, has been on an extended trailer trip with her husband Bob on the westcoast of Mexico. While vacationing, apparently she has been doing some researching into south-of-the-border recipes and comparing them with her home product.

We should find out her verdict next month if she brings back something new for the restaurant. In any event she's sure to be loaded up with artifacts to give El Borro more color, if they're nothing more than earthen bean pots.

THERE IS NEW ENTERTAINMENT at Tiburon Lodge in Tiburon on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, continuous from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Spelling each other at about 30-minute intervals are piano player Joe Barros, formerly at the Fairmont Hotel, and a flute and guitar duo known as Dave and Tony (David Leighton and Tony Pretzello). All in all there is quite a sophisticated new cocktail-lounge sound.

NEW PROJECT at Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo is a ladies' cooking school to begin the first Wednesday in May. Enrollments are being taken now.

This will be called Cote Rouge Cooking School, which is just a way of dressing up "Red Hill" in French. Chef Richard Richardson, who has been turning out those sumptious dinners and provincial specialties at Cafe Bon Vin, will conduct it. In the Midwest a few years ago he was a popular TV personality directing cooking classes for televiewers, so this is nothing new for him.

Hors d'oeuvres, salads, soups, entrees and desserts will be covered on four successive Wednesdays, followed by a special luncheon with proper vintages. In addition, each afternoon will provide a special event such as modern ballroom dancing, hair styling, and cosmetics or fashions and Fred Cherry's quickie course in wine appreciation. There is a price of $40 for the complete package.

Next Winemaker's Recipe Night is scheduled for Thursday, April 24, when vintner Mike Elwood from Fremont will reveal some of his family's secret preparations.

THE MAN who first opened the restaurant where Cafe Bon Vin is now, Robert Charles, will move into his new Charles Restaurant at 859 O'Farrell Street, San Francisco, between Polk and Larkin Streets, about the first of May. His famous bistro at Pacific and Battery Streets for the past five years will be closed.

Staff and cuisine will remain the same (which means lots of lamb), with the addition of several fish dishes. With Robert and his wife Gigi will be Madame Tina Jarrande as hostess. Robert's brother Georges Lebugle as manager; Vasili will manage the bar as before; and chef Jean Barlerin will continue preparing the food. There will be an art exhibit by Miss Marilyn Rabinovich.

Some other features, according to a recent notice from Robert and Gigi: Policy will remain the same with no phone, no reservations, no credit, no single gentleman — and ladies welcome. Smoking room will be available after dinner. On Friday evenings the mezzanine will be reserved for patrons in contemporary formal clothes.

Robert says this will be his last restaurant.

Marin Acreage Is Filling Up

Marin County now ranks ninth in the state in terms of population density with an average of 398.7 persons per square mile in 1968 compared to a 1960 average of 282.2, the State Department of Finance announced recently.

In addition, population experts within the department are predicting a 20 per cent increase in the western portion of the county between 1968 and 1975.

Marin ranks 55th out of 58 counties in land area but 18th in population with an estimated population of 207,400, the department reported.

Brothers Due Ritual Roles In DeMolay

One brother will install another as master councilor of the Novato Chapter, Order of DeMolay, at 8 p.m., April 19, at Druids Hall in Novato.

Wallace M. Campbell Jr., former master councilor, will install his brother Richard E. Campbell in office.

This is the 23rd installation of officers in the chapter sponsored by Hamilton Lodge 751 Free and Accepted Masons and the 50th anniversary year for DeMolay.

Michael Rebello will be installed as senior councilor and William Swearingen Jr. will be installed as junior councilor.

Richard, 16, is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. Wallace M. Campbell Sr. of 600 Midway Boulevard, Novato. He is a junior at Novato High School and is active in football, wrestling, boxing and baseball. He was a member of the Novato Babe Ruth baseball team which won the Pacific Southwest Coast championship and went to the Babe Ruth World Series in 1967 in Anchorage, Alaska.

Lorna Parr will remain chapter sweetheart.

Other appointed officers to be installed are: Brian Beverly, scribe; James DeGarmo, senior deacon; Michael Harrison, junior deacon; Pat Lotta, senior steward; Rex Kosack, junior steward; Bill Danbury, chaplain; Mike Doescher, standard bearer; Jerry Lewis, almoner; Allen Benelli, marshall; Mike Allen, orator and Curt Lewis, sentinel.

The preceptors will be Mark Blodgett, Glenn Campbell, Bob Bussman, John New, Kent Siler, Garry Roll and Scott Johnson.

Army Open House

An open house will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. April 20 at the Army Reserve Center, 27 Jordan Street, San Rafael, in observance of the 60th anniversary of the reserves.

WINE DISCOVERIES at CAFE BON VIN

WINE IS WONDERFUL!...

(especially the talk and tasting) — and we'll do a lot of both on April 24 when Mike Elwood of oft-honored Llords and Elwood winery will be on hand to present and discuss things like The Judge's Secret, Dry Wit, Castle Magic. After the tasting and the hors d'oeuvres, Cafe' Bon Vin's third California Night" proceeds to a Vintner's Banquet, featuring old Elwood family recipes. And, of course, more wine! Complete evening: $8.50 — and reservations are mandatory (456-6669) — forty persons were turned away when Louis Martini was here.

A NEW GALA...

is now being served. Ten courses, $10 — though lesser appetites may be appeased by the four-course "petit dinner" of Gala selections for a mere $4. Wine Discoveries offered with this repast each represent a different wine-making country; the Argentine wine from Orfila is alone worth a special trip to Cafe' Bon Vin.

HAS EVERYONE HEARD?

. . . that this is the place in Marin for banquets, parties, club meetings. We can accommodate as many as 80 persons any hour or day. The cuisine is "haut" — but the cost need not be; it will pay you to ask. Chef Richardson, besides being a great cook, is a social sort who enjoys working out special menus with you, and refuses to charge for his counsel, figuring his charm and gastronomic savvy will persuade you to bring your group here — making it worth while for all of us.

WHAT? SOMETHING ELSE!...

Newest gastronomic happening in this place where things so often happen is our Cote Rouge Cooking School — four Wednesday afternoons beginning May 7. Includes instruction in classic French cooking, gala luncheon with appropriate wines, and four special events — contemporary fashions, make-up, ballroom dancing, and Fred Cherry's widely-acclaimed quick course in Wine Appreciation. $40 for four memorable May afternoons — but enrollments are very limited. Return coupon as soon as you can for priority.

Barrows Speaks Out On Merger Election

A statement of clarification was issued today on next Tuesday's election to dissolve the Novato Sanitary District and merge it with the North Marin County Water District.

John F. Barrows, executive officer of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, issued the statement, explaining that facts have become clouded in the pre-election oratory.

"These points should be clarified," said Barrows:

1. It is not legally possible for the City of Novato to take over the sanitary district today, or during the next several years.

2. The Brown and Caldwell countyide seweage master plan study recommends the two major water districts, including the North Marin County Water District, as proper agencies for handling countywide sewer services.

3. The Local Agency Formation Commission, including the two city representatives, voted unanimously for the dissolution.

4. The Marin County Board of Supervisors, including Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato, voted unanimously for the dissolution.

Special Session

The Mill Valley Planning Commission and the architectural advisory committee will hold a special meeting at 1 p.m. tomorrow in the Mill Valley Library board room to discuss the Miller Avenue lighting project.

Pair Is Named To Bay Panel

Ernest N. Kettenhofen, former county supervisor from San Rafael, and Mrs. Samuel Swadesh of Tiburon have been appointed to a special committee of the Bay Area Social Planning Council, council officials announced yesterday.

The committee will study the impact of Medicare and Medi-Cal on home care services in five Bay Area counties including Marin.

Brahna Trager, a health care consultant from San Geronimo, is a member of a technical advisory panel to the committee.

Students Ready To Help Club

Seven hundred Marin high school students have agreed to collect funds for the Boys Club of Southern Marin, Marin City, in the April 10 "Youth March for Youth," but 1,500 more are needed.

"This is a different kind of march than we are accustomed to reading about," said club president Richard Bale. The youth of Marin County will be marching to help the boys club survive.

Bale said 2,000 to 2,500 students are needed to insure a successful campaign covering all homes in Marin.

Students from Tamalpais, Redwood, Sir Francis Drake, San Rafael, Terra Linda, San Domenico and Marin Catholic high schools will particiapte. Those who wish to assist may contact the deans of student activities at their schools.

Salaries For Summer School To Be Eyed

Proposed salaries for summer school teachers will be discussed by the Mill Valley School District board at 8 p.m. Monday at Park School.

The salary schedule proposed by Supt. James A. Collins after meeting with the negotiating council of the Mill Valley Teachers Association is $620 for teachers with less than seven years experience and $690 for teachers with seven or more years' experience for 23 working days.

Church Disclaims Stand On Ballot

Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church in Tiburon is in no way participating in the campaign on a proposed Reed School District tax increase, Rev. Calvin Frisch, pastor, said today.

An advertisement favoring the tax increase appeared in the weekly Ebb Tide this with "Shepherd of the Hills Church" followed by a long list of names.

Rev. Frisch said this unfortunately gave the impression the church has taken a stand on the tax issue. He said he checked and found that the names are of citizens for whom Shepherd of the Hills Church is the polling place, and the heading is only to indicate they are voters in that precinct. The same applies to other headings in the lists of names supporting the tax increase, all of which are of schools except that of Tiburon Peninsula Club, also a polling place.

Quentin Officers Set To Retire

Two San Quentin employees will retire this month after a combined total of 60 years at the prison, Warden Louis S. Nelson has reported.

Correctional Officer Willis Patrick, 60, of 25 Tamalpais Avenue, San Anselmo, began his career in the old prison jute mill in 1935. More recently he has been in charge of the gate that admits delivery trucks to the prison.

William J. Bradley, 65, also a correctional officer, has been with the prison since 1942. His last assignment was the industrial gate through which 1,000 inmates go daily to their factory jobs. He lives in Glen Ellen.

WEST-COUNTY SCHOOL VOTERS WORK FASTER?

Voters in Bolinas-Stinson and Nicasio School Districts will have only seven hours Tuesday to do a job for which those elsewhere in Marin are allowed 13 hours.

Polls for the school trustee and Marin Junior College District tax elections in Bolinas-Stinson and Nicasio will not open until 1 p.m.

Everywhere else in the county, polls will open at 7 a.m. They will close throughout the county at 8 p.m.

Baldwin Talks Of Racial Gulf

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Every white man knows the one key fact about America's racial crisis, according to author James Baldwin. He knows "he would not like to be a black man."

Baldwin told a San Francisco City College audience yesterday that if the white man understands that "he knows everything he needs to know, he has no need to ask a black man what he wants."

In wide-ranging remarks, Baldwin said the racial crisis mainly sprang from "the tremendous gulf between my experience as a black man and yours as a white."

He said he had found whites are "not evil people...they're not anxious to be ignorant...they're anxious to listen.

But he said "there is no language to convey" the feeling of being black in the United States.

The port city of Mobile, Ala., was colonized by the French in 1699.

Juvenile Court May Get Case

The case of Gary William Clemons, 18, of Larkspur, accused of hitting a California Highway patrolman and possessing marijuana was referred yesterday to the probation department for possible transferral to Marin Juvenile Court.

Clemons was told to return to Municipal Court on April 23.

He was arrested Tuesday in Tamalpais Valley.

Two-County Beauty Pageant Chief Picked

Carolyn Beach, director of the Miss Marin beauty pageant for nine years, has been named to coordinate the Miss Marin-Sonoma queen contest planned for June 26 at the Marin-Sonoma Fair in Petaluma.

Applications for girls ages 17 to 25 are available at the fairgrounds office and must be returned by May 5. A queen will be selected to represent each county and both will be eligible to compete at the Maid of California pageant at the State Fair.

DAVID D. RING has been a Marin County resident for 16 years. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Engineering (B.S.E. Math.) and its School of Law (J.D.) and is a practicing attorney. He is 44 years of age and father of three school age children.

VOTE FOR
DAVID D. RING
TAM HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT BOARD
(REDWOOD, DRAKE & TAMALPAIS HIGH SCHOOLS)

Prior to DAVID RING'S appointment as a member of the Tamalpais High School District Board, he served eight years as a member of the board of trustees of the Reed elementary district, three of these years as board president. He was chairman of the Tamalpais District's 1967 bond campaign, a member of its 1968 building needs study, and co-chairman of the 1968 bond campaign. The Tam district is faced with many serious problems, including classroom shortages, overcrowding, potential budgetary deficits, taxpayer exhaustion, drug abuse and others. In meeting these problems, Ring says, "It is our responsibility as trustees to provide an educational program that will best meet the needs of all students."

Providing quality education in these times requires the best efforts of able board members. The Tam District is in urgent need of David Ring's proven judgment, insight and ability. With respect to unification, Ring states, "The outspoken public opposition to the tentative three district unification plan, and the tremendous cost of any unification plan, has convinced me that the whole issue needs complete restudy and that no unification plan should be submitted to the voters until this is done."

Reed School Tax Hike; What Does It Mean?

Voters in Reed Elementary School District on the Tiburon Peninsula are being asked by the district board to approve a 50-cent tax ceiling increase in next Tuesday's election.

The increase would be in the ceiling on the district's general purpose operating tax, now $2.25 per $100 assessed valuation. This is not the total tax rate of the district, but is the only portion which is under a ceiling that can be raised by majority vote of the citizens. Reed district's total tax rate this year is $3.535 per $100 assessed valuation, the difference between this and the $2.25 figure being composed of bond payments, areawide "equalization," and assorted special purpose over-rides.

A 50-CENT RAISE would yield $215,000 in Reed district, according to John S. Hoffmire, former Tiburon mayor who heads a citizen campaign committee for the tax measure.

This additional money is necessary, according to the citizen committee and the district board and administration, to keep the district's present education program.

Supt. H. Joe Edgington and his staff have prepared a proposed budget for next fiscal year, including the $215,000 to be raised by the tax raise, which totals $2,048,164. This is slightly below the district's $2,074,868 budget for the current year.

HOW COME a 50-cent tax increase is needed to finance a budget no larger than this year's?

The explanation given is that the district used up most of its reserve funds this year, partly because the budget was based on expectations of some state funds that did not materialize.

The carry-over from last year was $237,246. The committee has said that only $35,000 will remain in reserve at the end of this fiscal year, June 30. This would mean that about $200,000 has been spent out of reserves this year.

WHAT ARE the alternatives?

If the tax raise does not pass, according to the committee's latest report from the district administration, 10½ teaching positions will have to be eliminated. These include one teacher of "more able learners," two music teachers, 2⅝ (that's what the committee says) Spanish teachers, one art teacher, a half-time teacher of physically handicapped. A psychologist intern would also be eliminated, as would a couple of gardeners.

By doing this, and perhaps reducing bus transportation, according to this latest report, it might be possible to raise the teacher salary schedule by 6 per cent.

If the tax raise were passed, according to this same report, only 5 teaching positions would be eliminated, and it might be possible to raise the teacher salary schedule the 10 per cent the teachers have asked.

THE REED DISTRICT is in a rather unusual position regarding teacher pay. Teacher salaries average $9,560. About 20 per cent of teachers are at the top of their pay "ladders" and can advance only by getting additional college credits unless the schedule itself is raised. The other 80 per cent would receive an automatic $300 step increase.

Enrollment in the district is declining slightly. However, eliminating even five teaching positions would increase the pupil-teacher ratio above the 23.6-to-one of this year. If 10 teachers were eliminated, actual class sizes would have to be larger.

Whether the additional 50-cent tax is justified to keep special teachers, smaller classes, and provide a better salary schedule is up to the voters to decide.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Reagan Right On One Count: Way To Save Is Not To Spend

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax reform program hit the state legislature on the final day for introduction of bills at the 1969 session. Although the program is idealistic as far as the governor's message to the legislature concerning its objectives, it probably has but little chance of passage as submitted.

However, Governor Reagan hit the nail on the head when he told the legislature:

"There is one irrefutable fact of government life which must be faced squarely and coped with constantly.

"There is only one way to reduce taxes, and that is to reduce government spending. One is impossible without the other, especially under our state constitution which prohibits deficit spending."

OBJECTIVES of the administration tax reform program, he said, are to establish a simplified, equitable and balanced tax system; provide relief from the inequitable residential property tax; shift responsibility to the local level; bear at the state level, primary responsibility for greater educational opportunities, and to do these things without increasing the aggregate total of the tax burden.

He hopes to achieve these objectives by a double-barreled proposal, the first to be accomplished this year, the second through a constitutional amendment to be submitted in 1970.

THIS YEAR, he would increase homeowners property tax exemptions to $1,000; eliminate veterans' exemption; reduce the business inventory tax; maintain the bank and corporation tax, and eliminate unwarranted sales tax exemptions.

Also, he proposes return to use of personal exemptions on state income taxes; permit payment of property taxes on a quarterly basis; establish a department of revenue — all as a part of the long-range tax reform.

The long-range program would revise the entire school financing program by these means: switch 80 per cent of property taxes to an adjusted gross personal income tax; impose a statewide non-residential property tax; limit local school taxes; require a 60 per cent majority for tax overrides; fix a two-thirds vote of the legislature for any increase in taxes, and provide for voluntary income tax withholding.

Other long-range proposals would provide insurance companies be taxed the same as other corporations, rather than on gross premiums; consider capital gains on unimproved property in a straight personal income basis, and render some assistance to old age property owners.

THE PROPOSAL for creation of a department of serious trouble in the revenue is likely to run into legislature, as this has been tried many times previously and failed of achievement.

In effect, the "tax reform" program offers the public as a whole no tax relief, but merely a shifting of taxes from one segment to another. Conceivably, it could be of some assistance to the property owner, but it must be kept in mind that the property owner is the bulwark of the income tax.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Luxurious Schools Vs. Education

Do we ever stop the maniacal spending spree on the popular fashionable "education" bit? Is academic standing proportional to money poured into schools? Can we buy education?

Are we trying to buy off a guilty conscience for being part of the establishment that has spawned the current group of tragic caricatures of misguided, bored and spiritually underprivileged youngsters, who seem to translate their normal "Sturm und Drang" into a dope culture, fetishism of various kinds and physical evidence of loneliness — youngsters whom we have lost in our own enchantment with "organization" conformity, and dull, dull, dull entertainment?

Steaming swimming pools, luxurious gymnastic appointments, costly architectural detail, bus services and parking lots may be well for a Swiss finishing school but are rather opulent if not in bad taste as part of a public school system, constantly crying poverty, lack of funds, and too many students. . . .

When high school graduates already have trouble with their three R's, Is the joke on us? Are the medical, legal and other technicians graduating, rebating their fees for services rendered to the community which provided such lush facilities? Of course not!

Stop the gadgets is schooling and stick to plain unadulerated teaching. Run a system that teaches wisdom, beauty and an ability to think (not memory banks). Don't try to run a country club.

My vote is No on Measure 2, until proven that the money is spent wisely.

Fence Provides Feeling Of Security

This is about the controversial chain link fence along the Highway 101 underpass from Marin City to Sausalito.

I am one of the motorists who drives through the underpass regularly, and I want to thank the Division of Highways for having put up the fence. I appreciate being able to drive through without fear of having my windhsield smashed and my face injured. I thank them for preventing my car from swerving into another car because someone threw a rock or a bottle.

Maybe these things do not seem so important as someone's feelings about being fenced in. These are only simple, direct feelings about wishing to avoid injury to myself and to others. If the fence is removed, I shall have to detour to Rodeo Avenue, as I will not risk injury to myself or others . .

Pigs On Campus Not In Uniform

The expression "pigs off campus" should be applied to the students at Marin College who are (ir)responsible for the almost incredible amount of litter and garbage strewn all over the lawns and walkways, especially in the Student Union area.

It was only a few short years ago that the College of Marin campus, with its attractive setting, was a beautifully kept up, park-like spot, with wide, rolling green lawns and crisp, clean paths and buildings. Last night, when I went to enroll in an evening class, it looked like a slum. Although there are refuse cans in abundance, there was very little green grass to be seen because paper cups, bags and napkins, and bottles and tin cans "litter-ly" covered it up.

It is bad enough for this sort of thing to happen in a grammar school (and Ross Grammar School, with its children from "advantaged" — though apparently slovenly — families, is one of the worst), or in a high school, but at least there it might be said that the children are immature and thoughtless, and the indifferent teachers may be largely to blame. But at the college level, such behavior verges on the contemptuous and deliberate. . .

Larkspur Board Gets More Plaudits

Three cheers for Mr. (Eric W.) Lane's letter in Monday's edition (April 7). When more of my neighbors back up our excellent Larkspur School District trustees it will be a most healthy condition. Here is a group who have the courage to speak up and work for the "stockholders" — we, the people. Here is a board that operates on a sound business basis without being coerced by the pressure interests for deficit spending.

Most of us are fed up with those who think there is no bottom to the barrel.

ACLU Preserving First Amendment

Your recent editorial blast at the ACLU had some of the characteristic of Joe McCarthy's "red-scare" witch-hunting technique. The American Civil Liberties Union quite properly pointed out to the army that the First Amendment of our Constitution forbids religious indoctrination. The chaplain's role is confined to the "filling the religious needs of the serviceman" and cannot include compulsory exposure to religious doctrine. The absolute rightness of the ACLU contention is borne out by the prompt corrective measures adopted by the Army.

Your editorial implied that the ACLU threatened the wording of our freedom documents and that it was anti-religious. The first is palpably absurd, and the second is slanderous. The ACLU cannot be "for" or "against" religion. It is "for" the Constitution and the freedoms it guarantees to its citizens. The First Amendment states that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." Both parts are equally precious. The first phrase means that government cannot use its power to foster religion in any way; the second part guarantees free religious expression. . . .

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

FROM A RURAL DISTRICT of England comes the story of a driver of a small sedan braking hastily as the tweedy mistress of the largest estate thereabouts came hurtling around a sharp bend in the narrow road in her large Rolls. Before he could say a word, she shouted "Pig!" and drove on. "Fat old cow!" he cried after in retaliation.

Then he drove round the bend himself — and crashed head-on into the biggest pig he ever had seen.

Quite a driver, that Christopher Columbus! Think of all the miles he got out of three galleons!

Foreign Policy Crises Give Nixon Greatest Opportunities

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's bleakest foreign policy crisis may well yield him his biggest political dividends.

To get these dividends, which could make him a formidable second-term candidate, will not be easy. He would have to turn trouble into achievement at three crucial points:

End war in Vietnam.

Avert war in the Middle East.

A large order, but not unattainable.

MR. NIXON is indulging in no wishful optimism. It is particularly significant that there is a growing confidence in Europe that the President can bring it off and will devote himself to it unsparingly.

The clearest expression of this comes from the French news weekly L'Express, which sees Mr. Nixon's most troublesome foreign problems presenting him with what he most needs — opportunities for major successes. L'Express writes with notable insight:

"In the dawn of his reign, Mr. Nixon is seeing three political suns rising before him: peace in Vietnam, a compromise in the Middle East, a halt in the armaments race. They are still only lights upon the horizon. . .but for cutting the ground out from under the feet of the Democrats they hold distinct possibilities — and, from what little is known of Mr. Nixon, he is very capable of hurrying things."

HOW VALUABLE politically would it be for the President to score signally in two of these problems and at least passably in the other, the arms talks?

There is little doubt about the answer. It would almost certainly be decisive in lifting Mr. Nixon's political prestige so high in the United States that even slow-paced progress on the home front would be unlikely to prevent his re-election.

The best proof of this judgment is right here: Presidential action in foreign affairs invariably brings high public approval, and presidential action in domestic affairs almost invariably brings public disapproval.

Examples: President Eisenhower's popularity went up when he went to Geneva and Paris for unproductive summit conferences. It went up when he sent troops to Lebanon and delivered his atoms-for-peace speech at the United Nations. Ike's popularity dropped sharply when he sent troops to Little Rock to enforce the law on school integration.

President Truman had the same experience. All his foreign policy initiatives — aid to Greece and Turkey, NATO, the Marshall Plan — thrust his standing upward. His initiatives in domestic policy — trying to check inflation through price control, seizing the railroads to end a wartime strike — caused his popularity to plunge downward.

MR. NIXON'S own experience in his first three months tells the same story. Whatever initiatives he has taken have been in the field of foreign affairs and in three successive polls his popularity has gone up from 59 per cent to 61 per cent to 65 per cent.

Because Vietnam, the Middle East and the arms talks are Mr. Nixon's first priorities does not mean that he is downgrading urgent home-front crises.

The three foreign problems have higher priority for special reasons:

Peace in Vietnam is needed to restore substantial unity among the American people and to bring budget savings which can be used for domestic spending.

Renewed Arab-Israeli fighting could lead to a far wider war.

If the opportunity to halt the U.S.-Russian arms race isn't siezed soon, it may be lost.

The Constitution gives the President his greatest latitude for action in foreign affairs. Mr. Nixon intends to use it.

In his inaugural President Nixon said: "The great honor history can bestow is the title peacemaker." And with it come the greatest political rewards.

Nerva Nuclear Engine May Power Space Trips

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Long-range hopes for the U.S. space program are getting a happy shot in the arm from recent events in a new, remote-control vacuum chamber on the Nevada desert.

There, scientists are moving ahead with initially successful tests of the Nerva nuclear space engine. Nerva, the tests willing, will be the U.S. space engine of the late 1970s and 1980s, powering space probes to distant planets.

The current version of the Nerva, successfully fired for the first time late last month, is not ready for flight. It is designed to produce 50,000 pounds of thrust, as the tests proceed at the Jackass Flats proving grounds.

It is the prototype for a flyable rocket engine. If it continues to perform well, as its power is gradually peaked in the current tests, work can begin on a 75,000-pound flight version this summer.

THE NEW $22 million test stand for Nerva is a Buck Rogerish story in itself. When its heavy shielded doors are closed, a vacuum can be created around the engine to simulate the atmosphere of space flight. After such a firing, technicians can dismantle the engine, while it is still radioactive, using large mechanical arms from the shelter of a shielded workroom.

So far the United States has spent about $1.1 billion on the Nerva development. It has profited from technology developed during now defunct projects for developing a nuclear-powered aircraft and the nuclear rockets Rover and Pluto.

Nerva is not one of those big boosters which belch flame and rise majestically from the pads at Cape Kennedy. Firing after a spacecraft is safely free of the earth's atmosphere, Nerva is designed to power a rocket's upper stages on long space flights.

THE NERVA power plant is not like a gasoline engine or the solid and liquid fueled engines which have been used for rockets and missiles. It is not a combustion engine. Liquid hydrogen, passing through the core of a nuclear reactor, expands in the intense heat and is forced through an exhaust jet to provide the rocket's thrust.

With hydrogen as its only fuel (no oxidizer is required), Nerva produces power in space more efficiently than present space engines. Experts believe the first flyable Nerva will fire four times as long and produce at least seven times the power of the engine which will drop the Apollo landing craft to the moon.

While Nerva is a project of the civilian National Aeronautics and Space Agency, its flexibility and maneuverability have clear military applications. A manned Nerva rocket could, for example, make inspection trips to orbiting military spacecraft.

CONTINUING success with Nerva could help NASA exploit an unusual opportunity for planetary exploration in the late 1970s. Starting in 1976, and more easily in 1977 and 1978, it will be possible to swing an unmanned space probe past four of the planets: Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune.

Spring Is Here—And That Means Time To Visit Botanical Garden

Despite the scattered showers which have been keeping gardens wet, spring appears really to be upon us and with the coming of spring comes a notice from Dr. John R. Geary that the Edgewood Botanical Garden is alive and well on the slopes of Mount Tamalpais.

Many species of flora represented in the garden, particularly the cenanothus and amanzanita, are in full bloom and in great shape for viewing, according to Dr. Geary.

The garden is located on approximately one acre downslope from 436 Edgewood Avenue near the Marin Municipal Water District's tank. It is also near both the Dipsea and Pipeline trails from Mill Valley to the Mountain, Stinson Beach and Muir Woods, and is conveniently located for hikers to stop and become familiar with the flora they are likely to encounter farther along the trail.

THE GARDEN is designed to take the best advanatage of its glorious natural surroundings, particularly the majestic and often overwhelming presence of the southwestern flank of Mount Tamalpais. It is also designed to accommodate those who stop briefly as well as those who wish to spend hours studying the flora and enjoying the view.

It is full of hundreds of kinds of plants, shrubs, trees and flowers, including more than 40 species and subspecies of ceanothus and manzanita, most native to Marin County.

Among plants represented in the garden are grapes, alders, buckeye, ceanothus, buckwheat, St. Catherine's lace, cypress, flannel bush, dogwood, fuchsia, ferns, monkey flower, madrone, manzanita, maple, box elder, dichondra, oak, sorrel, Judas tree, pine, berries, bishop's cap, silk tassel, sunflower, wax myrtle, yew, wisteria, rosemary, rhodendendrons, azaleas, an Austrailian tea tree, and, of course, the redwood. Wildflowers also abound.

Few rules exist for the free garden, which is open daily sunup to sun-down. Most important are to watch where you step, no samples, and no picnicking. Stop by soon and feast on the glories of nature, Marin style.

COMMUNICATION and bridging its gap, although cliches from overuse, are honest concerns of many. In an effort to bridge the you-know-what, the Mill Valley Schoool District is conducting small intimate tours of its schools for interested parents and others.

Last Thursday a group of 10 parents visited Strawberry Point, Marin Terrace and Homestead Schools. Yesterday the tour hit Alto, Park and Homestead Schools. On each tour parents say continuing and innovative programs and classrooms where teaching was structured and ones where the individualized instruction was in full swing.

The tours, which last between two and three hours during the morning, are meant only to give an overview of the district's workings, according to the district office. Parents are encouraged to come back for a more precise look at a particular school and need only notify the district office or school principal to make arrangements for an hour or all day tour of the school.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Lack Of Money In Madison, And How Marin Got Around Lack

That was just a gag, in Frank Farrara's "I-J Reporter's Notebook" on March 20: "Civic Center: — County Administrator Alan Bruce asked for $25,000 to hire former Supervisor William D. Fusselman as a consultant on economy in county government. 'I don't know of anyone who knows more about county government than old Bill,' said Bruce. "I have had a number of letters and phone calls of congratulations. No soap, no sale, nothing like that. But thanks just the same

Fusselman

HERE IS THE latest from Madison, Wis. You'll remember that 12 years ago Frank Lloyd Wright wasn't able to design a civic auditorium on the shores of Lake Monona for the $4 million that the city had raised for the project, even after eliminating many parts that were really essential. The lowest bid then was $13 million, so the project was dropped.

Now, with a new mayor reviving the attempt and contracting with the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation to produce the plans, they are running into the same pattern as of yore — snafus with all manner of details: extending too far out into the lake and into the highway on the other side, a marina that was too small for boats to turn around in, cutting out elevators (with seven stories on the lake side), also fire alarm systems and some lighting, parking down to 330 spaces (4,200 needed 12 years ago), seating for only 2,250, and for musical events only, no stage for dramatic productions, no hydraulic lift for the orchestra pit, etc.

Well, bids on the new plans (with all the eliminations) were received on the first of the month. The amount on hand is $5,100,000 (not the $5.5 million that was reported previously, there had been some shrinkage, it seems). Now, the low bid was $6,300,000 or $1,200,000 more than they have on hand.

The city council is holding up any decision, trying to determine whether to try for a bond issue, pass the hat for subscriptions, or reject all the bids.

I PROMISED I would tell your more about the six-page memorandum Bruce, when he was assistant administrator, wrote to Walter R. Castro, chairman of the board of supervisors, on March 7, 1959. Here goes: "The civic center proper," wrote Bruce, "is estimated to cost $9,512,700 over a 10-year period from 1958 to 1968. However, the present board cannot commit future boards and cannot commit the people beyond the term of office of the present board." (Oh boy! Remember the "hornswoggled" editorial?)

"The only current commitment is for the first stage of the civic center construction to cost $2,724,000." He said the board might decide to proceed simultaneously with the second stage.

He also said, "We do not know of anyone who has seen the plans who does not agree that the buildings will be modest and functional as well as esthetically pleasing and appropriate to the Marin County setting." (Just in passing; you had to be one of the inner circle of proponents to even get a chance to. Sweet music, what?)

IN LATE FEBRUARY of this year, Auditor-Controller Mike Mitchell presented some figures to the board which were repeated in this column at the time — just under $30 million for the Administration Building and the Hall of Justice. With the interest item of $3,242,751, it comes to $28,183,740. Then with the figure of $3,761,731 for the Marin County Fair-Veterans Memorial Building project the total is $28,183,740 and when the three-acre exhibit building which Wright showed in his design plans is completed it will top $30 million.

If there had been a ceiling limit on county taxing, such as the cities across the country must operate under, things would undoubtedly have been different.

Newsletter Due On Sewer Plans

Newsletters will be sent out with water bills by the Bolinas Community Public Utility District to inform residents of progress on the proposed sewage treatment system, the district board has decided.

The board on Wednesday also named members Manuel Peters and Orlo Drew as a committee to meet with Bolinas Community Inc. to work out standard rules for use of the Bolinas Community Center.

A resolution was passed to annex to the district property owned by Edward G. Letter on Lower County Road.

The board announced it is accepting job applications for a district maintenance man.

Flood Control Work Scheduled

Flood control work is scheduled to start Tuesday on Corte Madera and Tamalpais creeks in Kentfield, project director Oved Cramer of the Army Corps of Engineers has announced.

The work entails clearing and grubbing, excavating and then concrete lining Corte Madera Creek from College Avenue downstream to where it meets Tamalpais Creek plus a portion of Tamalpais Creek.

Rock clearing from Corte Madera Creek at the Greenbrae-Highway 101 overpass was expected to be finished this week.

The $6,500,000 project, which began 18 months ago, is expected to be completed in January 1971.

TO MAKE NOVATO BEAUTIFUL

Completely involved in their work and getting a head start on the Novato 1969 Clean Up Campaign to begin tomorrow and last through May 4 are Novato Garden Club members. They clean the weeds from under the trees across the street from the Community House on Machin Avenue, left. These hard working members met at the Community House yesterday and brought gloves, trowels and other gardening implement to help beautify Novato. Mrs. Keith Cowan, president of the Novato Garden Club, right, carries two buckets filled with the unsightly weeds that have just been cleared from under the trees by Mrs. Lorene Bunker, center, and Mrs. Wayne Tharp. The Garden Club members also cleared the weeds from around the liquid ambar trees on Grant Avenue that they had previously donated to the City. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax.)

PUAN SHARIFAH RODZIAH (second from right), wife of Prime Minister Tengku Abdul Rahman, lends a hand in preparing food and even waiting on tables or washing dishes at her restaurant, where she can be seen almost every day. In doing so, she violated a Malay tradition that the woman's place is in the home caring for her family. (UPI Telephoto)

Official's Wife Fulltime Manager Of Own Restaurant

By HARI SUBRAMANIAM

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (UPI) —In Malaysia, anyone can eat dinner with the first lady of the land, the prime minister's wife. She runs a restaurant, and the prices are right.

Puan Sharifah Rodziah, wife of Prime Minister Tengkul Abdul Rahman, is no absentee manager of her restaurant, Chahaya (which in English means Shining).

She spends part of nearly every day selecting the menu, preparing food and even waiting on tables or washing dishes.

The prime minister's official residence gained a wide reputation for serving excellent food to Rahman's guests. With this fame to back her up, Puan Sharifah opened her own restaurant late last year.

In doing so, she violated a Malay tradition that the woman's place is at home caring for her family. But modern Malay leaders are urging women to break the old ties and get into profitable businesses.

The first lady's restaurant is located one mile from the center of Kuala Lumpur in the Kampong Bahru area. It serves only Malay dishes: rice cooked in various ways, satay ground beef seasoned with chili and garlic and cooked on a stick) and sambal (spicy fried paste made from fish or prawn).

Puan Sharifah is a Moslem, a faith which frowns on liquor. But with the tourist in mind, she permits alcoholic drinks.

She makes another concession to strange foreign ways. Although Malays generally eat with their hands, Puan Sharifah sets her tables with silverware for those who care.

Food in the restaurant is inexpensive even on the local scale. A big dinner costs the equivalent of $3 per person compared with about $5 in other first-class restaurants.

Fifteen waitresses wearing the traditional Malay wraparound, ankle-length skirt work in the air-conditioned restaurant, which can seat about 50 people at one time.

What does the prime minister think about his wife's business?

"It is good insurance in case I lose my present job," the ruler of Malaysia's 10 million people says.

Protect Hair

Few hairdressers recommend shampooing with turpentine or mineral spirits—even after you paint a ceiling. The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association suggests you take a tip from the pro's and always don a protective hat to top off your painting wardrobe. Plastic shower caps are ideal for such use since they completely cover your hair and are so easy to clean.

Centennial Festivities For Club Opening Day

By MOLLY MARIN

The centennial theme will be the motif for San Francisco Yacht Club's pre-opening day dinner dance at the Belvedere clubhouse on April 26.

Festivities will start at 4 p.m. with a flag ceremony and concert by the 12th U.S. Naval District Band on the club grounds. A champagne party for members, honoring past commodores will follow. Commodores from other Bay Area yacht clubs and their ladies have been invited.

Yachting decor in red, white and blue, and exhibits from the club's past, since the founding in 1869 at Mission Bay, San Francisco, will be displayed.

Mrs. William A. Sparrow is chairman of the Women's Auxiliary committee assisting with the event; and Mrs. Peter Sutter is invitations chairman.

WHEN BARBARA Christine Turnbull became the bride of Lawrence M. McCune Wednesday afternoon at St. Dominic's Church in San Francisco, the Neil Park family of Kentfield were prominent in the wedding party. Mrs. Park was matron of honor for the bride, her husband served as best man, and their daughter, Courtney Park, was the flower girl. The newlyweds have bought a house in Ross and will live in Marin.

A FAMILY dinner at the Winthrop Watrous home in Kentfield was the occasion for the announcement of the engagement of their niece, Barbara Jean Hansen, to John Anthony Reding Jr. Barbara is a graduate of Dominican Upper School and the University of California. The couple plan June 21 nuptials at the chapel of San Domenico. Barbara is a 1963 Cotillion debutante.

MR. AND MRS. PHILIP E. Stolp of San Rafael are parents of a son born March 21. The baby, Philip Jason, has a sister, Allie, five years old. Grandparents are Messrs. and Mmes. J. C. Campbell and William Lovvorn, all of Modesto.

THE WALTER Thomsons of Sausalito visited by telephone Easter Sunday with their son, Lt. James Thomson, who is spending a week in Honolulu on a rest and recreation leave from duty in Vietnam.

Lt. Thomson's wife, Joan, is spending the week in Hawaii with him, and the son, Jamie, is visiting his grandparents.

MAY 3 IS the date set by Social Service Auxiliary members for the 28th annual Candlelight Ball to be held at the Meadow Club.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Over 70 Says She And Friend Get Along 'Very Nicely'

Dear Helen:

I am 72 and old enough to know what I want, but my children don't approve. They think I should insist that my gentleman friend marry me, or else show him the door, as "people will talk."

I say we have a very nice relationship, and why ruin it with demands? If we lived together we might not get along. As it is, he steps me out, has Sunday supper my apartment, is my escort and friend. I have all the advantages of a man in my life and none of the disadvantages of a husband. He prefers it this way too. And, after all, who would talk about people over 70? — NOT THE MARRYING KIND

DEAR NOT:

Who indeed? I'd say the only "talk" should be praise for two peppy septagenarians. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Five years ago I came home unexpectedly from a trip and found in our bedroom closet several dresses and a woman's coat, none of which I'd ever seen before.

My husband told me they belonged to the wife of a friend, who had asked him to get them from the cleaners, as they were called away on business and couldn't pick them up. He said he'd return them.

I bought the story though it seemed unlikely. Neighbors tried to insinuate things, but I hate gossip, so I ignored them.

Two years later I met the wife in question, asked if she had ever got her clothes back, and well — that was the end of that!

My husband admitted then that he had lied, but only because he said I wouldn't have believed the truth.

"The truth"? He saw this unknown woman loaded down with luggage and carrying extra clothes over her arm. He gave her a ride. They stopped at a bar for a couple of drinks and while he was paying the bill or something, she disappeared with her luggage, leaving the clothes behind. He never saw her again and didn't even have her name, much less her address.

Helen, I choose to believe this because I can hardly face the alternative. My husband is a handsome, charming man. Several people have hinted to me that he is a chaser, but I put this down as jealousy.

Tell me, does it seem likely that I am the biggest fool that ever walked? — MRS. R. S.

DEAR MRS. S:

Forget the past — you can't change it with brooding. But be alert to the present. Only a woman who prefers ignorance can remain unaware of her husband's affairs. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

About the husband-wife "battle of the thermostat": My wife would be happy living in an unheated igloo. It's got so I have a nightmare — seems I'm dead and being cremated, and you know what that woman of mine does? She sneaks in and turns down the thermostat! There I lie not even able to make a proper exit because she can't stand heat! — SLOW FREEZE

DEAR S. F.:

So of course you do a slow burn . . . — H.

Christine Dettner Is A Bride

The home of the bridegroom's aunt and uncle was the setting for the marriage of Christine Lynn Dettner and Walter Robert Dominguez on Saturday. The ceremony was performed in San Marino at the Hubert Hernandez home. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin T. Dettner of Kentfield.

Christine's attendants were Melissa and Andrea Boussy of Mill Valley. She is a graduate of San Domenico School for Girls and attended Occidental College in Los Angeles. Frank T. Dettner Jr. of Costa Mesa is her brother.

Walter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roberto A. Dominguez of Altadena and was graduated from John Muir High School in Los Angeles and is in his senior year at Occidental College. His grandfather, the Rev. R. Dominguez of Los Angeles, performed the nuptial service. Yvonne M. Dominguez, who is traveling in Europe, and Yolanda P. Dominguez of Altadena are his sisters. The bridegroom chose Gregory Garneau of Los Angeles as his best man.

The couple plan to join the Peace Corps this summer.

George Vaio Jr. Of San Anselmo Takes Linda Sue Burke As Bride

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Burke of Fort Bragg, chose Judy Ansilnger of San Jose as her maid of honor.

Melvin La Franchi of San Rafael was best man. The bride's brother, Tom Burke of Alhambra; the bridegroom's brother, Jerry Vaio of Tiburon; and the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Mike Mannick of Novato ushered guests to their seats.

A reception at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax followed the ceremony. The couple will live in San Rafael following a wedding trip to Carmel, Morro Bay and Santa Barbara.

Linda was graduated from high school in Fillmore and from Santa Barbara Business College. She is employed in the law office of William F. Wolfson in San Rafael. Bill Burke of Fort Bragg is also her brother.

The bridegroom is the son of George R. Vaio of San Anselmo. He is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and the University of San Francisco. His sisters are Mrs. Mike Mannick and Patty Vaio. George is employed by Dahlbeck Electric in San Francisco.

Susan Broomhead Becomes Bride Of Thomas James Kennedy III

Susan Schuyler Broomhead was wed to Thomas James Kennedy III Saturday evening at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers Carr Broomhead of Ross. She was attended by her sister Mrs. Dan Carson Kelly of Kentfield as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were her other sister, Nancy Beth Broomhead, and the bridegroom's sister, Kathleen Kennedy of Coronado.

John F. Kennedy was his brother's best man. The bride's brothers, F. Calvin and Rodgers Broomhead Jr., and the bridegroom's brother Eugene T. Kennedy ushered guests to their seats.

A reception at the Lagunitas Country Club followed the ceremony.

Susan was graduated from Redwood High School and the University of California at Riverside. Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Schuyler of Berkeley are her grandparents.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Kennedy Jr. of Coronado. He is a graduate of Coronado High School and U.C. at Riverside. Thomas is a student at St. Louis University Medical School in St. Louis, Mo.

The couple will make their home in St. Louis, where the bride will teach school.

Sash Jacket

The wrapped suit, one of the season's newest shapes, includes a long jacket sashed and banded low over a matching skirt. Monet suggests a mix of delicate and bold chains swinging a petite drop and a crested pendant to accent this look. Matching earrings and bracelet are added for a total look of elegant accessorizing.

Domino Tournament Beckons Marin Women To San Francisco

The seventh annual Ladies' Domino Tournament has been scheduled for Wednesday, 10 a.m. in Hearst Court of the DeYoung Museum in Golden Gate Park. Sponsored by the DeYoung Museum Society include coffee, lunch and wine.

Participants from Marin County are Mmes. Charles G. Wood of Tiburon, Ernest Bium and Richard Duff of Kentfield, George Hart and Barnett Sumski of Ross and Joseph Nelson, Mario Zablaga and Russell Baldocchi, all of San Rafael. Mrs. George F. Jewett Jr. of Ross is Marin publicity chairman.

Hostesses from Marin are Mmes. Jon Chaney, James Jenkins, Harry Johnson and John Kelly, all of Kentfield; William Hendrickson of San Anselmo; and Robert Pomeroy, Gregory Solon, Tracy Van Voorhees and George Jewett Jr., all of Ross.

IRVING LINKS of Novato, retired businessman and civic leader, will show slides and discuss his trip down the Amazon River in Peru at the 1 p.m. meeting of the Marin Country Club Garden Club on Monday at the clubhouse in Novato.

Mrs. C. R. Mac Phee is program chairman.

MILL VALLEY Tennis Club Women will present a spring fashion luncheon Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. Punch will be served at noon, and hostesses will be Mmes. Lee Gamill and Howard Banks.

Fashions will be shown from a San Rafael shop. Club members modeling will be Mmes. James Potts, Victor Grant, Eugene Aureguy, James Goldsmith, John Eliot and Rudolph Kopfer.

Mrs. Robbins Whittlesey is reservations chairman.

THE CORTE MADERA Woman's Improvement club will host the executive board of Golden Gate District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, for its meeting on Monday at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Mrs. William B. Wright, district president, will preside, and Mrs. Louis Ivanovich, club president, will welcome those attending. Morning coffee and lunch will be served by members of the Corte Madera club.

A craft demonstration will be given by Mrs. Frank Wulff, district crafts chairman, and a funny hat contest will be held.

Plans for the state convention to be held at the Sheraton Palace in San Francisco April 28 through May 1 will be discussed, as Golden Gate District will be the hostess district.

Marin residents serving as chairmen on the state convention committee include Mmes. Lewis Deu Pree, federation publications and George Entwistle and Lyle Cuykendall, timers.

HEADING UP the two delegations from Marin County to the three-day state convention of the League of Women Voters, to be held Tuesday through Thursday in Southern California, are Mrs. Keith Kaulum of Southern Marin and Mrs. James Good of Central Marin.

Others representing the two leagues at the convention are Mmes. Russell Wallace and Roy Knapp of Southern Marin and William Glascock, Allen Jensen, Jack Silverman and Allan Lovejoy of Central Marin. Also accompanying the Marin delegates to the convention is Mrs. Farrel Schell, this year's president of the Central Marin League, who is a nominee for the 1969-71 state board of directors of the League of Women Voters.

THE 17TH ANNIVERSARY of the founding of the Village Salvage Shop in Tiburon will be celebrated with a birthday party at the shop, 122 Main Street, from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday.

The shop is operated by a board of directors representing each of the four participating organizations. St. Stephens Guild, Westminster Presbyterian Church, St. Hilary's Church and the Reed District Parent - Teacher Club. Mrs. Victor Avilla is manager.

Each Monday a pricing staff works to establish value on goods donated by the community for sale at the shop. The shop is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays and is staffed by volunteers. Proceeds are shared equally among the member organizations.

Coordinating the event, which will feature refreshments and awards, are Mmes. Roger MacMillan and William Myers of St. Stephens Guild; John Pruett and Jack Coleman, St. Hilary's Church; Walter Long and Frank MacDonald, Westminster Presbyterian Church; and Bruce McAllister and James Richwagen, Reed District P-TC.

THE PROCEEDS FROM the Little Jim Club's Mardi Gras Ball of 1969 were presented to Children's Hospital at a party held at the Executive Club of the Merchandise Mart.

Mrs. Roger Sant, presented a check for $50,000 to Mrs. Rudolph Schilling, first vice president of the Board of Directors of Children's Hospital. The funds will go to the support of the Child Development Center and for the construction of the Little Jim Club recovery room to be located in the pediatrics department of the hospital.

VOLUNTEERS are needed for natural science work. There are opportunities for people with special interest in biology, insects, animals, education programs, field trips or arts and crafts. Person with typing and office skills, particularly filing, are also needed.

These jobs offer the volunteer a lively and interesting work atmosphere and the chance to do meaningful work in outdoor education. Interested volunteers may contact the Volunteer Bureau at 725 A Street in San Rafael.

Installed were Mmes. Joseph Rodola, president; Mervin Waters, first vice president; William Miller, second vice president; Ronald Sligar, recording secretary; Walter Rohde, corresponding secretary; and Michael Madick, treasurer.

Completing the governing board are committee chairmen Mmes. Robert Campbell, bridge; Peter T. Ransome, bowling; Wesley Colley, bulletin; Frank Widener, coffee; Harvey Goin, decorations; John Tweeten, golf; Jack Becker, hostess; Paul Aiello, membership; Robert Coffing, pinochle; Leal Kimrey, program; Jack Brandmueller, publicity; Robert Doughty, social; Greg Suverkrup, special events; Theodore Malcolm, telephone; and Robert Cox, ways and means.

THE CHAPEL at Hamilton Air Force Base was the setting for the marriage of Susan Annette Grimm and Lt. Craig Stannard Woodworth. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Grimm of Fairfax are the the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Woodworth of San Anselmo. (Tom O'Connell photo)

Toni Harris To Be Bride

The engagement of Toni Diane Harris to Norman S. Roby has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving F. Harris of Belvedere.

Toni is a graduate of Redwood High School and of the University of California at Davis. She is a teaching assistant at Davis, working on the Ph. D. degree on a National Defense Education Act fellowship.

Norman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Roby of New York City and Central Village, Conn. He is the brother of Mrs. John O'Brien, Ronald and Thomas Roby, all of Connecticut.

He was graduated from Wilbraham Academy, Wilbraham, Mass., and from Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Me. He is a Ph.D. student at the University of California at Davis and an associate in the English department.

College friends learned of the engagement at a dinner party given at the home of Professor and Mrs. Michael Hoffman in Davis.

Plans are being made for an August wedding.

Family Camping Trips Should Be Planned Ahead

Children enjoy adventures in the great outdoors. At any age, they are natural explorers who delight in spotting strange birds, digging in the sand, splashing in lake or ocean waters and finding pretty wildflowers they've never seen before. Families who love to picnic and to camp, and want to include their infants and toddlers in the fun, will welcome these hints.

Feeding tiny offspring their favorite foods alfresco is no problem if you own a wide mouth vacuum bottle. Baby foods, junior foods, and toddler meals can be heated at home, then poured into the wide-mouth bottle which has been preconditioned with hot water. Infant meals packed this way will stay warm for hours, and this eliminates the fuss of preparation at the picnic site.

Desserts and salads are easily tranported in a insulated container, tailor-made for keeping foods cold, and boasts a wide mouth opening for easy filling and serving.

Camping families find that many public and private campgrounds cater to small children with play areas that are safe and fun. State and federally-owned camps frequently sponsor nature talks which can introduce even toddlers to the pleasures of life outdoors.

Parents camping with tots bless the ice chest. Fill the cooler with block ice (melts more slowly than ice cubes), and pack a generous supply of milk, individual cans of fruit juice and other perishables inside. One seasoned camper recommends freezing water in large, rinsed-out milk cartons. Water won't run all over your carefully packed goods, and you'll have a supply of clean drinking water when the ice melts.

Very handy for outings is an ice chest divider which can be filled with water and frozen. It separates food from bottles, jars and cans.

Encounter, French Cookery, Art Programs To Mark YWCA Week

Explorations of the encounter group, of French cooking and of original Marin paintings will be among features of Marin's observance of National YWCA Week, beginning April 20.

Special daytime programs open to the public are scheduled by Marin YWCA at several county locations to acquaint the community with YWCA programs and classes.

A highlight of the week will be the lecture on West African art to benefit the projected YWCA Performing Arts Workshop for teen-agers in Marin City this summer. United Crusade already has allotted $860 in extra funds for the Marin City project as part of crusade's summer work and recreation programs for teen-age youth.

Scheduled at 10 a.m. April 24 in St. Anselm's School auditorium, San Anselmo, the speaker will be Anthony Ojigbo, Nigerian scholar and consultant in African studies to San Francisco schools.

The much-discussed encounter group will be discussed by Mrs. Robert Kohs of San Rafael, administrative assistant of Family Development Agency of Marin County, in Church of the Redeemer Parish House, San Rafael, at 10 a.m. April 22.

The making and tasting of several kinds of crepes will be the piece de resistance at a demonstration of French cooking by Jan Toulon of Fairfax in First Congregational Church, Santa Venetia, at 10 a.m., April 23.

Mrs. Toulon, a Marin native who lived in France for some years, will conduct a six-weeks class in French cooking for Marin YW scheduled to start May 6, featuring specialties of a different French province each week.

Marinites may bring two of their original paintings to an art critique to be conducted by Belvedere artist Barbara Briggs, YW art instructor, set at the First Congregational Church in Santa Venetia, from 2:30 to 4 p.m. April 23.

Information and reservations may be obtained from the Marin YWCA, 305 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Pay Hikes As Flood Board Members Eyed

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County supervisors — already in public controversy over the proposed $2,800 board salary hike — have been privately negotiating for increases as directors of the Sonoma County Flood Control District.

An amendment to a bill introduced Monday by Assembly William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, would establish payment of $50 per day for the supervisors acting as the water district directors.

Although the board had been openly discussing an increase in pay as supervisors from $13,200 to $16,000, no public mention had been made of the other proposed salary hike.

Until January 1967, supervisors had been paid $1,900 per year as flood district directors, but when the total supervisors' salary topped $10,000, the district payment was eliminated.

Supervisors meet each Tuesday at 2 p.m. to direct the district's affairs, but the session usually lasts less than 30 minutes and rarely longer than one hour.

The Bagley amendment, which was prepared by County Counsel Richard M. Ramsey, proposes a salary of $50 per day for attending meetings. The bill would also change the name of the Sonoma County Flood Control and Water Conservation District to the Sonoma County Water Agency, and would raise interest rate limits on general obligation bonds from 5 to 6 per cent.

As is the case with supervisorial pay increases, the board must also publicly request that Bagley make the amendment to the bill increasing salaries.

Bel Marin Keys Lagoon Survey Set

The Lagoon at Bel Marin Keys will be surveyed tomorrow to see if the dredging has lowered the bottom to the five feet below low water specified in the contract, it was reported last night to the Bel Marin Keys Community Service District, according to publicity chairman Joan Wrightsman.

The work has been completed and the pipes removed, but the dredge, belonging to Hydraulic Dredge of Oakland, is still in the lagoon.

The board will consult hydraulic engineers to see if the district can get a long range plan to maintain the depth of the lagoon. The board has obtained permission from owners of 28 acres north of Novato Creek for a future spoils site, Mrs. Wrightman said.

The board agreed to hire a swimming pool attendant for six hours a day, six days a week, starting June 1. The attendant has not yet been selected, Mrs. Wrightsman said.

Adoptive Parents Slate Phone-In

Marin Adoptive Parents, Inc. will hold a phone-in at the Civic Center from 1 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday to answer questions about adoptions and the adoptive process, in observance of Adoption Week, April 14 through 18.

A meeting of Marin Adoptive Parents, Inc. will end the week's activities. It will be held at 8 p.m. next Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Phillips, 840 Idylberry Road, San Rafael, with the new Marin foster parents group.

Rehearing Set On Water Rates

The state Public Utilities Commission Tuesday granted a rehearing to Olema Water System on its application to increase rates for water service, Eugene Raleigh, the commission's information officer, announced yesterday.

The rehearing, as yet unscheduled, stays the effective date of a commission decision of February 11 which approved rate increases to the utility's 28 metered customers.

The utility's original application sought a 200 per cent increase, raising the existing rates from $2.47 a month average to an average of $7.41 a month. The stayed decision set rates at an average of $4.22 a month, with another increase upon completion of improved service of $6.70.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Support Your Local Sheriff" — Clever spoof of western melodrama full of high adventure and laughter.

"With Six You Get Eggroll" — Fresh amusing comedy. Marriage of widow mother to widower combines family numbers to six . . . all the children resent the marriage.

"Yours, Mine and Ours" — An ingratiating cast in a warm, lively domestic comedy. Very human, filled with fun and laughter.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Buona Sera, Mrs. Campbell" — For their 20th reunion, three fliers and their families return to an Italian village. Each flier has been paying generous child support to an Italian woman for her illegitmate daughter. Risque comedy.

"Charge of the Light Brigade" — Biting English film describes events leading to the historic military debacle in the Crimea. Realistic expose of the stupidity of war.

"Charly" — Poignant dramatization of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Illustrated Man" — Carnival man has each of his adventures tattooed on his body. The stories are, to say the least, weird and best left to interpretation of the viewer.

"Impossible Years" — A slick, spurious farce about teen-agers and parents. A good cast is wasted on a mediocre film which has nothing constructive to say.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Dark of the Sun" — Adventure tale of turmoil in Congo in 1960 is so filled with blood and gore that the plot is lost in an orgy of violence.

ADULTS ONLY

"Candy" — A 17-year-old girl's series of sexual adventures. Massively dull, ugly pornography. Revolting blood-drenched scene of a brain operation is prolonged.

"Devils Angels" — Savage violence of the outlaw motorcycle gangs as they invade peaceful town.

"Magus" — Symbolic mystic drama in which no identity is clearly defined, has suspense and romance. Its obscure message is that "we all must learn to love." Much explicit sex and nudity.

"Touchables" — British sex fantasy, a wild absurd tale of depravity.

"Wild Angel" — Violent, ugly, sensational tale of motorcycle rebels who adopt Nazi symbols. Orgy in a church during a funeral is climax. Whatever the reason for making this film, result is sick, sick madness.

Warrant Issued For Failure To Appear

Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court yesterday issued a bench warrant with bail set at $2,500 for Eric Girard Jr., 32, of San Francisco, who failed to appear in court to face charges of car theft, driving under the influence of amphetamine and possessing a hypodermic needle.

He was arrested Feb. 16 on Highway 101.

Vandalism Could Halt Coffee House Program

The Terra Linda Parks and Recreation Commission cannot continue supporting the teen coffee house program unless vandalism and littering on the premises are reduced, John A. Colistra, chairman, has warned.

Vandalism and littering at the center were reported to the commission Wednesday by George Croke, assistant director of teen-age activities, whose job includes looking after the security of the buildings. He complained of lack of supervision at the center and declared that the site is not ideal for a teen drop-in center.

Croke recommended more programming of activities and a membership list of those belonging to the coffee house group.

Colistra noted that a former member of the teen coffee group was recently caught breaking into the center.

The teen coffee house group, represented by Mrs. Curtis Pfeiffer of Terra Linda and Gerard Weiss of San Anselmo, appeared before park and recreation district directors to ask for folding doors to serve as a partition in the large room at the center. The directors denied the request.

The Terra Linda Parks and Recreation District directors also:

OFFICE MANAGER — Hired Mrs. Frederick K. Mulhaupt of 672 Woodbine Drove to run the business office because Eleanor Langendorf has resigned. Mrs. Mulhaupt will work a maximum of 130 hours a month at $2.25 per hour. Directors asked Mrs. Langendorf to conintue as part-time bookkeeper, working a maximum of 50 hours per month at $3 per hour.

SENIOR CITIZEN — Named John E. Hinkson of 285 North San Pedro Road as Terra Linda's senior citizen of the year. Hinkson, who will be 84 on June 6, is a retired paint contractor, who entertains senior citizen groups by showing slides of local scenes and activities

Dixie Panel Near Pact On Salaries

Dixie School District teachers should get salary raises of $500 per year in the lowest categories to $1,000 at the upper levels, Dixie trustees have agreed after another salary session with the teachers' negotiating council.

Although no formal decision was made Wednesday night, the trustees agreed that a teacher with a five-year credential should begin at $6,800 instead of the present $6,300. At the top of the scale, a teacher in his 10th year in the district should get $13,300 instead of the present top of $12,300.

These would represent an 8 per cent increase in pay, in addition to the automatic annual step increases.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis said that the proposed raises would mean an additional cost of from $220,000 to $250,000 to the district.

Trustees also said they would favor some increase in the district's contribution to the employees' health plan. At present, the district pays a monthly contribution of $5 for partial payment of medical insurance.

The Dixie School District board also:

NEW SUPERINTENDENT — Decided to begin interviewing finalists who are seeking the job of superintendent when Willis retires in June. The interviews will start on Saturday. Willis said 117 applied, of whom about eight are still in competition including some from within the Dixie district.

FEDERAL FUNDS — Applied for National Defense Education Act funds in the amount of $102,770. These applications are for materials and equipment in mathematics, science, history, English and the humanities.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations from Carlene Madsen of Bernard Hoffman School, Angeles Berry of Vallecito School, Barbara Ann Rouse of Santa Margarita School, Madeleine Brewer of Dixie School, Sue Weinstein of Santa Margarita, Joan Barovetto of Mary Silveira, Alexandra Risnyck of Don Timoteo, Marjorie Murray of Vallecito and Saundra Schaulis of Oak View School.

EXTENDED LEAVES — Extended leaves for an additional year to Eleanor Eisenberg, on maternity leave; Robert Flohr, teaching overseas, and Sharon Redmond, living out of the area because of her husband's occupation.

Innocent Plea To Illegal Entry

A former San Quentin inmate pleaded innocent Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court to illegally entering the prison grounds several times in the last two months.

A preliminary hearing for Roy Ronald Cerra, 30, of San Francisco, was set for May 29.

It is illegal for a former prison inmate to enter prison grounds without permission of the warden.

Suspect Found In U.S. Prison

Robert Delzell, formerly of Larkspur, who disappeared before he could be tried last year in Marin Superior Court on a charge of selling methedrine, was returned to court Wednesday after he was found serving time in a federal prison.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner had ordered that Delzell be held without bail when he was found after he failed to appear for his trial in July.

A co-defendant, Patricia Jean Chidester, who also fled, has been located in Oregon, according to the district attorney's office but she is fighting extradition.

Judge Gardiner continued Delzell's case until Monday for the defendant to obtain a lawyer.

Delzell is currently serving a three-year sentence at McNeil Island Penitentiary in Washington, according to authorities.

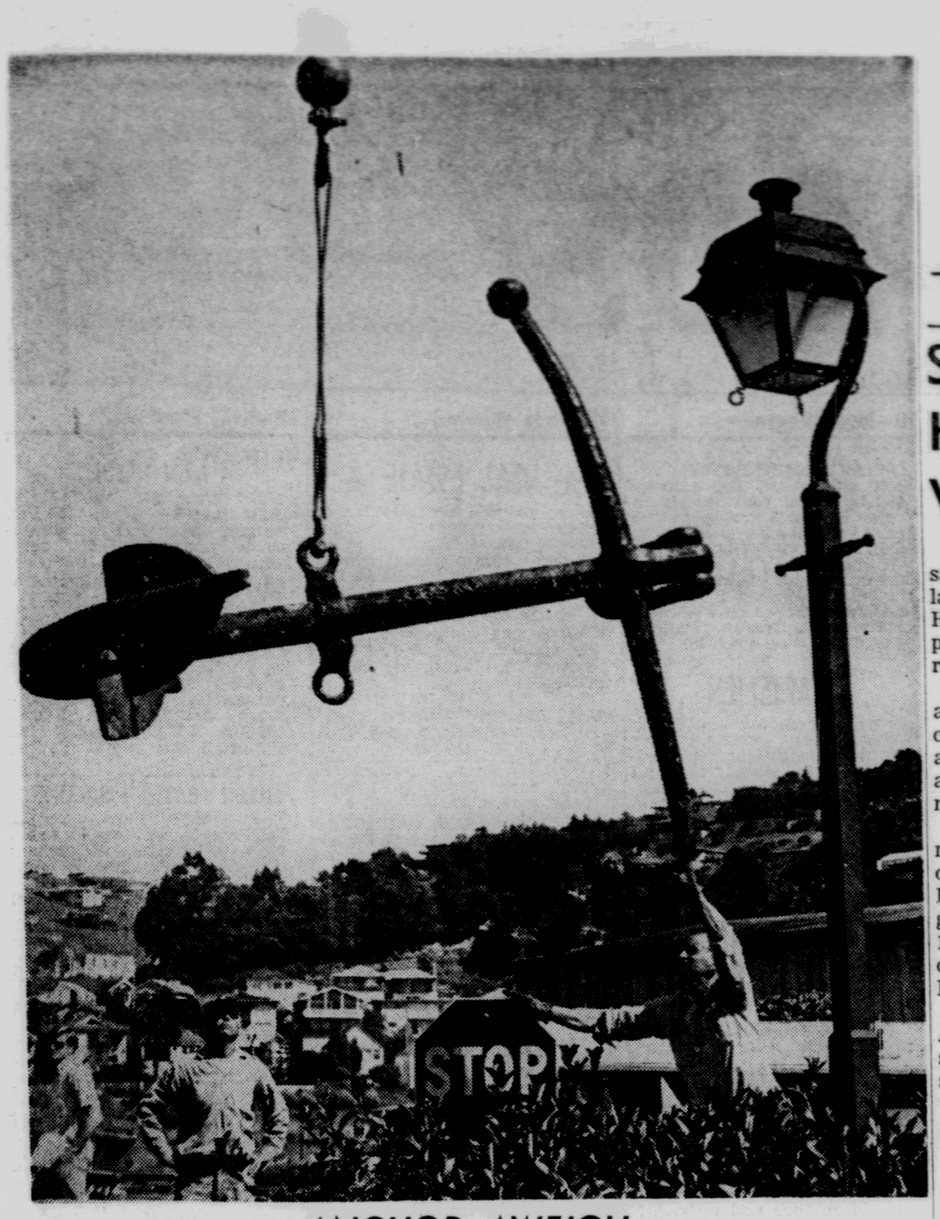
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

THIRD SECTION — SAN RAFAEL, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, APRIL 11, 1969 — 23



ANCHOR AWEIGH

A 50-year-old ball and stock anchor yesterday was placed in the Main Street-Tiburon Boulevard intersection divider island in Tiburon as a gift from the Corinthian Yacht Club. The iron anchor which has an eight-foot stock, seven-foot ball (crossbar) and weighs two tons, was cast in 1919 to serve on a Navy destroyer in the 1920s and 1930s. It later was used at the Naval Net Depot on the Tiburon Peninsula as a decoration. It and one other were given to the Corinthian Yacht Club as decorations after the depot closed. It's twin was set in cement at the yacht club a few minutes earlier. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean.)

Sleepy Hollow Homeowners Vote Budget

A budget of $20,000, about the same as last year, was approved last night by the Sleepy Hollow Homeowners Association, vice president Merritt A. Robinson, reported today.

Plans for developing an association position for an access road between Ross Valley and Terra Linda were outlined at the quarterly membership meeting, Robinson said.

President Frank Berto reported a member of the staff of the Marin County Planning Department will attend the group's meeting at 8 p.m. May 15 at the clubhouse to discuss changes to the zoning ordinance, Robinson said.

Candidates for the San Anselmo School District board spoke before the business session.

Petaluma Mayor Asks Re-Election

Petaluma Mayor Helen Putnam announced today that she will seek a second term as mayor in the June 10 municipal election, as she took out candidacy papers at city hall.

A teacher-principal at the Two Rock Elementary School, Mrs. Putnam was involved in education before becoming active in city government. She served on the Petaluma Board of Education from 1947 to 1959 and was president of the California School Boards Association in 1958-59.

Mrs. Putnam is president of the Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmen's Association and of the Redwood Empire Association. She is a member of the American Association of University Women and is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley.

She and her husband, Rutherford, live at 900 B Street and are the parents of a son and a daughter.

Bias Charged In Screening Sausalito Candidates Quiz

Several Marin City residents today charged racism entered the handling of a candidates' meeting last week sponsored by the Sausalito Citizens Council.

They said several written questions submitted by Marin City residents for the Sausalito School District board candidates were sidetracked by a screening committee and never asked. The meeting was on March 31.

All three women who screened the incoming questions denied the charges. The only questions not passed on to moderator Donald K. Olsen, they said, were three or four which did not follow ground rules spelled out at the start of the meeting.

Mrs Doretha Mitchell of Marin City said several questions intended for candidates Martha B. Thomson and Ken Elkington were not passed on. She also said all the questions which were passed on came from Sausalitans, while none from Marin City residents were presented to the candidates.

She said she wrote a question asking Elkington his position on ability grouping for pupils, but it was never asked. The question was signed and addressed only to Elkington, she said.

Ground rules were that questions be directed to a lone candidate and be signed.

Mrs. Verna Bynum of Marin City said she wrote a question but the committee cut out part of it before passing it on. She said that since Elkington "disagreed with the Learning and Guidance Center," she asked him, "if he felt there were too many minorities employed at the center, what would he replace the Guidance Center with."

Mrs. Bynum said the question was abbreviated to "what would you substitute for the Learning and Guidance Center." She said she tore the edge of her paper so she could tell what was done with it by the screeners.

The screening committee, Mrs. Benjamin Farnham, Mrs. Ruth Sisson and Mrs. Margot Gergus, all denied the charges.

"Frankly I'm rather shocked" at the allegations, Mrs. Sisson said. There were a very few questions that were not addressed to a candidate, or to more than one, or were unsigned. I don't think more than three altogether."

Mrs. Gergus said only two questions were turned down, one from her husband Raymond G. Gergus, which the women felt wasn't relevant and another which was unsigned.

"One question came up three times and all three times it had no signature," Mrs. Gergus said. "So what are you going to do?" She said there is "absolutely no foundation" for the reports of suppressed questions.

"One question was a two-part question and the first part was kind of nasty so we drew a line through it," she said. This may have been Mrs. Bynum's question.

Mrs. Farnham agreed only three or four questions were not passed on, and those because they were unsigned or intended for more than one candidate.

Mrs. Mitchell said "it's just not so" that no questions were stopped. "It's just a bigoted prejudiced thing as far as I'm concerned."

Mrs. Bynum said she has been to Citizens Council meetings before, "but never one so biased."

The ground rules for questions, Mrs. Gergus said, have been used by the council "for years and years" because in the past anonymous questions "got pretty personal and vile." Requiring a signature keeps the questions within bounds, she said.

The social action committee of People Against Racism wrote the Independent-Journal protesting handling of the meeting, and said at least five questions were submitted by Marin City residents for candidate Nathaniel Johnson, none getting past the screening.

Mrs. Mitchell said most of the Marin City questions were not for Johnson, who is black and a Marin City resident, but for Elkington and Mrs. Thomson.

Several other Marin City residents reported to have submitted unanswered questions could not be reached.

The candidates will speak again at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Manzanita Center, Marin City, in a meeting sponsored by the Marin City Art and Culture Club.

Scaled-Down Angel Island Plan Viewed

A scaled-down plan for development of Angel Island was presented today at a California Park and Recreation Commission hearing in the Marin County Civic Center.

The plan, calling for daily use of the park by 6,000 people instead of 10,000, and eliminating marina-type berthing, was still criticized by the Marin Conservation League.

Harold E. Gregg, league president, said 6,000 persons per day on the 730-acre island was still an "overuse."

"Visitors should be limited, by reservation if necessary, to a small fraction of the proposed total," he added.

Gregg said the league opposes all overnight accommodations except possibly some campsites for organized groups at the north garrison.

Commercial enterprises such as hotels, shops, convention facilities, pools, theaters, bars and urban-type restaurants would be incompatible said Gregg.

He commended state park planners for eliminating a proposed restaurant and other development atop Mount Caroline Livermore, the highest peak on the island, and reserving it as a natural overlook for hikers.

John F. McInnis, chairman of the Marin Board of Supervisors, welcomed the commission to Marin and expressed hope that could help get the federal government to expand Point Reyes National Seashore and preserve some of the scenic easements along Marin's coastline.

Commissioners named a new chairman, Leonard S. Thomson of Taft, to succeed Harry E. Sokolov of Los Angeles.

Band Festival Sunday Is Free

A band festival will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Terra Linda High School gymnasium with about 590 band members from Northern California expected.

Gordon Lowe, of the school's music department, said the festival was organized to give students a chance to hear other groups perform.

Bands from Ceres, Cupertino, Santa Rosa, Novato, San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools will participate, he said.

The concert is open to the public without charge.

Teachers Asking Big Pay Increase

Larkspur teachers — who say they are 85th out of 87 on a salary schedule survey list — told two Larkspur School District trustees yesterday that they want a 13.7 per cent salary increase to bring them up to a median position with Bay Area school districts.

The request was made by Larkspur Teacher Association chairman Michael Fleming, a Neil Cummins School teacher.

The quiet session between teachers, trustees John W. Boyd and Curtis P. Kamai, plus administrators was the first "meet and confer" session of the two groups.

No action was taken but a second session was set for 7 p.m., May 2 at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Many statistics were presented by teacher Robert Reynolds who explained that the 13.7 per cent proposed increase for 1969-70 would result in a salary range from $6,545 to $13,835. Current range is $5,800 to $11,400.

The two parties argued the 13.7 per cent figure, association members saying it is an increase for all teachers including principals, while Supt. Milton S. Cohen said the district has to figure the salary schedule for "all the people" and this would include teaching vice principals and specialists — or an 18.3 per cent increase.

The school board on March 14 declared ridiculous the 18.6 per cent increase, a figure submitted at that time.

Reynolds, using a movie screen to show data, illustrated average annual teacher salaries for 104 elementary and high school districts showing San Mateo High School at $12,361, Mill Valley at $10,245, Reed at $9,560 and Larkspur at $9,214. He said that three Marin districts are lower than Larkspur — Dixie, Fairfax and Bolinas-Stinson.

The association is requesting sabbatical leaves for the 1969-70 year, of either one year at half salary or a half-year at full salary. No cost estimates were given.

The teacher told the negotiators that there has been a record 4.5 per cent cost of living increase between December of 1967 and December 1968, to which trustee John W. Boyd asked, "Doesn't the same cost of increase apply to the people who are furnishing the budget?" "We're aware of that," said Reynolds.

Gabe Jackson Acquitted In Shooting Case

A jury of nine women and three men apparently convinced that Gabe Jackson, 32-year-old community worker for the Sausalito School District, shot fellow Marin City resident Frederick Washington in self defense, yesterday acquitted him.

Jackson had been charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, but Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court also explained to the jury they could convict him of the lesser charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

The jury, whose foreman was H. Gordon Douglas of Sausalito, deliberated about five hours before coming to a verdict.

Jackson's wife, Lynette, a clerk for Marin Municipal Court who had sat quietly during his trial, wept as the verdict was announced.

The shooting took place Aug. 23 on a Marin City street after an argument following a crap game. Washington had grabbed about $130 out of Jackson's hand, according to the testimony, and during a heated debate that followed, Jackson said that he thought Washington was reaching for a gun.

The gun turned out to be a meat cleaver which glanced off Jackson's shoulder. Jackson's weapon was a gun he said he found while hiking near Marin City.

Flexible Scheduling Proposal Is Defeated

Faculty members at San Rafael High School rejected yesterday a plan for flexible scheduling at the school next year, although the proposal was approved by 61 per cent of those voting.

Defeated by a vote of 60 yes to 38 no was a plan to adopt a scheduling system based on 15-minute "modules." The faculty had agreed at a meeting Wednesday that it would not recommend the new system to the board of education unless it received two-thirds approval.

Dr. Alan Ellsberg, principal of San Rafael High School, has said the 15-minute system would free students from a regimented schedule objected to be many and enable them to take more subjects. The system does not mean each class would be 15 minutes, but be composed of varying numbers of 15-minutes segments, or modules.

Some classes would run considerably longer, with free periods devoted to supervised study or small group meetings with teachers.

Ellsberg said yesterday's vote leaves open the possibility that the proposal may be reintroduced at a later date. Also, he said, school department chairmen met after the vote and indicated they wanted some moderate form of flexible scheduling at the school next semester.

He said elimination of the bell system could be recommended to give students more responsiblity in moving to and from classes.

Wright Backs Reed School Tax Hike

Gordon C. Wright, candidate in next Tuesday's election for the board of trustees in the Reed School District, supports the 50-cent hike in the property tax rate proposed in the district, contrary to an incorrect report in yesterday's Independent-Journal that he opposed the increase at a candidates' night Wednesday at Del Mar School.

The tax proposal also will be on the ballot in Tuesday's election.

New Tomales High Reported Nearly Finished

The new Tomales High School is nearing completion and should be finished by May 15, Supt. Anthony Matulich last night reported to the Tomales High School District board.

The painters are now starting to paint the building, he said. Olson and Baum, general contractors, reported that the plumbers has not finished installing the irrigation in the football field, so it has not been planted.

Matulich asked the board to plan when and what it wants in the way of a dedication of the new high school, he said.

The Tomales High School District board also:

OPEN HOUSE — Set April 22 for open house at the high school. A dinner will be served from 6 to 8 p.m. with the program in the auditorium. Afterwards classrooms will be open for visiting.

LEAVE — Granted J. Fred Schlotthauer, mathematics teacher, leave without pay for next school year.

ACCREDITATION — Adjourned to 7:30 p.m., April 30, when the board will study the accreditation report on the high school.

ZONED R-3
This older 3 bedroom home is situated on a level, close in lot in San Rafael that is zoned for seven apartments. We estimate an income of $2100 per year meaning you can be building an equity while making plans to build. We recommend this property be given serious consideration by those who want to accumulate capital but can make only a limited investment at this time. Price $23,950.

TAKE A STEP UP
This lovely 3 bedroom, 2 bath home boasts extras for every member of the family! A double car garage with work bench and easy commuting for Dad; built-in kitchen and wall-to-wall carpets thruout (even in the kitchen) for Mom; a family room off the large patio for the kids, along with a Doughboy pool and dressing room for the whole family! Extras include new paint, fireplace, matching refrigerator and dishwasher. Vacant — Our guaranteed trade in program should help with the financing. Price $34,950.

ON THE CANAL
Are you imaginative?? Think what you could do with a home that already has all these important qualities: 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, a huge kitchen, covered backyard BBQ, a 100' frontage on a deep water canal close to the Marin Yacht Club, and your own spacious dock. This home on Pt. San Pedro Road needs just a little fixing up. Price $59,950.

PRIVACY PLUS
One Acre: This peaceful family home high in the hills of Fairhills in San Rafael has a U-Shaped floor plan encompassing a delightful outdoor living area with ample room for a pool. The house has a separate dining room, a kitchen with a distinct breakfast area, four bedrooms in addition to a den or family room. If you have been looking for a home in this price range, this property is well worth the time to inspect and check the value at the price of $69,500.

ROOMS GALORE
Wish you had a separate room for sewing or the Hi-Fi or perhaps overnite guests? With this lovely home you would have the luxury of "rooms to spare." It includes 5 bedrooms, 4½ baths, a family room covering the entire first floor, and a balcony encircling the better portion of the home. There is even plenty of room for a pool! This is a "must-see" for any large family with that "fenced-in" feeling!!! Price $69,500.

REALTORS SAN ANSELMO

$19,950 ALMOST DOWNTOWN

$25,450 HOME FOR A FAMILY

A non-tract home, close-in San Anselmo. The site is completely level. Location is perfect for growing children, minimum traffic and near playground. Residence has three bedrooms, plus large rumpus room for rainy days. A new listing.

$26,950 A VERY GOOD BUY

Offering a non-tract home in the prime residential area of San Anselmo within a short walk to commute bus, shops and schools. Residence provides seven rooms with 3 bedrooms plus den or 4th bedroom, 1½ baths, built-in electric kitchen, w/w carpeting, roof less than 1 year old. Home is insulated, brick fireplace. We urge your leisurely inspection.

$40,950 PERMA-BILT RESALE

Just two years young and its condition is better than new. W/w carpeting, rugs and draperies will remain. A separate family room, a formal dining room plus breakfast nook in ultramodern kitchen, three bedrooms, 2 baths, random plank pegged hardwood flooring. Heavy shake lifetime roof. The site is level, the landscaping all in. A new listing.

$42,500 RETURN TO PARADISE

This is a ⅔-acre setting unlike anything else in the entire county. The grounds are mostly level with a gentle downslope enhanced by many stately oak trees. Many fruit trees, exotic shrubs and plants, winding garden paths, several patio areas and outdoor deck and cookhouse complete with stove, refrigerator and wet bar provide a setting that will captivate you.

$27,950 COUNTRY SETTING

A level ¼ acre with many shade trees. A ranch style residence built in 1962. Exterior of redwood rustic and used brick. Three bedrooms, 1½ baths, fireplace, central heating, w/w carpeting, separate utility room, plus large deck for outdoor entertaining. Home is insulated.

$26,950 THE VIEW ALONE!!!

Will capture your heart. Here is a ⅓-acre site providing the utmost privacy in a woodsy rustic setting. A contemporary residence in tip-top condition. Exposed beamed ceiling, luxurious w/w carpeting and draperies will remain. Both bedrooms are quite large, tile bath and modern kitchen. Outdoor deck enjoys early morning sun and is a delightful spot for entertaining with the entire valley a picturesque sight all day long.

$36,950 AN EASY COMMUTE

To San Francisco or the East Bay. A residence all on one level with approx. 80-ft. street frontage. Combining 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, separate dining room plus full breakfast room in modern kitchen paneled in golden birch with 24 cabinets and ample storage area. Luxurious w/w carpeting over hardwood flooring. Heavy shake lifetime roof. Entire grounds are landscaped and include sprinkler system.

$57,950 CUSTOM HOME – SLEEPY HOLLOW

More than 2600 sq. ft. of luxury living now offered by original owner. An eight-room ranch-style residence providing 4 bedrooms, 3 full baths, formal dining room plus separate family room. Vermont slate entry foyer, 2 brick fireplaces. Large picture windows capture a rear garden of complete privacy, professionally landscaped with raised redwood deck wrapped around magnificent Monterey pine. A ½-acre completely fenced, sprinkler system. Parochial and elementary schools a short walk. Listed exclusively.

SANITARY DISTRICT NO. 2 OF MARIN COUNTY A SUBSIDIARY DISTRICT OF THE TOWN OF CORTE MADERA FIFER FORCE MAIN NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS

Sealed proposals will be received by the District Secretary of Sanitary District No. 2, a subsidiary district of the Town of Corte Madera, until 2:00 P.M., May 2, 1969 for:

The construction of an 8-inch force main to replace existing force main and associated connections and appurtenances which will be abandoned in place.

Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the District, 300 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California; at the Builder's Exchange, 850 South Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco; at the Builder's Exchange, 320 East 12th Street, Oakland; and at the Marin Builder's Exchange, 110 Belvedere Street, San Rafael. Plans and specifications may be obtained at the offices of the District and of Brown and Caldwell, 66 Mint Street, San Francisco, California, upon deposit of $10.00 per set, $5.00 of which will be refunded if the set or sets delivered are returned in good condition within fifteen (15) days after the bid opening.

Said proposals or bids must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed "Sanitary District No. 2 of Marin County, 300 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California," and endorsed "Proposal for Fifer Force Main."

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a certified or Cashier's check payable to the order of the District amounting to ten per cent (10%) of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said District, signed by the bidder and a corporate admitted surety or two individual sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions. Said check shall be forfeited or said bond shall become payable to said District in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within fifteen days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him enter into a contract with the District, the faithful performance of which shall be secured by an undertaking in the amount of one hundred per cent (100%) of the amount so bid, with sureties satisfactory to the said Sanitary Board, and which shall be accompanied by a labor and material bond in a sum equal to one hundred per cent (100%) of the amount of said bid, under the provision of Chapter 3, comprising Sections 4200 to 4208, inclusive, of the Government Code of the State of California.

The District reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to waive any informality in a bid.

BY ORDER OF SANITARY DISTRICT NO. 2, A SUBSIDIARY DISTRICT OF THE TOWN OF CORTE MADERA, CALIFORNIA.

Dated: April 8, 1969.

No. 397 April 11, 18, 1969

NOTICE OF HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Marin County Planning Commission will hold two public hearings to consider its Resolution of Intention for an amendment to Title 22 of the Marin County Code, which amendment would establish Tomales Bay Interim Zone prohibiting encroachment of the Tomales Bay area inconsistent with the Parks and Recreation Plan 1990 and the West Marin General Plan.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that said hearings will be held during the meeting of the Marin County Planning Commission on Monday, April 21, 1969, and May 5, 1969, in the Planning Commission Hearing Room, Civic Center, San Rafael, which meetings commence at 9:00 a.m. Those wishing to attend said hearings may call the Planning Department, 479-1100, Extension 2526, on Friday, April 18, 1969, and Friday, May 2, 1969, in order to be informed of the place on the agenda and approximate time of the hearing.

These hearings are held at the request of the Board of Supervisors. The Ordinance under consideration is the same as the one approved by the Planning Commission after the hearing on March 24, 1969.

PAUL C. ZUCKER,
Secretary of the Planning Commission, County of Marin, State of California

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that sealed proposals or bids will be received by the Board of Trustees of the REED UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT at the Administration Building, 1155 Tiburon Boulevard, Belvedere-Tiburon, California, up to 4:00 o'clock P.M., April 30, 1969, for the construction of

REEDLAND WOODS MIDDLE SCHOOL, REED UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT, BELVEDERE-TIBURON, CALIFORNIA

located at Blackfield Drive and Via Los Altos, Belvedere-Tiburon, California.

Wages Scales:

All workmen employed by the Contractor or any sub-contractor in the construction of the above-named project must be paid in accordance with the scale of wages found to be prevailing and most recently adopted by the Board of Supervisors by resolution as the prevailing scale of wages and which is on file in the office thereof. Such prevailing wage scale resolution as it applies to the locality in which the work referred to is to be performed, is hereby incorporated in this notice by this reference as though fully set forth, and including specifications therein of per diem wages for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality of the project, and all fringe benefits included in labor agreements.

Said schedule of per diem wages is based upon an eight hour working day unless otherwise specified herein, and the wages prescribed are the per diem rates divided by the number of hours constituting the working day.

All skilled and other labor not listed is to be paid not less than union scale for such labor.

Bid Bond:

Each bid must be accompanied by cash, a certified or cashier's check, or a Bidder's Bond by a Surety Company satisfactory to the District in the sum of 10% of total aggregate amount of bid, and such checks or bond shall be made payable to the order of the School District giving this notice as liquidated damages, actual damages being difficult to ascertain, in case the successful bidder fails to file satisfactory bonds as required by the Contract Documents, or fails, refuses, or is unable to enter into a written contract within the specified time. Checks and bid bonds may be submitted separately from bids and will be opened along with the Proposal by the District's Administrator for inspection.

Performance Bond, Labor and Material Bond:

The successful bidder must furnish a Performance Bond and a Labor and Material Bond each in an amount equal to the total amount payable under the Contract.

Plans and Specifications:

Plans, specifications, and other documents may be secured at the office of the Architect:

RON D. YOUNG,
Architect & Associates
1350 Duane Avenue
Santa Clara, California 95050
Telephone: (408) 244-4880

A deposit of $50.00 will be required for each set of plans and specifications. If these documents are returned in good condition within ten days after the date of bid opening, the full amount of the deposit will be returned. Each Contractor will be limited to two sets of plans and specifications.

Time Limit:

The work of the Contract shall be full completed not later than 310 calendar days as called for in Article 5 of the Agreement.

COUNCILMAN'S DILEMMA

San Rafael Councilman John A. Miskimen faces a problem steeper than the bluff on which perches this home he wants to buy at 187 Oak Drive in Bayside acres. (See story, page 1.) The house is just outside city limits and councilmen are required by law to live within the limits. The beach house (right) was destroyed some time ago by fire. Last night, the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission put off for one month a decision on Miskimen's request to annex to the City of San Rafael.

Save-The-Bay Bill Bogged In Lobbying?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Despite a Reagan administration plea for speed, action has been delayed in the Assembly on a bill extending the life of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

A hearing on a bill by Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Piedmont, had been scheduled yesterday by the Assembly Committee on Local Government. But the hearing unexpectedly was postponed. When it will be held is uncertain.

Mulford said the committee took the measure under submission without hearing testimoney because of the introduction of a variety of bills dealing with bay conservation and prevention of filling the bay.

Mulford said he hopes for some kind of action in about two weeks.

He acknowledged that "some pretty powerful lobbyists have been retained" by firms with land and interests around the bay.

"The issue now is joined. It's a question of working out an acceptable compromise," Mulford said.

Asked if he would be willing to compromise a ban on bay fill, Mulford said he could not discuss details of the bay controversy at this point.

Among the lobbyists representing firms around the bay are Vince Kennedy and James Garibaldi, two veterans of the legislative halls, representing Leslie Salt.

"Simply stated," Kennedy said, "Leslie Salt, perhaps like some others — like Santa Fe — own this contiguous property and they want the right to develop it. They go along with commitments to conservation. They don't want to build piers. They don't want to be foreclosed."

Norman B. Livermore Jr., Gov. Ronald Reagan's resources secretary, was prepared to testify on behalf of the bay measure yesterday. He even had distributed in advance a copy of his planned remarks.

Livermore said approval of the legislation is a matter of great urgency.

Bay fill controls lapse at the end of this year unless the Legislature extends the life of the Bay Conservation and Development Commission or takes some similar action.

Leslie also is opposing a proposed wildlife refuge in the South Bay Area.

Assembly Winnowing Campus Violence Bills

SACRAMENTO (AP) — One way of stemming violence on California's campuses, according to proposals now being studied by a special Assembly committee, would be the automatic suspension or dismissal of persons convicted of felonious acts.

But such a measure may have to get by some legislative opposition before the state colleges, junior colleges and universities can take that step against students or faculty members.

The proposal made public at yesterday's meeting of the Assembly Select Committee on Campus Disturbances is one of 20 offered by John Mockler, the Assembly Education Committee's consultant, and Tom Carroll, consultant to the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee.

They recommended that the suspension or dismissal penalty be made automatic for "students and faculty members who are convicted of specific direct violent acts such as assault, bombings and the willful destruction of property."

Ather suggestions being reviewed included setting up official grievance procedures to provide better communication between students, faculty, administrators and governing boards.

Mockler and Carroll also suggested that student representatives be allowed on all official college and university campus committees.

The Senate has already passed several bills dealing with campus upheaval but they are being held up until several Assembly committees and subcommittees sift through about 100 measures introduced to handle such troubles.

Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, says he wants to make certain the Legislature doesn't rush through bills which could infringe on an individual's basic rights and be nullified as unconstitutional.

Monagan has also said he expects the lawmakers will ultimately pass four or five bills to give college and university administrators the tools they need to handle demonstrations and violence as they occur.

Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose, objected that the automatic penalty would limit the flexibility of college and university administrators trying to deal with individual situations and violators.

Other proposals received by the committee yesterday include:

Withdrawing for up to two years state scholarships and grant-in-aid funds for students convicted of violence on campus.

Making assaults on campus police carry the same penalties as assaults on regular law enforcement officers.

Expanding educational opportunities programs.

—Making it a misdemeanor for a suspended student to return to the campus if he has been ordered not to return.

Providing all students with specific campus rules and regulations and specific penalties for violations.

East Bay Blast Destroys Home, Kills Occupant

The fatality was Leslie Worcester, 62, whose body was found on a living room sofa of his two-bedroom home. A retired auto worker, Worcester had put the house up for sale three days ago.

Investigators theorized an accumulation of gas triggered the predawn explosion that hurled a large ball of flame skyward. Several nearby houses were damaged by the blast which also ripped down fences in some yards.

Charles Steneck, 9, suffered facial cuts when his bedroom window was blown onto his bed. Worcester's house and the Steneck family home were only about 20 feet apart.

Investigators said Worcester had planned to move to the Detroit area to live with his elderly mother.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Doctors Usually Unworried If Baby's A Bit Late Arriving

VAN DELLEN

Most babies arrive on schedule. This is in the neighborhood of 280 days from the first day of the last menstrual period. When the child is premature, mother has no time to worry about the consequences.

On the other hand, a problem arises when the anticipated day of the blessed event comes and goes. Concern or outright alarm may occur when labor pains fail to develop.

VARIOUS FACTORS alter the duration of pregnancy. Even when the exact time of fertilization is known. the gestation period varies from 220 to 320 days. For full development, some tykes require a longer stay in the uterus; as the late DeLee said, "Some seeds in favorable soil grow faster than others."

There is no advantage to prolonged pregnancy. Some obstetricians set a date and induce labor when they believe the term is long enough. Many more prefer to let nature take its course, provided everything is normal.

STUDIES DONE a number of years ago showed that delay had nothing to do with the age of the mother, or whether this was her first or fifth baby.

The average size of the babies was slightly larger than infants who came on time but the difference was not great enough to cause difficulty. When delivered, the infants began to breathe and cry as soon as babies born on time.

On the other hand, in prolonged pregnancy, the mortality rate is slightly greater and this, plus the increased weight, is considered the only threat to the welfare of the unborn child.

IT IS A TOUGH JOB for the obstetrician to decide whether to let well enough alone, or to induce labor. Judgment and experience, as well as the condition of the mother, determine his decision.

ONIONS WON'T CURE COLD

Miss G. writes: My grandmother insisted that onions could cure colds. Do you think there is anything to this remedy?

REPLY

No, it belongs to the era of lettuce to induce sleep, fish as a brain food, parsley to step up fluid output, garlic for high blood pressure, and port wine for anemia. While a cold cure is as elusive as it was 50 years ago, at least we know what won't cure a cold.

CONVERSION REACTION

A reader writes: What can you tell me about conversion reaction in a 23-year-old woman?

REPLY

If you refer to a form of neurosis, it means that the emotional conflicts are converted into physical symptoms such as palpitation, pain, itching, or numbness. Psychiatrists say that the condition is a "transformation of psychic conflicts into functional disorders."

EYE REDNESS

A reader writes: I went to a doctor about bloodshot eyes. The new glasses he prescribed haven't helped. What causes this condition?

REPLY

Local irritation from dust, tobacco, smoke, gas, bright lights, and cold winds. Redness also is associated with eyestrain, allergy such as hay fever, and a speck in the eye.

Motorcycle Helmets Bill Skids In Debate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The helmet may become to the motorcycle what the seat belt has become to the auto, according to testimony yesterday in the Assembly Transportation Committee.

Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, author of a bill which would, in part, require all motorcycle riders to wear helmets, asked that no action be taken after a series of major alterations were suggested.

Foran's bill would also require the highway patrol to set standards for helmets and require persons or firms offering motorcycles for rent to also offer helmets to the renters.

But strong opposition by motorcyclists to the mandatory helmets prompted Assemblyman David A. Roberti, D-Los Angeles, to propose that the requirement be deleted in favor of a compromise amendment.

Roberti, acting on a suggestion by Sonny Barger of Oakland, a member of the Hell's Angels Motorcycle Club, proposed that helmets be made standard equipment in the sale or rental of a motorcycle but that use of the headgear be left up to the rider, as seatbelt use is left up to auto users.

The lone witness favoring required use of helmets, Dr. George Snively, director of the Sacramento Medical Center, explained that head injuries to motorcyclists don't happen often but that when they do occur, they are usually serious or fatal.

He noted that New York State now requires the wearing of helmets and that since 1967, when the law was enacted, the number of serious and fatal head injuries to motorcyclists each year has dropped by 59 per cent.

But the long-haired, bearded, leather-jacket-clad Barger argued that helmets tend to impair a rider's hearing and vision and that, while the number of fatalities might drop, the number of accidents might rise.

Two Answers Proposed On Marijuana

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly has tackled the issue of marijuana possession and gone both ways with it — proposing new sanctions against some offenders and lighter penalties for others.

The lower house passed on to the Senate yesterday a bill which would suspend the driver's licenses of teen-age motorists and passengers convicted of possessing marijuana or similar narcotics while in a car.

It also approved for consideration by the upper house a measure to permit persons convicted of possession between 1961 and 1968 to ask the courts to reduce it from a felony to a misdemeanor. It would apply only to persons initially paroled.

Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach, said he hoped his bill to allow juvenile judges to order one-year license suspensions for 16- and 17-year-olds would deter teen-agers from using marijuana since "nothing is more precious to kids in high school than their wheels."

The measure passed 56-7 despite protests by Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose, and John Burton, D-San Francisco, that it would not curb drug use but would widen the generation gap.

The bill by Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg, D-Sacramento, allowing the courts to reduce possession charges got through the lower house by a slimmer 41-25 margin.

It would bring the law between 1961 and 1968 in line with one enacted last November, which provides for either misdemeanor or felony punishment for marijuana possession.

Official Does Away With His Own Job

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Some people around the capitol doubted the sanity of Bill Boone when he asked that his $20,000-a-year state job be abolished in the name of economy.

"I raised a few eyebrows," Boone said. "A few people suggested I was personally nuts."

Not only is Boone giving up his job as coordinator of the Office of Nuclear Energy to save the state money but the job he is taking in private industry will pay him $2,200 less a year.

Gov. Ronald Reagan, who has stressed governmental economy since entering office in 1967, accepted Boone's resignation yesterday and praised the 37-year-old administrator for his concern for the taxpayer's dollar.

Boone had told Reagan in a letter of resignation filed in February that the Office of Nuclear Energy should be eliminated because it "no longer serves an essential function."

Boone said that since he accepted Reagan's appointment to head the agency last September he discovered most of its activities were not necessary or could be "more properly" handled by other state agencies.

"When I stopped doing them (the activities) nothing particularly happened," he told a reporter. "I saw no reason to continue."

Boone has accepted a $17,800-a-year job as assistant to the plant manager at Aerojet-General's nuclear division at San Ramon.

The course — College Planning Workshop for Parents — will begin at 7:30 p.m. Monday. A fee will be charged.

Sewer Lines To Inn Completed

Sewer lines leading to the Northgate Holiday Inn building just north of Freitas Parkway have been completed and will be accepted by the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, district directors agreed last night.

District engineer J. Warren Nute also reported on two other sewer line extensions expected in the near future.

One is to serve the four-story El Marinero office building planned on the south side of North San Pedro Road directly across from the Civic Center. The other is the City of San Rafael's plan to use a three-acre parcel at the extension of Monticello Drive in Terra Linda for a city park.

Nute said no problems are anticipated when these lines come in for acceptance.

Sloan Coffee Hour

A coffee hour with Richard Sloan, candidate for the Marin Junior College District board, will be be held at 8:30 p.m., today at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Melmon, 74 Oakdale Avenue, San Rafael.

200 merchants attend I-J Retailer Clinic . . . see how to make more effective advertising

Last Tuesday was idea-day for 200 retailers who attended a special retail advertising clinic sponsored by the Independent-Journal. The aim was to show merchants how to plan, budget and create newspaper advertising which would stir up sales momentum and keep the cash register ringing a profitable note. The how, why, what and when of doing this through more effective advertising was presented by Wm. J. Solch, vice president of the Bureau of Advertising, New York.

"Bill" Solch demonstrated visually. He spoke, he showed, he charted and drew comparisons. He showed the basic steps which any store or business service could use to attract more customers, earn more profit. He even showed what kinds of copy and layout did a better job. In sum, it was a day of ideas. To those retailers who came and saw, the seminar should prove of practical aid in the ever-changing, ever-challenging world of keeping store. And keeping it well.

When he spoke . . .

William J. Solch, Retail Vice President

. . . the ideas flowed

- Ideas on "why advertise?" Why does it pay?
- Where in the paper is best? Studies of position.
- What is your sales potential?
- When and what to advertise. Correct timing.
- What kind of advertising: copy and layout

Marijuana Sale Charge Dropped

A charge of possessing marijuana for sale, against Irvin Sutley Jr., leader of the Sonoma County Peace and Freedom Party, was dismissed yesterday in Sonoma Central Municipal Court, but another charge of possession of marijuana was allowed to stand.

Judge A. F. Scheidecker bound Sutley over to Sonoma Superior Court for arraignment on the lesser charge at 9 a.m. Thursday.

The judge denied a motion by Sutley's attorney, Allan Gorelick, to suppress evidence, which Gorelick said had been collected in an illegal search of the defendant's car.

Sutley, 24, of Petaluma, was arrested March 2 by Cotati police and later claimed the arrest was an act of political harassment.

San Rafael Approach Repair Job Ordered

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A $183,297 contract was awarded yesterday by the state Department of Public Works to Reichold and Jurkovich of Santa Rosa to improve Highway 17 between San Quentin Wye and the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

Both eastbound and westbound lanes of the 2.3 mile stretch will be resurfaced and signing and lighting will be revised.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 7:30 p.m. — Comedienne Jo Anne Worley, singer Donovan and songstress Lainie Kazan are guests on "This Is Tom Jones." Also appearing on the show will be singer Bobby Goldsboro and comedian Godfrey Cambridge.

KQED (9), 8:30 p.m. — "NET Playhouse" presents "Flowering Cherry," a drama by Robert Bolt, author of "A Man for All Seasons." The play was produced by the British Broadcasting Corp.

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 9 p.m. — "The CBS Friday Night Movies" offers "Gypsy," a saga of burlesque, starring Natalie Wood as Gypsy Rose Lee with Rosalind Russell and Karl Malden.

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 10:00 p.m. — "Fellini: A Director's Notebook" is a one-hour program with, by and about Italian film director Federico Fellini, and filmed in Rome. Fellini discusses his views of making motion pictures and his unorthodox prodecures. The program was filmed especially for the "Experiment in Television" series. Appearing in it are Giulietta Masina, Marcello Mastroianni and Caterina Boratto.

River Accident Kills Two GIs

FORT BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A 12-ton armored personnel carrier tumbled end over end down the bank of the Chattahoochee River and plunged into 30 feet of water yesterday, killing two soldiers.

The victims were identified today as Sgt. Edward J. Murtha, 22, of Corona (Riverside County), and Pfc. Carolo M. Bernardi, 21, of Groton, N.Y.

An Army spokesman said the bodies of the soldiers were pulled from the vehicle after it was raised to the surface by two tank retrievers.

The carrier was being used to demonstrate river crossing techniques when it plunged into the water. It was on its top when divers located it.

Personnel carriers, which are amphibious vehicles, can carry 10 men fully equipped for combat. They are used to transport troops in battle, giving them the protection of fight armor.

Leslie Uggams Will Replace The Smothers

CBS Television yesterday afternoon came up with the name of the heir to the Smothers Brothers time period and next season's opponent of NBC's formidable "Bonanza."

It will be a slight girl with a big voice, Leslie Uggams, in a variety hour.

Viewers with very long memories will remember Leslie from the days of "Name That Song" when she was an appealing child contestant. Later, of course, she was a regular on the Mitch Miller sing-along and after that starred in a Broadway musical.

Present plans are to surround the star with three other regulars in the cast plus the usual parade of guest stars. Judging from her past record, Miss Uggams may kick up a pleasant storm of music but it is unlikely that she will make the kind of waves that distressed the network.

Meanwhile, CBS still has to decide what to do with the Sunday night time period during the warm weather months.

Most of the CBS programs will just be reruns as usual. Carol Burnett will have singer Jimmy Rodgers as a substitute; Red Skelton's will be Liberace. Reruns of last summer's "The Prisoner" will take over Jonathan Winters' spot—and "The Queen and I" will depart to make room for "Animal World" reruns, first seen on NBC.

Tax Loss Study

Casper Has Opening Day Lead In Masters Golf

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Buffalo Billy Casper, a one-time gambling Mormon, has changed his ways—he'll gamble never more.

At least not in the Masters.

"I deliberately played a safe round," the former fatman said after taming the 6,980-yard Augusta National course with a beautiful, six-under-par 66 and the first-round lead in the 33rd Masters Golf Tournament.

"I never once gambled as I have done in the past. Maybe that's the difference," he said, an obvious reference to occasional poor play on the course that many call a jinx for him.

"I won't gamble again.

UP AND DOWN

"I just tried to play shots into places where I felt I could get them up and down."

He got them up and down well enough to score six birdies, not a single bogey and establish a one-stroke lead over Australian Bruce Devlin and lanky George Archer, each with a 67, going into today's second round of play.

Big Jack Nicklaus, seeking a fourth green jacket, was along at 68, but there was a bulky field of seven at 69, three under par. They are Dan Sikes, Australian Bruce Crampton, leading money winner Gene Littler, Mason Rudolph, 20-year-old amateur Bruce Fleisher, Bert Yancey and Lionel Hebert.

TROUBLES

In all, about one third of the field was at par or better.

But some of the top, pre-tourney choices had their troubles.

The field of 83 will be trimmed to the low 40 and ties, and all players within 10 shots of the leader after today's second round.

Casper, who achieved his remarkable round despite numbness in two fingers on his right hand, the result of an allergy attack that knocked him off the tour two weeks ago, said he "never felt at ease out there, but I felt I was going to score well when I got by the third hole with a bogey and one under.

ONE OF MY BEST

"To play well here, I figure I have to hit a lot of good iron shots and putt very well. And this was one of my best putting rounds in a long time."

And the two-time U.S. Open champion, who slimmed down from 230 pounds on an exotic diet that included buffalo steaks, sounded a warning.

"If I can keep this combination, the good irons and good putting, I have a very good chance to win this tournament," he said. "I think you'll find I've had some good rounds here before.

"I think it's here to stay, this good play. I just hope it continues another three days."

Casper, bland and quiet but desperately attempting to change his image through the use of a high powered public relations outfit, had birdie putts of 20, 8 and 30 feet, reached one par 5 in two and two-putted, and put two approach shots to within five and three feet for easy birds.

Giants 'Kids Days' Is Booming Success

It looks like a banner year for the San Francisco Giants' "kid days" program at Candlestick Park, according to club executive Walter "The Great" Mails.

"You'd better tell all the youth organizations in Marin County that they'd better hurry up and reserve dates," said Mails. "We have 15 dates this year and the reservations are coming in thick and fast."

Mails is starting his 11th season in charge of the kids days in which groups of youngsters are admitted to Giants games free of charge. "We expect to get 10,000 children in the park free on each of the 15 dates," Mails added. "This year we should reach the two million attendance record in the 11 years of the program."

'But A's Charge Youngsters'

Mails noted that the American League Oakland Athletics also have kids days, adding, " . . . but they charge each youngster 75 cents. Since we let them in free, it puts a burden on us but we like it. Charlie Finley (A's owner) says they're in the business of selling tickets, not giving them away."

The Giants figure that the kids admitted free today will grow up to become paying adults tomorrow.

Mails said the city of Turlock is sending 6,000 youths to games this season — 3,000 on each of two days. He also said the Assembly of God Church of Santa Cruz has reserved a date for 4,500 youngsters. "That is a sight to behold," Mails added. "They're all dressed up in church uniforms and are the best behaved group year in and year out."

Any youth leaders interested in taking a group to Candlestick should contact Mails soon.

A Double-Decker Bus Trip

SPEAKNG OF Candlestick, Marin County fans will add to the color at next Thursday's openeer between the Giants and San Diego Padres.

Shaun Wiltshire of San Rafael's Wiltshire Towers will load up his scarlet double-decker London bus with about 60 bowler-wearing fans for the opener.

Do you suppose they think the Giants play cricket? Well, I won't tell them.

P.S. If you find opener tickets scarce, give Shaun a call; he just might be able to help you.

BILL O'BAYLEY, golf coach at Terra Linda High School, thinks Peacock Gap golf course of San Rafael deserves a big hand for making the recent Terra Linda Invitational Golf Tournament a huge success. One hundred golfers representing 20 high schools participated, said O'Bayley, "and Peacock did everything possible to make the tournament a success."

It's All In Right Predictions

A LADY READER, unfamiliar with yachting jargon, called to ask what, pray tell, is a predicted log race.

Well, they are contests quite popular among the power boat fraternity. They are not contests of speed, but are tests of navigation skill in covering a given course in a chosen pre-determined time, considering weather conditions, tides, water currents and winds, without altering or adjusting engine throttles.

BELATED CONGRATS to Suzanne Smetana, Redwood High School senior, who won the girls' 18 and under age singles title at last weekend's Easter Week Tennis Tournament in Alamo. Miss Smetana represented Tiburon Peninsula Club.

IN SAN DIEGO

Giants Still Looking For First Victory

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—After losing three straight for their worst start since moving to the West Coast in 1958, the San Francisco Giants hope to untrack tonight against the new San Diego Padres.

But the Padres will hardly be pushovers. They have just swept a three-game series from the Houston Astros.

Outfielder Ollie Brown, picked up by San Diego from San Francisco in the first-round of the player draft, is going great guns. He slammed a 440-foot homer and drove in his team's other run on a fielder's choice in San Diego's 2-0 win last night.

Lefty Ray Sadecki of the Giants, 12-18 last season, will try to halt the San Diego surge. Righthander Clay Kirby, who posted a 7-6 record with Tulsa of the Pacific Coast League last season, is expected to get the nod for the Padres.

In Cactus League play this spring, the Giants took all four games from the Padres. But now that the season is underway, the Padres are a bit more organized and formidable.

San Francisco, meanwhile, has lost three straight to Atlanta with no starting pitcher going the distance for the Giants. Rookie manager Clyde King is still looking for his first big league victory. He hopes his team can get the winning habit against San Diego because the teams play each other seven times in the next 10 days.

Redwood Girls Win Basketball Game

Miss Kosta scored 20 points in the game, played in the San Rafael High School gym. The Redwood junior varsity girls downed San Rafael, 21-16.

Seals, Kings Going Down To The Wire

Series Finale Sunday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Oakland's Seals planned a trip from Los Angeles to St. Louis but instead it's back to Oakland as the Stanley Cup hockey playoffs with Los Angeles goes the full distance.

The Kings evened the count at three games apiece before 7,846 at the Forum last night with a hard fought 4-3 victory.

If Oakland had won, they would have left immediately for St. Louis to meet the Blues who blanked Philadelphia in their opening set. Now it's the Seals and Kings again on Sunday with one of them going to St. Loo for Tuesday night.

Los Angeles built a 3-1 first period lead, lost it as the Seals evened the count before the stanza was over, and then went ahead to stay on Cowboy Bill Flett's first goal of the playoffs.

It came at 15:12 of the second period. Goalie Gary Smith went down while blocking a Bill White slap shot and Flett flipped the puck over him into the net.

HELPED

Coach Red Kelly of the Kings declared defensemen White, Brent Hughes, Dave Amadio and Dale Rolfe all played well and added the back-to-back games on consecutive nights had helped his club.

"We're young and always seem to play better on the second night," he commented. "Now the delay until Sunday will help Oakland."

That's especially true since centers Bob Dillabough and Mike Laughton must recover from injuries. Dillabough, who previously had hurt a shoulder, banged it again in a collision with Rolfe. Laughton reinjured a groin and saw only limited action.

SCORING

Ted Irvine opened the count for Los Angeles at 3:53 of the first period and then Laughton evened things a minute later.

Bryan Campbell, called up just this week from Springfield, scored at 6:19 and at 16:05, with one of their own men in the penalty box and playing that man short, the Kings tallied again with Lowell MacDonald scoring after taking a pass from Jimmy Peters.

Oakland rallied and in two minutes had the count squared with Brian Perry and Gene Ubriaco collecting the scores.

OPENER TONIGHT

A's, Kansas City In 4-Game Series

OAKLAND (UPI)—There will be a strong Kansas City flavor tonight in the Oakland Coliseum.

Kansas City's brand-new expansion baseball team, sporting an unblemished 2-0 record in the American League's Western Division, opens a four-game series with the Oakland Athletics who are 1-1. The A's left Kansas City and came West for the 1968 season.

HUNTER

Righthander Jim Hunter, who hurled a perfect game for Oakland last year while posting a 13-13 record, will make his first start of the season. Dave Morehead, a righthander drafted from the Boston Red Sox, will pitch for the Royals.

Morehead had a 1-4 record last season but he reversed that mark in spring training this year. In addition, he posted a 1.06 earned-run average in exhibition games to top the Kansas City staff.

Robyn Smith Must Wait

ALBANY — Robyn Smith, 24-year-old former movie starlett striving to become Northern California's first woman jockey, will have to wait for a while before a decision is reached.

Tars Come From Behind To Win, 11-10

College of Marin baseball coach Pete Limm and his Tars yesterday reaffirmed that old adage about the game isn't over until the last man is out.

Those two clubs met in a Camino Norte Conference game at San Rafael's Albert Field and the Tars staged one of the greatest rallies in school history to win, 11-10.

They trailed 9-0 going into the sixth inning but tallied three runs in each of the sixth and seventh innings and five big runs in the ninth. Relief pitcher Mike Terry's bases loaded double with two out in the ninth drove across the tying and winning runs.

"The only way I can describe that game is CRAZY," said Limm, who noted that rival coach Stan McWilliams all but collapsed in frustration in the ninth inning.

The victory gave Marin a 6-3 won-lost record in conference play, good for second place behind DeAnza College (8-1) of Cupertino.

Newcomers On NBA's Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Wes Unseld, the man who has everything, led a trio of newcomers on the National Basketball Association's All-Star team as only Oscar Robertson and Elgin Baylor survived 1969's new look.

Unseld of Baltimore, already named the league's Most Valuable Player and Rookie of the Year, made the team for the first time with Billy Cunningham of Philadelphia and Earl Monroe of Baltimore.

In adding another honor, Unseld had to beat out such standouts at center as veterans Wilt Chamberlain, Bill Russell and Willis Reed along with rookie Elvin Hayes. Reed of New York made the second team.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Padres Triumph; Cubs Win Again

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitching coach Roger Craig has been tooting the San Diego Padres' horns all spring but the big new sound in the National League is those Chicago Cub bell-ringers.

The amazing Padres kayoed Houston 2-0 in the major leagues' only night action yesterday as Dick Kelley hurled 8 1-3 innings of one-hit ball after losing a no-hit bid in the seventh. That enabled San Diego to sweep their three-game set from the Astros.

The Cubs, meanwhile, had Ron Santo in the hero-a-day role and won their third in a row from Philadelphia 6-2. Santo clubbed two homers and a single.

THIRD STRAIGHT

Elsewhere, Pittsburgh stopped the defending champion St. Louis Cardinals for the third straight time 3-2 and the New York Mets downed Montreal 4-2. Atlanta, Cincinnati, Los Angeles and San Francisco were not scheduled.

"This sort of bears out what Craig said all spring," said Manager Preston Gomez of the Padres after Dick Selma, Johnny Podres, Tommie Sisk, Kelley, Frank Reberger and Billy McCool held the Astros to one run and 10 hits in the three games. Houston hasn't scored in the last 26 innings.

The Padres' exhibition earned run average was sky-high and Gomez was worried. "But Craig said out pitching would look a lot better once we got out of that thin Arizona air and so far what's happened has borne him out," Gomez said.

BROWN HOMERS

Jim Wynn got the first Houston hit, a clean single with one out in the seventh, and Doug Rader singled with two away in the ninth before McCool retired Denis Menke with the bases loaded. Ollie Brown drove in both San Diego runs with a third-inning grounder and a sixth-inning homer.

Ernie Banks was Chicago's opening day hero with two homers and Billy Williams slammed four doubles in game No. 2 yesterday was Santo's turn.

"Every day somebody different rings the bell for us," the third baseman said. "This is the big thing on a winning team, to have somebody picking up where the other guy leaves off consistently.

"All spring we talked about our chances of beating the St. Louis Cardinals in the new divisional setup. We knew we had to get off to a good start and we felt we were enough improved through experience and squad bolstering to make a real run at them."

Santo's slugging backed up Ken Holtzman's clutch pitching, although he was touched for 10 hits.

READY TO ROLL AT PETALUMA

This modified sportsman entry owned and driven by Jack Dempsey of San Rafael will be one of an estimated 50 cars which will compete tonight at Petaluma Fairgrounds in races sanctioned by National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR). Co-sponsored by Triple S Automotive Service Centers and Western Chrome Plating, Dempsey's car is powered by a 350-cubic inch Chevrolet engine. Qualifying tonight starts at 7 o'clock with the first race scheduled for 8.

Knicks Bounce Back To Defeat Celtics

NEW YORK (AP) — Boston had its laugh in, but the big Celtics' hit lasted only one night, and now the New York Knicks are looking ahead to the last chuckle.

"It was a critical game. If we didn't win, they'd be up 3-0. But now we're right back in there," said a hopeful Willis Reed of the Knicks after they bounced back from a humiliating loss Wednesday night with a 101-91 victory over Boston last night in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division final playoff series.

TRAIL 2-1

The Knicks still trail 2-1 in the best-of-7 set as the teams head back to Boston for the nationally televised fourth game Sunday afternoon, but having erased the stigma of a four-game Boston sweep, the Knicks are filled again with hope.

The winner of this series moves into the league final against the winner of the Los Angeles-Atlanta best-of-7 Western Division final series, which begins tonight in Los Angeles.

"The loss last night (Wednesday) was a real laugh in," said Walt Frazier of the 112-97 defeat the night before when Boston shot into a 29-point lead as New York hit only 33 per cent from the field.

EMBARRASSED

"Maybe that's what we needed to get motivated. We were embarrassed. If the guys have any pride, they had to go out there and get them. I know I couldn't wait for the game."

The Knicks certainly showed motivation Thursday night, racing to a 28-19 first quarter lead by hitting a robust 12 of 22 field shots in the period. Boston never caught up, although it did get within four at 80-76, 82-78 and finally 84-80. But first Dick Barnett and then Frazier pulled the Knicks out of danger.

Gary Anderson Breaks Record

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (AP) — American marksman Gary Anderson, using a borrowed rifle, yesterday broke a world record and won the South African smallbore positional standard rifle Class A title.

Anderson, formerly of San Anselmo and now from Axtel, Neb., scored 583 out of a possible 600 shooting from the prone, kneeling and standing positions at 50 meters with a .22 standard rifle. He bettered by seven points the world record held by A. Gerasimanok of Russia.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

Don't let one mistake cause you to make a second one. Sometimes a bowler who knows he made some elementary mistake on his first ball will still be so angry with himself a moment later when he is shooting for his spare that he will spoil his timing and miss the shot. The secret to consistently good bowling is keeping cool under all circumstances — or at least until you get back to the bench.

Denver Edges Oaks

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Oakland Oaks led a collapse of the American Basketball Association's top four teams, which dropped two of them into a playoff hole.

The Oaks, runaway winners of the Western Division, were edged 109-108 last night at Denver, which evened their best-of-7 semifinal series at 2-2, while fourth-place Dallas cut second place New Orleans' lead to 2-1 with a 130-106 rout over the Bucs in Dallas.

IN EAST

In the Eastern semis, third-place Kentucky bounced first place Indiana 130-111, and fourth-place Minnesota hammered second place Miami 109-93 as the winners each took 2-1 leads in their series.

Wayne Hightower's two free throws with four seconds left for a 109-106 lead proved decisive for Denver.

Oakland had overcome an 86-77 deficit entering the final period to take a five-point lead before Hightower came off the bench with six points to put Denver ahead 103-102. The lead see-sawed until Lonnie Wright scored for Denver for a 107-106 edge.

Wright finished with 23 points while Warren Armstrong had 24 for Oakland.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Howard Blasts 2 More Homers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Manager Ted Williams, who knows something about the subject, had a little batting advice for Washington slugger Frank Howard.

"He wants me to put a few more balls in the air," said the 6-foot-7 Howard, who led the major leagues with 44 home runs last year. The big guy complied and the balls not only went in the air, they went in the seats.

9-6 ROMP

Howard cracked his third and fourth home runs of the season yesterday, leading Washington's 9-6 romp over the New York Yankees. The four homers in three days were four more than Howard had all of last year against the Yankees—the only team to shut him out in 1968.

In yesterday's other American League action, Bill Freehan smashed a pair of homers including a grand slam as Detroit battered Cleveland 12-3, and Baltimore edged Boston 2-1 in 13 innings.

Brant Alyea also homered for the Senators, who piled up a 7-0 lead before New York's Frank Fernandez triggered a Yankee comeback with two homers including a grand slam.

In the three-game Yankee series, the Senators piled up 39 hits and 70 total bases. Their batting average is an unbelievable .361.

"Everybody is all charged up," said Williams, who must be wondering what all the pitcher domination fuss was all about. For the record, in case Williams, who wasn't around last year, doesn't know about it, the Senators batted .224 in 1968.

Freehan's two homers led a 13-hit Detroit attack that included home runs by Willie Horton and Mickey Stanley. Mickey Lolich, the Tigers' World Series hero, scattered six hits for the victory.

Freehan's grand-slam came against Sam McDowell in the fifth inning and opened an 8-2 Detroit lead. "Nothing went wrong," claimed McDowell. "It was just a poorly pitched game. I felt good."

Tony Horton homered for the Indians.

Frank Robinson opened Baltimore's 13th inning with a disputed double and then rode home on Boog Powell's single to beat the Red Sox.

Boston protested that Robinson's drive down the right field line was foul but Umpire Emmett Ashford ruled it fair and then Powell delivered the run, breaking a tie which had existed from the third inning.

BIG ERROR

Mike Cuellar, making his first start for the Orioles, allowed just four hits in 10 innings but his throwing error and another by Paul Blair on the same play allowed the Red Sox to score their only run in the second. Tony Conigliaro had singled and moved up on a passed ball. Then Cuellar threw George Scott's tap into center field and Conigliaro scored as Blair overthrew the relay.

Blair's two-out single following Don Buford's double tied the score for the Orioles in the third.

Redwood Spikers Top Montgomery

Redwood High School defeated Montgomery High 70-60 yesterday in a none-league track and field meet in Santa Rosa.

Top effort of the day came from Jud Piller who heaved the discus 156 feet, 2 inches, best mark in that event among the Marin County Athletic League competitors.

Other winners for Redwood were Phil Russel, mile in 4:41.5; Tom Poppin, 22-yard dash in 22.9; Lee Hotchkin, two-mile in 10:25.2, and Brian Hicks, pole vault, 12 feet.

Redwood's junior varsity also won over the Montgomery Jayvee, 66-56, but the Larkspur school's frosh team was defeated, 74-38.

Mrs. Krugman Wins Tourney

Mrs. Richard Krugman scored plus one to win the Match vs. par tournament yesterday for the Las Gallinas Women's Golf Club.

She was followed by Mrs. Ted Steiger, minus three, and Mrs. George Yamamoto, minus 3. Low gross was won by Mrs. Ned DiGrazia, 72.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Winds Subside, Salmon Fishing Is Improving

With the winds subsiding, salmon fishing improved somewhat this week. On Tuesday, for example, Caruso's of Sausalito reported the party boat Salmon Queen came home with nine limits and the Hurricane with twelve limits. Top fish was 16 pounds; the ocean was flat.

Also on Tuesday Joe Mello, the "old pro" from Santa Venetia, took a limit of striped bass weighing 14, 3 and 3 pounds.

Otherwise, however, striper fishing is still slow on San Pablo Bay. I'll bet those darned fish are romancing each other up in the delta country. Well, they'll be back in late May and June and will be plenty hungry. The Richmond Bridge area, Racoon Strait and Sausalito areas will pick up sharply. Lots of smaller but legal size bass will be on the flats off Hamilton Air Froce Base. Try trolling a Pet or Pfleuger Chum spoon when the fish come back. Might even try it now.

AS FAR as sturgeon are concerned, the party boats plus all the other regular boats are having a tough time locating these prizes.

I know only a few caught during the past week. One angler, Jack Browining of Santa Rosa, has taken three sturgeon his last three times out, a 100-pounder and two 70-pounders. He wouldn't tell me where he was fishing, but the name of his boat is the "Meatball." Maybe you can find it.

OUT ON TOMALES Bay perch fishing should be excellent the rest of this month. Good bets are the areas around Millerton Point and Tomasini Point. Both places are easy to reach from the boatels there — the Golden Hinde at Inverness and Marconi Cove Area ar Marshall. Both have launching ramps.

Take along plenty of bait because of smelt, sharks and an occasional striped bass. If the tide is low, pull up on one of the beaches along the bay and dig yourself a limit of cockles. The limit on perch is 25, and there is no limit on smelt and sharks. You should skin and steak up one leopard shark because they are excellent eating. Try it once, anyway.

THIS WEEK I ran into Don Joslin, the skindiver I recently mentioned who got his first 10½-inch abalone. Don, who has been diving 10 years, said that I had really shot him down in my column. I said that in 20 years I only checked 5 abalone over 10 inches in size, but somehow that number 10 came out a big 19, a typographical error. Egad, wouldn't that be something — 19-inch abalones! For the record, the five biggest abalones I ever checked were all about 10½ and 10¾ inches. So Don's abalone was a pip! A beauty! A prize!

THE OTHER day I went out to Pierce Point to check abalone fishermen and found only one fellow there, Mario Bottini of Novato. He had his limit of five abalones plus one eel.

The water was rough, but Mario had on a skin-diving suit. He explained that the water is getting colder each year and, being retired, he thought maybe he should take it easier and bought his first skin-diving suit.

INCIDENTALLY, the bar was rough at the mouth of Tomales Bay. If it quiets down, the area could be good for both halibut and salmon.

It can be very dangerous when breaking and some experience is necessary when fishing this area. Go with someone who has fished there for best and safest results.

BILL MARSHALL of Inverness caught three salmon there this past week. One day he went through the bar and fished near Elephant Rock in the ocean where he picked up three lingcod to 17 pounds and some hefty rockfish.

THE RAIN over last Saturday and Sunday had slowed the bass fishing to a quiet pace at Bethel Island, and Frank's Tract Lake. Those fishermen who were out in spite of the rains reported catfishing still excellent.

There were scattered reports of bass taken while trolling in both the San Joaquin and Frank's Tract Lake. The fish generally were running smaller.

Montreal Nips Bruins In Overtime Game, 3-2

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ralph Backstrom sat in the Montreal dressing room after the third period thinking about the Boston Bruins. After 42 seconds of overtime, the Bruins went back to their dressing room thinking about Ralph Backstrom.

"It was my first shot on the net of the game," the Montreal center said last night after his sudden death goal climaxed a rally that carried the Canadiens to a 3-2 victory in the opener of their National Hockey League East Division final playoff series.

NOT A SHOT

"After the third period ended I sat in the room and thought about the fact that I had not had a shot," Backstrom continued.

Bill Flett's goal with five minutes left in the second period gave the Los Angeles Kings a 4-3 triumph over the Oakland Seals and deadlocked their West Division semifinals at 3-all. The deciding game is set for Sunday night in Oakland.

The Canadiens trailed the big, bad Bruins 2-0 with seven minutes left in the third period. But Boston's Eddie Shack drew a penalty at 13:11 and John Ferguson ignited the Montreal comeback 17 seconds later.

Jean Beliveau knotted it on another power play goal with only 56 seconds remaining and sent the Montreal Forum crowd into a frenzy. Boston's record-breaking scorer Phil Esposito, who lost the key faceoff just before Beliveau's 71st career playoff goal, crouched in tears in front of the Bruins' bench as the debris was cleared from the ice.

Derek Sanderson scored both Boston goals.

Coach Harry Sinden barred the Bruins' dressing room to the press and answered newsmen's questions himself. "I don't want them bothered right now," he said. "They're pretty down at the moment."

Miss Bitgood Places 9th In Swims

Her time was 1 minute, 9.9 seconds.

The only other Marin County competitor in yesterday's opening day events, Leslie Bryans of the San Rafael Swim Club, failed to qualify for last night's finals in the 100 breast.

Three other Marin girls are competing in the nationals this week — Robin Bachrach of the Marin Dolphins and Denise Ham and Cookie Arrighi of the Marin Swim Club.

Lacrosse Schedule: Marin Vs. Stanford

The Marin Lacrosse Club takes on unbeaten Stanford in a Northern California Lacrosse Association game at Palo Alto Sunday.

Today is Friday, April 11, the 101st day of 1969 with 264 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1968 President Lyndon B. Johnson ordered 10,000 Reservists to duty and set a ceiling of 649,500 as the U.S. troop strength in Vietnam.

A thought for the day: General MacArthur said, "There is no substitute for victory."

Takes A Tip From Johnson

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI)— The state Property and Supplies Department took a leaf from the book of former President Lyndon B. Johnson recently when it was noted that things are too bright around the Capitol at night.

Department Secretary Perrin C. Hamilton issued the following order:

"It has been brought to the attention of this office, that during night hours a considerable amount of electrical light power is being used unnecessarily throughout the buildings within the Capitol area. In keeping with the governor's cost reduction program, it is requested that the night lighting within these buildings be held to a minimum."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Sound, Careful Reasoning Is The Key To The Best Defense

Sometimes it's hard to tell whether you or your partner is responsible for a mistake that allows an opponent to make his contract. Most rubber bridge players are irritated by such discussions but top-flight tournament players sometimes spend hours searching for the answer to such a question. Today's hand, played in the Vanderbilt Cup contest last month, provided the players and kibitzers with a difficult problem of this kind.

UNLUCKY CHOICE

West led the six of diamonds, an unlucky choice. South won with the nine of diamonds and lost a finesse with the queen of hearts. East returned the seven of spades, and South played the jack.

West thought for several seconds and then played the eight of spades. South led a diamond to dummy and returned a club. East could have defeated the contract by taking the ace of clubs and leading another spade, but East actually played low, and South ran his nine tricks before anybody could change his mind.

Players and kibitzers agreed that East made a mistake in playing the low club. Some thought that West could have made the right play simpler by taking the queen of spades and then returning a low spade.

REJECTED PLAY

West said he had thought about this play but had rejected it. If West took the queen of spades and returned a low spade, dummy's nine would win. Then East might fear that South had started with A-J-x instead of K-J-x of spades.

Since it was clear that South did not have A-K-Q-J of spades, East knew that West could win the first spade trick.

TAKE FIRST TRICK

West would surely take the first trick if his spades were headed by the ace, queen or king-queen. West would refuse the trick only if his spades were headed by ace-king or ace-queen.

In short, East should have known that his side had the rest of the spades, and he should have stepped up with the ace of clubs. The kibitzers therefore absolved West from all blame in the case of the stolen contract.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1-no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ 7 6 3
♡ K 8 7 2
♣ A J 6 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention, asking partner to show a major suit of four or more cards.

If partner bids two hearts, you will raise to three hearts (or even to four hearts, if you trust your partner's card play). If partner bids anything but two hearts, you will bid 2-no-trump.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Record Merger Pace Expected To Slow

For the three months ended March 31, according to a survey and analysis of W. T. Grimm and Co., a financial consulting firm specializing in mergers and acquisitions, there were 1,432 consolidations — up 76 per cent over the 815 mergers reported for the comparable 1968 period. For all of 1968 the firm recorded 4,462 mergers.

An anticipated slackening of merger activity is expected to bring the 1969 total to 5,400 consolidations for the year. Lower stock prices, high interest rates and a continuing tight money market, plus uncertainty over the impact of government regulatory action are expected to slow the pace from an indicated 5,728 consolidations based on first quarter figures.

INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORP. directors have authorized the execution of a definitive agreement for affiliation with Hartford Fire Insurance Co. Similar action was taken earlier this week by Hartford directors. The transaction involves the issuance of International Telephone of approximately 22.4 million shares of cumulative preferred stock, $2.25 convertible Series N. International Telephone has postponed its annual stockholders' meeting to June 26 in order to present the agreement for approval.

ALLEGHANY LUDLUM STEEL CORP. and Jacobsen Manufacturing Co. have agreed in principle to merge on the basis that each share of Jacobsen common stock will be exchanged on a tax free basis for one-half a share of $3 convertible preferred stock of Alleghany Ludlum. The agreement is subject to approval of the directors and stockholders of both companies.

GEORGE E. KEITH CO. (Walk-Over shoes) has signed an agreement to acquire Pierce Shoe Manufacturing Co. for an undisclosed amount of cash and common stock. The transaction is subject to approval of Keith stockholders who are expected to meet within the month.

LESLIE SALT CO., San Francisco reported a 1968 net income of slightly over $2 million, an increase of more than 300 per cent over its 1967 income of $673,000. The 1968 figure amounted to $5.60 per common share, including a federal income tax net operating loss carried forward. In 1967 net income amounted to $1.80 per common share.

CALIFORNIA FINANCIAL CORP., San Francisco reported earnings of $613,632 for the first quarter of 1969, up from $84,986 earned during the previous year's first period.

Chemical Venture

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI) — Crompton and Knowles, Inc., is joining Carbochimique Tertre Belgium in a venture to produce dyestuffs to complement the lines of Crompton and Knowles Althouse Division. The company will be called Althouse Tertre.

Stocks On Mixed Side At Closing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks turned mixed today, ending a three-session advance. Trading was active.

Corning Glass Works, on the upbeat since reporting increased earnings early this week, continued to move ahead smartly. Robert Shaw Controls also benefitted from a higher net.

Electronics were hit by profit taking after recent gains. But Burroughs escaped the general downdrift in this group, and was up several points late in the session.

There were a few point-sized swingers among the conglomerates, but they seemed to lack definite direction.

Steels moved in small fractions, although industry demand continued to hold up well. Motors also traded in narrow ranges.

Who Should Hold Stock?

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My broker has requested that I leave my securities in street name, not in my own. Is this entirely honest? — G. P. M

A. This practice is quite a common one and if the firm is respected and reliable, you should have no problems. The primary consideration in deciding whether to keep stock with a broker in "street name" or in a safe-deposti box in your name is the activity of your account.

If you buy stocks for the long term — 5 to 10 years — by all means keep them yourself. If, on the other hand, you maintain an active trading account, the sending of certificates back and forth would be an unnecessary nuisance.

One advantage of leaving your certificates with your broker is that all the bookkeeping is handled by his firm. Dividends, rights, exchanges and so forth are all credited to your account and a monthly statement is sent to you giving a current picture of your holdings. For a busy person, this relief from clerical details is a real asset.

Foreign Sales Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sales of American mutual fund shares in foreign countries spurted to a new high in 1968 of $491 million, more than doubling the $228-million in foreign sales in 1967, the Investment Company Institute reported.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Notice Of Examination Doesn't Always Mean A Bigger Tax Bill

Wikel

In you receive a notice from the IRS that your return is being examined, it does not necessarily mean that you owe more tax. It may result in a refund for you, or it may result in no change in your taxes.

The law requires every taxpayer to maintain records to help him prepare complete and accurate tax returns.

When your income tax return is audited, you will be asked to explain some of the items reported. Adequate records should be substantiated by sales slips, invoices, receipts, canceled checks, and other documents. These are essential for proving the expense.

The kind of records you should maintain is not specified in the law.

SUFFICIENT RECORDS

The W-2 form you received from your employer and canceled checks, receipts or other evidence to support deductions or credits claimed on your income tax return are sufficient records to support these items.

If you are engaged in a trade or business, you must keep records for your income tax, employment tax, excise tax and other tax returns you are required to file. These records must clearly show income, deductions, and credits; inventories; employees' names, addresses and social security numbers; sales or rentals of items subject to excise taxes and any other information needed for the tax return.

An office audit is generally handled by correspondence, although if you are located near the office you may be asked to come in.

Field audits are made by agents who visit you in person. The agent always carries identification.

NEXT STEP

If you do not agree with the Revenue Agent's proposed adjustments, tell him you want an "informal conference." The agent will prepare and mail to you a form showing the adjustments proposed by him. This form will show the name, address and phone number of the person with whom an informal conference can be requested. You should contact that person and arrange for a conference.

There are three levels within the IRS at which an agreement may be reached. The first is the audit by a revenue agent, the second is an informal conference with a conferee and the third is the Appellate Division.

COURT RIGHTS

If you cannot come to an agreement, then you are entitled to a hearing before the Tax Court before you must pay any additional tax.

You do not have to accept the findings of the auditor, or the conferee, or the Appellate Division, although you should exhaust these possibilities before going to the Tax Court.

At any time you can have your attorney or accountant represent you and because the rules are so complex and the amount of tax is usually substantial in relation to your income, you are usually better off to call in your attorney or accountant immediately after you receive the first notice that you are being audited.

Remember that if you fail to respond to an audit at any of the three stages, that is, if you don't reply to letters requesting your appearance, the agent's proposals will result in an assessment of the tax against you, and you will have to pay it in spite of how good your case might have been.

Stanford Vigil Continues; Harvard Facing A Boycott

Pickets Up To Protest Police Foray

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Harvard students generally ignored a strike call and instruction went forward at the university today despite a classroom boycott proclaimed by dissidents in retaliation for a police foray that broke up a sit-in yesterday.

Pickets appeared in front of Sever Hall, chosen as the focal point by Students for a Democratic Society to test their boycott. Despite their chants, "On strike, Shut it down," students entered the building, the only one picketed today.

Sever Hall is across from University Hall, where 400 policemen ejected student protesters in a brief, bloody clash yesterday. The action caused an uproar on the campus.

SCHEDULES TALK

Harvard President Nathan Pusey was to meet later in the day with faculty to explain why police were called in to end the sit-in.

About 800 persons watched the picketing in historic Harvard Yard and also a rally on the steps of Widener Library, between Sever and University Hall.

Classes were held as usual in Sever, as in other buildings. Attendance at Harvard is not mandatory, and the number of students crossing the picket line could not be determined.

However, it appeared that classroom attendance would be lower than normal today.

The dissidents called a three-day boycott starting today. Hand-lettered signs were taped around Harvard Yard. Two signs were ripped off by unsympathetic students.

SHIFTS TO POLICE

Originally, the protest and sit-in were directed against Harvard's Reserve Officer Training Corps program. But the emphasis shifted yesterday to the police action in which 200 protesters were evicted from University

More than 30 students and at least three policemen were hurt. There was 189 arrests.

In a related incident yesterday, Cambridge Mayor Walter J. Sullivan's family was threatened with fire, acid and kidnaping following the police raid which broke up a sit-in at Harvard.

Detectives were sent to guard the mayor's home, and police took his four children, ages 19 to 9, out of school.

Police said they received a call from a man who threatened

Dissidents Sleep Out 2nd Night

STANFORD (AP) — About 100 dissident students stayed overnight for the second night in Stanford University's Applied Electronics Laboratory while others distributed protest leaflets on the campus this morning.

They are demanding that the university and its affiliated Stanford Research Institute stop research on chemical or biological warfare or any other military projects.

The laboratory staff moved its work today to a nearby building, and the university president, Dr. Kenneth Pitzer, was discussing the situation privately with faculty advisers.

The sit-in, free of violence so far, began Wednesday night at the 11,000-student private university.

MEETING WALKOUT

At a meeting last night attended by an estimated 600 persons, a vote was taken on whether to continue the protest.

When the moderator announced that the motion had passed there were a number of boos and a group estimated at about 200 walked away from the patio in front of the captured building.

A second vote, taken after the defections, passed overwhelmingly at the end of the five-hour session.

Included in that motion was a demand to trustees for a significant response by Monday to demands for closer university supervision of the Stanford Research Institute, an end to classified research and the stopping of all chemical and biological warfare studies.

PROTEST WORK

"The SRI Coalition," a group of students and off-campus organizations, called the sit-in to protest work done for the military both on the campus and at the nearby research institute which is owned by Stanford.

There have been no arrests and no outside police have been called in, although campus police have remained in the building. A university spokesman said it was unlikely that outside patrolmen would be called as long as there was no damage

Public Transit Backers Win Victory

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

BERKELEY — Public transit advocates on the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission yesterday defeated attempts by freeway forces to undermine a previous vote calling for amendment of the California Constitution to allow use of gas taxes for transit service as well as highway building.

In a series of voice and hand votes, public transit advocates overhauled a draft report on financing transportation to reverse its former tenor, which they termed "highway-oriented."

The votes generally saw public transit arguments winning, 14-9, only a slight change from the 12-5 vote on March 26 when five years of tension between the two groups burst into the open for the first time.

Although there are 39 voting members on the commission, yesterday's attendance at the meeting in the Hotel Claremont was better than usual, thus there was a little chance of reversing the vote at a future meeting.

Successfully moving to delete several references to highway use of taxes, San Francisco Supervisor Jack Morrison said the changes would make the commission's final report to the Legislature a more positive statement favoring public transit.

"There's always a watering down process in the Legislature, and I don't think that process should begin here," he said.

The commission's report, the fruit of five years and $5.9 million of work, is due before the Legislature in early June.

Commissioners united, however, on modifying a proposal by Marc Sandstrom, assistant secretary of the state Business and Transportation Agency, that gas taxes be constitutionally restricted to transportation uses.

"We certainly want to be careful about this," said John C. Beckett of Palo Alto, a strong advocate of public transit.

Morrison lost, however, when he attempted to delete a statement in the report that the state's gas tax, now seven cents a gallon, should be increased to meet the need for more highways.

"Hiding our head in the sand doesn't make these facts go away," Sandstrom said in a strong argument that the statement needed to be left intact. Without some mention of highways, he declared, the report would be "a whitewash aimed one way."

Commissioner compromised by inserting a reference to the need to finance public transit, too.

Left intact was a finding that "property taxation should not be overlooked as a long-run possibility of merit" to finance transit. The report, as originally drafted by the commission's study group on finance, recommended the property tax and opposed use of highway funds.

The revised statement, however, added that the property

CITY FATHER WAITS

Annex Of House Delayed To May

San Rafael City Councilman John A. Miskimen, who now lives at 4 Anchorage Court, won't know for a month whether he can legally move into a new home in Bayside Acres and still retain his council seat. (See photo, page 35)

The question hinges on whether his prospective new home, at 187 Oak Drive, will be annexed to the City of San Rafael. The Marin Local Agency Formation Commission last night tackled the question, then split 2 to 2 to send the issue back for another discussion at the next meeting, on May 8.

The city charter requires that councilmen live within city limits. The home that Miskimen wants to buy is in unincorporated area, with no connection to San Rafael except by water.

Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. moved that the annexation be denied because it would be spot annexation and Jan Paul Dyk seconded. J. Wayne Womack voted against the motion, and so did Chairman Hugh G. Marchant.

The fifth commissioner, Michael Wornum, was absent last night on vacation in Mexico.

Last month, the local agency commissioners had asked Miskimen to try to get other lots on Oak Drive to join him in the annexation request. Miskimen reported last night he had been unsuccessful in getting others to join.

Wagner Hat In New York Mayor Ring

NEW YORK (UPI)—Former mayor Robert F. Wagner today became the eleventh major entry in the New York mayoral race by officially declaring his candidacy for the Democratic nomination.

Seven other Democrats and three Republicans, including incumbent Mayor John V. Lindsay, have announced they also will seek the nomination.

Wagner will be seeking his fourth term for the job some consider second only to the presidency of the United States in number of headaches.

Wagner, who will be 58 this month, is a former ambassador to Spain and a practical politician with a lot of savvy.

The incumbent mayor won his first term in 1965 as the candidate of a Republican-Liberal coalition after Wagner decided not to seek reelection.

Wagner has sought public office in New York City five times, and he has won every time. The only election he ever lost was a statewide race against Jacob K. Javits for U.S. senator in 1956.

Motorcycle Collision Kills Kentfield Teener

Kevin W. Stanley, 13, of 6 Broadway, Kentfield, died of a head injury at Marin General Hospital last night, three hours after a car-motorcycle collision on Laurel Grove Avenue in Kentfield, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Kevin, an Independent-Journal carrier boy and an eighth grade student at Adaline E. Kent School, was riding behind his brother, Mark W. Stanley, 19, on Mark's motorcycle at 6:45 p.m., the highway patrol said, when an oncoming car driven by an off-duty highway patrolman, Edward A. Larson Jr., 33, of 80 Meadow Road, Mill Valley, made a left turn into a driveway, turning in the cycle's path.

Both youths were thrown to the pavement but Mark Stanley escaped with minor scrapes which were treated at Marin General Hospital. Kevin died at the hospital shortly after 10 p.m.

Mark Stanley said he saw turn signals blinking on Larson's car, but said he was so close he was sure Larson had seen the motorcycle. Larson said he did not see the cycle until the collision Investigation is continuing, the highway patrol said.

The death was the sixth traffic fatality in Marin this year, compared to seven traffic deaths at this time last year.

Kevin was the son of William S. and Doris Stanley of Kentfield. Born in San Francisco, he had attended Kentfield schools since kindergarten. He is also survived by his brother, Mark, and two sisters, Patricia Stanley of Kentfield and Michela Ohrazda of San Rafael.

Requiem Mass will be offered at 9 a.m. tomorrow at St. Sebastian's Church, Kentfield, with burial in Mount Olivet Cemetery, San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo.

Memorial contributions be made to the Boys Club of Southern Marin or St. Labre Indian School, Ashland, Mont.

Cautious Role For Teaching Family Life

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state Board of Education endorsed sex education today but told California schools not to ignore moral codes or teach too much, too soon.

"Too much misinformation is being learned by our children who receive no formal instruction in family life and sex education and many are truly damaged emotionally and psychologically," said the resolution adopted by a unanimous, voice vote yesterday after five hours of detailed, sometimes emotional testimony.

The California school board's guideline emphasized local control of sex education, teaching the "harmful effects of premarital sex," no instruction in human reproduction before the fourth grade and voluntary attendance.

The board's compromise resolution was an answer to state and national controversy over sex instruction with the John Birch Society and the Sex Information and Education Council of the United States (SIECUS) on opposite sides.

The board's action did not satisfy the Birch Society or several parents' groups, which had called for abolition of sex education.

But the board accepted state school chief Max Rafferty's suggestion that "the SIECUS program is not appropriate for California schools."

SIECUS, based in New York City, has advocated full, early instruction in sex education without some of the taboos of religion or moral codes.

The board's resolution was

Angry Marin City Students, Panthers Want Fence Down

By FRANK FARRARA

Angry students and Black Panther Party members demanded last night the fence along Highway 101 from Marin City to Sausalito be torn down.

The Marin City Council agreed and after a three-hour community "soul session" voted for removal of the fence, labeled a symbol of repression and a stigma.

It was a no-hold barres session as speakers freely vented their feelings before a gathering of about 60 persons, including county and state officials, at the Manzanita Center.

Residents had no say before the fence was put up, but they want the voice of the residents to be heard on taking it down, protestors said.

There was a strong call for the right of the people to determine their own destiny by George Gaines, captain of the Marin County chapter of the Black Panther Party.

"Decisions must be made on the basis of people," Gaines said. "There an't nobody to make decisions for the people. If it's not in the interest of people, the people have the right to abolish it, have it taken down or blown down."

Under attack was the 15-foot wire fence, between the curb and the sidewalk, behind which Marin City pupils pass on their way to Martin Luther King School.

The fence was put up last July after a series of rock throwing incidents had resulted in broken car windows and windshields.

Ray Tries Firing Lawyer, Writer

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A lawyer for James Earl Ray asked U.S. District Court Judge William E. Miller today to void Ray's contract with the lawyer who represented him when he pleaded guilty to the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

At the same time, the attorney asked for nullification of Ray's contract with William Bradford Huie, Alabama author, for the story of Ray's life. Several stories relating to this contract have appeared in Look magazine.

Robert W. Hill Jr. of Chattanooga, Tenn., asked a preliminary injunction against Percy Foreman of Houston, Tex., the lawyer, and Huie.

59 Job Corps Centers To Close

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration announced today plans to close down 59 Job Corps centers, including two major centers for men and seven for women. The other 50 are conservation camps in more remote areas.

At the same time it listed 28 cities it said are being considered for new urban residential manpower centers—a day-school type of operation designed to absorb some of the displaced students on a less costly basis.

The major men's centers to be shut down are Camp Parks, Alameda County, and Kilmer, N.J.

The women's centers to be closed are those at Clinton, Iowa; Poland Spring, Maine; Marquette, Mich.; St. Louis, Mo.; Omaha, Neb.; Moses Lake, Wash., and Huntington, W.Va.

Arguments Open In Presidio Mutiny Case

FORT ORD (AP) — Opening arguments began today in the court-martial of 14 of the 27 men accused of mutiny at the San Francisco Presidio.

Thirteen of the 14 defendants "have mental problems, and the Army should have given them discharges," civilian defense attorney Terence Hallinan said.

OPERATION SPLASH—Two youthful Saigon civil defense militamen appear to enjoy one of their recent assignments—search of the flooded Nipa palm grove near the capital city for underwater enemy ammunition caches. Allied Bases, Towns Get Heavy Shelling

SAIGON (AP) — Unleashing the heaviest shelling of South Vietnamese towns and allied bases in three weeks, the Viet Cong appeared today to have opened a new and more violent phase of its seven-week-old spring offensive.

Rockets and mortars hit more than 45 towns and bases during the night. The heaviest attacks were made on provincial capitals on opposite sides of Saigon, Tay Ninh to the northwest and Vinh Long to the southwest.

At least 21 persons were killed 200 were wounded in the two cities and about 80 others were missing in Tay Ninh. Some Americans were among the wounded, but no American deaths were reported.

The night's attacks were among the most devastating of the offensive which began Feb. 23 and the heaviest since the night of March 20-21, when 65 rocket and mortar attacks were reported.

On the other side of Saigon and close to the Cambodian border, more than 80 rocket and mortar rounds slammed into Tay Ninh, blowing up two ammunition dumps, destroying 100 buildings and causing at least 101 casualties, officials reported.

Officials said much of the barrage was concentrated in a three-block area containing the provincial government and military headquarters, a sector headquarters and the compound of the U.S. military advisory team.

About 15 rounds landed in the American compound, smashing buildings and causing moderate to heavy material damage, the U.S. Command said. As spokesman said some Americans were wounded, but none were killed.

Half a dozen Vietnamese headquarters buildings were demolished, along with several barracks for South Vietnamese militiamen. Elsewhere in the city of 100,000, exploding artillery shells and crushed buildings and homes, set them afire and apparently buried some of the victims alive.

Agnew Daughter Plans To Marry

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — Pamela Agnew, daughter of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, says she and Robert DeHaven of White Marsh, Md., will be married June 21.

Miss Agnew, the vice president's oldest daughter, and her fiance, a teacher of children at a private mental hospital, both are 25. She is a social worker in Baltimore county's Department of Social Services.

Saying, "We want to keep it a kind of small," Miss Agnew declined to disclose the site of the wedding, but said it would be in Baltimore County.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Hnoeymooner Ailing?

MADRID (London Express) — Judy Garland, on honeymoon with her fifth husband Mickey Deans at Torremolinos in Costa Del Sol, yesterday was reported suffering from an undisclosed illness. The couple has not been seeen outside the hotel since they arrived five days ago.

Strike Hits Calcutta

CALCUTTA (London Express) — Calcutta, India's biggest industrial city, was completely strike-bound yesterday as a quarter of a million workers downed tools. The strike is a protest against central troops shooting dead five workers at an arms factory near Calcutta. The Communist government of West Bengal officially backed the strike and demanded that New Delhi respect provincial autonomy.

Apollo Crew Picked

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A balding, 38-year-old veteran of two space flights will lead a three-man team on man's first attempt at true exploration of the moon.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration named Cmdr. Charles Conrad yesterday as commander of an all-Navy astronaut crew on Apollo 12, scheduled to bring off man's second lunar landing in July.

With Conrad on the flight will be Cmdr. Richard F. Gordon, 39, command module pilot, and Lt. Cmdr. Alan L. Bean, 37, the lunar lodule pilot. Apoolo 12 is intended as the first of nine flights of exploration of the lunar topography. Its flight plan includes up to 12 hours of crew activity outside the space craft and on the moon's bleak surface.

Strikes Hit Italy

ROME (AP) — Amid labor and student violence, Italians across the nation walked off their jobs today after bloody riots left two dead and hundreds injured in the southern city of Battipaglia on Wednesday.

The three-hour strike, called by Italy's major labor unions, affected industrial production, some banks, schools, movie theaters and public services.

In southern Italy, the strike was widely observed, and in some cities, workers left their jobs for the whole day.

Students and police clashed in the Sicilian city of Trapani, and three Molotov cocktails exploded this morning in Ascoli Piceno.

Lull In Biafra War

LAGOS (London Express) — Nigerian federal troops began digging in yesterday to consolidate new positions gained during the fierce three-day battles for possession of Uzuakoli. Both sides took advantage of the lull in firing to dig trenches and federal forces began scouring the brush for Biafran rebels waiting to ambush supply convoys.

After advances which have brought forward federal troops within seven miles of Ojukwu's headquarters at Umuahia, Biafran resistance has stiffened again and the federals appear bogged down.

Trial Set On Coke

BEIRUT (UPI) — Former Premier Taher Yahya of Iraq will go on trial for allowing Coca-Cola to be bottled in Baghdad, informed diplomatic sources in Beirut said last night. Coca-Cola is blacklisted by Arab nations because it has plants in Israel.

Czech Press Restive

PRAGUE (AP) — Despite a new crackdown on Czechoslovakia's journalists, the Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo today criticized "indiscriminate condemnation of the mass media."

The party paper said many journalists "felt uneasy about the statement of the central committee presidium and there are many who do not agree with it."

After anti-Soviet demonstrations two weeks ago in several cities, the party's leaders said the press, radio and television were partly to blame, and reimposed censorship.

Rude Pravo said today it had "heard from various directions that if future development and the possibility of writing are not in keeping with the honor of a journalist, it will be better to give up.

NATO Maneuvers Set As Red Ships Sail

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — The North Atlantic Treaty Organization announced yesterday that more than 60 of its ships and 300 of its planes will begin 12 days of maneuvers April 20.

In what was apparently a coincidence, the NATO announcement came as more Russian ships were sailing through the Straits of Gibraltar into the Mediterranean. A total of 15 entered Wednesday and yesterday, bringing the Soviet fleet in the Mediterranean to at least 45.

Pilot Court-Martialed For Destroying Film

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force court-martialed a veteran pilot for destroying combat film showing American planes strafing a Soviet ship in the North Vietnamese port of Cam Pha in 1967, the Pentagon has disclosed.

Col. Jack Broughton, now retired, drew a $600 fine and an admonishment for destroying official property "with intent to deprive the United States government of information to which it was entitled." A review panel later set aside the conviction but let the fine stand as administrative punishment.

Initially, the Pentagon flatly denied the Soviet ship Turkestan had been hit, but had to back down two weeks later after Pacific commanders turned up "new information" on the incident.

Pentagon officers confirmed that Broughton's court-martial conviction on July 27, 1967, centered on gun camera film taken by U.S. jets in a raid on enemy weapons near Cam Pha.

"Two of my majors got trapped," Broughton was quoted as saying. "They were strafing some guns and another battery opened up on them."

One of the four F105s reacted with 20mm cannon fire "but apparently there was something in the way," Broughton said. "There was a big ship there."

The Washington Star quoted Broughton as saying "I destroyed the film" to protect the two pilots under his command. The Star said Broughton felt he had to act to prevent them from being court-martialed for firing on an unauthorized target.

Owner Reports His Motorcycle Stolen

A 1968 yellow Yamaha motorcycle, license 668 573, owned by Richard Neve of 1881 Mar West Street, was stolen from in front of Neve's residence at 10:10 p.m. Wednesday, Tiburon Sheriff's deputies reported yesterday.

Deputies said the thieves pulled loose a street sign to which the motorcycle had been chained and slipped off the chain.

De Gaulle Hit For Challenge On Election

PARIS (AP) — Paris newspapers grumbled today at President Charles de Gaulle's threaten to resign if the French people don't approve two constitutional changes at a referendum April 27. But none of them predicted whether the threat would get De Gaulle the approval he demanded.

In a television interview last night, De Gaulle said the outcome of the vote on his proposals to transfer some of the central government's vast powers to regional administrations and to take away the already limited powers of the Senate will determine "the continuation of my mandate or my immediate departure."

'ONE MAN'

Paris-Jour, which often supports De Gaulle, said it was a shame that the referendum "should be dominated more by the question of confidence in one man than by the sincere will of those on all sides to give a decision on the text."

The right-wing L'Aurore said De Gaulle was demanding "a blank check. . . . What is asked of the voters is to approve in advance, eyes closed, other reforms the authorities care to order tomorrow."

Les Echos, an independent financial newspaper, said De Gaulle's comment "confirms the evolution of the regime in a more and more presidential direction: everything that is important comes from a direct dialogue between the president of the republic and the people and, finally, moves back the representatives of the people to a secondary role."

OPPONENTS' VIEWS

Opponents argue that the referendum should be split to permit separate votes on the plan to set up 21 regional administrations and on the Senate proposal.

There is practically no opposition to the idea of breaking the stranglehold of the central administration by establishing regional groupings. But there has been considerable reluctance to reduce the Senate to the role of an advisory body.

Now De Gaulle has thrown a third element into the vote by making it an expression of confidence in his own stewardship.

De Gaulle often has threatened to quit in the past if the voters refused to back him.

Fort Ord Reports More Disease Cases

FT. ORD (AP) — Three new cases of meningoccal disease were reported yesterday at this Army training post, raising the total to 25 this year.

Only six of the 25 developed into the more serious spinal meningitis, the Army said. Two of the victims died.

Teens Help To Save Flooded Iowa Town

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Volunteers patrolled dikes through the night in Sioux City, Iowa, where the Big Sioux River flowed out of its banks and across three miles of land, submerging homes or leaving rooftops exposed like tiny dots.

The 200 volunteers were adults called out to relieve more than 1,000 teen-agers and college students who were given credit yesterday for helping to save some northwest Iowa towns from the ravages of river floods.

The biggest fear among residents forced from their homes where the Big Sioux flows into the Missouri River along the South Dakota and Iowa border was that constant pressure on the levees would cause a breakthrough and innundate the area.

Otherwise, flooding conditions today were no worse than yesterday when water spilled through a dike at Sioux Falls, S.D., forcing the evacuation of 50 families and rupturing a natural gas pipeline.

The youngsters pitched in to repair the damaged barrier and no injuries resulted from the broken gas line.

High schools in the flood-threatened communities freed students from classes to join the flood-fighting force and colleges in the area were in the midst of Easter vacation.

At Cherokee, Iowa, where some 350 persons had been forced to flee their homes when the Little Sioux River flooded 27 blocks, evacuation chairman Carvell Burkhart praised the young people.

All 800 residents of North Sioux City, S.D., remained away from their homes, abandoned to the swirling waters which crested between 12 and 12.5 feet early today. The flood level was not expected to recede before tomorrow.

GOP Senators Split With Kennedy On Alaskan Trip

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI) —Three Republicans pulled out of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's subcommittee investigation of conditions in Alaska yesterday with charges the 3,000-mile tour of native villages was a "publicity stunt."

Kennedy—who with fellow Democrat, Sen. Walter Mondale, Minn., remained—emphatically denied the charges made by California's George Murphy, and Sens. Henry Bellmon, Okla., and William Saxbe, Ohio.

The three left here yesterday after branding the trip "a publicity stunt paid for at taxpayers' expense."

Republican sources in Washington, D.C. said a contributing factor in the GOP decision to quit was a memorandum prepared for Kennedy by subcommittee staffer Adrian Parmeter advising Kennedy on how to get maximum mileage from television newsmen accompanying the tour.

Bellmon said that "after one day on the trip and after careful study of Senator Kennedy, it is obvious the trip was arranged to confirm preconceived conclusions rather than to obtain an objective view."

Kennedy, who was in the Yukon River village of Galena about 270 miles west of Fairbanks when informed of the Republican move, said: "The problem of Indian education, health and lack of opportunity knows no partisanship."

" I think the decision of Senator Murphy, Bellmon and Saxbe is regrettable in a matter of such import and significance," he said.

Warrant Issued For Driver On Charges

A bench warrant with bail set at $1,000 has been issued by Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court for Harry Elmer Chapman, 43, of Mill Valley, who failed to appear for arraignment on drug and reckless driving charges.

Chapman is accused of possessing methamphetamine and a hypodermic needle and reckless driving on March 8.

Nixon May Speak Up On ABM; Demos Firm

COMBINED AP & UPI

WASHINGTON — President Richard M. Nixon probably will enter personally again into the debate over his proposed Safeguard antimissile system, his press secretary said today.

Nixon "feels it is vitally important to the security of the country," said White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler.

The President has been publicly silent on the missile system since he announced his decision to modify the Sentinel antiballistic missile system proposed by the Johnson administration.

Opposition to deployment of the antiballistic missile system has virtually become official Democratic Party policy.

This became clear when the Democratic National Committee labeled the ABM the "No. 1" issue in the current edition of its official publication, "Demo Memo," and quoted the Democratic Party platform of the 1968 election campaign:

"Even in the present tense atmosphere we strongly support President Johnson's effort to secure an agreement with the Soviet Union under which both states would refrain deploying antimissile systems . . ."

Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, chairman of the Democratic National Committee does not miss a chance in voicing opposition to the ABM. He made it a part of his newsletter to Oklahoma constituents. "I think it is one thing to authorize further research and development on an ABM system, and it's a totally different thing to deploy this system which is obviously technologically undeveloped."

tax could be used only if welfare and education costs were shifted away from the property tax.

Beckett, noting the author of the report, former study director Richard M. Zettel had written it in "professional language," suggested that it "might be better to use more lay language."

Zettel is to rewrite the report for a third time, and present a final version to commissioners at their next meeting, tentatively set for April 24 at 9:45 a.m. in the hotel.

Commissioners also postponed final action on an agreement between the Association of Bay Area Governments and the state to set up a Joint Transportation Planning Committee to take over the commission's duties after it goes out of existence late this year.

The committee would be designed to meet the federal requirement that there be a regional transportation planning agency to qualify for federal transportation funds.

The proposed committee would function under ABAG's wing until a permanent regional agency was set up in the Bay Area to take over its duties.

The committee would be run by a 10-member board comprised of nine elected officials selected by ABAG and of the secretary of the Business and Transportation Agency.

The state would provide it $400,000 a year, and ABAG would add $75,000 a year in services or funds.

Commissioners also received copies of the first six chapters of the commission's proposed report. They were the technical data on which later chapters will be based.

$766,243 Fire Budget Is Asked

A fire department budget of $766,243 for fiscal 1969-70 was unanimously recommended to the city council by the San Rafael Fire Commission last night.

The budget, prepared by Fire Chief Vance Trivett, is up from the current budget of $739,999, John T. Goodale, city administrative assistant reported.

The major increase, he said, is for two new firemen which the commission asked be added to the staff. In addition, a device to record all radio and telephone calls to the department, expected to cost about $1,000 is included, Goodale reported.

The commission also approved a contract with Northwestern Pacific Railway Co. to string alarm wires through the Puerto Suello Hill tunnel.

to "grab" one of the children.

Sullivan appeared in Harvard Yard when demonstrating students were driven out of University Hall. He praised university officials and police for their handling of the situation and said "the entire country should learn a great lesson from what happened."

At other campuses:

Dartmouth, Mass. — Normal classroom activity ceased at Southeastern Massachusetts Technological Institute as students struck to protest the dismissal or demotion of six teachers "for lack of appropriate restraint in extracurricular activities."

Oberlin, Ohio—Students vacated the administration building at Oberlin College after an all-night sit-in to protest Peace Corps recruiting on campus. The students also demand reinstatement of SDS leader Jeremy E. Pisker, suspended for refusing to promise not to interfere with recruiting.

Cambridge — Hecklers at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology forced Walt W. Rostow, former security adviser to President Johnson, to cut short a speech on Vietnam.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Police arrested four persons at Temple University on charges of possessing explosives. Among them was Stephen Fraser, 23, leader of a recent sit-in.

New Orleans, La.—Southern University reopened yesterday after trouble Wednesday when 27 students at the Negro school were arrested for substituting a "liberation" flag for the American flag.

Henry du Pont, 85, Succumbs

Du Pont, 88, founded the Henry Francis du Pont Winterthur Museum in 1951 to house his extensive collection of antiques and architectural ornaments. The museum is located in his family's large home on the Winterthur estate.

He also was a director of the Du Pont Co., founded by his grandfather, E.I. du Pont de Nemours, and was a member of its finance committee for many years.

Bell Ringing To Open Exhibit At Tiburon Museum

The old St. Hilary's Landmark Museum in Tiburon will open its spring season at noon Sunday with a ceremonial ringing of the Old Belvedere School bell.

The museum's spring exhibit, open 12 noon to 4 p.m. Sundays and Wednesdays through June 15, will feature yachting on San Francisco Bay with a special tribute to the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere which is celebrating its centennial.

The exhibit will include a collection of trophies owned by Frank Commodore of the yacht club; a 100-year photographic history of yachts by Basil Knauth of Belvedere, and a series of photos of contemporary wooden sailboats by Anne-Jean Cole and Diane Beeston.

Ship models loaned by the San Francisco Maritime Museum, will also be on display at the museum.

to property or injury to persons.

University President Kenneth S. Pitzer, who has repeatedly expressed his personal opposition to classified research on campus, told sit-in leaders:

"I ask you to leave . . . and join me and other members of the community in working to resolve, through established and peaceful channels, the profoundly important issues which motivate this demonstration of your concern."

Referring to his determination not to call police, Pitzer said he had "every desire to handle these problems within the campus community and not look outside."

After the faculty's Academic Senate decided in a three-hour meeting to re-examine campus president Denis Hayes pleaded to no avail with the students—gathered in the courtyard—to give up the sit-in.

Demonstrators have promised not to damage the occupied building, where $2 million in classified research is done annually.

Theory Of Dance To Be Discussed

San Francisco dancer Karna Pinska will speak on the theory of dance at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Mill Valley Golf club house in a program sponsored by the Mill Valley Center for the Performing Arts and the city's parks and recreation department.

Miss Pinska will begin classes on dance and rhythm for Mill Valley children at the Sycamore Avenue Recreation Center Monday and for women at the club house and recreation center Tuesday. Classes for men will be announced later. Information on the classes may be obtained by calling the parks and recreation department.

Two Workers Killed In Falls

WALNUT CREEK (UPI) — Two East Bay construction workers fell 50 feet to their deaths yesterday at the Kaiser sand and gravel plant.

The victims were identified as Guy M. McGuire, 59, Pittsburg, and Erwin R. Overland, 50, San Leandro, both employees of the General Conveyor Construction Co.

A company spokesman said the men were welding on a new steel building on a platform directly above an open chute used for dumping waste materials into trucks. They fell through the chute and landed on a concrete apron below.

Auto Is Taken

Norbert G. Hartman of 143 Mariner Green Court, Corte Madera, told police at 7 p.m. yesterday that someone stole his 1954 Plymouth from the Redwood High School which his son, Stephen, had parked there at 2:15 p.m.

proposed by member Dr. John R. Ford of San Diego, a physician. School districts would still have broad power to draw up their own sex education programs and detailed enforcement of the board's policy would be difficult.

Ford's resolution was slightly more liberal than guidelines proposed by Rafferty and the state Eeducation Department.

Ford's proposal mentions "family life in health education" beginning in kindergarten with details of human sexual activity left until the fourth grade. Rafferty, however, said sex education should not be taught at all before the fourth grade.

Ford's resolution also did not include any requirement that boys and girls be taught sex education in separate classes, as the state department recommended.

Some members of the audience applauded opposing sides during the hearing. Boos, jeers and shouts were reserved for proponents of sex education, including Ford.

"Please listen. Please don't be rude," Ford said after he was interrupted by a shout.

The opposing arguments were basically: that lack of sex education leaves children with a distorted view of sex, or that sex education classes themselves promote promiscuity and warped minds.

A Birch Society representative and a few women directed their opposition to SIECUS, although no one directly representing that organization appeared before the board.

"A fraudulent selling point . . . is that continuous sex education programs will solve many of our social ills," said Rex Westerfield of the Birch Society.

Mrs. Charles R. Howe of the Citizens Committee of California, Inc., of Anaheim said: "Until the SIECUS organization is thoroughly investigated and ultimately exposed, we must completely abolish these formalized sex education programs in our schools."

Mrs. Marjorie Lemlow of San Francisco, head of the Mothers Support for Neighborhood Schools, showed magazines with nudes on the covers she said were connected with SIECUS.

One Anaheim mother said her daughter had nightmares after being told in detail about sex change operations.

A school official warned that many of the documents used to oppose sex education were taken out of context and included pictures and diagrams not found in school material.

Minuteman III Fired On Coast

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP) — The first Minuteman III missile launch in the Air Force Western test range was made at 12:55 a.m. today.

The missile was programmed to fly about 5,000 miles to a target zone near the Marshall Islands in the Pacific Ocean.

The Minuteman III is approximately 60 feet long, has a diameter of about six feet and weighs approximately 38 tons.

It is the newest member of the Minuteman family. Earlier models are I and II.

Three Minuteman III launches have been made from Cape Kennedy.

Deputies Claim Giant Burglary Ring Solved

A grand scale burglary ring which victimized at least 50 homes in every city in Marin except Novato during the past two months has been smashed with the arrest of an AWOL Marine and the expected arrest of several others, Tiburon authorities said today.

No estimate of the loot's value was available, but it was said to run into the thousands of dollars.

Capt. William Johansen of the sheriff's substation in Tiburon said Steven Wayne Mitchell, 19, of 127 Ross Street, San Rafael, was arrested yesterday as the result of surveillance operations set up last week.

Mitchell was held without bail at Marin County Jail for military authorities from Camp Pendelton near San Diego. He was due for a court appearance this afternoon.

Johansen said Mitchell was arrested by Sheriff's Inspector Ronald Retana and Deputy William Donovan, who had worked in plain clothes on their days off during the special surveillance, after Mitchell had dropped off two other suspects in a wealthy residential section of Tiburon.

The other two were also arrested but released because of lack of evidence, he said. More arrests are expected.

Johansen said the "very calm and cool" burglary ring operated by cruising residential areas shortly after dusk. Spotting a house without lights, they would knock on the door and if no one answered, break in.

They took only jewelry, cash and portable television sets, he said, throwing away junk jewelry outside the burgled homes. The loot was sold in San Francisco bookstores and service stations, Johansen said, adding that at one time, the burglars conducted an open auction of stolen goods from the trunk of a car parked in the lot of a San Francisco service station.

He said the ring had hit every city in Marin except Novato and the estimate of 50 burglaries was "very conservative."

Hayakawa On Capital Panel

Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, acting president of San Francisco State College, and the subject of speculation that he may run for public office next year, will appear on a panel discussing campus unrest and its political consequences on Sunday in Sacramento.

The panel is part of a weekend conference sponsored by state Democratic Party leaders to come up with fresh issues and potential candidates for the 1970 election.

Hayakawa has been mentioned by party leaders as a potential candidate for the U.S. Senate seat held by Republican George Murphy or as an opponent of Dr. Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction.

Hayakawa, however, has disavowed all such speculation.

Youth's Slaying Ruled Justified

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The fatal shooting of a Negro youth by a policeman last month was ruled justifiable homicide yesterday by a coroner's jury

The verdict was returned after 90 minutes of deliberation by a six-woman, five-man panel, which included one Negro.

The victim, Alvert J. Linthcome, 19, was shot March 30 as he allegedly fled police from a stolen car. The coroner's inquest was called to determine whether there was any basis for criminal proceedings against the two policemen involved.

Patrolman Gerald Roberts, who fired the fatal shot, and his partner, Patrolman William Faust, were represented at the hearing by attorney J. W. Ehrlich.

Tiburon Harbor Plan Explained As Joint Effort

The Tiburon harbor plan, presented to the city's planning commission at a workshop session April 1 and made public at a regular meeting Monday evening, was the joint work of Philip K. Buskirk and H. Morgan Noble of Belvedere, the planners said today.

The Independent-Journal gave Buskirk sole credit for the plan, the fourth proposal for development of downtown Tiburon in less than two years.

Buskirk said Noble had been a consultant on a plan by Charles Warren Callister which has been reluctantly endorsed by the city council. The latest plan, Buskirk said, was adapted from one considered by Callister's firm when it was exploring possibilities for downtown development.

He said he and Noble do not have a firm together, they merely collaborated on the plan.

Car In River; Couple Saved

A Petaluma couple escaped serious injury yesterday at 6:30 p.m. when their car crashed through the railing on the Washington Street bridge and flipped into the Petaluma River upside down.

Thomas McDaniel, 41, of 126 Wilson Street, and his wife, Maria, 35, were treated at Hillcrest Hospital for head cuts.

George Caldwell, 26, of 284 Thompson Lane, Petaluma, witnessed the accident and dove into the water to help the pair escape from the submerged car.

Police said that Mrs. McDaniel had turned onto the bridge from Water Street and lost control in an area where workmen are constructing a section of the new bridge. As the car went through the protective railing, it struck a stack of steel braces and flipped into the river.

Stop For Hikers Results In Booking Of Motorists

A Muir Beach man was booked into Marin County Jail on a variety of counts and his 17-year-old companion was taken to Juvenile Hall on suspicion of having marijuana yesterday after they were stopped on Shoreline Highway in Almonte, the California Highway Patrol said.

Kenneth L. McMackin, 22, of Star Route 1, was booked on suspicion of speeding, driving on the wrong side of the road, stopping in the roadway, giving false information to an officer and driving with no license in his possession. The 17-year-old boy, from Bremerton, Wash., was booked on suspicion of having marijuana and being beyond parental control.

The highway patrol said McMackin stopped on Shoreline at 12:10 p.m. to pick up hitchhikers, blocking traffic. When a patrol car approached, McMacking drove off at high speed, the patrol said. Stopped a little way down the road, he reportedly showed papers belonging to the 17-year-old's brother, and had no identification of his own.

The juvenile reportedly was seen stuffing something under the passenger seat, and a bag with a small amount of suspected marijuana was found under the seat, the patrol said.

Hearing Is Set In Drug Case

A preliminary hearing for Melvin W. Hing, 28, of Siskiyou County, accused of felony charges of marijuana and methamphetamine possession, was set yesterday for May 22 in Marin Municipal Court.

Two companions arrested at the same time, Jill L. Williams, 19, of Sausalito, and Jeffrey J. Morse, 22, of Muir Beach, will have court trials the same day for misdemeanor charges of being under the influence of narcotics.

They were arrested Christmas Day in Novato.

Petaluma Chamber To Hear Singers

The Sonoma State College madrigal singers, under the direction of Ellen Amsterdan, will appear at the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce annual dinner tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Petaluma Veteran's Memorial building.

The 20 singers perform without accompaniment. Two English madrigals by Thomas Morley will be presented as well as "Waldesnacht" by Brahms.

Oakland Mayor Critical Of Bail

OAKLAND (AP) — Mayor John H. Reading, who says Oakland has a "crime wave of epidemic proportions," is calling for a review of bail practices.

The mayor also said yesterday he had proof that criminal acts have been committed by persons out on bail.

"I am convinced that the use of even the most skilled police techniques will not appreciably reduce the crime rate if the existing court procedures are not improved," he said in a report to the city council.

"Many persons believe that sentencing and bail procedures encourage arrogance and repeated offenses . . . This approach may well contribute to the crime rate," he said.

Two Cars Hit By Burglars

Burglaries to two autos have been reported in San Rafael, the police department said yesterday.

A $300 box of mechanic's tools and a shirt full of old coins, value unknown, was stolen Wednesday from the trunk of a car owned by Heavy Bess of 883 Fourth Street while the auto was parked in the city's two-deck parking lot behind Western Sports Shop.

A canvas bag containing $60 worth of tools was stolen from a van owned by Edward K. Kreps of 407 First Street between March 31 and April 1 outside Krep's home.

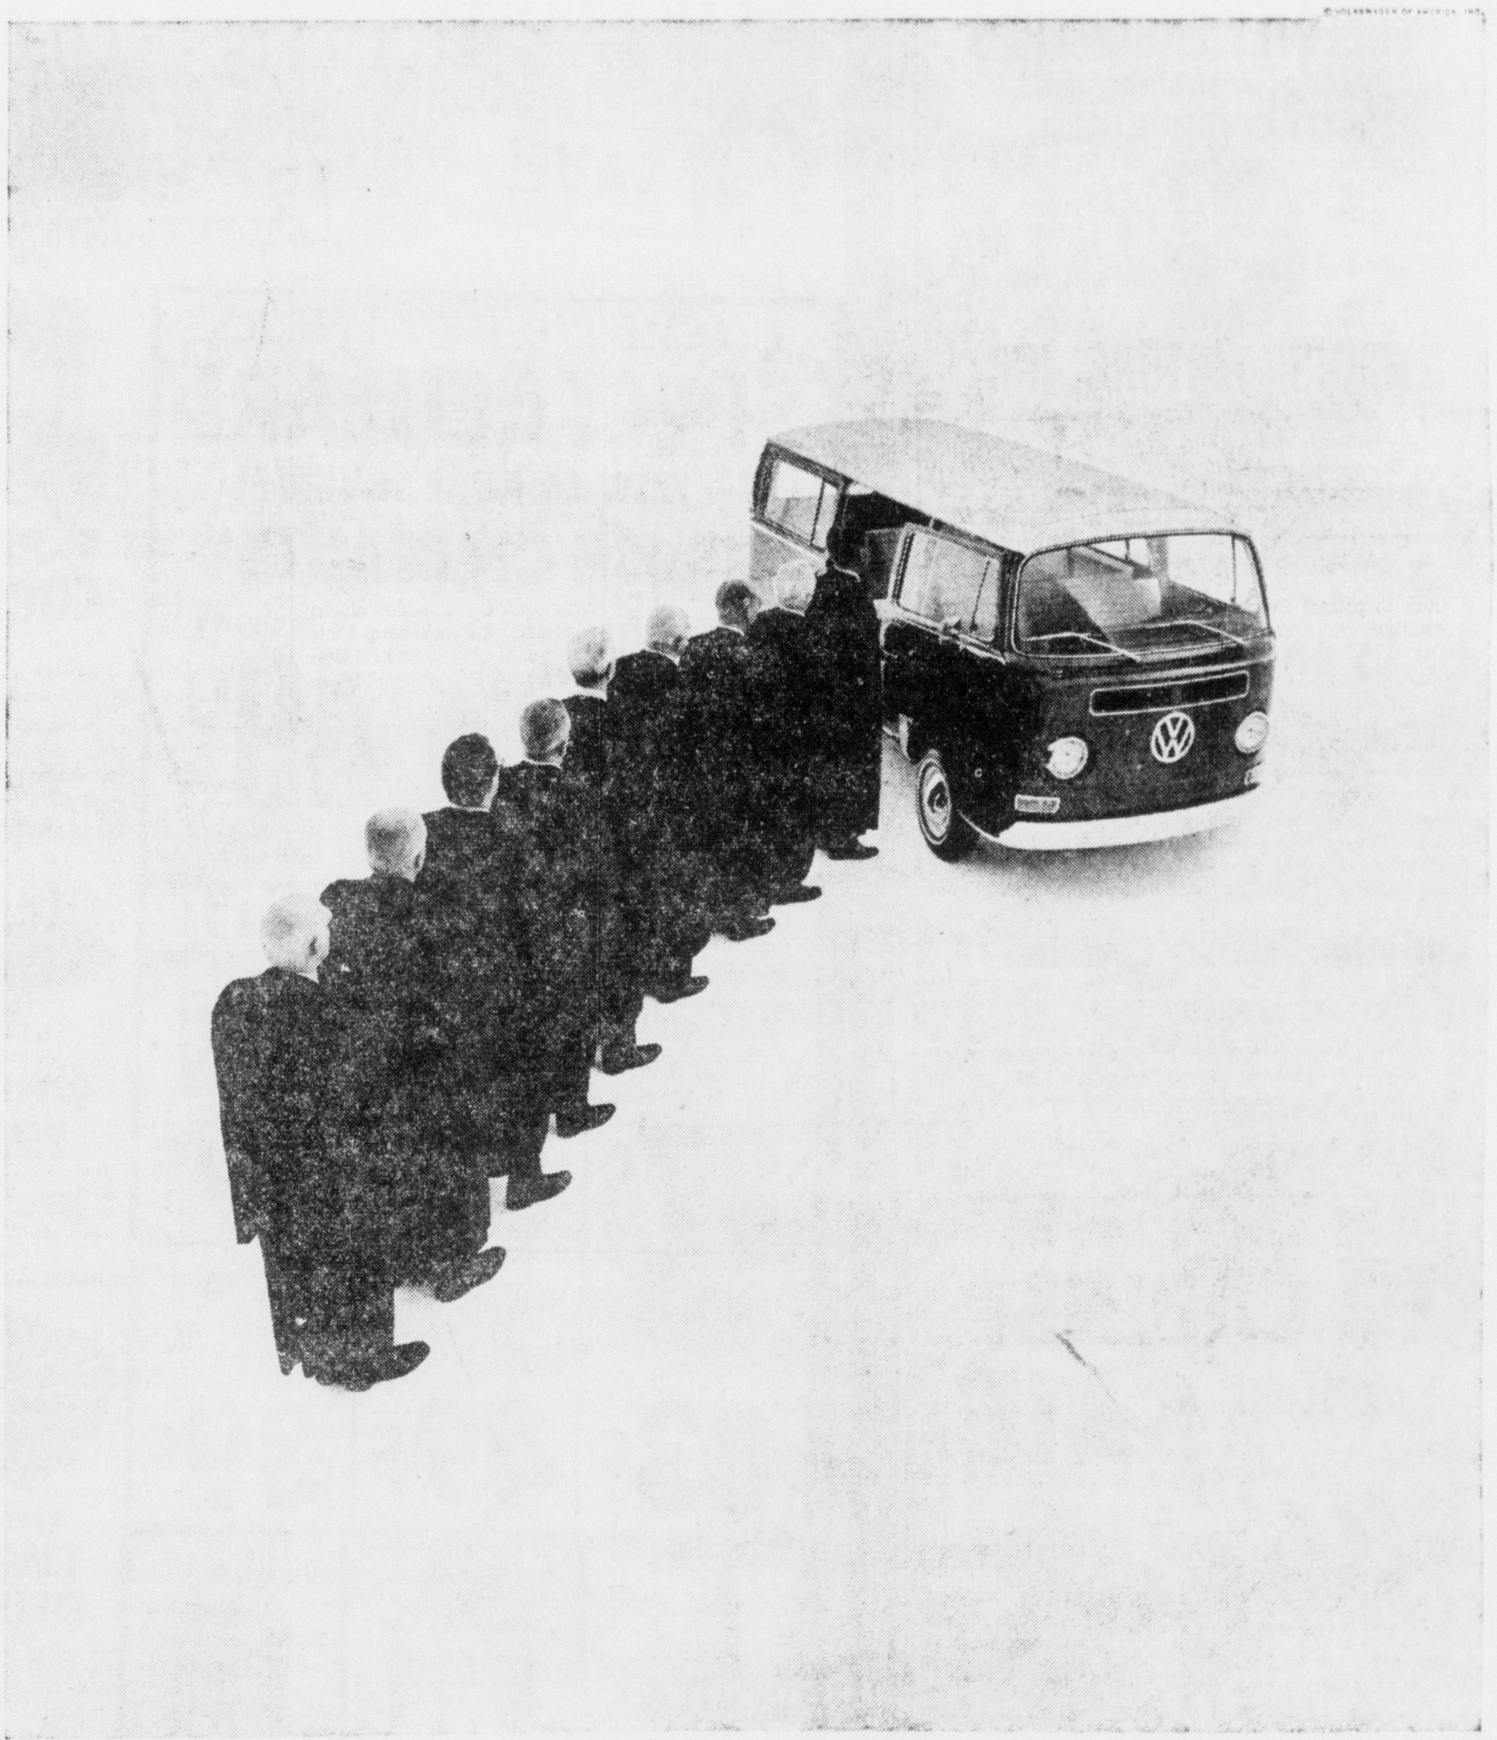
*When case, crown and crystal are intact.



It can uphold the Supreme Court.

When the highest court of the land gets the urge to take a spin, to whom can they turn for support?

To the homeliest station wagon of the land, that's whom.

Not only would the VW Station Wagon support all nine justices, but we think all nine justices would support the VW Station Wagon.

Were they to enter and sit in judgment, they'd find its seats very comfortable (each one's well padded and cushioned). And its behavior a model of restraint.

They'd find it restrains itself in the amount of gas it takes (about 23 mpg).

In the amount of oil it takes (pints, not quarts).

In the amount of parking space it takes (it's about 3 feet shorter than the average wagon).

Of course, there's one area where our wagon shows almost no restraint: with the seats out, it can hold nearly twice what the conventional wagon can hold.

Maybe the idea of the Supreme Court driving around in a Volkswagen seems astonishing to you.

But it seems like supreme wisdom to us.

Ross Free-Running Dogs Attacked Again

By CHARLES YOAKUM

The reputation of Ross dogs took another mauling last night but their freedom remains at least temporarily unimpaired today.

The Ross Town Council began reassessing animal control problems and possible solutions last night and while the hour-long discussion did little to enhance the dogs' image, councilmen took no official action on the proposed countywide control ordinance.

There were indications, however, that the days of free-running dogs are numbered.

TO STUDY PLAN

The council instructed Town Atty. Robert W. Elliot to look over the county's proposal and to bring a rewritten version aimed at Ross' specific problems.

Those specific problems were outlined rather vividly by several members of the audience last night. And even before those in the audience had their say, Councilmen Natalie G. Lewis and Mayor Frederick S. Allen both said that they have been swamped with complaints.

Those in the audience complained bitterly about the lack of animal control service in Ross. Under the current ordinance, the county officers can only patrol and enforce animal control laws in the commercial area, the post office or at Ross School. They cannot go into the residential area, where dogs roam singly and in packs, according to complaints.

REPORTS ATTACKS

"I know of children who can't even walk to school down certain roads because they are attacked or scared by packs of dogs," said Mrs. Frank Hayward of Upper Ames Road.

Ragnvald Bernt of 7 Circle Drive told the council that "the dogs of Ross appear to have more rights than the sacred cows in India." He termed the situation "intolerable" in his area.

"Not too long ago there was a family of 'possums in a tree next to my house," he said, "and a pack of dogs rushed them, missed the tree and crashed right through the bedroom door."

Mayor Allen said that only recently a dog attacked a police car "but the police chief had no authority to arrest the dog, so he's still running loose."

Timothy H. Jackson, a county administrative analyst subbing for asst. administrator Thomas P. Campanella, briefly outlined to the council the county's animal control proposal.

"We're seeking a countywide unified ordinance," he said, "we feel we have to have stricter laws."

Jackson said that the county was seeking to contract with the Marin Humane Society for an additional three animal control officers — raising the number to eight — to patrol the county.

He said that the proposal included much heavier fines for animals not under the immediate control of its owner or handler.

"We don't mean a leash law," Jackson added.

Councilman Roy Farrington Jones took exception to the county's proposal.

"I don't like any part of it," Jones said. "I think all we have to do is enforce the ordinance we have now."

This drew an immediate reaction from Mrs. Hayward.

"I wish I could take you up to the water district," she said, "and show you the poodles, beagles and other dogs running in packs killing and injuring the deer."

Jones said that he had had two or three complaints about dogs in his seven years on the council, but other councilmen said that they had been flooded with calls recently.

"The situation has gotten out of hand. It's our responsibility to protect the citizens," Mrs. Lewis said.

Complaints have run the gamut from just all-night barking sessions to packs of animals attacking other dogs and even humans, Mrs. Lewis said.

Police Budget Carries Pay Hike Proposal

A proposed police budget of $69,918 for fiscal 1969-70 — representing a 27 per cent increase over this year's $54,355 — was presented to the Ross Town Council last night.

The budget includes a 10 per cent pay hike for the four policemen now on the payroll and also includes funds for hiring a fifth police officer.

Of the total budget, $51,300 is scheduled for regular police salaries and another $5,000 is requested for overtime salaries.

Other major items in the rough-draft budget include $2,500 in salaries for school crossing guards, $2,000 for a new police patrol car and $1,500 for gas and oil for the cars.

"I don't see how a 10 per cent pay raise could be in the cards," Councilman Roy Farrington Jones said.

The council took the preliminary budget for study and it will be considered during the regular budget sessions next month.

Baroness Spencer-Churchill, who is 84, broke her thigh when she fell a week ago.

County Spelling Winners Chosen

Bill Bradley, a student at San Rafael Military Academy, won the Marin County eighth grade spelling contest Wednesday and became eligible to compete for the state title April 25 in Sacramento.

Mark Clark of Martin Luther King School, Sausalito, won the alternate title. Other finalists were Ingrid Angress of Tomales Elementary; David Bernat of Ross School; Kathy Sherrill of Sinaloa Junior High, Novato, and Marie Wanninger of Vallecito School, San Rafael.

Kenneth E. Barnes, curriculum coordinator for Marin County schools, reported the most difficult words for the finalists were communique, erroneous, hosiery, caricature and liquefy.

Red Communications Satellite In Orbit

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched a new communications satellite in the Molniya series, the news agency Tass reported.

The satellite is designed for relay of telephone and radiotelegraph communications and for transmission of television broadcasts to northern Siberia, Soviet central Asia and the Far East.

Jack Carney Resigns As A Ross Town Councilman

The Ross Town Council last night accepted the resignation of councilman Jack Carney and immediately announced that it would intereview prospective candidates in closed sesssion April 18.

The councilmen adjourned last night's regular session until 8 p.m. on that date.

"Anyone interested in being appointed to the vacancy should submit his or her name to the town clerk and then plan to be at the meeting April 18," said Mayor Frederick S. Allen.

Carney resigned from the council in a letter March 27 saying that "pressing business interests" made it impossible for him to attend the monthly meetings.

Carney had been a member of the council less than one year when he resigned. He has frequently been absent from council sessions in recent months.

Persons interested in filling Carney's seat should contact town clerk Virginia Stott immediately, Allen said.

The Ross Town Council last night also:

STOP SIGN — Adopted a resolution installing a stop sign on Bridge Avenue at Chestnut and Madrona avenues.

ABATEMENT — Ordered abatement proceedings against the Goldstine Barn on Upper Road.

SERVANT'S QUARTERS Granted a use permit to Gregory K. Solon to use a detached dwelling as a guest house and servant's quarters.

New Sentencing Trial Ordered

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Supreme Court ordered a new penalty trial yesterday for Joseph Bernar Morse, a 25-year-old Chula Vista man convicted of killing three persons—his mother, his sister and a cellmate.

The high court ruled Morse must be resentenced because the prosecuting attorney, in asking for the death penalty, had mentioned the possibility of parole if Morse received only life imprisonment.

Morse was convicted of murdering his mother and sister in 1964 in a case which became a landmark decision when the supreme court ruled he was not advised of his constitutional right to counsel or to remain silent.

Morse later received the death penalty for strangling his cellmate in San Diego County jail, Thomas L. Thaddei. The court ruled that sentence must now be reviewed.

San Rafael Council Candidates Give Varied Viewpoints On Needs

(Second of two articles)

San Rafael's eight candidates for two council seats in Tuesday's municipal election represent a variety of occupational fields and viewpoints.

Four candidates, covered in yesterday's Independent-Journal, were from the fields of law, auto and truck sales and the utility business.

The four covered today are a systems analyst, attorney, swimming pool serviceman, and industrial relations executive.

Litz's views on what he sees as the main problems which confront San Rafael are:

Courthouse Square — "It is vitally important that the city of San Rafael gain control over the courthouse square. We should be unending in our efforts to acquire this property from the county, for this property is the key to the future of San Rafael."

City Planning — The city must embark on a long-range planning program with emphasis on the downtown shopping area. "Fourth Street is quickly becoming a liability, both unsightly and unproductive. Unless something is done now to undertake the planning of a modern, up-to-date shopping area, free of traffic congestiona and shabby bars, San Rafael can look forward to becoming a second-rate city and a liability to its citizens and the county."

Appointed officials — "In order to insure that we have competent, well-qualified city officials, the mayor and members of the city council must have the power to appoint these officials."

Public involvement — "The lack of public involvement in the problems of this community is the main reason which prompted me to seek the office of councilman. The citizens of San Rafael simply do not seem to be concerned with what is happening or not happening to their community. The attendance at the city council meetings is appalling and the lack of active involvement on the part of the electorate is equaled only by lack of enthusiasm and imagination on the part of the majority of the council members."

FREDERICK C. ROBBINS, 42, of 65 Clausing Court, is an attorney in San Rafael, and an incumbent.

He was a member of the San Rafael Planning Commission for more than six years until he was appointed to the council in January to succeed Louis H. Baar, who was elected to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

A native of Portland, Ore., Robbins was graduated from Tamalpais High School, the College of Marin and San Francisco Law School.

Robbins said that during his service on the planning commission he became aware of the problems and future needs of the city. "I have also had the opportunity to become familiar with possible solutions and future plans and how they relate to the people and the business community," he said.

Robbins favors making the police chief, city treasurer, city clerk, and city attorney appointive.

Robbins said one of the most urgent traffic needs is the extension of Lincoln Avenue to connect with the Terra Linda area. When there is a traffic tie-up on Highway 101 over Puerto Suello hill, it is impossible for emergency vehicles to get through, he noted.

BENJAMIN F. WALTON, 39, of 165 Park Street, is a sales and maintenance employee of Herb's Pool Service of San Rafael.

A native of Salt Lake City, he was chairman of the Marin City Tenants Council in 1952-53, and has lived in Marin since 1948.

He started a campaign last year to preserve the county courthouse, scheduled to be abandoned soon and eventually demolished.

Walton believes the demolition of the building should be decided by the voters, not the Marin County Board of Supervisors nor the San Rafael City Council.

"If the courthouse must be sold and torn down, why should the taxpayers be short-changed in the process?" Walton asked. "If the courthouse square is the most valuable piece of property in downtown San Rafael . . . why must it be sold for half its market value?"

He said creating a shopping mall by closing Fourth Street could save downtown San Rafael. "Free parking on city parking lots might stimulate business and would compete with free parking lots at shopping centers," he contented. "San Rafael can move forward only as fast as the traffic can move through it. We need more one-way streets now."

Walton would make the police chief appointive, but keep the city clerk, attorney and treasurer elective.

RAY WHITE, 40, of 169 Greenwood Avenue, is executive manager of the Redwood Empire Sheet Metal and Air Conditioning Contractors Association.

He is chairmanof the Marin County Advisory Board for the Bay Area Construction Opportunity Program and a member of the Marin County Board of Appeals.

White said he is basing his campaign on the "need to plan for the city's orderly growth in order to assure a broadening of the tax base and preservation of the natural beauty of the city." He said, "Whether we like it or not, our city is growing. It is the responsibility of the city council to plan for and attract to San Rafael light, clean commerce and industry. Only in this way can we effect a reduction in the tax burden."

At the same time, the council should, "keep in mind the protection of San Rafael's natural assets which make it the ideal community we all enjoy as our home."

White said the council need people who daily "come into contact with business, industry, government, labor minorities, educators, and are aware of the problems of each and the interrelationship of one to the other."

White is opposed to changing the police chief, city treasurer, city clerk and treasurer from elective to appointive, believing the line of authority and division of duties in various city departments should be more clearly defined before such changes are considered.

Homeowner's Tax Relief Cutoff Near

Next Tuesday is the deadline for homeowners to file two claims for tax relief — one for $70 refund on 1968-69 taxes, and the other for a $750 assessed value exemption on 1969-70 taxes.

Most homeowners have already filed, said Assessor Bert W. Broxmmel. "We had a flood of calls and applications during the past week, but we think there are still more people who have forgotten to file."

As of yesterday, a total of 32,373 had filed pink forms, which will entitle each homeowner to a $70 refund on 1968-69 taxes.

In addition a yellow application form entitles the homeowner to claim an exemption of $750 assessed value on next year's (1969-70) taxes. The assessor said 32,173 had filed these forms. "It seems strange that there aren't more applications for homeowners' exemptions," Broemmel declared.

The applications must be brought to the assessor's office in the Civic Center by 5 p.m. April 15, or if mailed, must be postmarked no later than April 15.

The $70 refund for 1968 and the homeowners' examption for 1969 are the result of Proposition 1-A, passed by voters last November, to ease the tax burden on homeowners.

Civil Rights Worker To Speak At School

"Racism in Suburbia" will be discussed by Rev. George Johnson of Oakland at a meeting of the Human Relations Council of the Dixie School District at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Bernard Hoffman School multipurpose room, Terra Linda.

Johnson, a former James Reed Civil Rights Worker, is currently director of the East Bay Service Project, sponsored by the Unitarian-Universalist Church to serve the East Oakland ghetto area.

Car Show To Aid March Of Dimes

The sixth Peacock Gap Concours d'Elegance to benefit the Marin County Chapter of the March of Dimes will be held on Aug. 10 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Peacock Gap Country Club.

Bugattis, Ferraris and Rolls Royces will be among automobiles vying for trophies in 20 classes. A fashion show by the Mannequin League of Marin will also be presented.

Ralph Giovanniello, deputy superintendent of the Novato Unified School District, has been appointed temporary chairman of the concours, according to Mrs. Melvin Hammond, chairman of the March of Dimes Marin board.

Nixon Names Close Aide As Trade Lawyer

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Richard M. Nixon has named Murray M. Chotiner, a close political aide since Nixon's first ventures into public office, to a $36,000-a-year job as a trade lawyer.

Chotiner will become general counsel for the Office of Special Representative for Trade Negotiations. The key office which Chotiner will represent as lawyer is the one which negotiates reciprocal trade agreements with other countries.

Earlier yesterday Nixon named Carl J. Gilbert, an executive of the Gillette Safety Razor Co., to head up the trade office.

Nixon's appointment of Gilbert, 63, was considered a significant indication of the President's future policy in the trade area. Gilbert has been a leading advocate of liberal trade policies in his role as president of the Committee for a National Trade Policy, a group which tries to foster more free trade.

Fairfax School Board, Tam District Slate Woo Votes

Touching many issues but sparring only lightly, nine school board candidates took the issues of Tuesday's election to a Fairfax audience last night.

Sex education, tax rates and flexible class scheduling were some of the topics as candidates for the Fairfax School District and Tamalpais High School District boards campaigned before about 40 persons in White Hill School.

The candidates' night, sponsored by Fairfax parent-teacher associations and the League of Women Voters, produced no major surprises and the audience expressed little emotion during the program.

Present were four of the five candidates for the three Fairfax district seats: Paris B. Simmons and incumbents Jane S. Durr, Laurence G. Hermann and Dr. George C. Stone. Peggy Woodruff did not appear.

The Fairfax candidates went first, with challenger Simmons differing markedly with his opponents on the issue of the upcoming tax rate increase vote in the district and on sex education.

Simmons, a teacher in Daly City, said he opposed the measure which will appear on the June 3 ballot to increase the district tax rate by 95 cents to $3.965 per $100 of assessed valuation to meet rising costs.

He said statewide tax equalization, not a local tax boost, was the answer to the district's problem and urged that the board also await the outcome of school appropriation bills introduced in the Legislature.

Supporting the tax election and cooling hopes for meaningful financial relief from Sacramento were incumbents Hermann, Stone and Mrs. Durr, those terms expire June 30.

Hermann said that Fairfax's total tax rate of $3.015 was 10th in Marin County among major districts.

On sex education, Simmons objected that he had "seen schools assume more and more of the role of family life education, resulting in the deterioration of family units."

Mrs. Durr insisted sex education in the schools was designed to strengthen family ties and Hermann defended the program by saying that it was "requested by quite a few people in this district."

The school board in January, despite scattered opposition, voted unanimously to restore KQED's controversial "Time of Your Life" series to the sex education program in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. Alternate instruction was offered to the children of objecting parents.

Candidates also expressed these views:

STONE — Wanted to give students "permission to make genuine decisions" affecting their education. Said taxpayers' revolts in the face of tax increases directed particular harm at the students.

SIMMONS — Argued that teachers' salaries should be given first, not last, consideration in budget deliberations. Said streamlining board meetings might be one way to attract more residents to the sessions. Suggested group counseling as a means to retain "useful talent" in danger of dropping out of school.

HERMANN — Reported that the district had lowered class size in recent years. Said the district had "happy teachers — there is no militancy." Believed community relations should be promoted.

DURR — Felt that "dropoutism comes to us in kindergarten" and that this was the time when motivation was most important. Opposed the much-maligned split of the Tamalpais High School District into three unified districts.

WOODRUFF — Said in a statement that "The present (board) members have done a conscientious job. My desire to join the board is not based on a campaign to "throw out the old," but rather a calm proposal to infuse new blood, new ideas into the board."

Of the six Tamalpais High School District board candidates, only Gloria W. Melbostad, one of the two incumbents, failed to appear last night. She was reported to be out of town.

The six are seeking three vacancies on the board.

The second incumbent, David D. Ring of Tiburon, said he planned to recommend to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization at its meeting next week that it seek amendment or repeal of the law requiring a unification election every four years.

Although he said unification was advantageous, Ring believed the three-way proposal untimely and too expensive. Ring, vice chairman of the school district organization committee, supported the plan earlier in his campaign.

Also against the unification proposal were last night's other four speakers — challengers William H. Bentley, Robert W. Corlett, Richard W. Jahnke and Brice Pace.

Bentley stood alone in favor of retaining legislation signed last year by Gov. Ronald Reagan to lift school tax rate ceilings. The other candidates backed a bill introduced this year to repeal the legislation, which is to become effective in 1971.

Ring, Bentley and Corlett also supported elimination of the two-thirds requirement for voter approval of bond issues, while Jahnke and Pace did not.

In her absence, Mrs. Melbostad sent printed campaign literature in which she hoped the Arthur D. Little Inc. "educational audit" arranged by the board would lead to "constructive changes in management practices;" opposed the three-way unification plan and said that "education must operate on a middle ground between the extreme demands for complete revolution and adherence to the status quo."

Ring said that, in the light of failure of three bond issues in the Tam district, a new building program should be drawn. He also questioned whether the site for the proposed San Geronimo Valley High School was favored by the community.

Corlett said the district might seek school financing outside of bonds and a tax rate increase by resorting to bank loans and private money. New school construction methods could be investigated to reduce costs, he added.

Corlett also said felxible scheduling might relieve overcrowded conditions, particular at Sir Francis Drake High School, and he was opposed to credit or no-credit grading. Jahnke liked the idea of year-round classes to reduce crowding, while Pace said student responsibility should not be extended very far.

"If given a free rein," he warned, "you can be assured they'll never go to school."

Lawrence Bernauer Files For Council

Lawrence R. Bernauer, 28, of 842 St. Francis Drive, Petaluma, yesterday filed candidacy for the June 10 city council election.

Bernauer, a director of the East Petaluma Civic Association, owns the Speedee 7-11 store in Petaluma and is a member of the chamber of commerce.

Chamber Drafts Fees Opinion

San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce members agreed in principle yesterday that there should be a raise in the business license fee because the current fee, with a $10 minimum and $50 maximum, is "too minimal," secretary Lois Mason reported.

Board members called for a $15 minimum and $200 maximum but said a city council committee's proposal which would have permitted the maximum to go to $700, was out of line.

The chabmer will meet again at 12:15 p.m., Thursday in Alexander Hall, San Francisco Theological Seminary, to draw up recommendation on the license fee to the city council.

Three Marin Scholars Gain In Bank Contest

Two Terra Linda High School students and a Novato High School youth were among four zone winners chosen yesterday in the Bank of America's annual achievement awards competition.

The three will now compete in the area finals May 8 in San Francisco for $1,000 each in prize money.

Selected yesterday at the College of Marin after interviews and on the basis of scholastic records and extracurricular activities were Nancy Wilkinson and Shirley Meyer, both of Terra Linda High School, and Michael Magill of Novato High School. The fourth winner is Susan Achor of Santa Rosa High School.

The winners were chose from four study fields. Miss Wilkinson competed in the field of liberal arts; Miss Meyer, vocational arts; Magill, fine arts, and Miss Achor, science and mathematics. All received $150.

A total of 45 high school students — 28 from Marin and Southern Sonoma — competed.

Winners of $50 second place awards yesterday were Steven Follin of Terra Linda High School, fine arts; Karen Field of San Domenico School, Sleepy Hollow, liberal arts, and Victor Klebanoff, Terra Linda High School, science and mathematics.

Placing third and receiving $25 each were Ellen Rosenthal, Tamalpais High School, liberal arts, and Anne Wong of Petaluma Senior High School, vocational arts.

Coordinator of the event was Leroy Rudolph, vice president and manager of the main San Rafael office of the Bank of America.

Verbal Shootout In Court Over Neighborhood Corral

A horse and a pony which offend some but not all of the neighbors of Edward K. Wachsman, who lives in the Dominican section of San Rafael, were the subject of discussion in a trial yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Wachtsman, a former Marin County planning commissioner, has been charged with misdemeanor offenses of keeping the animals without a permit and refusing to remove a public nuisance.

Judge Peter Allen Smith ruled yesterday that a 1933 San Rafael ordinance which does not specifically mention horses does apply to them under the category "other domestic animals."

Wachsman said that he did have a permit for the pony but it was arbitrarily withdrawn by the city.

Yesterday two physicians also testified, one saying that the animals are a nuisance and the other that they are not. Neighbors were also divided on whether the horses draw flies and create a bad odor.

Judge Smith continued the case for 30 days for attorneys to file legal points on the ordinance.

Diplomacy Fails To Halt Trust Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission rejected arguments its action would adversely affect foreign policy and charged Litton Industries today with violating antitrust laws by acquiring two German typewriter firms.

The move was the first step in proceedings aimed at stripping the huge conglomerate of the Triumph-Adler combine, which Litton acquired in a $51 million deal last January.

The State Department had offered Litton help "in meeting problems in Germany which may result" from the open hearings held yesterday. The department was rebuffed in an attempt to keep the hearings closed, rather than public.

The FTC said the commission was turning down a proposed compromise settlement under which Litton would only have to divest Triumph-Adler's U.S. operations.

The action was taken by a 4-1 vote, with Commissioner Everette MacIntyre dissenting on grounds Litton should be allowed to continue negotiations until April 25.

Litton, a $1.9 billion corporation that is one of the nation's largest military contractors, had warned that a suit for divestiture would create an adverse reaction throughout Europe.

Defunct Ark Restaurant Operators Sued

The former operators of the defunct Ark restaurant and bar on the ferryboat Charles Van Damme near Sausalito have been sued in Marin Superior Court for more than $50,000 by the owner of the boat.

Donlon J. Arques claimed the restaurant managers had failed to pay $11,484 due in rent and that they left the boat in a condition "unfit for human habitation."

Due to neglect, Arques said, the boat is "wrecked, twisted, cracked and listing."

He asked $40,000 for damages to the ferry in addition to the back rent and attorney fees.

Named in the suit filed Wednesday as defendants were Fred A. Martinez, James Varcados, J. Frank McInnis and three John Does.

Arques said they leased the boat for the restaurant operation, which has been closed for several months, in June, 1965.

Nine Guns Stolen

George J. Descalso of Larkspur reported that between 1 and 5 p.m. yesterday someone broke the lock on his front door at 111 Piedmont Court, pried open a gun cabinet and stole nine guns, including three antique rifles, three shot guns and a Luger pistol, police said today.

Panel Passes Annexing Of 194 Parcels

The Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission last night approved annexation of 194 parcels along Paradise Drive, between Robin Drive and Old Landing Road, to the Corte Madera Sanitary District.

Approval is contingent on annexation of the entire area to the City of Tiburon. Part of the area is already within Tiburon.

The Marin Local Agency Formation Commission also:

CORTE MADERA CREEK — Approved annexation of 50 acres of Corte Madera Creek, from Greenbrae interchange to the area behind Bon Air Apartments to the Ross Valley Sanitary District.

OCEANA-MARIN — Approved the annexation of Oceana-Marin Unit 3 at Dillon's Beach, a total of 646 acres, to the North Marin County Water District.

NOVATO SANITARY — Gave Novato Sanitary District approval to annex 16 acres on the east side of Sutro Avenue near Dominic Drive and 3.78 acres at the corner of Tamalpais Avenue and Novato Boulevard.

Sirhan Attorney Lectures Jurors

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Defense attorney Grant B. Cooper lectured the jury at the Sirhan B. Sirhan murder trial like a schoolteacher today in an attempted to persuade it that the young Arab should be spared from the gas chamber.

Standing before a blackboard and using a pointer, the 66-year-old Cooper went painstakingly over the difference between first degree murder and a second degree murder and the elements that enter the two verdicts.

Cooper also explained the plea of "diminished capacity" which has been entered for Sirhan as a defense in the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Cooper said the concept originated in 1961 in the case of 15-year-old Ronald Wolff of Glendale, who had fantasies and a strong sexual drive. The boy wanted to have relations with girls living in a nearby house but his mother posed a problem so he beat and killed her.

Wolff pleaded diminished capacity and was given a verdict of second degree murder with life imprisonment. The case was tried before the same judge who is presiding over the Sirhan trial, Herbert V.Walker.

Cooper said that young Wolff had the same type of mental illness that Sirhan has been demonstrated to possess.

The attorney had opened his argument yesterday by stressing that the defense was not denying Sirhan shot the senator.

"We are not trying to free a guilty man. We will tell you—as we always have—that Sirhan is guilty of killing Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"We are not asking for an acquittal. I want to emphasize, whether Mr. Sirhan likes it or not, that he deserves to spend the rest of his life in the penitentiary.

"I am not going to ask for anything but guilty of murder in the second degree. There is a good Sirhan and a bad Sirhan and the bad Sirhan is a very nasty Sirhan . . . "

Powell Suggests Biracial Ticket

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., told University of Alabama students last night that he will call a national convention to push for an Edward Kennedy-Julian Bond Democratic presidential ticket in 1972.

"If the Democratic party is not ready for a Kennedy-Bond ticket in 1972, then I say its time for a third party," Powell told approximately 4,000 students. "Race prejudice is worse in the North because in the North they smile at you."

Powell defined Black Power as meaning black dignity and explained: "It doesn't mean antiwhite unless you are antiblack. It means we want to control our own black future by our own black selves."

Student Member On State Board?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Board of Education has approved a suggestion by state schools chief Max Rafferty that a high school student serve as a non-voting, liaison member of the board.

"He would participate in board discussions and dialogues dealing with student problems of all kinds," Rafferty told the board yesterday.

UCSB Bomb Badly Hurts Caretaker

Police said Dover Sharp, 55, apparently was trying to disarm the device when it went off. He was knocked back 15 feet, investigators said, then with his clothing in flames staggered another 75 feet toward a wading pool where he apparently wanted to douse himself.

Students, attracted by the blast, led him to the pool and sprinkled him with water.

Sharp was hospitalized for surgery and treatment of extensive burns.

Officers said Sharp, who lived at the club, may have heard someone plant the device on a pedestal in the corner of the patio and investigated. The blast at 6:20 a.m. broke glass doors and windows and caused an estimated $1,500 damage.

Investigators said the device apparently was a flammable liquid in a container.

Officials could give no motive for the action. Last January two fire bombs were thrown at campus ROTC buildings but caused only minor damage.

San Anselmo Summer Rec Signups Open

Registrations are being accepted for spring recreational activities sponsored by the San Anselmo Parks and Recreation Department, director Frank L. Quinn said today. Some activities have begun, others will start next week.

Activities include a tiny tots program, tennis, folk guitar, bowling, dog obedience, archery and midget league baseball. Persons wishing to enroll may visit or telephone the department office in Memorial Park, Quinn reported.

New Careers Revision Wins Commission Nod

A revised New Careers program to be administered by the County of Marin was approved in principle last night by the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

Pending further review by the human rights staff, the program will be recommended to the board of supervisors.

A compromise between proposals made by Dr. Arthur Pearl of the University of Oregon, a consultant to the human rights commission, and Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella, the program would provide 24 positions in county government in the coming fiscal year for relatively untrained persons. The program would cost $92,000.

Pearl had said his original New Careers proposal wouldn't cost the county anything. Campanella had said New Careers would require intensive supervision and his proposal would have cost $245,900, less any federal aid.

The Marin County Human Rights Commission also:

ATTORNEYS — Heard Commissioner Lawrence A. Mayer ask the Marin County Bar Association to provide more attorneys for indigent clients in civil and criminal actions.

CONTRACT — Urged adoption of stronger provisions in equal employment clauses with contractors performing county business. The provisions would enable the commission to determine whether a contractor has complied and to attempt to stop those who don't comply from doing county business.

Man, 82, Falls; Condition Poor

An 82-year-old Larkspur man was reported in poor condition today at Marin General Hospital after he reportedly slipped while gardening and rolled 30 feet down a steep bank to Madrone Creek.

F. E. Seaton of 259 Madrone Avenue is being treated for two back breaks.

Four firemen, led by Asst. Chief William C. Lellis, hoisted Seaton up out of the creek bed in a wire basket after they got a call from Carol Blake of 250 Madrone Avenue, saying she heard her neighbor calling for help. The rescue took 27 minutes, said Lellis.

Youth Held In Burglary Probe

Gardner was held in Marin County Jail for an appearance in Marin Municipal Court today.

Police said he is suspected to burglarizing the home of Christopher Schuepbach of 79 Cascade Drive on April 2.

San Rafael School Boosters Set Survey

A force of about 200 persons will be surveying San Rafael voters for nine days in a house-to-house canvass beginning tomorrow to determine attitudes about the elementary school program.

The survey was arranged by the Your Elementary Schools Committee (YES), which is backing the $2.1 million bond election in the San Rafael Elementary School District June 10.

Author's Son Balks At Draft

OAKLAND (AP) — The son of a novelist refused induction into the Army yesterday, saying he refused to participate in war crimes.

Tad Hall, 18, is a junior at the University of California's Irvine campus and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Hall of Squaw Valley and Balboa.

His father wrote "Warlock," "Corpus of Joe Bailey," and "The Pleasure Garden."

Young Hall refused to apply for a student's deferment and mailed his draft card to his Selective Service Board in Auburn.

He said he refused induction because the United States is commiting war crimes. In Vietnam, a peace-time draft violates constitutional guarantees of life and liberty and the Vietnam war is illegal and immoral.

His case is being returned to the draft board.

Bench Warrant Set In Bad Check Case

A bench warrant with bail set at $1,000 was issued yesterday by Judge Alvin B. Goldstein of Marin Municipal Court for Joan Alma Burns, 33, of Sausalito, who failed to appear for a preliminary hearing.

She is charged with writing five bad checks between July 23 and Feb. 2.

Nixon, Foreign Ministers Confer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Richard M. Nixon met privately today with Atlantic Alliance foreign ministers to discuss further his plan to improve consultation among allies and a Communist proposal for an East-West conference on European security.

Nixon's suggestions yesterday for the future of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization met with mixed reaction in some delegations.

Some members said the proposals would duplicate in part current NATO machinery while watering down its original military and political purposes by expanding its role to include social problems.

Nixon, accompanied by Henry A. Kissinger, his adviser on national security affairs, spent 80 minutes with the foreign ministers in what was described as informal conversation around a square table in a secluded State Department conference room.

The President had no comment for reporters when he left.

Much of the talk at today's closing sessions of the 20th anniversary meeting continued to center around the Warsaw Pact bid to open discussions between the Western allies and the Soviet bloc.

The Communist suggestion, made last month, became the central topic of the NATO Council meeting when it opened yesterday.

The American position was spelled out by Nixon when he addressed the council's opening session.

The President said in his speech that it was "not enough to talk of European security in the abstract."

"We must know the elements of insecurity and how to remove them," Nixon said. "Conferences are useful if they deal with concrete issues, which means they must be carefully prepared."

The need for careful preparation was stressed also by most ministers. Many of them had another reservation, too: There can be no conference without the United States and Canada, the two Western hemisphere countries the Soviets excluded in the past proposals for discussions on European matters.

Moscow, it now appears, has changed its mind. Soviet envoys in Washington and in Europe are assuring everyone who is willing to listen that they have dropped their insistence on a conference without the United States and Canada.

Removal Of Underpass Fence Being Demanded

Parnow, former head of the Marin Division of the California Highway Patrol, explained that the fence was constructed to protect motorists who have the "right to assume relative safety and not have missives hurled at their cars."

Protestors said the fence was put up without consulting Marin City residents and no effort was made to find out the reason for the rock throwing.

Student David Jones said that rocks were thrown because "white people in cars were splashing" students, and student Castroma Dickens said: "They called us niggers. We didn't know where to go. They go to the pigs."

A girl student said: "Honkys came up on the sidewalk and splashed us deliberately, not accidentally."

B. C. Bachtold, assistant district engineer for maintenance in the state Division of Highways, said the state is going to undertake a reconstruction project that will correct the drainage and sidewalk problem along the underpass, a job he estimated would cost $50,000.

This, however, didn't quiet the demand for the removal of the fence, and Bachtold explained that he didn't have the authority to take the fence down.

The Marin City Home Owners and Improvement Association favored keeping the fence as a safety factor for the protection of children and motorists.

Gaines said the protesters could get a petition with 1,000 signatures requesting that the fence be torn down.

Otis Ames, a Marin City youth, urged the community to stand together "home owners and poor people" and advised that "It's time to stop arguing and jiving around."

At one time, Gaines walked over to where state and county officials were seated and told them: "You are representatives of the people and you do what the people want."

At another time, while Bachtold was explaining the state's position, Gaines became irate saying he wasn't going to listen to that ——. He explained later he couldn't express himself in the "conventional way" since he was a product of his environment.

He advocated the principle: "Rules are made to serve people and not people to serve rules. If the rules don't serve people, it's up to people to abolish those rules by any means necessary."

He was joined in that sentiment by James Bullock, Walter Turner and Dave Townsend, all lieutenants in the county chapter of the Black Panther Party.

Mrs. Collie Gaines, a member of the city council, said it was insluting for the fence to be put up without anyone in Marin City being consulted. "You act as if we're not here," she said to officials.

"I'm sick of people throwing things on us," Mrs. Gaines said.

A group of students from San Rafael suggested that one solution would be to remove the rocks from the underpass area and landscape it, but Marin City students said that wasn't the answer.

Gabe Jackson, community worker for the Sausalito School District, said the fence was doing harm, and if fencing is needed to protect the pupils from traffic, the fence could be four-feet high rather than 15 feet.

Jack Grasberger, executive assistant to the district engineer, in the highway division, said "People in San Francisco and Sacramento" would make the decision on whether to remove the fence.

Parnow said he could understand the strong feeling to have the fence removed, and asked whether the residents would endorse returning the fence if rock throwing continued.

He also asked if the community could assure that rock throwing wouldn't take place if the fence is removed.

James O. Quiett, chairman of Redevelopment Agency, said that parents and youth would do all they could to resolve the problem.

There was brief discussion at the start of the session on having local law enforcement instead of being under jurisdiction of the Marin County Sheriff's Office.

One resident said that law enforcement problems weren't going to improve until citizens become concerned. Black Panther members called for a law enforcement by black people.

The Council said that law enforcement was in the domain of the Marin City Community Services District, and agreed that the community services district be encouraged "to develop plans and program for its own police force."

There also was some questions about where final decisions about community matters were made, and the council pointed out that it, as a representative of the community, make recommendations, but other agencies make the decisions.

Coins Stolen

William Kounter of 82 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, reported to the sheriff's department Wednesday that someone had stolen over $60 in coins from his home, officers said today.

One Injured In Two-Car Crash

A 24-year-old San Francisco woman was treated for minor injuries at Marin General Hospital last night after being involved in a two-car collision in Sausalito, police said today.

Carol Sarsi, a passenger in one of the cars in the collision in the 500 block of Bridgeway, was treated for bruised knees and elbows. The driver, Bruce Stark Bodi of 50 Sonoma, San Rafael, was unhurt, police said.

The driver of the second car, Carroll John Schuepbach Jr., of 25 Bayvista Drive, Mill Valley, was arrested by Sausalito police on suspicion of being drunk in or about an automobile. He was released from Marin County Jail on $125 bail for a court appearance at 2 p.m. Monday.

Repeated Vandalism Spurs Builder's Plea

San Rafael builder Hal Weiss told San Rafael police yesterday that his homes under construction at Oakdale Way and Mountain View Avenue in Dominican Heights have suffered the worst vandalism he has experienced.

Youngsters, trespassing when workmen leave for the day, remove equipment, break windows and throw lumber off roofs, he said. Weiss added he has received no cooperation from neighbors in halting the vandalism.

Bennett's Plea For Old Job Is Now Under Study

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The State Personnel Board has taken under advisement a request by former state Public Utilities Commissioner William M. Bennett, of Kentfield, that he be given his old job as deputy state attorney general.

But Bennett's move yesterday was opposed by state Deputy Atty. Gen. Wiley W. Manuel. He told the board Bennett left the Justice Department to become chief counsel to the PUC and later a commissioner with no plans to return.

"Mr. Bennett has no intention of returning to the attorney general's office," Manuel said. "He had no such desire."

Chairman May Davis declined to speculate when the five-member panel would have a decision.

Novato School Is Presenting Fine Arts Show

A full day of public showing of fine arts has been scheduled May 4 by the music and art department at San Marin High School in Novato.

Student works of art from throughout the entire Novato School District — kindergarten through 12th grade — will be shown from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the science building at the high school.

In its first formal presentation of the school year, the music department will present a concert starting at 3 p.m. in the gymnasium.

The concert choir, chamber orchestra, concert band, Dixieland band and stageband will perform, according to music director John F. Yardas. Christopher Reed, violin soloist, and the mixed vocal quartet will also be presented.

Four Fined For Drunken Driving

Four men have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court by Judge Hadden W. Roth for drunken driving. All were placed on six months probation.

Robert Francis Phillips, 44, of 36 Castlewood Drive, San Rafael, was fined $150. He was arrested April 3 at the intersection of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Highway 101.

Edmund Tobin Leibert, 50, of 103 Van Winkle Drive, Sleepy Hollow, and Independent-Journal employee, was fined $250. He was arrested Monday in San Rafael.

Bill Norman McCulloch, of 57 Tamalpais Avenue, Apt. 5., who was arrested Feb. 19 in San Rafael, was fined $125.

Charles Ulrich Levis, 36, of 19 Circle Drive, San Rafael, who was arrested March 29 on Highway 101, was fined $250.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Like The Phoenix, Juanita Keeps Busy After The Fire

In spite of all the fire damage, Juanita Musson kept her word to serve Easter breakfast at her all-but-defunct restaurant at El Verano, Sonoma County. She is still in business.

Naturally the operation has been somewhat curtailed. Food service has been limited to a salad bar and prime ribs of beef from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily. All this has been taking place in the building which houses the bar and cocktail lounge and still survives.

Before the recent fire she had acquired a catering license and now she is preparing her food at the old Fetters Hot Springs Hotel, about two miles along Highway 12 toward Santa Rosa, and bringing it back to El Verano.

When I talked to her Wednesday she was planning to serve dinner at Fetters tomorrow night. And she has in mind taking some of the furniture out of her home and continuing part time at Fetters until she can rebuild on her own property.

Fetters Hot Springs Hotel is one of the last old resorts along this route. It needs renovating, but in Juanita's words, "That's been the story of my life, taking beat-up old places and doing them over."

If you are headed that way, I'd suggest checking at El Verano first before going on to Fetters Hot Springs. If it is certain that she will be serving there the place is not hard to find. Look for an old white hotel with a large veranda and a sign, "Juanita's North."

She's betting on making a comeback and I don't believe there are any takers to that wager. If you know Juanita, you just expect it.

RESTAURANTS THAT ATTRACT customers are the ones that make a business of pleasing them.

It's a policy that applies to everyone in the establishment, not just the boss. One uncooperative employee can often undo the work of the rest of the staff.

It's the simple, basic formula of all successful retail operations. While there may be some variation in the methods employed, most people respond alike to what they consider good treatment. In a restaurant this is generaliy covered in more or less equal proportions of quality food, service, courtesy, comfort and fair prices.

Accomplishing this is not an easy thing — a restaurant has to work at it.

It is in my mind that one place currently doing this with gratifying results over the past year is Bob's of Marin in Corte Madera. There are more people in the dining room these days, whereas they used to be concentrated in the coffee shop. More individual dinners-out have "discovered" Bob's again; more groups are using the banquet facilities; and there is more drop-in activity in the lounge.

Manager Frank De Natale is all over the place to keep things running smoothly. Young Louis Peppras should have a great future as chef; he has done remarkable things with the menu here. One of his specialties, by the way, is filet of sole a la Romana. I don't remember it being on the menu, but ask for it. The sauce is what counts and Louis uses it on some of his other preparations.

Decor is pleasant and you should enjoy your visit. If you go here on a Thursday, Friday or Saturday night, tarry in the lounge after dinner to listen to Dori Green at the piano. I am increasingly impressed by her musicianship and ear for unusual chord combinations.

HOWARD JOHNSON'S, INC. has applied for a transfer of the on sale general liquor license of Rancho Rafael, Ignacio to be used in the new Johnson's restaurant and cocktail lounge on Shoreline Highway near the Richardson Bridge.

Apparently there are three or four more weeks of work on the inside of the restaurant and the parking area still has to be blacktopped. With milder weather this is now possible.

Don't look for an opening of the food and lounge facilities before the middle of next month.

ALFRED BARTHEL tells me he will definitely be ready to open his Senor Alfredo's Mexican Restaurant at 115 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo next Tuesday according to schedule. But there may be one hitch in his plans over which he has no control.

At this writing I have been informed that the owners and developers of the property here have not yet put up a bond for the planting of trees in front of the building that is required by the City of San Anselmo.

JUANITA MUSSON
Still in business

This could delay things.

DOROTHY BOAT, co-owner of El Borro in Tiburon with Sandy Keppel, has been on an extended trailer trip with her husband Bob on the westcoast of Mexico. While vacationing, apparently she has been doing some researching into south-of-the-border recipes and comparing them with her home product.

We should find out her verdict next month if she brings back something new for the restaurant. In any event she's sure to be loaded up with artifacts to give El Borro more color, if they're nothing more than earthen bean pots.

THERE IS NEW ENTERTAINMENT at Tiburon Lodge in Tiburon on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, continuous from 8:30 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Spelling each other at about 30-minute intervals are piano player Joe Barros, formerly at the Fairmont Hotel, and a flute and guitar duo known as Dave and Tony (David Leighton and Tony Pretzello). All in all there is quite a sophisticated new cocktail-lounge sound.

NEW PROJECT at Cafe Bon Vin, San Anselmo is a ladies' cooking school to begin the first Wednesday in May. Enrollments are being taken now.

This will be called Cote Rouge Cooking School, which is just a way of dressing up "Red Hill" in French. Chef Richard Richardson, who has been turning out those sumptious dinners and provincial specialties at Cafe Bon Vin, will conduct it. In the Midwest a few years ago he was a popular TV personality directing cooking classes for televiewers, so this is nothing new for him.

Hors d'oeuvres, salads, soups, entrees and desserts will be covered on four successive Wednesdays, followed by a special luncheon with proper vintages. In addition, each afternoon will provide a special event such as modern ballroom dancing, hair styling, and cosmetics or fashions and Fred Cherry's quickie course in wine appreciation. There is a price of $40 for the complete package.

Next Winemaker's Recipe Night is scheduled for Thursday, April 24, when vintner Mike Elwood from Fremont will reveal some of his family's secret preparations.

THE MAN who first opened the restaurant where Cafe Bon Vin is now, Robert Charles, will move into his new Charles Restaurant at 859 O'Farrell Street, San Francisco, between Polk and Larkin Streets, about the first of May. His famous bistro at Pacific and Battery Streets for the past five years will be closed.

Staff and cuisine will remain the same (which means lots of lamb), with the addition of several fish dishes. With Robert and his wife Gigi will be Madame Tina Jarrande as hostess, Robert's brother Georges Lebugle as manager; Vasili will manage the bar as before; and chef Jean Barlerin will continue preparing the food. There will be an art exhibit by Miss Marilyn Rabinovich.

Some other features, according to a recent notice from Robert and Gigi: Policy will remain the same with no phone, no reservations, no credit, no single gentleman — and ladies welcome. Smoking room will be available after dinner. On Friday evenings the mezzanine will be reserved for patrons in contemporary formal clothes.

Robert says this will be his last restaurant.

Marin Acreage Is Filling Up

Marin County now ranks ninth in the state in terms of population density with an average of 393.7 persons per square mile in 1968 compared to a 1960 average of 282.2, the State Department of Finance announced recently.

In addition, population experts within the department are predicting a 20 per cent increase in the western portion of the county between 1968 and 1975.

Marin ranks 55th out of 58 counties in land area but 18th in population with an estimated population of 207,400, the department reported.

Brothers Due Ritual Roles In DeMolay

New master councilor

One brother will install another as master councilor of the Novato Chapter, Order of DeMolay, at 8 p.m., April 19, at Druids Hall in Novato.

Wallace M. Campbell Jr., former master councilor, will install his brother Richard E. Campbell in office.

This is the 23rd installation of officers in the chapter sponsored by Hamilton Lodge 751 Free and Accepted Masons and the 50th anniversary year for DeMolay.

Michael Rebello will be installed as senior councilor and William Swearingen Jr. will be installed as junior councilor.

Richard, 16, is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. Wallace M. Campbell Sr. of 600 Midway Boulevard, Novato. He is a junior at Novato High School and is active in football, wrestling, boxing and baseball. He was a member of the Novato Babe Ruth baseball team which won the Pacific Southwest Coast championship and went to the Babe Ruth World Series in 1967 in Anchorage, Alaska.

Lorna Parr will remain chapter sweetheart.

Other appointed officers to be installed are: Brian Beverly, scribe; James DeGarmo, senior deacon; Michael Harrison, junior deacon; Pat Lotta, senior steward; Rex Kosack, junior steward; Bill Danbury, chaplain; Mike Doescher, standard bearer; Jerry Lewis, almoner; Allen Benelli, marshall; Mike Allen, orator and Curt Lewis, sentinel.

The preceptors will be Mark Blodgett, Glenn Campbell, Bob Bussman, John New, Kent Siler, Garry Roll and Scott Johnson.

Army Open House

An open house will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. April 20 at the Army Reserve Center, 27 Jordan Street, San Rafael, in observance of the 60th anniversary of the reserves.

WINE DISCOVERIES at CAFE BON VIN

WINE IS WONDERFUL!...

(especially the talk and tasting) — and we'll do a lot of both on April 24 when Mike Elwood of oft-honored Llords and Elwood winery will be on hand to present and discuss things like The Judge's Secret, Dry Wit, Castle Magic. After the tasting and the hors d'oeuvres, Cafe' Bon Vin's third California Night" proceeds to a Vintner's Banquet, featuring old Elwood family recipes. And, of course, more wine! Complete evening: $8.50 — and reservations are mandatory (456-6669) — forty persons were turned away when Louis Martini was here.

A NEW GALA...

is now being served. Ten courses, $10 — though lesser appetites may be appeased by the four course "petit dinner" of Gala selections for a mere $4. Wine Discoveries offered with this repast each represent a different wine-making country; the Argentine wine from Orfila is alone worth a special trip to Cafe' Bon Vin.

HAS EVERYONE HEARD?

. . . that this is the place in Marin for banquets, parties, club meetings. We can accommodate as many as 80 persons any hour or day. The cuisine is "haut" — but the cost need not be; it will pay you to ask. Chef Richardson, besides being a great cook, is a social sort who enjoys working out special menus with you, and refuses to charge for his counsel, figuring his charm and gastronomic savvy will persuade you to bring your group here — making it worth while for all of us.

WHAT? SOMETHING ELSE!...

Newest gastronomic happening in this place where things so often happen is our Cote Rouge Cooking School — four Wednesday afternoons beginning May 7. Includes instruction in classic French cooking, gala luncheon with appropriate wines, and four special events — contemporary fashions, make-up, ballroom dancing, and Fred Cherry's widely-acclaimed quick course in Wine Appreciation. $40 for four memorable May afternoons — but enrollments are very limited. Barrows Speaks Out On Merger Election

A statement of clarification was issued today on next Tuesday's election to dissolve the Novato Sanitary District and merge it with the North Marin County Water District.

John F. Barrows, executive officer of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, issued the statement, explaining that facts have become clouded in the pre-electin oratory.

"These points should be clarified," said Barrows:

1. It is not legally possible for the City of Novato to take over the sanitary district today, or during the next several years.

2. The Brown and Caldwell countyide seweage master plan study recommends the two major water districts, including the North Marin County Water District, as proper agencies for handling countywide sewer services.

3. The Local Agency Formation Commission, including the two city representatives, voted unanimously for the dissolution.

4. The Marin County Board of Supervisors, including Supervisor William A. Gnoss of Novato, voted unanimously for the dissolution.

Special Session

The Mill Valley Planning Commission and the architectural advisory committee will hold a special meeting at 1 p.m. tomorrow in the Mill Valley Library board room to discuss the Miller Avenue lighting project.

Pair Is Named To Bay Panel

Ernest N. Kettenhofen, former county supervisor from San Rafael, and Mrs. Samuel Swadesh of Tiburon have been appointed to a special committee of the Bay Area Social Planning Council, council officials announced yesterday.

The committee will study the impact of Medicare and Medi-Cal on home care services in five Bay Area counties including Marin.

Brahna Trager, a health care consultant from San Geronimo, is a member of a technical advisory panel to the committee.

Students Ready To Help Club

Seven hundred Marin high school students have agreed to collect funds for the Boys Club of Southern Marin, Marin City, in the April 10 "Youth March for Youth," but 1,500 more are needed.

"This is a different kind of march than we are accustomed to reading about," said club president Richard Bale. The youth of Marin County will be marching to help the boys club survive.

Bale said 2,000 to 2,500 students are needed to insure a successful campaign covering all homes in Marin.

Students from Tamalpais, Redwood, Sir Francis Drake, San Rafael, Terra Linda, San Domenico and Marin Catholic high schools will particiapte. Those who wish to assist may contact the deans of student activities at their schools.

Salaries For Summer School To Be Eyed

Proposed salaries for summer school teachers will be discussed by the Mill Valley School District board at 8 p.m. Monday at Park School.

The salary schedule proposed by Supt. James A. Collins after meeting with the negotiating council of the Mill Valley Teachers Association is $620 for teachers with less than seven years experience and $690 for teachers with seven or more years' experience for 23 working days.

Church Disclaims Stand On Ballot

Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church in Tiburon is in no way participating in the campaign on a proposed Reed School District tax increase, Rev. Calvin Frisch, pastor, said today.

An advertisement favoring the tax increase appeared in the weekly Ebb Tide this with "Shepherd of the Hills Church" followed by a long list of names.

Rev. Frisch said this unfortunately gave the impression the church has taken a stand on the tax issue. He said he checked and found that the names are of citizens for whom Shepherd of the Hills Church is the polling place, and the heading is only to indicate they are voters in that precinct. The same applies to other headings in the lists of names supporting the tax increase, all of which are of schools except that of Tiburon Peninsula Club, also a polling place.

Quentin Officers Set To Retire

Two San Quentin employees will retire this month after a combined total of 60 years at the prison, Warden Louis S. Nelson has reported.

Correctional Officer Willis Patrick, 60, of 25 Tamalpais Avenue, San Anselmo, began his career in the old prison jute mill in 1935. More recently he has been in charge of the gate that admits delivery trucks to the prison.

William J. Bradley, 65, also a correctional officer, has been with the prison since 1942. His last assignment was the industrial gate through which 1,000 inmates go daily to their factory jobs. He lives in Glen Ellen.

WEST-COUNTY SCHOOL VOTERS WORK FASTER?

Voters in Bolinas-Stinson and Nicasio School Districts will have only seven hours Tuesday to do a job for which those elsewhere in Marin are allowed 13 hours.

Polls for the school trustee and Marin Junior College District tax elections in Bolinas-Stinson and Nicasio will not open until 1 p.m.

Everywhere else in the county, polls will open at 7 a.m. They will close throughout the county at 8 p.m.

Baldwin Talks Of Racial Gulf

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Every white man knows the one key fact about America's racial crisis, according to author James Baldwin. He knows "he would not like to be a black man."

Baldwin told a San Francisco City College audience yesterday that if the white man understands that "he knows everything he needs to know, he has no need to ask a black man what he wants."

In wide-ranging remarks, Baldwin said the racial crisis mainly sprang from "the tremendous gulf between my experience as a black man and yours as a white."

He said he had found whites are "not evil people...they're not anxious to be ignorant...they're anxious to listen.

But he said "there is no language to convey" the feeling of being black in the United States.

The port city of Mobile, Ala., was colonized by the French in 1699.

Juvenile Court May Get Case

The case of Gary William Clemons, 18, of Larkspur, accused of hitting a California Highway patrolman and possessing marijuana was referred yesterday to the probation department for possible transferral to Marin Juvenile Court.

Clemons was told to return to Municipal Court on April 23.

He was arrested Tuesday in Tamalpais Valley.

Two-County Beauty Pageant Chief Picked

Carolyn Beach, director of the Miss Marin beauty pageant for nine years, has been named to coordinate the Miss Marin-Sonoma queen contest planned for June 26 at the Marin-Sonoma Fair in Petaluma.

Applications for girls ages 17 to 25 are available at the fairgrounds office and must be returned by May 5. A queen will be selected to represent each county and both will be eligible to compete at the Maid of California pageant at the State Fair.

DAVID D. RING has been a Marin County resident for 16 years. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Engineering (B.S.E. Math.) and its School of Law (J.D.) and is a practicing attorney. He is 44 years of age and father of three school age children.

VOTE FOR
DAVID D. RING
TAM HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT BOARD
(REDWOOD, DRAKE & TAMALPAIS HIGH SCHOOLS)

Prior to DAVID RING'S appointment as a member of the Tamalpais High School District Board, he served eight years as a member of the board of trustees of the Reed elementary district, three of these years as board president. He was chairman of the Tamalpais District's 1967 bond campaign, a member of its 1968 building needs study, and co-chairman of the 1968 bond campaign. The Tam district is faced with many serious problems, including classroom shortages, overcrowding, potential budgetary deficits, taxpayer exhaustion, drug abuse and others. In meeting these problems, Ring says, "It is our responsibility as trustees to provide an educational program that will best meet the needs of all students."

Providing quality education in these times requires the best efforts of able board members. The Tam District is in urgent need of David Ring's proven judgment, insight and ability. With respect to unification, Ring states, "The outspoken public opposition to the tentative three district unification plan, and the tremendous cost of any unification plan, has convinced me that the whole issue needs complete restudy and that no unification plan should be submitted to the voters until this is done."

Reed School Tax Hike; What Does It Mean?

Voters in Reed Elementary School District on the Tiburon Peninsula are being asked by the district board to approve a 50-cent tax ceiling increase in next Tuesday's election.

The increase would be in the ceiling on the district's general purpose operating tax, now $2.25 per $100 assessed valuation. This is not the total tax rate of the district, but is the only portion which is under a ceiling that can be raised by majority vote of the citizens. Reed district's total tax rate this year is $3.535 per $100 assessed valuation, the difference between this and the $2.25 figure being composed of bond payments, areawide "equalization," and assorted special purpose over-rides.

A 50-CENT RAISE would yield $215,000 in Reed district, according to John S. Hoffmire, former Tiburon mayor who heads a citizen campaign committee for the tax measure.

This additional money is necessary, according to the citizen committee and the district board and administration, to keep the district's present education program.

Supt. H. Joe Edgington and his staff have prepared a proposed budget for next fiscal year, including the $215,000 to be raised by the tax raise, which totals $2,048,164. This is slightly below the district's $2,074,868 budget for the current year.

HOW COME a 50-cent tax increase is needed to finance a budget no larger than this year's?

The explanation given is that the district used up most of its reserve funds this year, partly because the budget was based on expectations of some state funds that did not materialize.

The carry-over from last year was $237,246. The committee has said that only $35,000 will remain in reserve at the end of this fiscal year, June 30. This would mean that about $200,000 has been spent out of reserves this year.

WHAT ARE the alternatives?

If the tax raise does not pass, according to the committee's latest report from the district administration, 10½ teaching positions will have to be eliminated. These include one teacher of "more able learners," two music teachers, 2⅝ (that's what the committee says) Spanish teachers, one art teacher, a half-time teacher of physically handicapped. A psychologist intern would also be eliminated, as would a couple of gardeners.

By doing this, and perhaps reducing bus transportation, according to this latest report, it might be possible to raise the teacher salary schedule by 6 per cent.

If the tax raise were passed, according to this same report, only 5 teaching positions would be eliminated, and it might be possible to raise the teacher salary schedule the 10 per cent the teachers have asked.

THE REED DISTRICT is in a rather unusual position regarding teacher pay. Teacher salaries average $9,560. About 20 per cent of teachers are at the top of their pay "ladders" and can advance only by getting additional college credits unless the schedule itself is raised. The other 80 per cent would receive an automatic $300 step increase.

Enrollment in the district is declining slightly. However, eliminating even five teaching positions would increase the pupil-teacher ratio above the 23.6-to-one of this year. If 10 teachers were eliminated, actual class sizes would have to be larger.

Whether the additional 50-cent tax is justified to keep special teachers, smaller classes, and provide a better salary schedule is up to the voters to decide.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Reagan Right On One Count: Way To Save Is Not To Spend

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Gov. Ronald Reagan's tax reform program hit the state legislature on the final day for introduction of bills at the 1969 session. Although the program is idealistic as far as the governor's message to the legislature concerning its objectives, it probably has but little chance of passage as submitted.

However, Governor Reagan hit the nail on the head when he told the legislature:

"There is one irrefutable fact of government life which must be faced squarely and coped with constantly.

"There is only one way to reduce taxes, and that is to reduce government spending. One is impossible without the other, especially under our state constitution which prohibits deficit spending."

OBJECTIVES of the administration tax reform program, he said, are to establish a simplified, equitable and balanced tax system; provide relief from the inequitable residential property tax; shift responsibility to the local level; bear at the state level, primary responsibility for greater educational opportunities, and to do these things without increasing the aggregate total of the tax burden.

He hopes to achieve these objectives by a double-barreled proposal, the first to be accomplished this year, the second through a constitutional amendment to be submitted in 1970.

THIS YEAR, he would increase homeowners property tax exemptions to $1,000; eliminate veterans' exemption; reduce the business inventory tax; maintain the bank and corporation tax, and eliminate unwarranted sales tax exemptions.

Also, he proposes return to use of personal exemptions on state income taxes; permit payment of property taxes on a quarterly basis; establish a department of revenue — all as a part of the long-range tax reform.

The long-range program would revise the entire school financing program by these means: switch 80 per cent of property taxes to an adjusted gross personal income tax; impose a statewide non-residential property tax; limit local school taxes; require a 60 per cent majority for tax overrides; fix a two-thirds vote of the legislature for any increase in taxes, and provide for voluntary income tax withholding.

Other long-range proposals would provide insurance companies be taxed the same as other corporations, rather than on gross premiums; consider capital gains on unimproved property in a straight personal income basis, and render some assistance to old age property owners.

THE PROPOSAL for creation of a department of serious trouble in the revenue is likely to run into legislature, as this has been tried many times previously and failed of achievement.

In effect, the "tax reform" program offers the public as a whole no tax relief, but merely a shifting of taxes from one segment to another. Conceivably, it could be of some assistance to the property owner, but it must be kept in mind that the property owner is the bulwark of the income tax.

Luxurious Schools Vs. Education

Do we ever stop the maniacal spending spree on the popular fashionable "education" bit? Is academic standing proportional to money poured into schools? Can we buy education?

Are we trying to buy off a guilty conscience for being part of the establishment that has spawned the current group of tragic caricatures of misguided, bored and spiritually underprivileged youngsters, who seem to translate their normal "Sturm und Drang" into a dope culture, fetishism of various kinds and physical evidence of loneliness — youngsters whom we have lost in our own enchantment with "organization" conformity, and dull, dull, dull entertainment?

Steaming swimming pools, luxurious gymnastic appointments, costly architectural detail, bus services and parking lots may be well for a Swiss finishing school but are rather opulent if not in bad taste as part of a public school system, constantly crying poverty, lack of funds, and too many students. . . .

When high school graduates already have trouble with their three R's, Is the joke on us? Are the medical, legal and other technicians graduating, rebating their fees for services rendered to the community which provided such lush facilities? Of course not!

Stop the gadgets is schooling and stick to plain unadulerated teaching. Run a system that teaches wisdom, beauty and an ability to think (not memory banks). Don't try to run a country club.

My vote is No on Measure 2, until proven that the money is spent wisely.

Fence Provides Feeling Of Security

This is about the controversial chain link fence along the Highway 101 underpass from Marin City to Sausalito.

I am one of the motorists who drives through the underpass regularly, and I want to thank the Division of Highways for having put up the fence. I appreciate being able to drive through without fear of having my windshield smashed and my face injured. I thank them for preventing my car from swerving into another car because someone threw a rock or a bottle.

Maybe these things do not seem so important as someone's feelings about being fenced in. These are only simple, direct feelings about wishing to avoid injury to myself and to others. If the fence is removed, I shall have to detour to Rodeo Avenue, as I will not risk injury to myself or others . .

Pigs On Campus Not In Uniform

The expression "pigs off campus" should be applied to the students at Marin College who are (ir)responsible for the almost incredible amount of litter and garbage strewn all over the lawns and walkways, especially in the Student Union area.

It was only a few short years ago that the College of Marin campus, with its attractive setting, was a beautifully kept up, park-like spot, with wide, rolling green lawns and crisp, clean paths and buildings. Last night, when I went to enroll in an evening class, it looked like a slum. Although there are refuse cans in abundance, there was very little green grass to be seen because paper cups, bags and napkins, and bottles and tin cans "litter-ly" covered it up.

It is bad enough for this sort of thing to happen in a grammar school (and Ross Grammar School, with its children from "advantaged" — though apparently slovenly — families, is one of the worst), or in a high school, but at least there it might be said that the children are immature and thoughtless, and the indifferent teachers may be largely to blame. But at the college level, such behavior verges on the contemptuous and deliberate. . .

Larkspur Board Gets More Plaudits

Three cheers for Mr. (Eric W.) Lane's letter in Monday's edition (April 7). When more of my neighbors back up our excellent Larkspur School District trustees it will be a most healthy condition. Here is a group who have the courage to speak up and work for the "stockholders" — we, the people. Here is a board that operates on a sound business basis without being coerced by the pressure interests for deficit spending.

Most of us are fed up with those who think there is no bottom to the barrel.

ACLU Preserving First Amendment

Your recent editorial blast at the ACLU had some of the characteristic of Joe McCarthy's "red-scare" witch-hunting technique. The American Civil Liberties Union quite properly pointed out to the army that the First Amendment of our Constitution forbids religious indoctrination. The chaplain's role is confined to the "filling the religious needs of the serviceman" and cannot include compulsory exposure to religious doctrine. The absolute rightness of the ACLU contention is borne out by the prompt corrective measures adopted by the Army.

Your editorial implied that the ACLU threatened the wording of our freedom documents and that it was anti-religious. The first is palpably absurd, and the second is slanderous. The ACLU cannot be "for" or "against" religion. It is "for" the Constitution and the freedoms it guarantees to its citizens. The First Amendment states that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." Both parts are equally precious. The first phrase means that government cannot use its power to foster religion in any way; the second part guarantees free religious expression. . . .

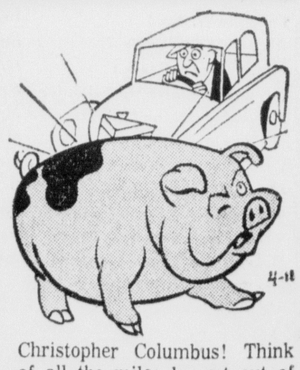
TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

FROM A RURAL DISTRICT of England comes the story of a driver of a small sedan braking hastily as the tweedy mistress of the largest estate thereabouts came hurtling around a sharp bend in the narrow road in her large Rolls. Before he could say a word, she shouted "Pig!" and drove on. "Fat old cow!" he cried after in retaliation.

Then he drove round the bend himself — and crashed head-on into the biggest pig he ever had seen.

Quite a driver, that Christopher Columbus! Think of all the miles he got out of three galleons!



THE DRUMMONDS

Foreign Policy Crises Give Nixon Greatest Opportunities

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's bleakest foreign policy crisis may well yield him his biggest political dividends.

To get these dividends, which could make him a formidable second-term candidate, will not be easy. He would have to turn trouble into achievement at three crucial points:

End war in Vietnam.

Avert war in the Middle East.

A large order, but not unattainable.

MR. NIXON is indulging in no wishful optimism. It is particularly significant that there is a growing confidence in Europe that the President can bring it off and will devote himself to it unsparingly.

The clearest expression of this comes from the French news weekly L'Express, which sees Mr. Nixon's most troublesome foreign problems presenting him with what he most needs — opportunities for major successes. L'Express writes with notable insight:

"In the dawn of his reign, Mr. Nixon is seeing three political suns rising before him: peace in Vietnam, a compromise in the Middle East, a halt in the armaments race. They are still only lights upon the horizon. . .but for cutting the ground out from under the feet of the Democrats they hold distinct possibilities — and, from what little is known of Mr. Nixon, he is very capable of hurrying things."

HOW VALUABLE politically would it be for the President to score signally in two of these problems and at least passably in the other, the arms talks?

There is little doubt about the answer. It would almost certainly be decisive in lifting Mr. Nixon's political prestige so high in the United States that even slow-paced progress on the home front would be unlikely to prevent his re-election.

The best proof of this judgment is right here: Presidential action in foreign affairs invariably brings high public approval, and presidential action in domestic affairs almost invariably brings public disapproval.

Examples: President Eisenhower's popularity went up when he went to Geneva and Paris for unproductive summit conferences. It went up when he sent troops to Lebanon and delivered his atoms-for-peace speech at the United Nations. Ike's popularity dropped sharply when he sent troops to Little Rock to enforce the law on school integration.

President Truman had the same experience. All his foreign policy initiatives — aid to Greece and Turkey, NATO, the Marshall Plan — thrust his standing upward. His initiatives in domestic policy — trying to check inflation through price control, seizing the railroads to end a wartime strike — caused his popularity to plunge downward.

MR. NIXON'S own experience in his first three months tells the same story. Whatever initiatives he has taken have been in the field of foreign affairs and in three successive polls his popularity has gone up from 59 per cent to 61 per cent to 65 per cent.

Because Vietnam, the Middle East and the arms talks are Mr. Nixon's first priorities does not mean that he is downgrading urgent home-front crises.

The three foreign problems have higher priority for special reasons:

Peace in Vietnam is needed to restore substantial unity among the American people and to bring budget savings which can be used for domestic spending.

Renewed Arab-Israeli fighting could lead to a far wider war

If the opportunity to halt the U.S.-Russian arms race isn't siezed soon, it may be lost.

The Constitution gives the President his greatest latitude for action in foreign affairs. Mr. Nixon intends to use it.

In his inaugural President Nixon said: "The great honor history can bestow is the title peacemaker." And with it come the greatest political rewards.

Nerva Nuclear Engine May Power Space Trips

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Long-range hopes for the U.S. space program are getting a happy shot in the arm from recent events in a new, remote-control vacuum chamber on the Nevada desert.

There, scientists are moving ahead with initially successful tests of the Nerva nuclear space engine. Nerva, the tests willing, will be the U.S. space engine of the late 1970s and 1980s, powering space probes to distant planets.

The current version of the Nerva, successfully fired for the first time late last month, is not ready for flight. It is designed to produce 50,000 pounds of thrust, as the tests proceed at the Jackass Flats proving grounds.

It is the prototype for a flyable rocket engine. If it continues to perform well, as its power is gradually peaked in the current tests, work can begin on a 75,000-pound flight version this summer.

THE NEW $22 million test stand for Nerva is a Buck Rogerish story in itself. When its heavy shielded doors are closed, a vacuum can be created around the engine to simulate the atmosphere of space flight. After such a firing, technicians can dismantle the engine, while it is still radioactive, using large mechanical arms from the shelter of a shielded workroom.

So far the United States has spent about $1.1 billion on the Nerva development. It has profited from technology developed during now defunct projects for developing a nuclear-powered aircraft and the nuclear rockets Rover and Pluto.

Nerva is not one of those big boosters which belch flame and rise majestically from the pads at Cape Kennedy. Firing after a spacecraft is safely free of the earth's atmosphere, Nerva is designed to power a rocket's upper stages on long space flights.

THE NERVA power plant is not like a gasoline engine or the solid and liquid fueled engines which have been used for rockets and missiles. It is not a combustion engine. Liquid hydrogen, passing through the core of a nuclear reactor, expands in the intense heat and is forced through an exhaust jet to provide the rocket's thrust.

With hydrogen as its only fuel (no oxidizer is required), Nerva produces power in space more efficiently than present space engines. Experts believe the first flyable Nerva will fire four times as long and produce at least seven times the power of the engine which will drop the Apollo landing craft to the moon.

While Nerva is a project of the civilian National Aeronautics and Space Agency, its flexibility and maneuverability have clear military applications. A manned Nerva rocket could, for example, make inspection trips to orbiting military spacecraft.

CONTINUING success with Nerva could help NASA exploit an unusual opportunity for planetary exploration in the late 1970s. Starting in 1976, and more easily in 1977 and 1978, it will be possible to swing an unmanned space probe past four of the planets: Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus and Neptune.

Spring Is Here—And That Means Time To Visit Botanical Garden

Despite the scattered showers which have been keeping gardens wet, spring appears really to be upon us and with the coming of spring comes a notice from Dr. John R. Geary that the Edgewood Botanical Garden is alive and well on the slopes of Mount Tamalpais.

Many species of flora represented in the garden, particularly the cenanothus and amanzanita, are in full bloom and in great shape for viewing, according to Dr. Geary.

The garden is located on approximately one acre downslope from 436 Edgewood Avenue near the Marin Municipal Water District's tank. It is also near both the Dipsea and Pipeline trails from Mill Valley to the Mountain, Stinson Beach and Muir Woods, and is conveniently located for hikers to stop and become familiar with the flora they are likely to encounter farther along the trail.

THE GARDEN is designed to take the best advanatage of its glorious natural surroundings, particularly the majestic and often overwhelming presence of the southwestern flank of Mount Tamalpais. It is also designed to accommodate those who stop briefly as well as those who wish to spend hours studying the flora and enjoying the view.

It is full of hundreds of kinds of plants, shrubs, trees and flowers, including more than 40 species and subspecies of ceanothus and manzanita, most native to Marin County.

Among plants represented in the garden are grapes, alders, buckeye, ceanothus, buckwheat, St. Catherine's lace, cypress, flannel bush, dogwood, fuchsia, ferns, monkey flower, madrone, manzanita, maple, box elder, dichondra, oak, sorrel, Judas tree, pine, berries, bishop's cap, silk tassel, sunflower, wax myrtle, yew, wisteria, rosemary, rhodendendrons, azaleas, an Austrailian tea tree, and, of course, the redwood. Wildflowers also abound.

Few rules exist for the free garden, which is open daily sunup to sun-down. Most important are to watch where you step, no samples, and no picnicking. Stop by soon and feast on the glories of nature, Marin style.

COMMUNICATION and bridging its gap, although cliches from overuse, are honest concerns of many. In an effort to bridge the you-know-what, the Mill Valley Schoool District is conducting small intimate tours of its schools for interested parents and others.

Last Thursday a group of 10 parents visited Strawberry Point, Marin Terrace and Homestead Schools. Yesterday the tour hit Alto, Park and Homestead Schools. On each tour parents say continuing and innovative programs and classrooms where teaching was structured and ones where the individualized instruction was in full swing.

The tours, which last between two and three hours during the morning, are meant only to give an overview of the district's workings, according to the district office. Parents are encouraged to come back for a more precise look at a particular school and need only notify the district office or school principal to make arrangements for an hour or all day tour of the school.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Lack Of Money In Madison, And How Marin Got Around Lack

Fusselman

That was just a gag, in Frank Farrara's "I-J Reporter's Notebook" on March 20: "Civic Center: — County Administrator Alan Bruce asked for $25,000 to hire former Supervisor William D. Fusselman as a consultant on economy in county government. 'I don't know of anyone who knows more about county government than old Bill,' said Bruce. "I have had a number of letters and phone calls of congratulations. No soap, no sale, nothing like that. But thanks just the same

HERE IS THE latest from Madison, Wis. You'll remember that 12 years ago Frank Lloyd Wright wasn't able to design a civic auditorium on the shores of Lake Monona for the $4 million that the city had raised for the project, even after eliminating many parts that were really essential. The lowest bid then was $13 million, so the project was dropped.

Now, with a new mayor reviving the attempt and contracting with the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation to produce the plans, they are running into the same pattern as of yore — snafus with all manner of details: extending too far out into the lake and into the highway on the other side, a marina that was too small for boats to turn around in, cutting out elevators (with seven stories on the lake side), also fire alarm systems and some lighting, parking down to 330 spaces (4,200 needed 12 years ago), seating for only 2,250, and for musical events only, no stage for dramatic productions, no hydraulic lift for the orchestra pit, etc.

Well, bids on the new plans (with all the eliminations) were received on the first of the month. The amount on hand is $5,100,000 (not the $5.5 million that was reported previously, there had been some shrinkage, it seems). Now, the low bid was $6,300,000 or $1,200,000 more than they have on hand.

The city council is holding up any decision, trying to determine whether to try for a bond issue, pass the hat for subscriptions, or reject all the bids.

I PROMISED I would tell your more about the six-page memorandum Bruce, when he was assistant administrator, wrote to Walter R. Castro, chairman of the board of supervisors, on March 7, 1959. Here goes: "The civic center proper," wrote Bruce, "is estimated to cost $9,512,700 over a 10-year period from 1958 to 1968. However, the present board cannot commit future boards and cannot commit the people beyond the term of office of the present board." (Oh boy! Remember the "hornswoggled" editorial?)

"The only current commitment is for the first stage of the civic center construction to cost $2,724,000." He said the board might decide to proceed simultaneously with the second stage.

He also said, "We do not know of anyone who has seen the plans who does not agree that the buildings will be modest and functional as well as esthetically pleasing and appropriate to the Marin County setting." (Just in passing; you had to be one of the inner circle of proponents to even get a chance to. Sweet music, what?)

IN LATE FEBRUARY of this year, Auditor-Controller Mike Mitchell presented some figures to the board which were repeated in this column at the time — just under $30 million for the Administration Building and the Hall of Justice. With the interest item of $3,242,751, it comes to $28,183,740. Then with the figure of $3,761,731 for the Marin County Fair-Veterans Memorial Building project the total is $28,183,740 and when the three-acre exhibit building which Wright showed in his design plans is completed it will top $30 million.

If there had been a ceiling limit on county taxing, such as the cities across the country must operate under, things would undoubtedly have been different.

Newsletter Due On Sewer Plans

Newsletters will be sent out with water bills by the Bolinas Community Public Utility District to inform residents of progress on the proposed sewage treatment system, the district board has decided.

The board on Wednesday also named members Manuel Peters and Orlo Drew as a committee to meet with Bolinas Community Inc. to work out standard rules for use of the Bolinas Community Center.

A resolution was passed to annex to the district property owned by Edward G. Letter on Lower County Road.

The board announced it is accepting job applications for a district maintenance man.

Flood Control Work Scheduled

Flood control work is scheduled to start Tuesday on Corte Madera and Tamalpais creeks in Kentfield, project director Oved Cramer of the Army Corps of Engineers has announced.

The work entails clearing and grubbing, excavating and then concrete lining Corte Madera Creek from College Avenue downstream to where it meets Tamalpais Creek plus a portion of Tamalpais Creek.

Rock clearing from Corte Madera Creek at the Greenbrae-Highway 101 overpass was expected to be finished this week.

The $6,500,000 project, which began 18 months ago, is expected to be completed in January 1971.

TO MAKE NOVATO BEAUTIFUL

Completely involved in their work and getting a head start on the Novato 1969 Clean Up Campaign to begin tomorrow and last through May 4 are Novato Garden Club members. They clean the weeds from under the trees across the street from the Community House on Machin Avenue, left. These hard working members met at the Community House yesterday and brought gloves, trowels and other gardening implement to help beautify Novato. Mrs. Keith Cowan, president of the Novato Garden Club, right, carries two buckets filled with the unsightly weeds that have just been cleared from under the trees by Mrs. Lorsne Bunker, center, and Mrs. Wayne Tharp. The Garden Club members also cleared the weeds from around the liquid ambar trees on Grant Avenue that they had previously donated to the City. (Independent-Journal photos by Bob Hax.)

PUAN SHARIFAH RODZIAH (second from right), wife of Prime Minister Tengku Abdul Rahman, lends a hand in preparing food and even waiting on tables or washing dishes at her restaurant, where she can be seen almost every day. In doing so, she violated a Malay tradition that the woman's place is in the home caring for her family. (UPI Telephoto)

Official's Wife Fulltime Manager Of Own Restaurant

By HARI SUBRAMANIAM

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (UPI) —In Malaysia, anyone can eat dinner with the first lady of the land, the prime minister's wife. She runs a restaurant, and the prices are right.

Puan Sharifah Rodziah, wife of Prime Minister Tengkul Abdul Rahman, is no absentee manager of her restaurant, Chahaya (which in English means Shining).

She spends part of nearly every day selecting the menu, preparing food and even waiting on tables or washing dishes.

The prime minister's official residence gained a wide reputation for serving excellent food to Rahman's guests. With this fame to back her up, Puan Sharifah opened her own restaurant late last year.

In doing so, she violated a Malay tradition that the woman's place is at home caring for her family. But modern Malay leaders are urging women to break the old ties and get into profitable businesses.

The first lady's restaurant is located one mile from the center of Kuala Lumpur in the Kampong Bahru area. It serves only Malay dishes: rice cooked in various ways, satay ground beef seasoned with chili and garlic and cooked on a stick) and sambal (spicy fried paste made from fish or prawn).

Puan Sharifah is a Moslem, a faith which frowns on liquor. But with the tourist in mind, she permits alcoholic drinks.

She makes another concession to strange foreign ways. Although Malays generally eat with their hands, Puan Sharifah sets her tables with silverware for those who care.

Food in the restaurant is inexpensive even on the local scale. A big dinner costs the equivalent of $3 per person compared with about $5 in other first-class restaurants.

Fifteen waitresses wearing the traditional Malay wraparound, ankle-length skirt work in the air-conditioned restaurant, which can seat about 50 people at one time.

The walls are decorated with paintings donated by the prime minister. Soft Malay music, both ancient and modern, plays from a recording system during meals.

What does the prime minister think about his wife's business?

"It is good insurance in case I lose my present job," the ruler of Malaysia's 10 million people says.

Protect Hair

Few hairdressers recommend shampooing with turpentine or mineral spirits—even after you paint a ceiling. The National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association suggests you take a tip from the pro's and always don a protective hat to top off your painting wardrobe. Plastic shower caps are ideal for such use since they completely cover your hair and are so easy to clean.

Centennial Festivities For Club Opening Day

By MOLLY MARIN

The centennial theme will be the motif for San Francisco Yacht Club's pre-opening day dinner dance at the Belvedere clubhouse on April 26.

Festivities will start at 4 p.m. with a flag ceremony and concert by the 12th U.S. Naval District Band on the club grounds. A champagne party for members, honoring past commodores will follow. Commodores from other Bay Area yacht clubs and their ladies have been invited.

Yachting decor in red, white and blue, and exhibits from the club's past, since the founding in 1869 at Mission Bay, San Francisco, will be displayed.

Mrs. William A. Sparrow is chairman of the Women's Auxiliary committee assisting with the event; and Mrs. Peter Sutter is invitations chairman.

WHEN BARBARA Christine Turnbull became the bride of Lawrence M. McCune Wednesday afternoon at St. Dominic's Church in San Francisco, the Neil Park family of Kentfield were prominent in the wedding party. Mrs. Park was matron of honor for the bride, her husband served as best man, and their daughter, Courtney Park, was the flower girl. The newlyweds have bought a house in Ross and will live in Marin.

A FAMILY dinner at the Winthrop Watrous home in Kentfield was the occasion for the announcement of the engagement of their niece, Barbara Jean Hansen, to John Anthony Reding Jr. Barbara is a graduate of Dominican Upper School and the University of California. The couple plan June 21 nuptials at the chapel of San Domenico. Barbara is a 1963 Cotillion debutante.

MR. AND MRS. PHILIP E. Stolp of San Rafael are parents of a son born March 21. The baby, Philip Jason, has a sister, Allie, five years old. Grandparents are Messrs. and Mmes. J. C. Campbell and William Lovvorn, all of Modesto.

THE WALTER Thomsons of Sausalito visited by telephone Easter Sunday with their son, Lt. James Thomson, who is spending a week in Honolulu on a rest and recreation leave from duty in Vietnam.

Lt. Thomson's wife, Joan, is spending the week in Hawaii with him, and the son, Jamie, is visiting his grandparents.

At the end of his leave James will return to Vietnam to rejoin his unit.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Over 70 Says She And Friend Get Along 'Very Nicely'

Dear Helen:

I am 72 and old enough to know what I want, but my children don't approve. They think I should insist that my gentleman friend marry me, or else show him the door, as "people will talk."

I say we have a very nice relationship, and why ruin it with demands? If we lived together we might not get along. As it is, he steps me out, has Sunday supper my apartment, is my escort and friend. I have all the advantages of a man in my life and none of the disadvantages of a husband. He prefers it this way too. And, after all, who would talk about people over 70? — NOT THE MARRYING KIND

DEAR NOT:

Who indeed? I'd say the only "talk" should be praise for two peppy septagenarians. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Five years ago I came home unexpectedly from a trip and found in our bedroom closet several dresses and a woman's coat, none of which I'd ever seen before.

My husband told me they belonged to the wife of a friend, who had asked him to get them from the cleaners, as they were called away on business and couldn't pick them up. He said he'd return them.

I bought the story though it seemed unlikely. Neighbors tried to insinuate things, but I hate gossip, so I ignored them.

Two years later I met the wife in question, asked if she had ever got her clothes back, and well — that was the end of that!

My husband admitted then that he had lied, but only because he said I wouldn't have believed the truth.

"The truth"? He saw this unknown woman loaded down with luggage and carrying extra clothes over her arm. He gave her a ride. They stopped at a bar for a couple of drinks and while he was paying the bill or something, she disappeared with her luggage, leaving the clothes behind. He never saw her again and didn't even have her name, much less her address.

Helen, I choose to believe this because I can hardly face the alternative. My husband is a handsome, charming man. Several people have hinted to me that he is a chaser, but I put this down as jealousy.

Tell me, does it seem likely that I am the biggest fool that ever walked? — MRS. R. S.

DEAR MRS. S:

Forget the past — you can't change it with brooding. But be alert to the present. Only a woman who prefers ignorance can remain unaware of her husband's affairs. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

About the husband-wife "battle of the thermostat": My wife would be happy living in an unheated igloo. It's got so I have a nightmare — seems I'm dead and being cremated, and you know what that woman of mine does? She sneaks in and turns down the thermostat! There I lie not even able to make a proper exit because she can't stand heat! — SLOW FREEZE

DEAR S. F.:

So of course you do a slow burn . . . — H.

Susan Broomhead Becomes Bride Of Thomas James Kennedy III

Susan Schuyler Broomhead was wed to Thomas James Kennedy III Saturday evening at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers Carr Broomhead of Ross. She was attended by her sister Mrs. Dan Carson Kelly of Kentfield as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were her other sister, Nancy Beth Broomhead, and the bridegroom's sister, Kathleen Kennedy of Coronado.

John F. Kennedy was his brother's best man. The bride's brothers, F. Calvin and Rodgers Broomhead Jr., and the bridegroom's brother Eugene T. Kennedy ushered guests to their seats.

A reception at the Lagunitas Country Club followed the ceremony.

Susan was graduated from Redwood High School and the University of California at Riverside. Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Schuyler of Berkeley are her grandparents.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Kennedy Jr. of Coronado. He is a graduate of Coronado High School and U.C. at Riverside. Thomas is a student at St. Louis University Medical School in St. Louis, Mo.

The couple will make their home in St. Louis, where the bride will teach school.

Sash Jacket

The wrapped suit, one of the season's newest shapes, includes a long jacket sashed and banded low over a matching skirt. Monet suggests a mix of delicate and bold chains swinging a petite drop and a crested pendant to accent this look. Matching earrings and bracelet are added for a total look of elegant accessorizing.

The seventh annual Ladies' Domino Tournament has been scheduled for Wednesday, 10 a.m. in Hearst Court of the DeYoung Museum in Golden Gate Park. Sponsored by the DeYoung Museum Society include coffee, lunch and wine.

Participants from Marin County are Mmes. Charles G. Wood of Tiburon, Ernest Blum and Richard Duff of Kentfield, George Hart and Barnett Sumski of Ross and Joseph Nelson, Mario Zablaga and Russell Baldocchi, all of San Rafael. Mrs. George F. Jewett Jr. of Ross is Marin publicity chairman.

Hostesses from Marin are Mmes. Jon Chaney, James Jenkins, Harry Johnson and John Kelly, all of Kentfield; William Hendrickson of San Anselmo; and Robert Pomeroy, Gregory Solon, Tracy Van Voorhees and George Jewett Jr., all of Ross.

IRVING LINKS of Novato, retired businessman and civic leader, will show slides and discuss his trip down the Amazon River in Peru at the 1 p.m. meeting of the Marin Country Club Garden Club on Monday at the clubhouse in Novato.

Mrs. C. R. Mac Phee is program chairman.

MILL VALLEY Tennis Club Women will present a spring fashion luncheon Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. Punch will be served at noon, and hostesses will be Mmes. Lee Gamill and Howard Banks.

Fashions will be shown from a San Rafael shop. Club members modeling will be Mmes. James Potts, Victor Grant, Eugene Aureguy, James Goldsmith, John Eliot and Rudolph Kopfer.

Mrs. Robbins Whittlesey is reservations chairman.

THE CORTE MADERA Woman's Improvement club will host the executive board of Golden Gate District, California Federation of Women's Clubs, for its meeting on Monday at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Mrs. William B. Wright, district president, will preside, and Mrs. Louis Ivanovich, club president, will welcome those attending. Morning coffee and lunch will be served by members of the Corte Madera club.

A craft demonstration will be given by Mrs. Frank Wulff, district crafts chairman, and a funny hat contest will be held.

Plans for the state convention to be held at the Sheraton Palace in San Francisco April 28 through May 1 will be discussed, as Golden Gate District will be the hostess district.

Marin residents serving as chairmen on the state convention committee include Mmes. Lewis Deu Pree, federation publications and George Entwistle and Lyle Cuykendall, timers.

HEADING UP the two delegations from Marin County to the three-day state convention of the League of Women Voters, to be held Tuesday through Thursday in Southern California, are Mrs. Keith Kaulum of Southern Marin and Mrs. James Good of Central Marin.

Others representing the two leagues at the convention are Mmes. Russell Wallace and Roy Knapp of Southern Marin and William Glascock, Allen Jensen, Jack Silverman and Allan Lovejoy of Central Marin. Also accompanying the Marin delegates to the convention is Mrs. Farrel Schell, this year's president of the Central Marin League, who is a nominee for the 1969-71 state board of directors of the League of Women Voters.

THE 17TH ANNIVERSARY of the founding of the Village Salvage Shop in Tiburon will be celebrated with a birthday party at the shop, 122 Main Street, from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday.

The shop is operated by a board of directors representing each of the four participating organizations. St. Stephens Guild, Westminster Presbyterian Church, St. Hilary's Church and the Reed District Parent - Teacher Club. Mrs. Victor Avilla is manager.

Each Monday a pricing staff works to establish value on goods donated by the community for sale at the shop. The shop is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays and is staffed by volunteers. Proceeds are shared equally among the member organizations.

Coordinating the event, which will feature refreshments and awards, are Mmes. Encounter, French Cookery, Art Programs To Mark YWCA Week

Explorations of the encounter group, of French cooking and of original Marin paintings will be among features of Marin's observance of National YWCA Week, beginning April 20.

Special daytime programs open to the public are scheduled by Marin YWCA at several county locations to acquaint the community with YWCA programs and classes.

A highlight of the week will be the lecture on West African art to benefit the projected YWCA Performing Arts Workshop for teen-agers in Marin City this summer. United Crusade already has allotted $860 in extra funds for the Marin City project as part of crusade's summer work and recreation programs for teen-age youth.

Scheduled at 10 a.m. April 24 in St. Anselm's School auditorium, San Anselmo, the speaker will be Anthony Ojigbo, Nigerian scholar and consultant in African studies to San Francisco schools.

The much-discussed encounter group will be discussed by Mrs. Robert Kohs of San Rafael, administrative assistant of Family Development Agency of Marin County, in Church of the Redeemer Parish House, San Rafael, at 10 a.m. April 22.

The making and tasting of several kinds of crepes will be the piece de resistance at a demonstration of French cooking by Jan Toulon of Fairfax in First Congregational Church, Santa Venetia, at 10 a.m., April 23.

Mrs. Toulon, a Marin native who lived in France for some years, will conduct a six-weeks class in French cooking for Marin YW scheduled to start May 6, featuring specialties of a different French province each week.

Marinites may bring two of their original paintings to an art critique to be conducted by Belvedere artist Barbara Briggs, YW art instructor, set at the First Congregational Church in Santa Venetia, from 2:30 to 4 p.m. April 23.

Information and reservations may be obtained from the Marin YWCA, 305 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Family Camping Trips Should Be Planned Ahead

Children enjoy adventures in the great outdoors. At any age, they are natural explorers who delight in spotting strange birds, digging in the sand, splashing in lake or ocean waters and finding pretty wildflowers they've never seen before. Families who love to picnic and to camp, and want to include their infants and toddlers in the fun, will welcome these hints.

Feeding tiny offspring their favorite foods alfresco is no problem if you own a wide mouth vacuum bottle. Baby foods, junior foods, and toddler meals can be heated at home, then poured into the wide-mouth bottle which has been preconditioned with hot water. Infant meals packed this way will stay warm for hours, and this eliminates the fuss of preparation at the picnic site.

Desserts and salads are easily tranported in a insulated container, tailor-made for keeping foods cold, and boasts a wide mouth opening for easy filling and serving.

Camping families find that many public and private campgrounds cater to small children with play areas that are safe and fun. State and federally-owned camps frequently sponsor nature talks which can introduce even toddlers to the pleasures of life outdoors.

Parents camping with tots bless the ice chest. Fill the cooler with block ice (melts more slowly than ice cubes), and pack a generous supply of milk, individual cans of fruit juice and other perishables inside. One seasoned camper recommends freezing water in large, rinsed-out milk cartons. Water won't run all over your carefully packed goods, and you'll have a supply of clean drinking water when the ice melts.

Very handy for outings is an ice chest divider which can be filled with water and frozen. It separates food from bottles, jars and cans.

Marin Country Club Homes

The most outstanding home location in beautiful sunny Marin County . . . situated in a world of panoramic beauty 23 minutes from the Golden Gate Bridge, all this, and a rambling golf course combined with homes that express individuality and expound gracious living amidst a whirl and exclusiveness of country club life. FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

Tomorrow's issue of the Independent-Journal's Marin Magazine will be a king-size one, devoted to a special and important subject — the school board election to be held in Marin on Tuesday. In its pages, readers will find brief biographies and campaign statements of all the candidates for the important board of trustee positions that will be at stake. Voters will want to study it for guidance before going to the polls Tuesday to render their decisions.

Along with the pages devoted to the features so popular with its readers, school board election, tomorrow's Marin Magazine will also include all the usual including the reviews of current and important books. Some of the titles to be reviewed tomorrow: "Robert Browning and His World" by Maisie Ward, "Open Horizons" by Sigurd F. Olson, "Make Yourself an Earthquake" by Mark Dintenfass. Also: John Sunier's reviews of the newest records of all kinds.

Pay Hikes As Flood Board Members Eyed

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Sonoma County supervisors — already in public controversy over the proposed $2,800 board salary hike — have been privately negotiating for increases as directors of the Sonoma County Flood Control District.

An amendment to a bill introduced Monday by Assembly William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, would establish payment of $50 per day for the supervisors acting as the water district directors.

Although the board had been openly discussing an increase in pay as supervisors from $13,200 to $16,000, no public mention had been made of the other proposed salary hike.

Until January 1967, supervisors had been paid $1,900 per year as flood district directors, but when the total supervisors' salary topped $10,000, the district payment was eliminated.

Supervisors meet each Tuesday at 2 p.m. to direct the district's affairs, but the session usually lasts less than 30 minutes and rarely longer than one hour.

The Bagley amendment, which was prepared by County Counsel Richard M. Ramsey, proposes a salary of $50 per day for attending meetings. The bill would also change the name of the Sonoma County Flood Control and Water Conservation District to the Sonoma County Water Agency, and would raise interest rate limits on general obligation bonds from 5 to 6 per cent.

As is the case with supervisorial pay increases, the board must also publicly request that Bagley make the amendment to the bill increasing salaries.

Bel Marin Keys Lagoon Survey Set

The Lagoon at Bel Marin Keys will be surveyed tomorrow to see if the dredging has lowered the bottom to the five feet below low water specified in the contract, it was reported last night to the Bel Marin Keys Community Service District, according to publicity chairman Joan Wrightsman.

The work has been completed and the pipes removed, but the dredge, belonging to Hydraulic Dredge of Oakland, is still in the lagoon.

The board will consult hydraulic engineers to see if the district can get a long range plan to maintain the depth of the lagoon. The board has obtained permission from owners of 28 acres north of Novato Creek for a future spoils site, Mrs. Wrightman said.

The board agreed to hire a swimming pool attendant for six hours a day, six days a week, starting June 1. The attendant has not yet been selected, Mrs. Wrightsman said.

Adoptive Parents Slate Phone-In

Marin Adoptive Parents, Inc. will hold a phone-in at the Civic Center from 1 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday to answer questions about adoptions and the adoptive process, in observance of Adoption Week, April 14 through 18.

A film, "Bridge to Adoption," will be shown at 8 p.m. Monday at the Civic Center.

A meeting of Marin Adoptive Parents, Inc. will end the week's activities. It will be held at 8 p.m. next Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Phillips, 840 Idylberry Road, San Rafael, with the new Marin foster parents group.

Rehearing Set On Water Rates

The state Public Utilities Commission Tuesday granted a rehearing to Olema Water System on its application to increase rates for water service, Eugene Raleigh, the commission's information officer, announced yesterday.

The rehearing, as yet unscheduled, stays the effective date of a commission decision of February 11 which approved rate increases to the utility's 23 metered customers.

The utility's original application sought a 200 per cent increase, raising the existing rates from $2.47 a month average to an average of $7.41 a month. The stayed decision set rates at an average of $4.22 a month, with another increase upon completion of improved service of $6.70.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies currently being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent-Teacher Association magazines and the Film Report of the Film Estimate Board. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Paper Lion" — Hilarious account of a writer's adventures at the training camp of Detroit Lions football team.

"Support Your Local Sheriff" — Clever spoof of western melodrama full of high adventure and laughter.

"With Six You Get Eggroll" — Fresh amusing comedy. Marriage of widow mother to widower combines family numbers to six . . . all the children resent the marriage.

"Yellow Submarine" — Sparkling animated cartoon featuring special humor and music of the Beatles.

"Yours, Mine and Ours" — An ingratiating cast in a warm, lively domestic comedy. Very human, filled with fun and laughter.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Buona Sera, Mrs. Campbell" — For their 20th reunion, three fliers and their families return to an Italian village. Each flier has been paying generous child support to an Italian woman for her illegitmate daughter. Risque comedy.

"Charge of the Light Brigade" — Biting English film describes events leading to the historic military debacle in the Crimea. Realistic expose of the stupidity of war.

"Charly" — Poignant dramatization of a fictional case history of first human subject of a new type of brain surgery on a mentally retarded young man. Thought provoking, sensitive performances from the cast.

"Illustrated Man" — Carnival man has each of his adventures tattooed on his body. The stories are, to say the least, weird and best left to interpretation of the viewer.

"Impossible Years" — A slick, spurious farce about teen-agers and parents. A good cast is wasted on a mediocre film which has nothing constructive to say.

"Romeo and Juliet" — The great tragedy is made vividly new and immediate in a superlative production.

BORDERLINE

(Most sources say Adults Only)

"Dark of the Sun" — Adventure tale of turmoil in Congo in 1960 is so filled with blood and gore that the plot is lost in an orgy of violence.

"Glory Stompers" — Excessively brutal gang of unwashed hoodlums who race their motorcycles over the highways.

"Miniskirt Mob" — Action is brutal, humor crude. Another gang of hoodlums and their camp followers.

"Sweet November" — Young woman takes a different man each month to share her apartment and bed. Sophisticated soap opera.

ADULTS ONLY

"Candy" — A 17-year-old girl's series of sexual adventures. Massively dull, ugly pornography. Revolting blood-drenched scene of a brain operation is prolonged.

"Devils Angels" — Savage violence of the outlaw motorcycle gangs as they invade peaceful town.

"Magus" — Symbolic mystic drama in which no identity is clearly defined, has suspense and romance. Its obscure message is that "we all must learn to love." Much explicit sex and nudity.

"Touchables" — British sex fantasy, a wild absurd tale of depravity.

"Wild Angel" — Violent, ugly, sensational tale of motorcycle rebels who adopt Nazi symbols. Orgy in a church during a funeral is climax. Whatever the reason for making this film, result is sick, sick madness.

Warrant Issued For Failure To Appear

Judge Hadden W. Roth of Marin Municipal Court yesterday issued a bench warrant with bail set at $2,500 for Eric Girard Jr., 32, of San Francisco, who failed to appear in court to face charges of car theft, driving under the influence of amphetamine and possessing a hypodermic needle.

He was arrested Feb. 16 on Highway 101.

Vandalism Could Halt Coffee House Program

The Terra Linda Parks and Recreation Commission cannot continue supporting the teen coffee house program unless vandalism and littering on the premises are reduced, John A. Colistra, chairman, has warned.

Vandalism and littering at the center were reported to the commission Wednesday by George Croke, assistant director of teen-age activities, whose job includes looking after the security of the buildings. He complained of lack of supervision at the center and declared that the site is not ideal for a teen drop-in center.

Croke recommended more programming of activities and a membership list of those belonging to the coffee house group.

Colistra noted that a former member of the teen coffee group was recently caught breaking into the center.

The teen coffee house group, represented by Mrs. Curtis Pfeiffer of Terra Linda and Gerard Weiss of San Anselmo, appeared before park and recreation district directors to ask for folding doors to serve as a partition in the large room at the center. The directors denied the request.

The Terra Linda Parks and Recreation District directors also:

OFFICE MANAGER — Hired Mrs. Frederick K. Mulhaupt of 672 Woodbine Drove to run the business office because Eleanor Langendorf has resigned. Mrs. Mulhaupt will work a maximum of 130 hours a month at $2.25 per hour. Directors asked Mrs. Langendorf to conintue as part-time bookkeeper, working a maximum of 50 hours per month at $3 per hour.

SENIOR CITIZEN — Named John E. Hinkson of 285 North San Pedro Road as Terra Linda's senior citizen of the year. Hinkson, who will be 84 on June 6, is a retired paint contractor, who entertains senior citizen groups by showing slides of local scenes and activities

POOL MANAGER — Hired Rick Mulhaupt, 18, as pool manager for the summer season for $1,300.

SUMMER ACTIVITIES — announced the following pool activities: Swim lessons will start June 17; swim team May 1 and aquacade June 20.

Dixie Panel Near Pact On Salaries

Dixie School District teachers should get salary raises of $500 per year in the lowest categories to $1,000 at the upper levels, Dixie trustees have agreed after another salary session with the teachers' negotiating council.

Although no formal decision was made Wednesday night, the trustees agreed that a teacher with a five-year credential should begin at $6,800 instead of the present $6,300. At the top of the scale, a teacher in his 10th year in the district should get $13,300 instead of the present top of $12,300.

These would represent an 8 per cent increase in pay, in addition to the automatic annual step increases.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis said that the proposed raises would mean an additional cost of from $220,000 to $250,000 to the district.

Trustees also said they would favor some increase in the district's contribution to the employees' health plan. At present, the district pays a monthly contribution of $5 for partial payment of medical insurance.

The Dixie School District board also:

NEW SUPERINTENDENT — Decided to begin interviewing finalists who are seeking the job of superintendent when Willis retires in June. The interviews will start on Saturday. Willis said 117 applied, of whom about eight are still in competition including some from within the Dixie district.

FEDERAL FUNDS — Applied for National Defense Education Act funds in the amount of $102,770. These applications are for materials and equipment in mathematics, science, history, English and the humanities.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted resignations from Carlene Madsen of Bernard Hoffman School, Angeles Berry of Vallecito School, Barbara Ann Rouse of Santa Margarita School, Madeleine Brewer of Dixie School, Sue Weinstein of Santa Margarita, Joan Barovetto of Mary Silveira, Alexandra Risnyck of Don Timoteo, Marjorie Murray of Vallecito and Saundra Schaulis of Oak View School.

LEAVES — Granted leaves to Priscilla Von Pinnon of Don Timoteo and Lois Zander of Santa Margarita.

EXTENDED LEAVES — Extended leaves for an additional year to Eleanor Eisenberg, on maternity leave; Robert Flohr, teaching overseas, and Sharon Redmond, living out of the area because of her husband's occupation.

Innocent Plea To Illegal Entry

A former San Quentin inmate pleaded innocent Wednesday in Marin Municipal Court to illegally entering the prison grounds several times in the last two months.

A preliminary hearing for Roy Ronald Cerra, 30, of San Francisco, was set for May 29.

It is illegal for a former prison inmate to enter prison grounds without permission of the warden.

Suspect Found In U.S. Prison

Robert Delzell, formerly of Larkspur, who disappeared before he could be tried last year in Marin Superior Court on a charge of selling methedrine, was returned to court Wednesday after he was found serving time in a federal prison.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner had ordered that Delzell be held without bail when he was found after he failed to appear for his trial in July.

A co-defendant, Patricia Jean Chidester, who also fled, has been located in Oregon, according to the district attorney's office but she is fighting extradition.

Judge Gardiner continued Delzell's case until Monday for the defendant to obtain a lawyer.

Delzell is currently serving a three-year sentence at McNeil Island Penitentiary in Washington, according to authorities.

To Discuss Soil

Ira Guthrie of the Redwood High School science department will talk on chemical elements of soil structure and testing and mixing procedure at the 8 p.m. Monday meeting of the Chrysanthemum Society of Marin at Crocker Citizens National Bank, Fourth and B streets, San Rafael.

ANCHOR AWEIGH

A 50-year-old ball and stock anchor yesterday was placed in the Main Street-Tiburon Boulevard intersection divider island in Tiburon as a gift from the Corinthian Yacht Club. The iron anchor which has an eight-foot stock, seven-foot ball (crossbar) and weighs two tons, was cast in 1919 to serve on a Navy destroyer in the 1920s and 1930s. It later was used at the Naval Net Depot on the Tiburon Peninsula as a decoration. It and one other were given to the Corinthian Yacht Club as decorations after the depot closed. It's twin was set in cement at the yacht club a few minutes earlier. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean.)

Sleepy Hollow Homeowners Vote Budget

A budget of $20,000, about the same as last year, was approved last night by the Sleepy Hollow Homeowners Association, vice president Merritt A. Robinson, reported today.

Plans for developing an association position for an access road between Ross Valley and Terra Linda were outlined at the quarterly membership meeting, Robinson said.

President Frank Berto reported a member of the staff of the Marin County Planning Department will attend the group's meeting at 8 p.m. May 15 at the clubhouse to discuss changes to the zoning ordinance, Robinson said.

Candidates for the San Anselmo School District board spoke before the business session.

Bias Charged In Screening Sausalito Candidates Quiz

Several Marin City residents today charged racism entered the handling of a candidates' meeting last week sponsored by the Sausalito Citizens Council.

They said several written questions submitted by Marin City residents for the Sausalito School District board candidates were sidetracked by a screening committee and never asked. The meeting was on March 31.

All three women who screened the incoming questions denied the charges. The only questions not passed on to moderator Donald K. Olsen, they said, were three or four which did not follow ground rules spelled out at the start of the meeting.

Mrs Doretha Mitchell of Marin City said several questions intended for candidates Martha B. Thomson and Ken Elkington were not passed on. She also said all the questions which were passed on came from Sausalitans, while none from Marin City residents were presented to the candidates.

She said she wrote a question asking Elkington his position on ability grouping for pupils, but it was never asked. The question was signed and addressed only to Elkington, she said.

Ground rules were that questions be directed to a lone candidate and be signed.

Mrs. Verna Bynum of Marin City said she wrote a question but the committee cut out part of it before passing it on. She said that since Elkington "disagreed with the Learning and Guidance Center," she asked him, "if he felt there were too many minorities employed at the center, what would he replace the Guidance Center with."

Mrs. Bynum said the question was abbreviated to "what would you substitute for the Learning and Guidance Center." She said she tore the edge of her paper so she could tell what was done with it by the screeners.

The screening committee, Mrs. Benjamin Farnham, Mrs. Ruth Sisson and Mrs. Margot Gergus, all denied the charges.

"Frankly I'm rather shocked" at the allegations, Mrs. Sisson said. There were a very few questions that were not addressed to a candidate, or to more than one, or were unsigned. I don't think more than three altogether."

Mrs. Gergus said only two questions were turned down, one from her husband Raymond G. Gergus, which the women felt wasn't relevant and another which was unsigned.

"One question came up three times and all three times it had no signature," Mrs. Gergus said. "So what are you going to do?" She said there is "absolutely no foundation" for the reports of suppressed questions.

"One question was a two-part question and the first part was kind of nasty so we drew a line through it," she said. This may have been Mrs. Bynum's question.

Mrs. Farnham agreed only three or four questions were not passed on, and those because they were unsigned or intended for more than one candidate.

Mrs. Mitchell said "it's just not so" that no questions were stopped. "It's just a bigoted prejudiced thing as far as I'm concerned."

Mrs. Bynum said she has been to Citizens Council meetings before, "but never one so biased."

The ground rules for questions, Mrs. Gergus said, have been used by the council "for years and years" because in the past anonymous questions "got pretty personal and vile." Requiring a signature keeps the questions within bounds, she said.

The social action committee of People Against Racism wrote the Independent-Journal protesting handling of the meeting, and said at least five questions were submitted by Marin City residents for candidate Nathaniel Johnson, none getting past the screening.

Mrs. Mitchell said most of the Marin City questions were not for Johnson, who is black and a Marin City resident, but for Elkington and Mrs. Thomson.

Several other Marin City residents reported to have submitted unanswered questions could not be reached.

The candidates will speak again at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Manzanita Center, Marin City, in a meeting sponsored by the Marin City Art and Culture Club.

Candidates for three seats are Mrs. Thomson, Elkington, Johnson, incumbent David E. Freedheim and Charles Gerald Clear. Clear.

Scaled-Down Angel Island Plan Viewed

A scaled-down plan for development of Angel Island was presented today at a California Park and Recreation Commission hearing in the Marin County Civic Center.

The plan, calling for daily use of the park by 6,000 people instead of 10,000, and eliminating marina-type berthing, was still criticized by the Marin Conservation League.

Harold E. Gregg, league president, said 6,000 persons per day on the 730-acre island was still an "overuse."

"Visitors should be limited, by reservation if necessary, to a small fraction of the proposed total," he added.

Gregg said the league opposes all overnight accommodations except possibly some campsites for organized groups at the north garrison.

Commercial enterprises such as hotels, shops, convention facilities, pools, theaters, bars and urban-type restaurants would be incompatible said Gregg.

He commended state park planners for eliminating a proposed restaurant and other development atop Mount Caroline Livermore, the highest peak on the island, and reserving it as a natural overlook for hikers.

John F. McInnis, chairman of the Marin Board of Supervisors, welcomed the commission to Marin and expressed hope that could help get the federal government to expand Point Reyes National Seashore and preserve some of the scenic easements along Marin's coastline.

Commissioners named a new chairman, Leonard S. Thomson of Taft, to succeed Harry E. Sokolov of Los Angeles.

Band Festival Sunday Is Free

A band festival will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Terra Linda High School gymnasium with about 590 band members from Northern California expected.

Gordon Lowe, of the school's music department, said the festival was organized to give students a chance to hear other groups perform.

Bands from Ceres, Cupertino, Santa Rosa, Novato, San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools will participate, he said.

The concert is open to the public without charge.

Teachers Asking Big Pay Increase

Larkspur teachers — who say they are 85th out of 87 on a salary schedule survey list — told two Larkspur School District trustees yesterday that they want a 13.7 per cent salary increase to bring them up to a median position with Bay Area school districts.

The request was made by Larkspur Teacher Association chairman Michael Fleming, a Neil Cummins School teacher.

The quiet session between teachers, trustees John W. Boyd and Curtis P. Kamai, plus administrators was the first "meet and confer" session of the two groups.

No action was taken but a second session was set for 7 p.m., May 2 at Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

Many statistics were presented by teacher Robert Reynolds who explained that the 13.7 per cent proposed increase for 1969-70 would result in a salary range from $6,545 to $13,835. Current range is $5,800 to $11,400.

The two parties argued the 13.7 per cent figure, association members saying it is an increase for all teachers including principals, while Supt. Milton S. Cohen said the district has to figure the salary schedule for "all the people" and this would include teaching vice principals and specialists — or an 18.3 per cent increase.

The school board on March 14 declared ridiculous the 18.6 per cent increase, a figure submitted at that time.

Reynolds, using a movie screen to show data, illustrated average annual teacher salaries for 104 elementary and high school districts showing San Mateo High School at $12,361, Mill Valley at $10,245, Reed at $9,560 and Larkspur at $9,214. He said that three Marin districts are lower than Larkspur — Dixie, Fairfax and Bolinas-Stinson.

The association is requesting sabbatical leaves for the 1969-70 year, of either one year at half salary or a half-year at full salary. No cost estimates were given.

The teacher told the negotiators that there has been a record 4.5 per cent cost of living increase between December of 1967 and December 1968, to which trustee John W. Boyd asked, "Doesn't the same cost of increase apply to the people who are furnishing the budget?" "We're aware of that," said Reynolds.

Gabe Jackson Acquitted In Shooting Case

A jury of nine women and three men apparently convinced that Gabe Jackson, 32-year-old community worker for the Sausalito School District, shot fellow Marin City resident Frederick Washington in self defense, yesterday acquitted him.

Jackson had been charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, but Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Superior Court also explained to the jury they could convict him of the lesser charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

The jury, whose foreman was H. Gordon Douglas of Sausalito, deliberated about five hours before coming to a verdict.

Jackson's wife, Lynette, a clerk for Marin Municipal Court who had sat quietly during his trial, wept as the verdict was announced.

The shooting took place Aug. 23 on a Marin City street after an argument following a crap game. Washington had grabbed about $130 out of Jackson's hand, according to the testimony, and during a heated debate that followed, Jackson said that he thought Washington was reaching for a gun.

The gun turned out to be a meat cleaver which glanced off Jackson's shoulder. Jackson's weapon was a gun he said he found while hiking near Marin City.

Petaluma Mayor Asks Re-Election

Petaluma Mayor Helen Putnam announced today that she will seek a second term as mayor in the June 10 municipal election, as she took out candidacy papers at city hall.

A teacher-principal at the Two Rock Elementary School, Mrs. Putnam was involved in education before becoming active in city government. She served on the Petaluma Board of Education from 1947 to 1959 and was president of the California School Boards Association in 1958-59.

Mrs. Putnam is president of the Sonoma County Mayors' and Councilmen's Association and of the Redwood Empire Association. She is a member of the American Association of University Women and is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley.

She and her husband, Rutherford, live at 900 B Street and are the parents of a son and a daughter.

Flexible Scheduling Proposal Is Defeated

Faculty members at San Rafael High School rejected yesterday a plan for flexible scheduling at the school next year, although the proposal was approved by 61 per cent of those voting.

Defeated by a vote of 60 yes to 38 no was a plan to adopt a scheduling system based on 15-minute "modules." The faculty had agreed at a meeting Wednesday that it would not recommend the new system to the board of education unless it received two-thirds approval.

Dr. Alan Ellsberg, principal of San Rafael High School, has said the 15-minute system would free students from a regimented schedule objected to be many and enable them to take more subjects. The system does not mean each class would be 15 minutes, but be composed of varying numbers of 15-minutes segments, or modules.

Some classes would run considerably longer, with free periods devoted to supervised study or small group meetings with teachers.

Ellsberg said yesterday's vote leaves open the possibility that the proposal may be reintroduced at a later date. Also, he said, school department chairmen met after the vote and indicated they wanted some moderate form of flexible scheduling at the school next semester.

He said elimination of the bell system could be recommended to give students more responsiblity in moving to and from classes.

Wright Backs Reed School Tax Hike

Gordon C. Wright, candidate in next Tuesday's election for the board of trustees in the Reed School District, supports the 50-cent hike in the property tax rate proposed in the district, contrary to an incorrect report in yesterday's Independent-Journal that he opposed the increase at a candidates' night Wednesday at Del Mar School.

The tax proposal also will be on the ballot in Tuesday's election.

New Tomales High Reported Nearly Finished

The new Tomales High School is nearing completion and should be finished by May 15, Supt. Anthony Matulich last night reported to the Tomales High School District board.

The painters are now starting to paint the building, he said. Olson and Baum, general contractors, reported that the plumbers has not finished installing the irrigation in the football field, so it has not been planted.

Matulich asked the board to plan when and what it wants in the way of a dedication of the new high school, he said.

The Tomales High School District board also:

OPEN HOUSE — Set April 22 for open house at the high school. A dinner will be served from 6 to 8 p.m. with the program in the auditorium. Afterwards classrooms will be open for visiting.

LEAVE — Granted J. Fred Schlotthauer, mathematics teacher, leave without pay for next school year.

ACCREDITATION — Adjourned to 7:30 p.m., April 30, when the board will study the accreditation report on the high school.

Are you imaginative?? Think what you could do with a home that already has all these important qualities: 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, a huge kitchen, covered backyard BBQ, a 100' frontage on a deep water canal close to the Marin Yacht Club, and your own spacious dock. This home on Pt. San Pedro Road needs just a little fixing up. Price $59,950.

PRIVACY PLUS
One Acre: This peaceful family home high in the hills of Fairhills in San Rafael has a U-Shaped floor plan encompassing a delightful outdoor living area with ample room for a pool. The house has a separate dining room, a kitchen with a distinct breakfast area, four bedrooms in addition to a den or family room. If you have been looking for a home in this price range, this property is well worth the time to inspect and check the value at the price of $69,500.

ROOMS GALORE
Wish you had a separate room for sewing or the Hi-Fi or perhaps overnite guests? With this lovely home you would have the luxury of "rooms to spare." It includes 5 bedrooms, 4½ baths, a family room covering the entire first floor, and a balcony encircling the better portion of the home. There is even plenty of room for a pool! This is a "must-see" for any large family with that "fenced-in" feeling!!! Price $69,500.

TIPS FOR BUYERS
THERE ARE 3 MOST IMPORTANT ELEMENTS TO CONSIDER WHEN BUYING A HOME — LOCATION, LOCATION AND LOCATION! TRITE? YES, IT IS—BUT TRUE NONE THE LESS! OF COURSE, A GOOD LOCATION MAY BE DIFFERENT FOR DIFFERENT FAMILIES. WEATHER; PROXIMITY TO SCHOOLS; CHURCHES, SHOPPING AND TRANSPORTATION; TYPE OF NEIGHBORHOOD; RESALE VALUE; ALL OF THESE RELATE TO LOCATION! ASK ANY ONE OF OUR 12 RESIDENTIAL SPECIALISTS AT BUSH REALTY FOR EXPERT ADVICE!

✓ $37,800 DON'T CALL AFTER MONDAY
Because this lovely 3-bedroom home will be sold this weekend! Yes — there is a family room and a separate dining room! 2 full baths plus a powder room! Tremendous view and located in the most convenient good weather area of Marin County — Corte Madera! Eves. ph. 479-2326.

✓ $38,500 GLENWOOD SPECIAL
TEMPTING AND INVITING is the huge SWIMMING POOL, sparkling in the sun. That would also admirably describe this pleasant 3-bedroom, 2-bath home, situated on a quiet, sunny cul-de-sac! You'll love the family room, with indoor brick BBQ and double fireplace in living room! Separate dining area in roomy all-elec. kitchen! Just what you've been looking for! Eves. ph. 456-6773.

✓ $39,900 COOL IN THE SUMMER
Warm and cheery in the winter! Designed for busy people who want a low-maintenance home! Very convenient location in central San Rafael! Features beam ceilings, parquet floors, used brick fireplace, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths and a perfectly beautiful kitchen. Eves. phone 456-6773.

✓ $45,000 MOUNTAIN RETREAT
In the heart of Marin! This home is designed for the individual who demands the unusual! Situated high in the hills the view reaches to the bay! The 2200 livable sq. ft. features 2 bedrooms, a huge family room with a 2nd fireplace, completely built-in kitchen and a dining room! Possible guest cottage for additional sleeping area. Eves. ph. 456-6773.

✓ $47,900 FIRST TIME OFFERED
Roomy 4-bedroom, 3-bath home, with separate family room and formal dining room! Double oven, all-electric kitchen, with breakfast eating area! Unusually fine w/w carpeting throughout! Fully landscaped with automatic sprinklers front and back. Eves. ph. 479-5187.

✓ $75,000 DRAMATIC
You could entertain a host of friends around the functional living areas. A massive Oregon driftstone fireplace provides the central theme! Sliding glass doors and full picture windows bring the magnificent view right inside! Patio and pool duplicate the entertainment possibilities for balmy weather! The bedroom wing has 4 bedrooms and 2 baths. First time offered. Eves. ph. 479-5187.

$25,450 HOME FOR A FAMILY
A non-tract home, close-in San Anselmo. The site is completely level. Location is perfect for growing children, minimum traffic and near playground. Residence has three bedrooms, plus large rumpus room for rainy days. A new listing.

$26,950 A VERY GOOD BUY
Offering a non-tract home in the prime residential area of San Anselmo within a short walk to commute bus, shops and schools. Residence provides seven rooms with 3 bedrooms plus den or 4th bedroom, 1½ baths, built-in electric kitchen, w/w carpeting, roof less than 1 year old. Home is insulated, brick fireplace. We urge your leisurely inspection.

$40,950 PERMA-BILT RESALE
Just two years young and its condition is better than new. W/w carpeting, rugs and draperies will remain. A separate family room, a formal dining room plus breakfast nook in ultramodern kitchen, three bedrooms, 2 baths, random plank pegged hardwood flooring. Heavy shake lifetime roof. The site is level, the landscaping all in. A new listing.

$42,500 RETURN TO PARADISE
This is a ⅔-acre setting unlike anything else in the entire county. The grounds are mostly level with a gentle downslope enhanced by many stately oak trees. Many fruit trees, exotic shrubs and plants, winding garden paths, several patio areas and outdoor deck and cookhouse complete with stove, refrigerator and wet bar provide a setting that will captivate you.

A traditional residence providing FIVE bedrooms, a 12x33-ft. living room, a 14x22 formal dining room, 3 full baths and family room. Oceans of privacy.

$27,950 COUNTRY SETTING
A level ¼ acre with many shade trees. A ranch style residence built in 1962. Exterior of redwood rustic and used brick. Three bedrooms, 1½ baths, fireplace, central heating, w/w carpeting, separate utility room, plus large deck for outdoor entertaining. Home is insulated.

$26,950 THE VIEW ALONE!!!
Will capture your heart. Here is a ¼-acre site providing the utmost privacy in a woodsy rustic setting. A contemporary residence in tip-top condition. Exposed beamed ceiling, luxurious w/w carpeting and draperies will remain. Both bedrooms are quite large, tile bath and modern kitchen. Outdoor deck enjoys early morning sun and is a delightful spot for entertaining with the entire valley a picturesque sight all day long.

$36,950 AN EASY COMMUTE
To San Francisco or the East Bay. A residence all on one level with approx. 80-ft. street frontage. Combining 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, separate dining room plus full breakfast room in modern kitchen paneled in golden birch with 24 cabinets and ample storage area. Luxurious w/w carpeting over hardwood flooring. Heavy shake lifetime roof. Entire grounds are landscaped and include sprinkler system.

$57,950 CUSTOM HOME – SLEEPY HOLLOW

HOME WITH

Mother-in-law quarters. This beautiful reconditioned home, on a level lot, walking distance to town and schools, has almost complete living quarters below. An extra kitchen, and a huge area that has been completely sheet rocked and rewired, plus new light fixtures. This large area is now 3 large rooms, but one room could be a huge family room or divided into 2 big bdrs. — this lower area is almost another complete home perfect for your mother-in-law or a large family. The upper portion has an all new kitchen, including stove and refrig., all new bathroom, new luxuryw/w carpeting, new furnace, all new copper pipes and new wiring thruout. The bdrms. are extra large. This beautiful property sits on a 50x110 level lot with plenty of trees. The lot alongside, of equal dimensions, could also be purchased. Combining both lots would make this an R-2 lot. House and one lot only $24,500.

SANITARY DISTRICT NO. 2 OF MARIN COUNTY A SUBSIDIARY DISTRICT OF THE TOWN OF CORTE MADERA FIFER FORCE MAIN NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS

Sealed proposals will be received by the District Secretary of Sanitary District No. 2, a subsidiary district of the Town of Corte Madera, until 2:00 P.M., May 2, 1969 for:

The construction of an 8-inch force main to replace existing force main and associated connections and appurtenances which will be abandoned in place.

Plans and specifications may be examined at the office of the District, 300 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California; at the Builder's Exchange, 850 South Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco, at the Builder's Exchange, 320 East 12th Street, Oakland; and at the Marin Builder's Exchange, 110 Belvedere Street, San Rafael. Plans and specifications may be obtained at the offices of the District and of Brown and Caldwell, 66 Mint Street, San Francisco, California, upon deposit of $10.00 per set, $5.00 of which will be refunded if the set or sets delivered are returned in good condition within fifteen (15) days after the bid opening.

Said proposals or bids must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed "Sanitary District No. 2 of Marin County, 300 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, California," and endorsed "Proposal for Fifer Force Main."

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a certified or Cashier's check payable to the order of the District amounting to ten per cent (10%) of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said District, signed by the bidder and a corporate admitted surety or two individual sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer an oath, in double said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions. Said check shall be forfeited or said bond shall become payable to said District in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within fifteen days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him enter into a contract with the District, the faithful performance of which shall be secured by an undertaking in the amount of one hundred per cent (100%) of the amount so bid, with sureties satisfactory to the said Sanitary Board, and which shall be accompanied by a labor and material bond in a sum equal to one hundred per cent (100%) of the amount of said bid, under the provision of Chapter 3, comprising Sections 4200 to 4208, inclusive, of the Government Code of the State of California.

The District reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to waive any informality in a bid.

BY ORDER OF SANITARY DISTRICT NO. 2, A SUBSIDIARY DISTRICT OF THE TOWN OF CORTE MADERA, CALIFORNIA.

Dated: April 8, 1969.

NOTICE OF HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Marin County Planning Commission will hold two public hearings to consider its Resolution of Intention for an amendment to Title 22 of the Marin County Code, which amendment would establish Tomales Bay Interim Zone prohibiting encroachment of the Tomales Bay area inconsistent with the Parks and Recreation Plan 1990 and the West Marin General Plan.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that said hearings will be held during the meeting of the Marin County Planning Commission on Monday, April 21, 1969, and May 5, 1969, in the Planning Commission Hearing Room, Civic Center, San Rafael, which meetings commence at 9:00 a.m. Those wishing to attend said hearings may call the Planning Department, 479-1100, Extension 2526, on Friday, April 18, 1969, and Friday, May 2, 1969, in order to be informed of the place on the agenda and approximate time of the hearing.

These hearings are held at the request of the Board of Supervisors. The Ordinance under consideration is the same as the one approved by the Planning Commission after the hearing on March 24, 1969.

PAUL C. ZUCKER,
Secretary of the Planning Commission, County of Marin, State of California

No. 395 Apr. 11, 1969

NOTICE OF HEARING

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that sealed proposals or bids will be received by the Board of Trustees of the REED UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT at the Administration Building, 1155 Tiburon Boulevard, Belvedere-Tiburon, California, up to 4:00 o'clock P.M., April 30, 1969, for the construction of

REEDLAND WOODS MIDDLE SCHOOL, REED UNION SCHOOL DISTRICT, BELVEDERE-TIBURON, CALIFORNIA

located at Blackfield Drive and Via Los Altos, Belvedere-Tiburon, California.

Wages Scales:

All workmen employed by the Contractor or any sub-contractor in the construction of the above-named project must be paid in accordance with the scale of wages found to be prevailing and most recently adopted by the Board of Supervisors by resolution as the prevailing scale of wages and which is on file in the office thereof. Such prevailing wage scale resolution as it applies to the locality in which the work referred to is to be performed, is hereby incorporated in this notice by this reference as though fully set forth, and including specifications therein of per diem wages for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality of the project, and all fringe benefits included in labor agreements.

Said schedule of per diem wages is based upon an eight hour working day unless otherwise specified herein, and the wages prescribed are the per diem rates divided by the number of hours constituting the working day.

All skilled and other labor not listed is to be paid not less than union scale for such labor.

Bid Bond:

Each bid must be accompanied by cash, a certified or cashier's check, or a Bidder's Bond by a Surety Company satisfactory to the District in the sum of 10% of total aggregate amount of bid, and such checks or bond shall be made payable to the order of the School District giving this notice as liquidated damages, actual damages being difficult to ascertain, in case the successful bidder fails to file satisfactory bonds as required by the Contract Documents, or fails, refuses, or is unable to enter into a written contract within the specified time. Checks and bid bonds may be submitted separately from bids and will be opened along with the Proposal by the District's Administrator for inspection.

Performance Bond, Labor and Material Bond:

The successful bidder must furnish a Performance Bond and a Labor and Material Bond each in an amount equal to the total amount payable under the Contract.

Plans and Specifications:

Plans, specifications, and other documents may be secured at the office of the Architect:

RON D. YOUNG,
Architect & Associates
1350 Duane Avenue

COUNCILMAN'S DILEMMA

San Rafael Councilman John A. Miskimen faces a problem steeper than the bluff on which perches this home he wants to buy at 187 Oak Drive in Bayside acres. (See story, page 1.) The house is just outside city limits and councilmen are required by law to live within the limits. The beach house (right) was destroyed some time ago by fire. Last night, the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission put off for one month a decision on Miskimen's request to annex to the City of San Rafael.

Save-The-Bay Bill Bogged In Lobbying?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Despite a Reagan administration plea for speed, action has been delayed in the Assembly on a bill extending the life of the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

A hearing on a bill by Assemblyman Don Mulford, R-Piedmont, had been scheduled yesterday by the Assembly Committee on Local Government. But the hearing unexpectedly was postponed. When it will be held is uncertain.

Mulford said the committee took the measure under submission without hearing testimoney because of the introduction of a variety of bills dealing with bay conservation and prevention of filling the bay.

Mulford said he hopes for some kind of action in about two weeks.

He acknowledged that "some pretty powerful lobbyists have been retained" by firms with land and interests around the bay.

"The issue now is joined. It's a question of working out an acceptable compromise," Mulford said.

Asked if he would be willing to compromise a ban on bay fill, Mulford said he could not discuss details of the bay controversy at this point.

Among the lobbyists representing firms around the bay are Vince Kennedy and James Garibaldi, two veterans of the legislative halls, representing Leslie Salt.

"Simply stated," Kennedy said, "Leslie Salt, perhaps like some others — like Santa Fe — own this contiguous property and they want the right to develop it. They go along with commitments to conservation. They don't want to build piers. They don't want to be foreclosed."

Norman B. Livermore Jr., Gov. Ronald Reagan's resources secretary, was prepared to testify on behalf of the bay measure yesterday. He even had distributed in advance a copy of his planned remarks.

Livermore said approval of the legislation is a matter of great urgency.

Bay fill controls lapse at the end of this year unless the Legislature extends the life of the Bay Conservation and Development Commission or takes some similar action.

Leslie also is opposing a proposed wildlife refuge in the South Bay Area.

Assembly Winnowing Campus Violence Bills

SACRAMENTO (AP) — One way of stemming violence on California's campuses, according to proposals now being studied by a special Assembly committee, would be the automatic suspension or dismissal of persons convicted of felonious acts.

But such a measure may have to get by some legislative opposition before the state colleges, junior colleges and universities can take that step against students or faculty members.

The proposal made public at yesterday's meeting of the Assembly Select Committee on Campus Disturbances is one of 20 offered by John Mockler, the Assembly Education Committee's consultant, and Tom Carroll, consultant to the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee.

They recommended that the suspension or dismissal penalty be made automatic for "students and faculty members who are convicted of specific direct violent acts such as assault, bombings and the willful destruction of property."

Ather suggestions being reviewed included setting up official grievance procedures to provide better communication between students, faculty, administrators and governing boards.

Mockler and Carroll also suggested that student representatives be allowed on all official college and university campus committees.

The Senate has already passed several bills dealing with campus upheaval but they are being held up until several Assembly committees and subcommittees sift through about 100 measures introduced to handle such troubles.

Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, says he wants to make certain the Legislature doesn't rush through bills which could infringe on an individual's basic rights and be nullified as unconstitutional.

Monagan has also said he expects the lawmakers will ultimately pass four or five bills to give college and university administrators the tools they need to handle demonstrations and violence as they occur.

Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose, objected that the automatic penalty would limit the flexibility of college and university administrators trying to deal with individual situations and violators.

Other proposals received by the committee yesterday include:

Withdrawing for up to two years state scholarships and grant-in-aid funds for students convicted of violence on campus.

Making assaults on campus police carry the same penalties as assaults on regular law enforcement officers.

Expanding educational opportunities programs.

—Making it a misdemeanor for a suspended student to return to the campus if he has been ordered not to return.

Providing all students with specific campus rules and regulations and specific penalties for violations.

East Bay Blast Destroys Home, Kills Occupant

The fatality was Leslie Worcester, 62, whose body was found on a living room sofa of his two-bedroom home. A retired auto worker, Worcester had put the house up for sale three days ago.

Investigators theorized an accumulation of gas triggered the predawn explosion that hurled a large ball of flame skyward. Several nearby houses were damaged by the blast which also ripped down fences in some yards.

Charles Steneck, 9, suffered facial cuts when his bedroom window was blown onto his bed. Worcester's house and the Steneck family home were only about 20 feet apart.

Investigators said Worcester had planned to move to the Detroit area to live with his elderly mother.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Doctors Usually Unworried If Baby's A Bit Late Arriving

VAN DELLEN

Most babies arrive on schedule. This is in the neighborhood of 280 days from the first day of the last menstrual period. When the child is premature, mother has no time to worry about the consequences.

On the other hand, a problem arises when the anticipated day of the blessed event comes and goes. Concern or outright alarm may occur when labor pains fail to develop.

VARIOUS FACTORS alter the duration of pregnancy. Even when the exact time of fertilization is known, the gestation period varies from 220 to 320 days. For full development, some tykes require a longer stay in the uterus; as the late DeLee said, "Some seeds in favorable soil grow faster than others."

There is no advantage to prolonged pregnancy. Some obstetricians set a date and induce labor when they believe the term is long enough. Many more prefer to let nature take its course, provided everything is normal.

STUDIES DONE a number of years ago showed that delay had nothing to do with the age of the mother, or whether this was her first or fifth baby.

The average size of the babies was slightly larger than infants who came on time but the difference was not great enough to cause difficulty. When delivered, the infants began to breathe and cry as soon as babies born on time.

On the other hand, in prolonged pregnancy, the mortality rate is slightly greater and this, plus the increased weight, is considered the only threat to the welfare of the unborn child.

IT IS A TOUGH JOB for the obstetrician to decide whether to let well enough alone, or to induce labor. Judgment and experience, as well as the condition of the mother, determine his decision.

ONIONS WON'T CURE COLD

Miss G. writes: My grandmother insisted that onions could cure colds. Do you think there is anything to this remedy?

REPLY

No, it belongs to the era of lettuce to induce sleep, fish as a brain food, parsley to step up fluid output, garlic for high blood pressure, and port wine for anemia. While a cold cure is as elusive as it was 50 years ago, at least we know what won't cure a cold.

CONVERSION REACTION

A reader writes: What can you tell me about conversion reaction in a 23-year-old woman?

REPLY

If you refer to a form of neurosis, it means that the emotional conflicts are converted into physical symptoms such as palpitation, pain, itching, or numbness. Psychiatrists say that the condition is a "transformation of psychic conflicts into functional disorders."

EYE REDNESS

A reader writes: I went to a doctor about bloodshot eyes. The new glasses he prescribed haven't helped. What causes this condition?

REPLY

Local irritation from dust, tobacco, smoke, gas, bright lights, and cold winds. Redness also is associated with eyestrain, allergy such as hay fever, and a speck in the eye.

Today's Health Hint — An annual Pap test for uterine cancer would save 32,000 women each year.

Motorcycle Helmets Bill Skids In Debate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The helmet may become to the motorcycle what the seat belt has become to the auto, according to testimony yesterday in the Assembly Transportation Committee.

Assemblyman John F. Foran, D-San Francisco, author of a bill which would, in part, require all motorcycle riders to wear helmets, asked that no action be taken after a series of major alterations were suggested.

Foran's bill would also require the highway patrol to set standards for helmets and require persons or firms offering motorcycles for rent to also offer helmets to the renters.

But strong opposition by motorcyclists to the mandatory helmets prompted Assemblyman David A. Roberti, D-Los Angeles, to propose that the requirement be deleted in favor of a compromise amendment.

Roberti, acting on a suggestion by Sonny Barger of Oakland, a member of the Hell's Angels Motorcycle Club, proposed that helmets be made standard equipment in the sale or rental of a motorcycle but that use of the headgear be left up to the rider, as seatbelt use is left up to auto users.

The lone witness favoring required use of helmets, Dr. George Snively, director of the Sacramento Medical Center, explained that head injuries to motorcyclists don't happen often but that when they do occur, they are usually serious or fatal.

He noted that New York State now requires the wearing of helmets and that since 1967, when the law was enacted, the number of serious and fatal head injuries to motorcyclists each year has dropped by 59 per cent.

But the long-haired, bearded, leather-jacket-clad Barger argued that helmets tend to impair a rider's hearing and vision and that, while the number of fatalities might drop, the number of accidents might rise.

Two Answers Proposed On Marijuana

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly has tackled the issue of marijuana possession and gone both ways with it — proposing new sanctions against some offenders and lighter penalties for others.

The lower house passed on to the Senate yesterday a bill which would suspend the driver's licenses of teen-age motorists and passengers convicted of possessing marijuana or similar narcotics while in a car.

It also approved for consideration by the upper house a measure to permit persons convicted of possession between 1961 and 1968 to ask the courts to reduce it from a felony to a misdemeanor. It would apply only to persons initially paroled.

Assemblyman Mike Cullen, D-Long Beach, said he hoped his bill to allow juvenile judges to order one-year license suspensions for 16- and 17-year-olds would deter teen-agers from using marijuana since "nothing is more precious to kids in high school than their wheels."

The measure passed 56-7 despite protests by Assemblyman John Vasconcellos, D-San Jose, and John Burton, D-San Francisco, that it would not curb drug use but would widen the generation gap.

The bill by Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg, D-Sacramento, allowing the courts to reduce possession charges got through the lower house by a slimmer 41-25 margin.

It would bring the law between 1961 and 1968 in line with one enacted last November, which provides for either misdemeanor or felony punishment for marijuana possession.

Official Does Away With His Own Job

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Some people around the capitol doubted the sanity of Bill Boone when he asked that his $20,000-a-year state job be abolished in the name of economy.

"I raised a few eyebrows," Boone said. "A few people suggested I was personally nuts."

Not only is Boone giving up his job as coordinator of the Office of Nuclear Energy to save the state money but the job he is taking in private industry will pay him $2,200 less a year.

Gov. Ronald Reagan, who has stressed governmental economy since entering office in 1967, accepted Boone's resignation yesterday and praised the 37-year-old administrator for his concern for the taxpayer's dollar.

Boone had told Reagan in a letter of resignation filed in February that the Office of Nuclear Energy should be eliminated because it "no longer serves an essential function."

Boone said that since he accepted Reagan's appointment to head the agency last September he discovered most of its activities were not necessary or could be "more properly" handled by other state agencies.

"When I stopped doing them (the activities) nothing particularly happened," he told a reporter. "I saw no reason to continue."

Boone has accepted a $17,800-a-year job as assistant to the plant manager at Aerojet-General's nuclear division at San Ramon.

Many Applicants For EOC Post

The Marin County Economic Opportunity Council has received 29 applications for the job of executive director since Victor H. Cary announced last week he was resigning.

Gilbert Medeiros, chairman of the EOC personnel committee, said the dealine for applications has been extended from today until Wednesday. The job will pay between $12,000 and $15,000 a year.

Medeiros said screening of applications by his committee and other members of the EOC board would begin Monday. He hoped a new director would be selected by April 21.

Cary will leave April 18 to take a job with the model cities program oft he U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

A College Course Slated For Parents

The adult education program at Redwood High School is offering a five-week course to acquaint the parents of students who plan to attend college with steps leading to admission.

The course — College Planning Workshop for Parents — will begin at 7:30 p.m. Monday. A fee will be charged.

Sewer Lines To Inn Completed

Sewer lines leading to the Northgate Holiday Inn building just north of Freitas Parkway have been completed and will be accepted by the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, district directors agreed last night.

District engineer J. Warren Nute also reported on two other sewer line extensions expected in the near future.

One is to serve the four-story El Marinero office building planned on the south side of North San Pedro Road directly across from the Cvic Center. The other is the City of San Rafael's plan to use a three-acre parcel at the extension of Monticello Drive in Terra Linda for a city park.

Nute said no problems are anticipated when these lines come in for acceptance.

Sloan Coffee Hour

A coffee hour with Richard Sloan, candidate for the Marin Junior College District board, will be be held at 8:30 p.m., today at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Melmon, 74 Oakdale Avenue, San Rafael.

200 merchants attend I-J Retailer Clinic . . . see how to make more effective advertising

Last Tuesday was idea-day for 200 retailers who attended a special retail advertising clinic sponsored by the Independent-Journal. The aim was to show merchants how to plan, budget and create newspaper advertising which would stir up sales momentum and keep the cash register ringing a profitable note. The how, why, what and when of doing this through more effective advertising was presented by Wm. J. Solch, vice president of the Bureau of Advertising, New York.

"Bill" Solch demonstrated visually. He spoke, he showed, he charted and drew comparisons. He showed the basic steps which any store or business service could use to attract more customers, earn more profit. He even showed what kinds of copy and layout did a better job. In sum, it was a day of ideas. To those retailers who came and saw, the seminar should prove of practical aid in the ever-changing, ever-challenging world of keeping store. And keeping it well.

When he spoke . . .

William J. Solch, Retail Vice President
Bureau of Advertising, New York

. . . on this subject . . .

"How to make your advertising work harder, sell more"

presented by

sponsored by the Independent-Journal

. . . the ideas flowed

- Ideas on "why advertise?" Why does it pay?
- Where in the paper is best? Studies of position.
- What is your sales potential?
- When and what to advertise. Correct timing.
- What kind of advertising: copy and layout

Marijuana Sale Charge Dropped

A charge of possessing marijuana for sale, against Irvin Sutley Jr., leader of the Sonoma County Peace and Freedom Party, was dismissed yesterday in Sonoma Central Municipal Court, but another charge of possession of marijuana was allowed to stand.

Judge A. F. Scheidecker bound Sutley over to Sonoma Superior Court for arraignment on the lesser charge at 9 a.m. Thursday.

The judge denied a motion by Sutley's attorney, Allan Gorelick, to suppress evidence, which Gorelick said had been collected in an illegal search of the defendant's car.

Sutley, 24, of Petaluma, was arrested March 2 by Cotati police and later claimed the arrest was an act of political harassment.

San Rafael Approach Repair Job Ordered

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A $183,297 contract was awarded yesterday by the state Department of Public Works to Reichold and Jurkovich of Santa Rosa to improve Highway 17 between San Quentin Wye and the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

Both eastbound and westbound lanes of the 2.3 mile stretch will be resurfaced and signing and lighting will be revised.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 7:30 p.m. — Comedienne Jo Anne Worley, singer Donovan and songstress Lainie Kazan are guests on "This Is Tom Jones." Also appearing on the show will be singer Bobby Goldsboro and comedian Godfrey Cambridge.

KQED (9), 8:30 p.m. — "NET Playhouse" presents "Flowering Cherry," a drama by Robert Bolt, author of "A Man for All Seasons." The play was produced by the British Broadcasting Corp.

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 9 p.m. — "The CBS Friday Night Movies" offers "Gypsy," a saga of burlesque, starring Natalie Wood as Gypsy Rose Lee with Rosalind Russell and Karl Malden.

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 10:00 p.m. — "Fellini: A Director's Notebook" is a one-hour program with, by and about Italian film director Federico Fellini, and filmed in Rome. Fellini discusses his views of making motion pictures and his unorthodox prodecures. The program was filmed especially for the "Experiment in Television" series. Appearing in it are Giulietta Masina, Marcello Mastroianni and Caterina Boratto.

River Accident Kills Two GIs

FORT BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A 12-ton armored personnel carrier tumbled end over end down the bank of the Chattahoochee River and plunged into 30 feet of water yesterday, killing two soldiers.

The victims were identified today as Sgt. Edward J. Murtha, 22, of Corona (Riverside County), and Pfc. Carolo M. Bernardi, 21, of Groton, N.Y.

An Army spokesman said the bodies of the soldiers were pulled from the vehicle after it was raised to the surface by two tank retrievers.

The carrier was being used to demonstrate river crossing techniques when it plunged into the water. It was on its top when divers located it.

The accident happened at Bradley Landing, frequently used for river crossing exercises.

Personnel carriers, which are amphibious vehicles, can carry 10 men fully equipped for combat. They are used to transport troops in battle, giving them the protection of light armor.

Leslie Uggams Will Replace The Smothers

CBS Television yesterday afternoon came up with the name of the heir to the Smothers Brothers time period and next season's opponent of NBC's formidable "Bonanza."

It will be a slight girl with a big voice, Leslie Uggams, in a variety hour.

Viewers with very long memories will remember Leslie from the days of "Name That Song" when she was an appealing child contestant. Later, of course, she was a regular on the Mitch Miller sing-along and after that starred in a Broadway musical.

Present plans are to surround the star with three other regulars in the cast plus the usual parade of guest stars. Judging from her past record, Miss Uggams may kick up a pleasant storm of music but it is unlikely that she will make the kind of waves that distressed the network.

Meanwhile, CBS still has to decide what to do with the Sunday night time period during the warm weather months.

Most of the CBS programs will just be reruns as usual. Carol Burnett will have singer Jimmy Rodgers as a substitute; Red Skelton's will be Liberace. Reruns of last summer's "The Prisoner" will take over Jonathan Winters' spot—and "The Queen and I" will depart to make room for "Animal World" reruns, first seen on NBC.

Tax Loss Study

Marin Coin Club members will discuss how to take a hobby tax loss at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Mill Valley Methodist Church, Camino Alto and Sycamore Avenue.

Casper Has Opening Day Lead In Masters Golf

At least not in the Masters.

"I deliberately played a safe round," the former fatman said after taming the 6,980-yard Augusta National course with a beautiful, six-under-par 66 and the first-round lead in the 33rd Masters Golf Tournament.

"I never once gambled as I have done in the past. Maybe that's the difference," he said, an obvious reference to occasional poor play on the course that many call a jinx for him.

"I won't gamble again.

UP AND DOWN

"I just tried to play shots into places where I felt I could get them up and down."

He got them up and down well enough to score six birdies, not a single bogey and establish a one-stroke lead over Australian Bruce Devlin and lanky George Archer, each with a 67, going into today's second round of play.

Big Jack Nicklaus, seeking a fourth green jacket, was along at 68, but there was a bulky field of seven at 69, three under par. They are Dan Sikes, Australian Bruce Crampton, leading money winner Gene Littler, Mason Rudolph, 20-year-old amateur Bruce Fleisher, Bert Yancey and Lionel Hebert.

TROUBLES

In all, about one third of the field was at par or better.

But some of the top, pre-tourney choices had their troubles.

Four-time champion Arnold Palmer had putting woes and took a 73. Roberto de Vicenzo, victim of last year's celebrated scoring error, blew to a 75. U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino and PGA champ Julius Boros each had a 72. British Open champion Gary Player took a 74.

The field of 83 will be trimmed to the low 40 and ties, and all players within 10 shots of the leader after today's second round.

Casper, who achieved his remarkable round despite numbness in two fingers on his right hand, the result of an allergy attack that knocked him off the tour two weeks ago, said he "never felt at ease out there, but I felt I was going to score well when I got by the third hole with a bogey and one under.

ONE OF MY BEST

"To play well here, I figure I have to hit a lot of good iron shots and putt very well. And this was one of my best putting rounds in a long time."

And the two-time U.S. Open champion, who slimmed down from 230 pounds on an exotic diet that included buffalo steaks, sounded a warning.

"If I can keep this combination, the good irons and good putting, I have a very good chance to win this tournament," he said. "I think you'll find I've had some good rounds here before.

"I think it's here to stay, this good play. I just hope it continues another three days."

Casper, bland and quiet but desperately attempting to change his image through the use of a high powered public relations outfit, had birdie putts of 20, 8 and 30 feet, reached one par 5 in two and two-putted, and put two approach shots to within five and three feet for easy birds.

Giants 'Kids Days' Is Booming Success

It looks like a banner year for the San Francisco Giants' "kid days" program at Candlestick Park, according to club executive Walter "The Great" Mails.

"You'd better tell all the youth organizations in Marin County that they'd better hurry up and reserve dates," said Mails. "We have 15 dates this year and the reservations are coming in thick and fast."

Mails is starting his 11th season in charge of the kids days in which groups of youngsters are admitted to Giants games free of charge. "We expect to get 10,000 children in the park free on each of the 15 dates," Mails added. "This year we should reach the two million attendance record in the 11 years of the program."

'But A's Charge Youngsters'

Mails noted that the American League Oakland Athletics also have kids days, adding, " . . . but they charge each youngster 75 cents. Since we let them in free, it puts a burden on us but we like it. Charlie Finley (A's owner) says they're in the business of selling tickets, not giving them away."

The Giants figure that the kids admitted free today will grow up to become paying adults tomorrow.

Mails said the city of Turlock is sending 6,000 youths to games this season — 3,000 on each of two days. He also said the Assembly of God Church of Santa Cruz has reserved a date for 4,500 youngsters. "That is a sight to behold," Mails added. "They're all dressed up in church uniforms and are the best behaved group year in and year out."

Any youth leaders interested in taking a group to Candlestick should contact Mails soon.

A Double-Decker Bus Trip

SPEAKNG OF Candlestick, Marin County fans will add to the color at next Thursday's openeer between the Giants and San Diego Padres.

Shaun Wiltshire of San Rafael's Wiltshire Towers will load up his scarlet double-decker London bus with about 60 bowler-wearing fans for the opener.

Do you suppose they think the Giants play cricket? Well, I won't tell them.

P.S. If you find opener tickets scarce, give Shaun a call; he just might be able to help you.

BILL O'BAYLEY, golf coach at Terra Linda High School, thinks Peacock Gap golf course of San Rafael deserves a big hand for making the recent Terra Linda Invitational Golf Tournament a huge success. One hundred golfers representing 20 high schools participated, said O'Bayley, "and Peacock did everything possible to make the tournament a success."

It's All In Right Predictions

Well, they are contests quite popular among the power boat fraternity. They are not contests of speed, but are tests of navigation skill in covering a given course in a chosen pre-determined time, considering weather conditions, tides, water currents and winds, without altering or adjusting engine throttles.

Winners, then, are those skippers who complete the course with a minimum percentage of time error.

BELATED CONGRATS to Suzanne Smetana, Redwood High School senior, who won the girls' 18 and under age singles title at last weekend's Easter Week Tennis Tournament in Alamo. Miss Smetana represented Tiburon Peninsula Club.

EXPRESSIONS TELL ALL — You can tell the leaders from the trailers at the Masters, evidenced by Billy Casper (foreground) and Roberto De Vincenzo. (AP Wirephoto)

IN SAN DIEGO

Giants Still Looking For First Victory

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—After losing three straight for their worst start since moving to the West Coast in 1958, the San Francisco Giants hope to untrack tonight against the new San Diego Padres.

But the Padres will hardly be pushovers. They have just swept a three-game series from the Houston Astros.

Outfielder Ollie Brown, picked up by San Diego from San Francisco in the first-round of the player draft, is going great guns. He slammed a 440-foot homer and drove in his team's other run on a fielder's choice in San Diego's 2-0 win last night.

Lefty Ray Sadecki of the Giants, 12-18 last season, will try to halt the San Diego surge. Righthander Clay Kirby, who posted a 7-6 record with Tulsa of the Pacific Coast League last season, is expected to get the nod for the Padres.

In Cactus League play this spring, the Giants took all four games from the Padres. But now that the season is underway, the Padres are a bit more organized and formidable.

San Francisco, meanwhile, has lost three straight to Atlanta with no starting pitcher going the distance for the Giants. Rookie manager Clyde King is still looking for his first big league victory. He hopes his team can get the winning habit against San Diego because the teams play each other seven times in the next 10 days.

Redwood Girls Win Basketball Game

Miss Kosta scored 20 points in the game, played in the San Rafael High School gym. The Redwood junior varsity girls downed San Rafael, 21-16.

Seals, Kings Going Down To The Wire

Series Finale Sunday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Oakland's Seals planned a trip from Los Angeles to St. Louis but instead it's back to Oakland as the Stanley Cup hockey playoffs with Los Angeles goes the full distance.

The Kings evened the count at three games apiece before 7,846 at the Forum last night with a hard fought 4-3 victory.

If Oakland had won, they would have left immediately for St. Louis to meet the Blues who blanked Philadelphia in their opening set. Now it's the Seals and Kings again on Sunday with one of them going to St. Loo for Tuesday night.

Los Angeles built a 3-1 first period lead, lost it as the Seals evened the count before the stanza was over, and then went ahead to stay on Cowboy Bill Flett's first goal of the playoffs.

It came at 15:12 of the second period. Goalie Gary Smith went down while blocking a Bill White slap shot and Flett flipped the puck over him into the net.

HELPED

Coach Red Kelly of the Kings declared defensemen White, Brent Hughes, Dave Amadio and Dale Rolfe all played well and added the back-to-back games on consecutive nights had helped his club.

"We're young and always seem to play better on the second night," he commented. "Now the delay until Sunday will help Oakland."

That's especially true since centers Bob Dillabough and Mike Laughton must recover from injuries. Dillabough, who previously had hurt a shoulder, banged it again in a collision with Rolfe. Laughton reinjured a groin and saw only limited action.

SCORING

Ted Irvine opened the count for Los Angeles at 3:53 of the first period and then Laughton evened things a minute later.

Bryan Campbell, called up just this week from Springfield, scored at 6:19 and at 16:05, with one of their own men in the penalty box and playing that man short, the Kings tallied again with Lowell MacDonald scoring after taking a pass from Jimmy Peters.

Oakland rallied and in two minutes had the count squared with Brian Perry and Gene Ubriaco collecting the scores.

OPENER TONIGHT

A's, Kansas City In 4-Game Series

OAKLAND (UPI)—There will be a strong Kansas City flavor tonight in the Oakland Coliseum.

Kansas City's brand-new expansion baseball team, sporting an unblemished 2-0 record in the American League's Western Division, opens a four-game series with the Oakland Athletics who are 1-1. The A's left Kansas City and came West for the 1968 season.

HUNTER

Righthander Jim Hunter, who hurled a perfect game for Oakland last year while posting a 13-13 record, will make his first start of the season. Dave Morehead, a righthander drafted from the Boston Red Sox, will pitch for the Royals.

Morehead had a 1-4 record last season but he reversed that mark in spring training this year. In addition, he posted a 1.06 earned-run average in exhibition games to top the Kansas City staff.

Robyn Smith Must Wait

ALBANY — Robyn Smith, 24-year-old former movie starlett striving to become Northern California's first woman jockey, will have to wait for a while before a decision is reached.

She finished last yesterday in a 12-horse race at Golden Gate Fields before the Board of Stewards at the race track.

Tars Come From Behind To Win, 11-10

College of Marin baseball coach Pete Limm and his Tars yesterday reaffirmed that old adage about the game isn't over until the last man is out.

And Solano College of Vallejo is doubly convinced.

Those two clubs met in a Camino Norte Conference game at San Rafael's Albert Field and the Tars staged one of the greatest rallies in school history to win, 11-10.

They trailed 9-0 going into the sixth inning but tallied three runs in each of the sixth and seventh innings and five big runs in the ninth. Relief pitcher Mike Terry's bases loaded double with two out in the ninth drove across the tying and winning runs.

"The only way I can describe that game is CRAZY," said Limm, who noted that rival coach Stan McWilliams all but collapsed in frustration in the ninth inning.

The victory gave Marin a 6-3 won-lost record in conference play, good for second place behind DeAnza College (8-1) of Cupertino.

Newcomers On NBA's Star Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Wes Unseld, the man who has everything, led a trio of newcomers on the National Basketball Association's All-Star team as only Oscar Robertson and Elgin Baylor survived 1969's new look.

Unseld of Baltimore, already named the league's Most Valuable Player and Rookie of the Year, made the team for the first time with Billy Cunningham of Philadelphia and Earl Monroe of Baltimore.

In adding another honor, Unseld had to beat out such standouts at center as veterans Wilt Chamberlain, Bill Russell and Willis Reed along with rookie Elvin Hayes. Reed of New York made the second team.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Padres Triumph; Cubs Win Again

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pitching coach Roger Craig has been tooting the San Diego Padres' horns all spring but the big new sound in the National League is those Chicago Cub bell-ringers.

The amazing Padres kayoed Houston 2-0 in the major leagues' only night action yesterday as Dick Kelley hurled 8 1-3 innings of one-hit ball after losing a no-hit bid in the seventh. That enabled San Diego to sweep their three-game set from the Astros.

The Cubs, meanwhile, had Ron Santo in the hero-a-day role and won their third in a row from Philadelphia 6-2. Santo clubbed two homers and a single.

THIRD STRAIGHT

Elsewhere, Pittsburgh stopped the defending champion St. Louis Cardinals for the third straight time 3-2 and the New York Mets downed Montreal 4-2. Atlanta, Cincinnati, Los Angeles and San Francisco were not scheduled.

"This sort of bears out what Craig said all spring," said Manager Preston Gomez of the Padres after Dick Selma, Johnny Podres, Tommie Sisk, Kelley, Frank Reberger and Billy McCool held the Astros to one run and 10 hits in the three games. Houston hasn't scored in the last 26 innings.

The Padres' exhibition earned run average was sky-high and Gomez was worried. "But Craig said out pitching would look a lot better once we got out of that thin Arizona air and so far what's happened has borne him out," Gomez said.

BROWN HOMERS

Jim Wynn got the first Houston hit, a clean single with one out in the seventh, and Doug Rader singled with two away in the ninth before McCool retired Denis Menke with the bases loaded. Ollie Brown drove in both San Diego runs with a third-inning grounder and a sixth-inning homer.

Ernie Banks was Chicago's opening day hero with two homers and Billy Williams slammed four doubles in game No. 2 yesterday was Santo's turn.

"Every day somebody different rings the bell for us," the third baseman said. "This is the big thing on a winning team, to have somebody picking up where the other guy leaves off consistently.

"All spring we talked about our chances of beating the St. Louis Cardinals in the new divisional setup. We knew we had to get off to a good start and we felt we were enough improved through experience and squad bolstering to make a real run at them."

Santo's slugging backed up Ken Holtzman's clutch pitching, although he was touched for 10 hits.

READY TO ROLL AT PETALUMA

This modified sportsman entry owned and driven by Jack Dempsey of San Rafael will be one of an estimated 50 cars which will compete tonight at Petaluma Fairgrounds in races sanctioned by National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing (NASCAR). Co-sponsored by Triple S Automotive Service Centers and Western Chrome Plating, Dempsey's car is powered by a 350-cubic inch Chevrolet engine. Qualifying tonight starts at 7 o'clock with the first race scheduled for 8.

Knicks Bounce Back To Defeat Celtics

NEW YORK (AP) — Boston had its laugh in, but the big Celtics' hit lasted only one night, and now the New York Knicks are looking ahead to the last chuckle.

"It was a critical game. If we didn't win, they'd be up 3-0. But now we're right back in there," said a hopeful Willis Reed of the Knicks after they bounced back from a humiliating loss Wednesday night with a 101-91 victory over Boston last night in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division final playoff series.

TRAIL 2-1

The Knicks still trail 2-1 in the best-of-7 set as the teams head back to Boston for the nationally televised fourth game Sunday afternoon, but having erased the stigma of a four-game Boston sweep, the Knicks are filled again with hope.

The winner of this series moves into the league final against the winner of the Los Angeles-Atlanta best-of-7 Western Division final series, which begins tonight in Los Angeles.

"The loss last night (Wednesday) was a real laugh in," said Walt Frazier of the 112-97 defeat the night before when Boston shot into a 29-point lead as New York hit only 33 per cent from the field.

EMBARRASSED

"Maybe that's what we needed to get motivated. We were embarrassed. If the guys have any pride, they had to go out there and get them. I know I couldn't wait for the game."

The Knicks certainly showed motivation Thursday night, racing to a 28-19 first quarter lead by hitting a robust 12 of 22 field shots in the period. Boston never caught up, although it did get within four at 80-76, 82-78 and finally 84-80. But first Dick Barnett and then Frazier pulled the Knicks out of danger.

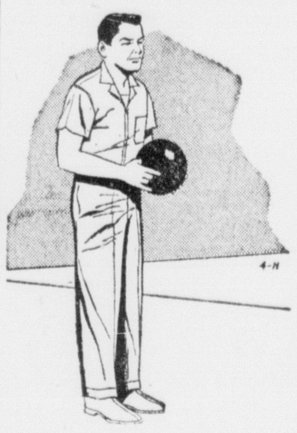
Gary Anderson Breaks Record

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (AP) — American marksman Gary Anderson, using a borrowed rifle, yesterday broke a world record and won the South African smallbore positional standard rifle Class A title.

Anderson, formerly of San Anselmo and now from Axtel, Neb., scored 583 out of a possible 600 shooting from the prone, kneeling and standing positions at 50 meters with a .22 standard rifle. He bettered by seven points the world record held by A. Gerasimanok of Russia.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Don't let one mistake cause you to make a second one. Sometimes a bowler who knows he made some elementary mistake on his first ball will still be so angry with himself a moment later when he is shooting for his spare that he will spoil his timing and miss the shot. The secret to consistently good bowling is keeping cool under all circumstances — or at least until you get back to the bench.

Denver Edges Oaks

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Oakland Oaks led a collapse of the American Basketball Association's top four teams, which dropped two of them into a playoff hole.

The Oaks, runaway winners of the Western Division, were edged 109-108 last night at Denver, which evened their best-of-7 semifinal series at 2-2, while fourth-place Dallas cut second place New Orleans' lead to 2-1 with a 130-106 rout over the Bucs in Dallas.

IN EAST

In the Eastern semis, third-place Kentucky bounced first place Indiana 130-111, and fourth-place Minnesota hammered second place Miami 109-93 as the winners each took 2-1 leads in their series.

Wayne Hightower's two free throws with four seconds left for a 109-106 lead proved decisive for Denver.

Oakland had overcome an 86-77 deficit entering the final period to take a five-point lead before Hightower came off the bench with six points to put Denver ahead 103-102. The lead see-sawed until Lonnie Wright scored for Denver for a 107-106 edge.

Wright finished with 23 points while Warren Armstrong had 24 for Oakland.

Howard Blasts 2 More Homers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Manager Ted Williams, who knows something about the subject, had a little batting advice for Washington slugger Frank Howard.

"He wants me to put a few more balls in the air," said the 6-foot-7 Howard, who led the major leagues with 44 home runs last year. The big guy complied and the balls not only went in the air, they went in the seats.

9-6 ROMP

Howard cracked his third and fourth home runs of the season yesterday, leading Washington's 9-6 romp over the New York Yankees. The four homers in three days were four more than Howard had all of last year against the Yankees—the only team to shut him out in 1968.

In yesterday's other American League action, Bill Freehan smashed a pair of homers including a grand slam as Detroit battered Cleveland 12-3, and Baltimore edged Boston 2-1 in 13 innings.

Brant Alyea also homered for the Senators, who piled up a 7-0 lead before New York's Frank Fernandez triggered a Yankee comeback with two homers including a grand slam.

In the three-game Yankee series, the Senators piled up 39 hits and 70 total bases. Their batting average is an unbelievable .361.

"Everybody is all charged up," said Williams, who must be wondering what all the pitcher domination fuss was all about. For the record, in case Williams, who wasn't around last year, doesn't know about it, the Senators batted .224 in 1968.

Freehan's two homers led a 13-hit Detroit attack that included home runs by Willie Horton and Mickey Stanley. Mickey Lolich, the Tigers' World Series hero, scattered six hits for the victory.

Freehan's grand-slam came against Sam McDowell in the fifth inning and opened an 8-2 Detroit lead. "Nothing went wrong," claimed McDowell. "It was just a poorly pitched game. I felt good."

Tony Horton homered for the Indians.

Frank Robinson opened Baltimore's 13th inning with a disputed double and then rode home on Boog Powell's single to beat the Red Sox.

Boston protested that Robinson's drive down the right field line was foul but Umpire Emmett Ashford ruled it fair and then Powell delivered the run, breaking a tie which had existed from the third inning.

BIG ERROR

Mike Cuellar, making his first start for the Orioles, allowed just four hits in 10 innings but his throwing error and another by Paul Blair on the same play allowed the Red Sox to score their only run in the second. Tony Conigliaro had singled and moved up on a passed ball. Then Cuellar threw George Scott's tap into center field and Conigliaro scored as Blair overthrew the relay.

Blair's two-out single following Don Buford's double tied the score for the Orioles in the third.

Redwood Spikers Top Montgomery

Redwood High School defeated Montgomery High 70-60 yesterday in a none-league track and field meet in Santa Rosa.

Top effort of the day came from Jud Piller who heaved the discus 156 feet, 2 inches, best mark in that event among the Marin County Athletic League competitors.

Other winners for Redwood were Phil Russel, mile in 4:41.5; Tom Poppin, 22-yard dash in 22.9; Lee Hotchkin, two-mile in 10:25.2, and Brian Hicks, pole vault, 12 feet.

Redwood's junior varsity also won over the Montgomery Jayvee, 66-56, but the Larkspur school's frosh team was defeated, 74-38.

Mrs. Krugman Wins Tourney

Mrs. Richard Krugman scored plus one to win the Match vs. par tournament yesterday for the Las Gallinas Women's Golf Club.

She was followed by Mrs. Ted Steiger, minus three, and Mrs. George Yamamoto, minus 3. Low gross was won by Mrs. Ned DiGrazia, 72.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Winds Subside, Salmon Fishing Is Improving

With the winds subsiding, salmon fishing improved somewhat this week. On Tuesday, for example, Caruso's of Sausalito reported the party boat Salmon Queen came home with nine limits and the Hurricane with twelve limits. Top fish was 16 pounds; the ocean was flat.

Also on Tuesday Joe Mello, the "old pro" from Santa Venetia, took a limit of striped bass weighing 14, 3 and 3 pounds.

Otherwise, however, striper fishing is still slow on San Pablo Bay. I'll bet those darned fish are romancing each other up in the delta country. Well, they'll be back in late May and June and will be plenty hungry. The Richmond Bridge area, Racoon Strait and Sausalito areas will pick up sharply. Lots of smaller but legal size bass will be on the flats off Hamilton Air Froce Base. Try trolling a Pet or Pfleuger Chum spoon when the fish come back. Might even try it now.

AS FAR as sturgeon are concerned, the party boats plus all the other regular boats are having a tough time locating these prizes.

I know only a few caught during the past week. One angler, Jack Browining of Santa Rosa, has taken three sturgeon his last three times out, a 100-pounder and two 70-pounders. He wouldn't tell me where he was fishing, but the name of his boat is the "Meatball." Maybe you can find it.

OUT ON TOMALES Bay perch fishing should be excellent the rest of this month. Good bets are the areas around Millerton Point and Tomasini Point. Both places are easy to reach from the boatels there — the Golden Hinde at Inverness and Marconi Cove Area ar Marshall. Both have launching ramps.

Take along plenty of bait because of smelt, sharks and an occasional striped bass. If the tide is low, pull up on one of the beaches along the bay and dig yourself a limit of cockles. The limit on perch is 25, and there is no limit on smelt and sharks. You should skin and steak up one leopard shark because they are excellent eating. Try it once, anyway.

THIS WEEK I ran into Don Joslin, the skindiver I recently mentioned who got his first 10½-inch abalone. Don, who has been diving 10 years, said that I had really shot him down in my column. I said that in 20 years I only checked 5 abalone over 10 inches in size, but somehow that number 10 came out a big 19, a typographical error. Egad, wouldn't that be something — 19-inch abalones! For the record, the five biggest abalones I ever checked were all about 10½ and 10¾ inches. So Don's abalone was a pip! A beauty! A prize!

THE OTHER day I went out to Pierce Point to check abalone fishermen and found only one fellow there, Mario Bottini of Novato. He had his limit of five abalones plus one eel.

The water was rough, but Mario had on a skin-diving suit. He explained that the water is getting colder each year and, being retired, he thought maybe he should take it easier and bought his first skin-diving suit.

INCIDENTALLY, the bar was rough at the mouth of Tomales Bay. If it quiets down, the area could be good for both halibut and salmon.

It can be very dangerous when breaking and some experience is necessary when fishing this area. Go with someone who has fished there for best and safest results.

BILL MARSHALL of Inverness caught three salmon there this past week. One day he went through the bar and fished near Elephant Rock in the ocean where he picked up three lingcod to 17 pounds and some hefty rockfish.

THE RAIN over last Saturday and Sunday had slowed the bass fishing to a quiet pace at Bethel Island, and Frank's Tract Lake. Those fishermen who were out in spite of the rains reported catfishing still excellent.

There were scattered reports of bass taken while trolling in both the San Joaquin and Frank's Tract Lake. The fish generally were running smaller.

Montreal Nips Bruins In Overtime Game, 3-2

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ralph Backstrom sat in the Montreal dressing room after the third period thinking about the Boston Bruins. After 42 seconds of overtime, the Bruins went back to their dressing room thinking about Ralph Backstrom.

"It was my first shot on the net of the game," the Montreal center said last night after his sudden death goal climaxed a rally that carried the Canadiens to a 3-2 victory in the opener of their National Hockey League East Division final playoff series.

NOT A SHOT

"After the third period ended I sat in the room and thought about the fact that I had not had a shot," Backstrom continued.

Bill Flett's goal with five minutes left in the second period gave the Los Angeles Kings a 4-3 triumph over the Oakland Seals and deadlocked their West Division semifinals at 3-all. The deciding game is set for Sunday night in Oakland.

The Canadiens trailed the big, bad Bruins 2-0 with seven minutes left in the third period. But Boston's Eddie Shack drew a penalty at 13:11 and John Ferguson ignited the Montreal comeback 17 seconds later.

Jean Beliveau knotted it on another power play goal with only 56 seconds remaining and sent the Montreal Forum crowd into a frenzy. Boston's record-breaking scorer Phil Esposito, who lost the key faceoff just before Beliveau's 71st career playoff goal, crouched in tears in front of the Bruins' bench as the debris was cleared from the ice.

Derek Sanderson scored both Boston goals.

Coach Harry Sinden barred the Bruins' dressing room to the press and answered newsmen's questions himself. "I don't want them bothered right now," he said. "They're pretty down at the moment."

Miss Bitgood Places 9th In Swims

Her time was 1 minute, 9.9 seconds.

The only other Marin County competitor in yesterday's opening day events, Leslie Bryans of the San Rafael Swim Club, failed to qualify for last night's finals in the 100 breast.

Three other Marin girls are competing in the nationals this week — Robin Bachrach of the Marin Dolphins and Denise Ham and Cookie Arrighi of the Marin Swim Club.

Lacrosse Schedule: Marin Vs. Stanford

The Marin Lacrosse Club takes on unbeaten Stanford in a Northern California Lacrosse Association game at Palo Alto Sunday.

The Marin squad is 1-2 in league play while Stanford owns a 2-0 mark.

Today is Friday, April 11, the 101st day of 1969 with 264 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1898 President William McKinley asked Congress to declare war on Spain.

In 1951 President Harry S Truman fired Gen. Douglas MacArthur as commander of forces in Korea.

In 1968 President Lyndon B. Johnson ordered 10,000 Reservists to duty and set a ceiling of 649,500 as the U.S. troop strength in Vietnam.

A thought for the day: General MacArthur said, "There is no substitute for victory."

Takes A Tip From Johnson

HARRISBURG, Pa. (UPI)— The state Property and Supplies Department took a leaf from the book of former President Lyndon B. Johnson recently when it was noted that things are too bright around the Capitol at night.

Department Secretary Perrin C. Hamilton issued the following order:

"It has been brought to the attention of this office, that during night hours a considerable amount of electrical light power is being used unnecessarily throughout the buildings within the Capitol area. In keeping with the governor's cost reduction program, it is requested that the night lighting within these buildings be held to a minimum."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Sound, Careful Reasoning Is The Key To The Best Defense

Sometimes it's hard to tell whether you or your partner is responsible for a mistake that allows an opponent to make his contract. Most rubber bridge players are irritated by such discussions but top-flight tournament players sometimes spend hours searching for the answer to such a question. Today's hand, played in the Vanderbilt Cup contest last month, provided the players and kibitzers with a difficult problem of this kind.

UNLUCKY CHOICE

West led the six of diamonds, an unlucky choice. South won with the nine of diamonds and lost a finesse with the queen of hearts. East returned the seven of spades, and South played the jack.

West thought for several seconds and then played the eight of spades. South led a diamond to dummy and returned a club. East could have defeated the contract by taking the ace of clubs and leading another spade, but East actually played low, and South ran his nine tricks before anybody could change his mind.

Players and kibitzers agreed that East made a mistake in playing the low club. Some thought that West could have made the right play simpler by taking the queen of spades and then returning a low spade.

REJECTED PLAY

West said he had thought about this play but had rejected it. If West took the queen of spades and returned a low spade, dummy's nine would win. Then East might fear that South had started with A-J-x instead of K-J-x of spades.

Since it was clear that South did not have A-K-Q-J of spades, East knew that West could win the first spade trick.

TAKE FIRST TRICK

West would surely take the first trick if his spades were headed by the ace, queen or king-queen. West would refuse the trick only if his spades were headed by ace-king or ace-queen.

In short, East should have known that his side had the rest of the spades, and he should have stepped up with the ace of clubs. The kibitzers therefore absolved West from all blame in the case of the stolen contract.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with 1-no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ 7 6 3
♡ K 8 7 2
♣ A J 6 3.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two clubs, the Stayman Convention, asking partner to show a major suit of four or more cards.

If partner bids two hearts, you will raise to three hearts (or even to four hearts, if you trust your partner's card play). If partner bids anything but two hearts, you will bid 2-no-trump.

THE WEEK IN BUSINESS

Record Merger Pace Expected To Slow

For the three months ended March 31, according to a survey and analysis of W. T. Grimm and Co., a financial consulting firm specializing in mergers and acquisitions, there were 1,432 consolidations — up 76 per cent over the 815 mergers reported for the comparable 1968 period. For all of 1968 the firm recorded 4,462 mergers.

An anticipated slackening of merger activity is expected to bring the 1969 total to 5,400 consolidations for the year. Lower stock prices, high interest rates and a continuing tight money market, plus uncertainty over the impact of government regulatory action are expected to slow the pace from an indicated 5,728 consolidations based on first quarter figures.

INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH CORP. directors have authorized the execution of a definitive agreement for affiliation with Hartford Fire Insurance Co. Similar action was taken earlier this week by Hartford directors. The transaction involves the issuance of International Telephone of approximately 22.4 million shares of cumulative preferred stock, $2.25 convertible Series N. International Telephone has postponed its annual stockholders' meeting to June 26 in order to present the agreement for approval.

ALLEGHANY LUDLUM STEEL CORP. and Jacobsen Manufacturing Co. have agreed in principle to merge on the basis that each share of Jacobsen common stock will be exchanged on a tax free basis for one-half a share of $3 convertible preferred stock of Alleghany Ludlum. The agreement is subject to approval of the directors and stockholders of both companies.

GEORGE E. KEITH CO. (Walk-Over shoes) has signed an agreement to acquire Pierce Shoe Manufacturing Co. for an undisclosed amount of cash and common stock. The transaction is subject to approval of Keith stockholders who are expected to meet within the month.

LESLIE SALT CO., San Francisco reported a 1968 net income of slightly over $2 million, an increase of more than 300 per cent over its 1967 income of $673,000. The 1968 figure amounted to $5.60 per common share, including a federal income tax net operating loss carried forward. In 1967 net income amounted to $1.80 per common share.

CALIFORNIA FINANCIAL CORP., San Francisco reported earnings of $613,632 for the first quarter of 1969, up from $84,986 earned during the previous year's first period.

Chemical Venture

WORCESTER, Mass. (UPI) — Crompton and Knowles, Inc., is joining Carbochimique Tertre Belgium in a venture to produce dyestuffs to complement the lines of Crompton and Knowles Althouse Division. The company will be called Althouse Tertre.

Stocks On Mixed Side At Closing

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks turned mixed today, ending a three-session advance. Trading was active.

Corning Glass Works, on the upbeat since reporting increased earnings early this week, continued to move ahead smartly. Robert Shaw Controls also benefitted from a higher net.

Electronics were hit by profit taking after recent gains. But Burroughs escaped the general downdrift in this group, and was up several points late in the session.

There were a few point-sized swingers among the conglomerates, but they seemed to lack definite direction.

Steels moved in small fractions, although industry demand continued to hold up well. Motors also traded in narrow ranges.

Airlines underwent some corrective action following recent gains. Rails, aircrafts and chemicals were irregular.

Who Should Hold Stock?

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. My broker has requested that I leave my securities in street name, not in my own. Is this entirely honest? — G. P.M

A. This practice is quite a common one and if the firm is respected and reliable, you should have no problems. The primary consideration in deciding whether to keep stock with a broker in "street name" or in a safe-deposti box in your name is the activity of your account.

If you buy stocks for the long term — 5 to 10 years — by all means keep them yourself. If, on the other hand, you maintain an active trading account, the sending of certificates back and forth would be an unnecessary nuisance.

One advantage of leaving your certificates with your broker is that all the bookkeeping is handled by his firm. Dividends, rights, exchanges and so forth are all credited to your account and a monthly statement is sent to you giving a current picture of your holdings. For a busy person, this relief from clerical details is a real asset.

Foreign Sales Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sales of American mutual fund shares in foreign countries spurted to a new high in 1968 of $491 million, more than doubling the $228-million in foreign sales in 1967, the Investment Company Institute reported.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Notice Of Examination Doesn't Always Mean A Bigger Tax Bill

Wikel

In you receive a notice from the IRS that your return is being examined, it does not necessarily mean that you owe more tax. It may result in a refund for you, or it may result in no change in your taxes.

The law requires every taxpayer to maintain records to help him prepare complete and accurate tax returns.

When your income tax return is audited, you will be asked to explain some of the items reported. Adequate records should be substantiated by sales slips, invoices, receipts, canceled checks, and other documents. These are essential for proving the expense.

The kind of records you should maintain is not specified in the law.

SUFFICIENT RECORDS

The W-2 form you received from your employer and canceled checks, receipts or other evidence to support deductions or credits claimed on your income tax return are sufficient records to support these items.

If you are engaged in a trade or business, you must keep records for your income tax, employment tax, excise tax and other tax returns you are required to file. These records must clearly show income, deductions, and credits; inventories; employees' names, addresses and social security numbers; sales or rentals of items subject to excise taxes and any other information needed for the tax return.

An office audit is generally handled by correspondence, although if you are located near the office you may be asked to come in.

Field audits are made by agents who visit you in person. The agent always carries identification.

NEXT STEP

If you do not agree with the Revenue Agent's proposed adjustments, tell him you want an "informal conference." The agent will prepare and mail to you a form showing the adjustments proposed by him. This form will show the name, address and phone number of the person with whom an informal conference can be requested. You should contact that person and arrange for a conference.

There are three levels within the IRS at which an agreement may be reached. The first is the audit by a revenue agent, the second is an informal conference with a conferee and the third is the Appellate Division.

COURT RIGHTS

If you cannot come to an agreement, then you are entitled to a hearing before the Tax Court before you must pay any additional tax.

You do not have to accept the findings of the auditor, or the conferee, or the Appellate Division, although you should exhaust these possibilities before going to the Tax Court.

At any time you can have your attorney or accountant represent you and because the rules are so complex and the amount of tax is usually substantial in relation to your income, you are usually better off to call in your attorney or accountant immediately after you receive the first notice that you are being audited.

Remember that if you fail to respond to an audit at any of the three stages, that is, if you don't reply to letters requesting your appearance, the agent's proposals will result in an assessment of the tax against you, and you will have to pay it in spite of how good your case might have been.

Magnesium Plant

ALBANY, Ore. (UPI) — Oregon Metallurgical Corp. will build a $3.5 million magnesium plant here with production to start in the autumn.

Ferry-Morse grass seed smashes vicious bacteria gang!

Today there is one grass seed — and only one — that can't be killed by harmful soil bacteria. It's protected with an exclusive compound, Ultra-Green. It's called Ferry-Morse grass seed. So don't grow healthy bacteria. Grow a healthy lawn. Plant only Ferry-Morse grass seed — treated with Ultra-Green.
